VOL. 11

DISCUSSES EFFECT OF NEW TAXES PUT ON

A. F. McKisick, Member of the House of Representatives from Greenville, discussed the effects of the new revenue laws that the Piedmont, A. F. McKisick, member of the house of representatives, has given the following statement:

I have been requested by many for information concerning the new revenue laws that I would be glad for you to publish the enclosed extracts from these new revenue acts.

Heretofore, by bills, providing any new indirect sources of revenue, have been introduced in the house, as required by our constitution, referred to the ways and means committee of the house, reported back to the house with the committee's recommendation, and then debated and voted on, and if passed, sent to the senate, and then referred to the senate finance committee, and finally passed by the senate.

However, in the case of these new revenue laws, no report of the Finance Committee was made. The Finance Committee members knew just what would be reported until 10 o'clock Tuesday night, April 17, when the free conference report was given to the members of the general assembly, and considered by each branch the following day.

The house adopted the report on Wednesday night at 10 o'clock, exactly twenty-four hours after being received by the close vote of 58 for and 24 against adoption. In the senate the report was adopted 23 to 0, on Thursday, April 23, for and 24 against.

For the first time in the history of legislation in this state, the free conference committee on the general appropriation bill brought in, as riders to their report, revenue bills, and if this is correct method of procedure, then why not discard the old, cumbersome and laborious method of legislation in the future?

As to the tax on soft drinks, chewing tobacco and snuff, and cosmetics, this is supposed to be passed on to the ultimate consumer, and if so, will, of course, have to be collected when the sale is made, unless the merchant desires to absorb the tax.

When the merchant pays the tax commission estimates that the above taxes will bring in the following amounts for the remainder of the calendar year:

|-----------------|-------------|
| Soft drinks | $1,116,000 |
| Chewing tobacco | 100,000 |
| Cosmetics | 100,000 |
| Snuff | 100,000 |

These taxes will be most difficult to collect, had an everlasting source to whom the tax collector has to go to collect them, and to those who collect them.

The tax, passed in 1923, requiring stamps on notes, certificates, stocks, mortgages, contracts, deeds, proxies, powers of attorney, etc., under this new revenue law doubled. This is estimated to bring in additional revenue of $100,000 for the remainder of the calendar year.

The new law tax domestic corporations, that is, all corporations chartered in this state, an additional tax on their capital stock. This means an additional tax of $5 for a corporation of $50,000 capital, or a tax of $100 for a corporation of $100,000 capital.

Should Go After Cook. The Yorkville Enquirer of last Tuesday says:

"Well there is one point in connection with the McFadden case that should not be overlooked," said Saturday a member of the jury who convicted the policeman, in discussing the case with View and Interviews. "This Bonnie Cook should be punished and punished as severely as the law allows for his part in the tragic death of Dewey Simpson. It seems to me that the York county grand jury should take steps to bring this case to the bar of York county justice and that he should be made to suffer along with poor Morris McFadden, even if it costs him his life. But I guess it won't be. The clamor and the glare of the McFadden case is gone now. All the talk and discussion of it will die down in a day or two, and, I think, Bonnie Cook will be all right. The McFadden case is gone now. All the talk and discussion of it will die down in a day or two, and, I think, Bonnie Cook will be all right."

Sympathy For McFadden. Deep sympathy is felt by the members of the jury who convicted Policeman R. Morris McFadden, for the unfortunate policeman who was shot and killed by the Yorkville Enquirer this morning by a member of the jury.

The juror said that he was convinced that the number of the twelve would gladly sign a petition asking Governor McLeod to pardon the convicted defendant in the noted case.

Public utilities $480,000
Domestic and foreign corporations 320,000

In considering the report last Wednesday, the size of the appropriation was not right, and on the revenue side, right, and on the expenditure side, right. The appropriation as it passed the house totaled $8,993,000, which was finally increased to $9,450,000. This increase was not considered last Wednesday, although it had been suggested by myself and others in the committee of the whole, when the first report of the free conference was up for consideration, that it could be made. It was not until the report was up for consideration, that it was suggested that the appropriation be increased to $9,450,000.

All direct sources $815,000
Property tax of etc. mills 2,500,000
Total $7,315,000

In order to meet the appropriation bill of $9,450,000, new revenue, stocks, mortgages, contracts, deeds, proxies, powers of attorney, etc., under this new revenue law doubled. This is estimated to bring in additional revenue of $100,000 for the remainder of the calendar year.

