UNREASONABLE DEPORTMENT

Even during the present influence situation there are still a few students on the campus who neglect their various ills, avoiding the infirmary almost as a house of pestilence. With their red eyes, noses and go to heaven by way of Clover or Lancaster, you would spend a good deal more than an hour in getting there.

Commemoration Services For
Dr. Johnson on Founder's Day

And I have discovered many other things in the world, but this one is by far the greatest. For without my precious friend, I could not have accomplished anything. He was always there for me, supporting me through thick and thin. His kindness and generosity knew no bounds. I am so grateful for having him as my best friend. Without him, my life would be nothing. He truly is the greatest person I have ever known.

Mrs. Johnson was elected as the new president of the college, and her inauguration ceremony was held in the main auditorium. The event was attended by faculty, staff, and students from the entire institution.

The ceremony began with a prayer by the college chaplain, followed by speeches from the outgoing president and the new president. Mrs. Johnson then took the stage to deliver her inaugural address, where she outlined her vision for the future of the college.

In her speech, Mrs. Johnson emphasized the importance of education and the need for continued support from the community. She also thanked everyone for their support and expressed her excitement for the new opportunities that the college would face under her leadership.

The ceremony concluded with the installation of Mrs. Johnson as the new president, after which she was presented with a plaque and a bouquet of flowers as symbols of the college's appreciation.

During the day, the campus was decorated with banners and balloons, and various activities were organized to celebrate the occasion. These included a carnival, a talent show, and a fireworks display, which were enjoyed by the students, faculty, and staff.

The day ended with a large banquet in the college's dining hall, where everyone gathered to share in the festivities and celebrate the new president's inauguration.
