A LETTER FROM THE MANAGER

TO THE CRUSADERS 1933-1934

Now that a triumphant conquest and safe anchorages have been made, the captains and crew change ships, and set sail for warmer, more restful seas. Thats is to go on—to follow the gianst until they are to arrive at their final goal. As we bid a reluctant farewell to the crusades of 1933-1934, we acknowledge their accomplishments as incentives to push forward and onward. Its a goal to uphold the triumphs already won, as a steadfast leadership, constant outlook, and unity are the elements that we are sure will be left in our wake. Only through the continued support and loyalty of the student body can the same tone be maintained in the ship-mates that follow in our wake.

The sale is now!

As historian of The Johnsonian, Isses Todd has looked upon, through those waters that led toward greater power and progress. Through her steadfast leadership, constant "goose", and unifying efforts steps have been made forward. Here has been a triumph, an accomplished effort. In the understanding and ever-helping faculty editor, is the representative light-house whose never-failing light alleviates all dangers and fears. To the voyagers it is a strength and fortitude at all times, and to it we look.

WILL YOU PAY MONDAY?

Heavy financial losses have been caused The Johnsonian's urgent request that subscribers to the paper pay their subscriptions at the earliest date possible. A total of 250 cards, including 60 from faculty members, have not been paid.

Each paper has been sold at $2.00, making a monthly bill of $24.00 each, exclusive of the copy paper. Without the cooperation of the Rock Hill merchants with the business department a paper would have to pay for itself. They have done this part. Will you do yours by paying at the earliest convenient time?

WHAT WILL \'12 LEAVE?

What is the class of 1932 going to leave its Alma Mater? 1932 is a question about which many Seniors are thinking and having been thinking. We hope, when we graduate in May, it can be said of us that we left something better than we found; that we helped uphold and build up the moral and spiritual side of Winthrop College; that we helped keep up and build up the moral and spiritual side of our student body; that we showed that we were thinking, growing, women worthy of the title, Seniors, that we displayed a loyalty to our school, and to the college which aided in the steady advancement of Winthrop, secured academically and socially;

We would like to think that by our having been students at Winthrop we have not only had more than our share of the enjoyment of the membership of the Alumni Association.

This year's Senior Class has established a reputation of loyalty and cooperation; it has done many things and 'we done them in a forceful way because it has "stuck together" and worked hard for the interest of its goals. Now, as it is approaching graduation, it has only one more important effort to accomplish,—that of showing a material, a concrete donation which can be in the ensuing years be blessed by the college for the uplifting of one or of many students. The only way in which the class will be able to make this final contribution to the college is by each member attending the Senior play Saturday night.

This will be the opportunity for Seniors, to uphold the standard which we have always maintained. Let us not from sentimentality, nor from a sense of futility, and to some extent of selfishness to ourselves, to our class, and to the record we have established, attempt to prove the potentiality of Senior talent which is a worthy reason to a worthy end.

LENOIR-RHYNE WINS DEBATE ON THURSDAY

The Debate League representing the colleges of Lenoir-Rhyne and Wofford met at the auditorium of Lenoir-Rhyne on the afternoon of April 8, to debate the following topic: Resolved, that the Congress of the United States should enact legislation providing for centralized control of industry.
The team from Lenoir-Rhyne, consisting of Miss Ethel and Miss Lake, presented specific arguments on the affirmative side of the debate. The team from Wofford consisted of Mr. Easter and Mr. Lang.
1. That existing conditions make centralized control necessary.
2. That centralized control is the best solution of the problem.
3. That the plan for centralized control is economically sound.
4. That the plan provides for a Federal Economic Council which would control the major industries of the nation.
