Local and Personal

Mr. Porter Harris, of Charlotte, came down Wednesday evening to see his mother, Mrs. Pink Carter, who is in the infirmary at her home on Church street. Mr. T. W. Barrett is indisposed with influenza. Mrs. R. A. Bratton, who underwent a serious operation at the Pryor hospital, returned to her home in York this week. Mr. Sam Hood attended the funeral of Mr. J. H. Bigham at Sharon last Wednesday. FREE-DURING month of March, beginning March 1st, we will give one year's subscription to the McCall Magazine and one pattern free with each cash purchase of ten dollars and over. This is a great opportunity to get this wonderful magazine and a free pattern. The Robert Frazier Co. 1-4 Miss Lillian Patterson will spend the week-end Columbia with relatives. Mr. A. H. Wherry spent yesterday in Charlotte on business. Mr. Paul G. McCormick, of York, spent today in Chester. Mr. W. F. McCullough is indisposed with influenza at his home on York street. Mrs. W. O. Presley and daughter, Mary Jane, are indisposed with influenza. There will be a meeting of the congregation of Purty Presbyterian church Sunday, March 6th, immediately after the morning service. Mrs. Edith Hill has been confined at her home on York street for the last week with influenza. Mrs. A. F. Moseley leaves tomorrow for Jacksonville, Fla., for a two week's visit to her mother. Mr. and Mrs. Roddy Reid, of Rock Hill, are in Chester Tuesday night to attend Ladies' Night with the Chester Rotary Club. Mr. Reid is president of the Rock Hill Club. ACID COTTON seed meal, soda and Kainit. That makes a good home mixture. We have them ready to load on your waggon. Southern Cotton Oil Co. 1-4 Mr. DeWitt Auld, of Elberton, Ga., spent last night in Chester with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh S. McKeown, on Hempill avenue. Mesdames J. E. DeLoe, W. R. Wallace and E. M. Simpson spent yesterday in Charlotte. Mrs. Joe Hood is sick at her home on Hempill avenue with influenza. Miss Agnes Douglas is indisposed with flu at her home on Hempill avenue. Mrs. Kathleen Abell is spending the week-end in Union on business. Mr. Rice Estes is home from the University of North Carolina for a few days.

Miss Mary Jones will return to Chester Sunday from Winston-Salem where she was called on account of the serious illness of a relative. The Junior Chapter of the Children of the Confederacy will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. C. Robertson at four o'clock. Despite the bad weather in Chester Tuesday evening the P. C. Glee Club and orchestra were greeted with a fairly good sized audience. The variety and entertainment of the program has been favorably mentioned by many who attended. Among those who will go from Chester to Winthrop College tonight night, March 7th, at 8 o'clock with the famous Denton Dancers are Misses Isabel Douglas, Lillian Knight, Ellen Hough, Mr. John Strickland. The Choral Club will meet Monday night, March 7th, at 8 o'clock with Miss Sadie McKee, 136 West End. All members are asked to be present as selections are being practiced for the March program. This will be one of the most beautiful programs given by the club. The Tuesday Evening Book Club was delightfully entertained by Miss Sara Presley at her home on York street, last Tuesday evening. An interesting program was given, the subject being The Irish Potato. The refreshments served were tempting and of course. Miss Wylie Glast is able to resume her duties at C. C. Edwards' Insurance office after being indisposed with influenza for several days. The many friends of Mrs. E. C. Walters, formerly Miss Evelyn Sanders, of Chester, will regret to learn that she is in a Charlotte sanatorium for treatment. The Chester Chapter U. D. C. will meet Monday afternoon, March 7th, at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. James Land, on Salsbery street, with Misses Maggie and Belle Simill as assistant hostesses. Mr. Carlos R. Moseley, general agent of the Prudential Insurance Company, of Spartanburg, was found dead near Cayce last Wednesday morning by a negro who was enroute to his work. Mr. Moseley had motored to Charleston on business and returned Tuesday night as he became disabled and it is evident that he was walking from Cayce toward Columbia when he fell from a rail road trestle about 25 feet high and crushed his skull. He was a native of Laurens. The News has received a letter from Mrs. Keis Wood, at Bection, Texas, asking that we send The News to her father, Mr. Jess C. Robertson, Lubbock, Texas, Route 1. Mr. Robertson is a native of Chester county and left here many years ago. He is a brother of Miss Eliza Robertson and Mrs. Barbry, of Chester county. Old acquaintances of Mr. Robertson will regret to know that he has been practically blind for the past several years. He is a native of one of his old friends in Chester county who will be greatly appreciated by Mr. Robertson.

