ONE LANGUAGE FOR AMERICA.
 It is rather a pity that we cannot have Tom Marshall permanently as Vice President of these United States of America so that we might always feel secure in the knowledge that if anything should happen to the chief officer of the republic we could know that a man would fall upon the shoulders of one whose Americanism, the same as his democracy, is pure gold.
 Any one who has ever found him self in a strange country where the manners and customs of the people were different from those of his native land, and the language which he could not speak, can fully grasp what Mr. Marshall has in mind when he contends that we should have no glory in this country for any except those who will learn, if they do not already know it, to speak the language of America.
 We have wonderful how clinging to their native tongues and making little effort to master that of the people among whom they come to cast their lot. This is a country by naturalization can be expected ever to get themselves in harmony with America. Mr. Marshall contends that they do not, and he is inclined to agree that, rather than casting their lots with us, those who do not think enough of their adopted country to converse with it in its own language, come only in search of their own fortunes. We have the right, in opening our gates to the pilgrims from other lands seeking citizenship with us, to expect them to put something into America as well as take something out. We do not need their Hiss of democracy to guide us on to correct what they may conceive to be flaws in our system, but we do need their wholehearted citizenship and their undivided loyalty if they assume to become one with us and share with us our institutions and our opportunities. We should make it a condition of their naturalization that they speak English. Failing in this, as Mr. Marshall contends, they should be invited to quit our country.
 In the letters he is writing and in the speeches he is making, Thomas Riley Marshall is making a beacon light, which if we follow in the way it reveals the nation will not go astray—Columbia Record.

FIELD OFFICERS DROP.
 Drastic Reduction to Regular Grades.
 Washington, Feb. 29—Drastic reduction of permanent officers from their temporary ranks to regular ranks, effective March 15, has been ordered by General March, chief of staff. Of approximately 2,000 officers now holding temporary rank higher than their permanent appointments, about 2,000 probably will be returned to their regular status.
 Field officers only will be affected. The number of officers holding general rank is set at the allowance, and there will be cut in the grades of those below the rank of major.
 The bulk of demotions is expected to come from the bureau in Washington, as there are but few surplus officers of temporary rank on duty with troops.
 Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Dunn are both ill at their home on Salidis street with influenza.

BABY, BUNNY AND PROPHYLACTIC TIC PUP.
 The anticlimactic baby and the prophylactic pup were playing in the garden when the bunny gambled up.
 They looked upon the creature with loathing undiluted.
 For he was so distinguished and he wasn't sterilized.
 They said he was a microbe and a he had of disease;
 They steamed him in a vapor of a thousand-fold degrees;
 They froze him in a freezer that was cold as vanished hope,
 They washed him with permanganate and carbolic soap;
 With bacteriophagen hydrogen they bathed his wiggly ears;
 They trimmed his frisky whiskers with a pair of hard boiled shears;
 Then they donned their rubber mittens and they took him by the hand
 And elected him a member of the fumigated band.
 Now there's not a microbe in the garden where they play,
 And they bathe in pure lodoform a dozen times a day.
 Taking each his daily ration from a hygienic cup—
 The baby, the bunny and the prophylactic pup.

 'THE LOVE DOCTOR'
 Chester Opera House Saturday night

Musical Comedy Saturday Night.
 The musical comedy "The Love Doctor" which is to be shown at the Chester Opera House Saturday night, March 6th, comes to Chester highly recommended. The following article with reference to the play is taken from a Charleston, S. C., newspaper, the show recently having been played at the Academy of Music in that city.
 "Goodness, gracious and some other expletives, what a positive relief it is to unexpectedly find a late revival musical comedy that isn't seventy-five per cent off suggestion, twenty-five per cent farce and one hundred per cent such clothes that can be classed as outer cover-ups. And some that have played in Charleston this season did not miss the percentages very far, yet they were clamorously and almost voraciously received. It actually seems—but what is the use to look for! water has passed the mill. It's not again turn a wheel at that particular spot.
 "Last night at the Academy of Music there were presented a delightful little musical, more definitely and correctly speaking a musical comedy that fairly scintillated with clever wit and humor, a plot that actually clung together all the way through and an assemblage of catchy songs which were refreshing to a degree. The piece enjoyed a delightful distinctive name "The Love Doctor," around which revolves the story of an ambitious father to see his daughter to be so-called "swine." Catering to the popular idea of fads the doing father falls an easy victim to a hoax practiced by his son, and from that moment on the farces delightfully try for a matter of a shade over two hours.
 "While everybody in the piece has more or less to do and what they do is creditably done, the chief attraction centers about a "victim of circumstances," one Joe Dokes, portrayed by William Wyse, and Proctor Knott, a retired soap manufacturer with H. C. Overton impersonating. Both are tremendously clever, but the greater honors fall to the so-called "Love Doctor." Mr. Wyse is a comedian of the best and brighter sort and not once throughout the performance is he dull or uninteresting. During the presentation of the comedy fourteen musical numbers are given, nearly all a shade above the average, but those assayed by Miss Conover were particularly sweet and charming. Her rendition of a deep, rich, organon, of the "Heart of Rose" was a genuine delight. Miss Nurrie also gave a number, "Jerry," with fine effect.
 "The production of "The Love Doctor" is a very clever musical comedy immensely enjoyed by an audience that filled the playhouse."

