STAY THOUGHTFUL.

I will now develop the essential principles of the stay, which, if properly carried out, will result in a well-fitted and well-formed figure. Many people are under the impression that stays are simple and easy to make, but this is far from the truth. A stay should be carefully fitted to the figure, and should be made of the best materials. A stay should be made of silk or cotton, and should be cut to fit the figure perfectly. It should be held in place by stays and garters, and should be tied in place with ribbons.