The new law tax domestic corporations, that is, all corporations chartered in this state, an additional tax on their capital stock. This means an additional tax of $5 for a corporation of $50,000 capital, or a tax of $100 for a corporation of $100,000 capital.

"Public utilities are required to pay an additional tax of 23 mills upon each dollar of the true value of property owned and used within this state in the conduct of their business." Please note the words "true value." The tax commission has been trying to get all property on an assessed valuation of 42 per cent of its true value, that is a tax of 3 mills on the "true" value is equal to a tax of 12.6 mills on the assessed value.

Looking forward to the next session of the general assembly, in view of the fact that the revenue act of 1923, 1924, and 1925, voted down, proposition to tax the value of small businesses, and again this year the same proposition was received with support. Yet this new revenue act taxes the value of the business of 1923, 1924, and 1925, voted down, proposition to tax the value of small businesses, and again this year the same proposition was received with support.

Foreign corporations under this new act are taxed 1 mill on their "true" valuation, which is equivalent to 2.42 mills on their assessed valuation.

These "revenue" corporation taxes will bring in the following revenues:

DEVOTED GIRL WEDS MAN UNDER SENTENCE TO DIE

BEATS KINSMAN. Husband Mistakes Wife's Brother for Stranger and Falls Him. Considerably—Thought He Was a Kissing Bug.

Anderson, S. C.—Finding his wife in the arms of a stranger when he suddenly returned home from his work, John Edgeland, who lives on the outskirts of Brogan Mill village, seized the stranger by the collar, dragged him to the back door and hauled him down the steps into the yard. He then rushed back into the house, secured his rifle and fired several shots at the stranger man, who had taken to his heels and was fast disappearing over a hill. The bullet missed the mark.

While Mr. Edgeland was in the act of bruising and battering the stranger, his wife was screaming for him to stop. The stranger, who had been shot, was taken to the hospital. After the stranger had taken his sudden departure the enraged husband was forced to listen to the wife, who told him that the stranger was her brother, Tom Edgeland. Seizing his coat and hat Mr. Edgeland crawled up the family stairs and was met by his kinsman. When he did overtake the stranger, who was still doing his best to get away, he found him young and fresh, that he had made a terrible mistake. After misunderstandings were made, Mr. Edgeland's wife, who was in-law served notice of his intention of spending a week with his kinsman, as punishment and even look forward to the day when he would meet again in fruit business in southern California.

"I married Holland because I love him," declared the young bride, "I had not known he was electrocuted, but I will remain true to death, as in life, and look forward to the day when we will meet again in the Great Beyond." Holland is not guilty of any crime, but he had been killed by Mr. Edgeland's wife.

ORGANIZATION IS BEGUN BY HEIRS. John Logan McLeas, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Orangeburg, for the past 30 years, died Tuesday morning from a heart attack. The Rev. McLeas had been quite sick for the past month, but was showing decided improvement until he suffered a heart attack. He was an honored and beloved citizen of Orangeburg, and leaves many loved ones to mourn his death.

Dr. R. G. Bechley, formerly health officer of Dillon, county health officer of the Spartanburg county health organization, provision for which was made by the county legislative delegation recently.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed in United States eastern district court by H. P. Hold of District court, who lists assets of $2,260.08, and assets of $4,300.

W. L. Harbin of Anderson will state a loose guard rail on a road on the outskirts of Rock Hill last November, has been filed against Rock Hill by John S. Williams of Rock Hill.

Notice of suit of recovery of $10,000 damages, alleged to have been received when his automobile struck a loose guard rail on a road on the outskirts of Rock Hill last November, has been filed against Rock Hill by John S. Williams of Rock Hill.

Miss Elizabeth Brock, probably the youngest child of a Spartanburg, announced Tuesday that two children aged 2 and 4 have been deserted by their parents, and will be placed in the hands of the board of public welfare of either North Carolina or South Carolina in the near future.

The father, Dick Hardy, is alleged to have deserted them some time ago and the mother is alleged to have left them with a neighbor last week and has not yet returned.

Peery says that an April bride is one that didn't know enough to keep in out of the wet.

AFTER MAN CAME WOMEN

Are you more than 21? If you are, step back a few years and see the world of the past in a pair of observing male eyes of that age.