CONTRACTS FOR GRADING.
 Improvement of the Roads in Union Progressing Rapidly.
 Union, Feb. 28—Contractors who were awarded the contract for grading and toppling different highways in this county are this week beginning work and with push toward completion.
 On the Jonesville road, beginning at the old McKissick place, and going to the town line, a difference of about 100 feet. Mr. Robert Johnson, local contractor, will have eight or ten teams on the job this week, while on the Sardis road, B. H. Martin of Sardis has his equipment shipped and it is expected will begin grading on the 4.7 miles of highway to be improved in that direction.
 The Bogansville section of the Cross Keys Highway has now been top soiled and greatly improved from the Union Township line to beyond Mr. S. H. Winburn's store. This work is being done by the Bogansville Township Highway Commission, but owing to the large amount of work that the commission already has on hand in the making up of estimates it may be some time yet before plans are in shape for the road work to be pushed.
 Work is being pushed on grading and toppling the road from Jonesville to the Sparta road, last week the road from Jonesville to the Union Township line was scraped and put into good condition.
 Within the next few days the Greenville Tilt Company, which was recently awarded the contract for getting down about one mile of gravel sidewalk in Otteray and Monarch Mill villages, will commence work.

Bad Death of Young Man

Many warm friends buried their heads in humble submission yesterday afternoon when it became known that Mr. Johnie W. Cousar was passed away at the Chester Sanatorium in this city after an illness of several weeks, during which time he had undergone several operations with the hope of saving his life. No attention was denied the young man by physicians, surgeons and loving friends but an all-wise Father had decreed that his man should come to him and yesterday afternoon he went away.

Mr. Cousar was thirty-one years of age; a young man in the prime of life, a congenial young fellow and one who numbered his friends by the hundreds throughout the entire county. He was a member of the Bethel M. E. church and was one of Chester's most promising young men. He was a member of the Masonic order and only recently became a member of the Shrine taking his degrees along with a number of other young men in Greenville.

Mr. Cousar is survived by two brothers and one sister; Messrs. Thos. A. Cousar and Richard E. Cousar, of Chester, and Mrs. G. C. Baber, of Spartanburg, also his step-mother, Mrs. Johnie W. Cousar.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at three-thirty o'clock from the home of Mrs. E. L. Hill, on York street, the services being conducted by Rev. Kilgo, pastor of Bethel M. E. church, after which the interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery. The Chester commandery No. 1, Knights Templar will have charge of the funeral.

Under the auspices of the Mercantile Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce Dr. Stanley L. Krebs spoke on the general subject of "Business, Getting and Business Building" at the Chester Opera House last night. A small but appreciative audience was present to hear the address. Dr. Krebs is also scheduled to speak tonight and tomorrow night.

BADGER URGES CONGRESS TO CONSTRUCT LARGEST NAVY IN THE WORLD

Washington, March 1.—Construction of new naval warships in line with a policy of giving the United States "the largest navy in the world," was urged on congress Monday by Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger and other members of the general board of the navy, appearing before the house naval committee.

Admiral Badger urged that the next annual naval appropriation bill carry a new building program, authorizing the building of two dreadnaughts, one battleship, ten scout cruisers, four destroyers and six submarines and other small craft. He did not estimate the cost of this program or say how long it would take to complete the vessel.

Capital ships, such as the dreadnaughts and battleships, he said, would remain the "backbone" of the navy, with the tendency in building constantly being not only for their enlargement, but also providing greater size for the smaller type.

Mr. L. E. Brown was called to Salisbury, N. C., Saturday on account of the serious illness of Mr. Brown's nephew.

The Mary Adair Chapter D. A. R. will meet with Mrs. J. J. Stringfellow at her home on York street tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock.

Mrs. R. D. Smyer and son, Mr. Sumpter Smyer, are both ill with influenza at their home on College street.

The Secretary of State, W. Bainbridge, has issued a commission to the Chester Wholesale Grocery Company with a capital stock of $25,000.

A number of people are taking advantage of the presence of Mr. J. P. Hunter, deputy collector, who is at the Chester postoffice, and making their income tax returns. Those who wish the assistance of Mr. Hunter are requested to call on him.

CONDITIONS EASILY FORESEEN.

A few days ago a prominent banker in a letter to the Manufacturers Record discussing the necessity of action by the Federal Reserve Board to force Liberty bonds out of the banks, referred to the phenomenal prosperity of the country since shortly after the signing of the armistice. In the course of his letter he said that no one could possibly have foreseen the conditions which have existed since the close of the war; one being the temporary depression immediately following the armistice and the other the wonderful outburst of activity which has continued since then.