Willing Workers Meet

The Willing Workers' Class of the Bethel M. E. Church held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. I. A. Thompson last night, March 3rd. The president, Mrs. G. G. Gilmer presiding, after business details were discussed and acted upon at social hour was enjoyed. Games and contests in keeping with St. Patrick's Day were used. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Tax Commission Holds

The House of Representatives, in Columbia, has reversed itself as to the abolition of the State Tax Commission and placing the duties of the office on the Comptroller General by a vote of 55-51. By adoption motions were made and carried to continue the bill until next session. Representative Abell of Chester voted to continue the bills and Representative Westbrook voted against continuing.

The first filtered water passed through the new waterworks plant last week. Mr. Robert Gage, chairman of the public works committee, had a bottle of it which was as clear as a crystal notwithstanding the fact that the river was very muddy at the time the water was filtered. Tucker and Latson, the contractors, will operate the plant for a few days before turning it over to the city officials.

The snow of this week was the heaviest in this section in a number of years. Southbound trains on both the Seaboard and Southern Railways were delayed several hours. At Raleigh, North Carolina, about 24 inches of snow fell and No. 8 on the Seaboard was delayed several hours there as well.

The finishing touches are being made on the New Sunday School building of Bethel Methodist church and the congregation are expecting to be able to use it by the first of April.

Mr. Roy Love who has been with the J. T. Collins Department Store in the clothing department for the past few years, resigned and has accepted a position with the Virginia Life Insurance Company in the City of Richmond. Mr. Love has already assumed his new duties. He will be succeeded by Mr. Jule Key, who is now with Bell's.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Baker and Mrs. Hughes are expected in Chester today from Spartanburg on business.

Mr. George Davis, who has been working in New Jersey for several months, has returned to his home in Chester.

Mrs. M. M. Brice has influenza at her home on Gaston street.

Mrs. S. T. Proctor, and daughter, Margaret, have influenza at their home on York street.

Mr. J. C. Teams spent Tuesday and Wednesday in North Carolina on business.

Mr. Wm. H. W. Baker and Mrs. Hughes are expected in Chester today from Spartanburg on business.

Miss Elizabeth Brunson, of Columbia, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. Bridgman.

Rev. A. T. Hughes, of Bethel Methodist church next Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Johnnie Strickland, of Walterboro, is spending a few days in Chester.

Mrs. C. E. Darby is indisposed with influenza at her home on Academy street.

Mr. Jno. T. Peay spent Wednesday in Columbia.

Mrs. Ralph Simpson, of Gastonia, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ida Collins, on College street.

Mr. Joe A. Walker Passes

After several months of declining health and several days serious illness, Mr. Joseph A. Walker passed away at his home on Salsbery street, yesterday morning about three o'clock. He had been suffering for several days however, unless it came as a shock to his family and friends.

Mr. Walker was a native of England, who is now in his seventy-fourth year. A number of years ago he came to Chester and engaged in the painting business, a trade which he considered an expert. Later he went into the grocery business in the stand now occupied by S. W. Klutts and Company. A few years later he and Judge J. K. Henry erected what is known as the Marion building and in one of the rooms Mr. Walker conducted his grocery business until he discontinued active business a few years ago. Mr. Walker was known far and wide as a man who kept a clean and sanitary store and one who carried a first class line of merchandise.

Mr. Walker served Chester as a member of the city council and also as a member of the Board of Health. It is said of him that he had never failed in his duty as he saw it and had the interests of the community at heart.