Woman's actual origin is a great mystery, and most people insist that Adam started the trouble. Be that as it may no one will deny that down through the years woman has played a large part in the history of the world. A civilization progressed, the theory that woman was a brutish, defenseless creature, passed away until today we meet her on equal footing and, instead of following man, she pursues.

The first big item in regard to woman is her contradictions. A woman never reacts twice in the same manner. She shows no fear at the sight of a man with a knife, and has been known to kiss him bravely in spite of the fact that she usually cleans her eyes to do it; yet the sight of a timid mouse but makes her jump with her downy hair flying and her arms outstretched.

Woman's arguments never have any base or premise, they start with "because" and end with the same word. You can never prove that she is wrong. Try it. This little "because" and its companion, "why," will put your strongest arguments out of the way in a hurry.

Woman's wisdom is the wisdom of the centuries. She is so wise that she will not admit the source of her answer. "I just know it" is her answer when pressed for the source of her knowledge. The intuition possessed by all women is this wisdom. It is not the result of thought; it is just known.

Every situation is controlled by some woman: marriage, divorce, happiness or conflict. No marriage would be possible if the woman allowed no opportunity for the proposal. Imagine trying to propose when the woman won't stay on the subject. Divorce is usually caused by certain definite reasons. Love, which seems to give the greatest state of happiness, cannot come to pass if the object of this love calmly accepts a platonic relationship. Small boys battle valiantly over the privilege of carrying home a girl's books, yet the girl retains the final decision. In the past, wars have been fought over the wishes of a woman. The late war, for example, may have been caused by the lack of sugar in the kitchen, or by the fact that the women made who had world domination in mind. It is an accepted fact that the power behind the throne usually rules, and it is the world. The present national Thrift Drive may be the result of a New England housewife's thrift nature.

The theory regarding a woman's weakness has been rather thoroughly exploded. The Marathon Dancers which were so popular a little while ago brought forth the fact that men can dance several partners into a state of collapse. A girl's "dopes" seem to have no effect on her pep, for she seems filled with an inexhaustible supply of energy, which may be utilized in a continual round of activities. A man's idea of heaven seems to be a place of rest, while a woman is never happy if she has nothing to do. Deprive her of her activities and she is miserable. A woman's clothing exposes her to the rigors of the climate with no apparent harmful results. What a man would care to get the terror of winter clad in the silken garments which are worn so much by the so-called weaker sex? Women have invaded every stronghold of the male, even to the barber shop. Politically, she is the fear of all parties. The next president may be a woman.

But why worry? She is just as sweet and loving in spite of her strength and knowledge as she has been in the past. Her charms are just as real, and the only man who knew who claimed to hate women, didn't have a chance to go with them.

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Laurensburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theodor's Black-Draught Liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated, I would have distressing flatulencies, and I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple of times a week, then I would be very constipated."

"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began to use it. I never have found so much relief. It is the best medicine I have used. I would take a few doses—five or six of the pills and have my usual steady head, feel full of pep, and could do twice the work."

CHEROKEE BOSS INDICTED

Chain Gang Superintendent Charged With Living in Adultery.

An indictment charging adultery, was returned by the grand jury of the Cherokee county chain gang, and Lillie Allen, unmarried white woman of Gaffney, indicted by the grand jury here Thursday afternoon, says the Gaffney Ledger. "Thirteen witnesses for the prosecution were sworn. The indictment charges the alleged offense was committed April 10th, 1924, and upon several different occasions previous to that date."

Mr. Allen has been the boss of the chain gang for more than two years. He has the reputation of being an exceptionally good road man.

E. W. Jolly, who was elected county supervisor last fall, made a promise to the people that he would clean up the department under his control. When Mr. Jolly assumed office in January, one of his first official acts was an unsuccessful attempt to displace Mr. Allison, the latter refused to be "fired." Mr. Allison claimed that he was employed by the county commissioners whose term did not expire until April 1st, and that the supervisor had without authority to remove him. The new commissioners have not been sworn into office yet, due to a delay in the receipt of commissions from Columbia, and Mr. Allison is continuing to serve as chain gang boss.

As a result of the Jolly-Alison episode, the legislative delegation included a paragraph in the new county supply bill stating the foreman of the gang is to be employed and discharged by the supervisor with the approval of the commissioners.

When Supervisor Jolly visited the chain gang Wednesday afternoon during the State Fair, just near Dr. No. 1's farm, just
