A faded, sepia-toned photograph of a large, multi-story brick building with a prominent central tower and a fountain in the foreground. The building has arched windows and a classical architectural style. The fountain is a large, circular structure with a tall, narrow water column. Several vintage cars are parked in front of the building. The overall scene is a campus setting.

Scope and Content Note: This collection is a valuable source on home economics history in South Carolina during the twentieth century. While there is information on the SCHEA from its beginning in 1914 to 1980, the actual records do not start until 1920. An outline of what the South Carolina Home Economics Association was doing from 1914 to 1920, is provided in the "historical file" (see Box 1, folders 1 to 4). The inclusive dates for a particular series may vary and, for most series, the records are incomplete.

The collection contains all the records normally created by an organization, including constitutions, correspondence, minutes, reports, handbooks, etc. A wide variety of research topics could be developed from the records, including the SCHEA's impact on the legislative process in South Carolina (e.g. the passage of the bill for the enrichment of cornmeal and grits in 1943), its cooperation and relationship with relief agencies in the state and its role in improving child health during the 1930s.

At this time, related records and papers would include those of the home economics department and home demonstration program (W423.4) and accessions one, six and ten: the papers of Mary Frayser, Juanita Neely and Christine Gee respectively. Also see records of the Winhecon Club (W425-5E-2). Transfer of items: Duplicate materials, including newsletters and memoranda were returned to Dr. Ruth Hovermale, SCHEA representative on July 23, 1975, The book Life of Ellen H. Richards by Carolina L. Hunt, SCHEA, 1958, has been transferred to Dacus Library (stacks), October 14, 1977.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF CORRESPONDENCE

1920-1929

Most of the correspondence is that of the president of the SCHEA with members and officers of SCHEA and representatives of the AHEA and the southern regional council of the AHEA. The correspondence between AHEA and SCHEA mostly relate to the AHEA's attempt to affiliate more state associations, its program of work, especially its drive for more members, the AHEA annual meeting and efforts to increase the circulation of the Journal of Home Economics.

The SCHEA's presidential correspondence with members and officers includes such subjects as increasing membership, dues, the program of the annual meeting, especially guest speakers, the history of home economics in South Carolina, committee assignments and the election of committee members.

Of special interest is correspondence with the National Kindergarten Association concerning the introduction of the kindergarten bill in the South Carolina legislature (1924); correspondence concerning the creation of the Scholarship Loan Fund (1924); and correspondence relating to the SCHEA's relationship with the South Carolina State Teacher's Association (ca1925-1927).

1930-1949

Much of the correspondence pertains to the SCHEA's annual meeting, including its speaker, expenses and general program. What correspondence there is with the AHEA relates primarily to communication about legislation before the U.S. Congress (1930s) and the Permanent Headquarters Fund (1948-1949). See also "Reference File" for AHEA memorandum.

There is also correspondence concerning proposed South Carolina Legislation for the enrichment of cornmeal and grits (1943, 1949), publication of newsletters (1940s) and black membership (1940, 1949). There is no correspondence for some years.

1950-1959

Most of the correspondence pertains to the annual meeting, including the SCHEA's policy on exhibits. Most of the substantial correspondence occurs during the early 1950s and some of the subjects covered during this period include: AHEA membership, Permanent Headquarters Fund, black membership, the Cornmeal Sanitation Bill and the work of the Family Relations Committee, Child Development Committee and the Public Relations Committee.

1960-1972

Incomplete, routine correspondence mainly concerning SCHEA meetings and programs.