Mr. Walker was an active and consistent member of the Associated Reformed Presbyterian church always taking an active part in church affairs. One of his last active parts in the church was as a member of the building committee which erected the handsome Sabbath school building completed last year.

Funeral services will be held at the A. P. R. church this afternoon at three o'clock by Rev. Geo. M. Waller, minister, at which the remains will be laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery.

Mr. Walker is survived by his widow, who was Miss Martha Rebecca Robinson and the following children: Joseph A. Walker, Jr., Santa Rosa, Cal.; Miss Beatrice Walker, Chester; Mrs. C. M. Orr, Charleston; Mrs. J. A. Sullivan, Cumberland, Va.; Miss Anna Belle Walker, New York; Ben J. Walker, Los Angeles, Cal.; Geo. M. Waller, Flint, Mich.; and Mrs. Alex. E. Miller, South Manchester, Conn.

Mr. Walker also leaves a brother, Mr. Ben Walker, of Detroit, Mich.

Death of Mr. A. Q. Allen

Chester county lost another good citizen this morning when Mr. C. Q. Allen died at his home in the New Hope section of the New Hope Methodist church and took an active interest in all things pertaining to the betterment of his home and community.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at New Hope Methodist church.

Mr. Allen is survived by the following children: Mrs. L. E. Grant, Mrs. John Lipford, Mrs. J. P. Price and Messrs. Charlie, Jim and Ernest, all of Chester county and Messrs. Glenn Allen, of New Jersey and Eli Allen, of Washington.

The family has the sympathy of a large circle of friends throughout the county.

Miss Shannon is Dead

Many friends were grieved to learn of the death of Judge Hiram H. Shannon which occurred at the Pryor Hospital early Wednesday morning. The cause of death was paralysis last Friday from which he never regained consciousness.

Mr. Shannon was a native of the Leeds section of Chester county and was seventy-one years of age. He spent the greater part of his life in the Leeds section where he was engaged in farming. About twenty years ago he came to Chester to make his home and for a number of years was Magistrate of Court House District assuming this office on the death of the late Judge McLure. Mr. Shannon also served as county commissioner at one time. He was a member of Calvary Baptist church in the Bat. Rouge section.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning at ten-thirty o'clock at the First Baptist church in Chester after which the remains were taken to the Pryor cemetery for interment. The services were conducted by Rev. E. W. Davis, of Lowrys, assisted by Dr. W. G. Moore and Rev. J. O. Mansfield. Mr. Shannon is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Stewart Simpson, of Chester. Mrs. Shannon and one son died several years ago.

FLORIDA NEGRO IS ELECTROCUTED

Railroad, Fla., March 1.—Leroy Satter, Jacksonville negro, was electrocuted at the State prison farm here today for the murder in a holdup several months ago of A. Rahman, Jacksonville merchant. Satter was taken from going to the chair. An accomplice in the robbery, Raymond Stone, is to be executed next morning.

Cemetery Keeper, Strickland

While returning to his home on Lacy street from Evergreen cemetery, Wednesday afternoon about one o'clock, Mrs. James G. Norris, who has been keeper of the cemetery for the past three years, was stricken with paralysis at the intersection of Cemetery and Lancaster street. No one noted Mr. Norris at the time he was stricken shortly thereafter he was found by Mr. Charlie Allen, who summoned Dr. G. A. Henney, who was close by. Mr. Norris was placed in an automobile but died en route to the hospital.

Mr. Norris was seventy-three years of age and was a native of Newberry county. He came to Chester about eight years ago from Fairfield county. He was a devoted member of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church and lead an honorable life. Funeral services were held at the home on Lacy street, yesterday afternoon at four o'clock by Dr. Paul Presley. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

He is survived by his wife and the following children: Mrs. R. A. McDowell and Mrs. Ira Clamp, of Newberry; Mrs. W. M. McLane and Miss Lily Norris, of Chester; Mrs. Charles Allen, of Sumner, N. C.