This letter only shows how little some people are able to foresee what the average man ought to be as clear as the noon-day sun. Judged by the history of all wars and the conditions following, there was no reason to expect anything but a temporary lull for a month or two after the ending of the war, and then a period of tremendous activity and of steadily rising prices.

Ever a year or more before the armistice, the Manufacturers Record pointed out that prices would inevitably be higher after the close of the war, and that there would be great activity in construction work of all kinds. The reasons were given over and over again, so that those who were at all skeptical might see that was inevitable. No particular judgment was needed to be able to foresee this situation.

Inflation in this country and abroad meant inevitably that prices for everything, and a great stimulation of business. Decreased food supply as compared with the world-wide need, and the fact that there would have guaranteed high prices for all foodstuffs. The enormous vacuum in building operations, the world scarcity of materials and buildings showed beyond the possibility of doubt that the moment men could get to work on a scale in this country, the work would be great expansion of construction work.

The proof was so overwhelming that business would be exactly as they have been during the last two years that we marvel that any well-informed man could for a moment think that anything which has taken place could not have been foreseen. Certainly we believe no one could have thoughtfully read the Manufacturers Record without seeing that the facts given in substantiation of the predictions made were unanswerable.—Manufacturer's Record.

SAYS MERITONE WORTH $1,000

Helped Steamboat Man After All Other Medicine Had Failed Him.

"I have suffered from stomach trouble, weakness and dizziness for years and years, but today I'm practically a well man. Meritone is what brought about the change," said Neal White, popular steamboat man of Paducah, Ky.

"I think I tried every kind of medicine I could find. My stomach was all out of order and finally I also got so that I'd be weak and dizzy a great deal. It was not until all the time and had to go to work."

"A friend of mine told me about how Meritone had helped him and I got a bottle to try myself."

"Since taking that bottle I tell you I feel like a new man. I can eat anything I want without a bit of trouble and the former tired-out feeling is all gone."

"It's the truth that I wouldn't take $1,000 for what Meritone has done for me. Meritone has proved to be the best medicine I ever took and I want to recommend it to others."

Meritone the tonic of real merit is sold exclusively in Chester by The White's Pharmacy and The Valley Drug Store.

VIGOROUS ACTION TO BLOCK CHANGES

Republican Irreconcilables Try to Stop Modification. What This Group Would Do to Wreck Peace of Party Leaders Not Known.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Republican senators, irreconcilably opposed to the peace treaty took vigorous measures today to block any modification of the Article 10 reservation which was adopted last November and which has since proved a stumbling block to all compromise negotiations.

Feeling that the Republican leaders, unable to obtain enough votes to ratify the treaty with the reservation unchanged, might consent to some modification, the irreconcilables served notice through Senator Barn, Republican, of Idaho that unless the provision was kept as it stands they would reserve liberty of action when consideration of the treaty is resumed tomorrow.

The new ultimatum, similar in nature to one laid down by the irreconcilables during the bipartisan compromise negotiations, was presented directly to the party leader, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who is expected to confer with his colleagues on the subject tomorrow. "Vote of the irreconcilables have been counted on to insure a majority for the Republican reservation program, as was the case in November, and the move today is expected to receive consideration."

Just what the irreconcilables might do to wreck the plans of the Republican leaders was not revealed. It was suggested in some quarters, however, that if they chose to do so the irreconcilable group might easily debate the treaty at such length that action could be blocked until the assembling of the Senate in joint session.

When the senate takes up the treaty again tomorrow it will have before it the reservation relating to settlement of domestic questions under the league of nations. By the unanimous consent agreement reached Saturday a vote on the reservation is to be taken at 2 p. m. and unless the plan of the leadership carry it will be adopted in the same form as at the last session of Congress.

Many senators predicted tonight that if no actual filibuster developed the entire list of reservations would be disposed of and a vote taken on the treaty itself within the next ten days.

THE NEW Secretary of Agriculture M. MEREDITH

Appears to have a proper conception of the relations of the banker to the farmer, as developed in a contribution to the paper issued by the American Bankers' Association. Mr. Meredith makes acknowledgment of the fact that "the foresight and sympathetic interest of the bankers have played an important part in the advancement of agriculture in this country, and they are in position to render even more helpful co-operation in the future."

He maintains that "so long as the farmer must contend in his business with the elements of chance he must be supported by the confidence that back of him is his banker, ready and willing to come to his aid in times of drought, flood, storm, insect visitation and other misfortune."

If Secretary Meredith is familiar with the policy of this bank, he knows that it stands ready to give him its co-operation and assistance to the fulfillment of his expectations. As the world will show, it has been carrying out for many years past the exact policy he is outlining.

With Its Large Capital of $300,000.00

This Bank is able, willing, and equipped to keep up its policy of cooperation for best interests of the community.

PROPOSES TAX ON MATCHES

As Means of Raising Revenue for Soldier Movement.
Washington, Feb. 28.—A tax of one cent on every hundred matches, to be paid by the purchaser, was proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Agnew, Republican, New Jersey, as a means of raising revenue for the bonus-for-soldiers movement. Discussing the measure, members declared that the burden of the tax would fall upon smokers and brans.