Legion Play Tonight

"Rosetime," a comedy with plenty of music will be played by local talent at the Chester High school auditorium tonight. The play is being put on under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion and the cast has been busy this week getting in shape for the play. Those who attend are promised an excellent entertainment. During many places excitement runs high and surprises come thick and fast.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen are to be in shape to put it across in tip-top shape.

The cast of characters is as follows: Jerry Hunter, a country swain—G. L. Cunningham; Rose Perkins, a movie-struck county lass—Miss Callie Miss Purvis.

Perkins, her father—Judge Z. Y. DeLoe; her mother—Miss Thelma Peterson.

J. Dillingham Jones, Director II Arts Film Co.—David Gaston; Mlle. Jacqueline Devreux, a French map—Miss Collette Padgett.

Babe Barnett, a member of the troupe—Miss Mamie McCoy; Percy Peachey, Italian scenario writer—P. C. Henderson; Prop O'Reilly, property man—J. Boyce Bankhead; Squire Smith, crown man—G. J. (Patty) Richardson; Salls Jones, Julia Brown—Village gossip—Miss Oney Corliss and Mrs. R. L. Thompson.

This cast will be supported by a big chorus of sixteen pretty girls and eight handsome young men. Two hundred and fifty tons of steel will be used in making the new roof for the White House.

An Enjoyable Occasion

A very enjoyable affair was held last Tuesday night at the Hotel Chester, it being Ladies' Night with the Chester Rotary Club. About seventy-five were present for the occasion.

A delightful menu was served by the management of the Hotel and during the meal many stunts were pulled for the amusement of the guests.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the Southern Serenaders of Chester, and also during the evening several songs and readings were given by different ones.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roddy Reid, of Rock Hill. A number were invited from Union but were unable to be present on account of the inclement weather.

MY HIGHWAYMAN

(By Wickes Wamboldt.)

When I was a young blade I lived in a section of the country where there was much highway robbery. Consequently even the best citizens considered it only good sense to be armed.

I was at the age when a pistol has a strong fascination for a fellow, and I spent a good deal of time getting ready for hold-up men. I put in many hours practicing quick drawing and fast shooting. But about that time something occurred that knocked out my interest in pistol cracking.

Late one night I was riding on a bicycle along a lightly-traveled road dropped into a hollow heavily shaded by dense pines.

A few weeks before a young fellow whom I knew had been found at that spot lying in the road with his face crumpled. Somebody had clubbed him from the shadows as he rolled by on his wheel. Recalling that incident, I swung into the middle of the road.

Suddenly in the patches of moonlight ahead of me I saw two men walking. Then they quickly stepped back into the bushes, I drew my revolver and held it in my lap out of sight, steering my wheel with one hand.

As I came opposite the place where those men stood, several things happened all at once. One of the men jumped toward me and yelled: "halt!"

I struck the muzzle of my revolver into his face, and was squeezing the trigger, when a brother sagely seized the idea and urged me to go with them, and I did so. The unfortunate man kept his head down and went quietly to the institution. It was an attractive-looking building with large grounds. There were no fences nor anything to indicate that any one's liberty would be restricted. The head of the institution greeted us cordially, but there was a stern, impersonal look in his eye which did not altogether agree with his geniality.

In keeping with my promise, I asked to see our patient's quarters. We were conducted to a spacious, well-lighted, airy room on the ground floor, with windows that looked out on the lawn. A cheery fire blazed on the hearth and there was a private bath. The patient was delighted with his surroundings and shortly his brother and I left, after I had told the boy that I would see him again before long.

A CHAPTER FROM LIFE.

By Wickes Wamboldt.

One day on a train, about three hours out of a well advertised city, my attention was attracted to a man in the section opposite mine. The older of the two was arguing with the younger, who was replying angrily, and obstinately. It was plain to see that there was something about the younger man that was peculiar.

Late one night I was riding on a bicycle along a lightly-traveled road dropped into a hollow heavily shaded by dense pines. A few weeks before a young fellow whom I knew had been found at that spot lying in the road with his face crumpled. Somebody had clubbed him from the shadows as he rolled by on his wheel. The boy had written the family so blasphemously and had promised so faithfully to be good, that they had decided that from the annals of their family they had never known a more virtuous son. But, after he had returned home he had given more trouble than ever. One day after a particularly trying scene he had declared that he was going to kill himself, and his father, in a spirit of exasperation, had said: "Well, you can do as you please, but you want to."

The boy had immediately left the room. That night several men came and took away the boy. He had been seen since. The family was quite sure, the older brother told me, that the boy had thrown himself into the bay when the tide was ebbing and that his body had been swept out to sea.

view argue that if the individual states would establish their own colonies they could do as well for themselves, and do it "without" any cessation of recuperancy. They point to the colony at Wilmington, N. C., where one man, Hugh McEae, has established such a colony, and to the J. C. Penny colony, being established in Florida. "If one unaided man can show the way," they argue, "why cannot your aggressive delegation go after your state legislators as vigorously as you tackle the federal legislators, and get what you want by state and local initiative. A determined group of your leading business men could carry through such a program, do it with no more effort than is necessary to get it through Washington, and do it in a way more in harmony with our system of government." To which some of them add: "The same sort of arguments used to support the proposed child labor amendment and the proposed federal educational bureau can be used here, a great public benefit is sought." But the same sort of argument apply against it. We fear that if we grant this our defenses against these other encroachments on states' rights and local self-government will be disastrously weakened.

The advocates of the plan reply that a few Western states have laded $200,000,000 out of the federal stranglebox, and the South is entitled to its share. Furthermore, they add, it sounds all right to say "let the states do it individually," but the only possible way to do it is through the federal government.

NO NEW POSTOFFICE GIVEN TO SPARTANBURG.

Spartanburg, March 2.—Spartanburg is not provided for in the public appropriations bill passed by congress Monday, according to dispatches received here, which means that the city postoffice department will have to operate in its crowded building for at least a year or two longer. It had been recommended that the city receive $175,000 for additions to the present building.

Let Me Put Swift Service on Your Job

Every bag of Swift's Red Steer brings the help of experts. Every time you buy a bag of Swift's Red Steer Fertilizer you get the product and the advice of fertilizer experts. Swift Service not only furnishes you a fertilizer made right, but it tells you how to use this fertilizer to make the most profit. Let me put Swift Service on your job. I can help you select the kind and amount of Swift's Red Steer Fertilizers recommended by fertilizer experts for your soil. I can tell you how other farmers in your locality are using this fertilizer successfully. I recommend Swift's Red Steer 12-4-4 for cotton and corn. You can save real money on this fertilizer. Come in to see me and we will talk this over. Don't wait. Come in this week.

What Are You Going To Do about Fertilizers this Season?

Unless you can get a very high grade and reliable fertilizer you cannot hope to get better goods than we have been manufacturing and selling for the past fifteen years, and you are going to receive the same standard of goods this season.

Why bother with ordering from some other town when you can get better goods here, get them when you need them, and our Prices Will Be Right.

You will find our warehouse stocked with all kinds of mixed fertilizers, and we have on hand many cars of Acid, Kainit, Soda, Muriate of Potash, Manure Salts, Sulphate of Ammonia, Tankage, Blood, Fish, etc.

Your fertilizers will be ready for you when you are ready for them. Trade with a home fertilizer plant.

Make Your Acres Sweat

YOU work hard. How about your land? Is it lazy? Is it working hard for you? Loafing, lazy land wastes your good money and time. Wake it up! Give it new life and strength. Make it show its best profits.

That's what good fertilizer will do. It puts land to work and makes each acre produce bigger, earlier, sturdier crops. It makes the roots dig deep where drought can't hurt them. It makes every acre "pull its weight" in the harvest.

It takes the right kind and plenty of high-grade fertilizer to get the most out of the land. You can't afford to gamble on fertilizer. What's a dollar or so a ton compared with the cost of your labor and the use of your land?

Royster Fertilizers have back of them forty years of experience put to good account. They are powerful, rich, high-analysis fertilizers—each made for its special work. Mixed right, pulverized fine and easy to drill. Ask the Royster dealer near you.
