FRIDAY, MAY 25.

Very little has been given out by the War Department as to what part the negro would play in the conflict with Germany and a great many of the negroes, so we understand, have been laboring under the impression that in all probability they would not be called upon to do very much in this conflict.

This idea among the colored people may now be safely dispensed with, since the announcement of the War Department that a negro officers training camp will be opened at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, about the middle of June.

One-fifth of the sweet potato crop of the Southern States is lost annually by decay. The crop amounts to about fifty million bushels and of this, ten million goes to waste.

To save this waste the Department of Agriculture is making an effort to induce growers in the South to prepare storage houses as soon as possible for the coming harvest.

In some of the places in the South storage houses are being built at some central point where a number of the farmers will be allowed the privilege of storing their potatoes. This is especially desirable where a number of people only grow a limited amount of potatoes.

A number of plans for building these storage houses, and also plans for converting outhouses into storage houses, is shown in Farmer's Bulletin No. 548 and any who might be interested can secure this bulletin by addressing the Department of Agriculture, at Washington, mentioning the number of the bulletin.

An effort is being made by some Congressmen to have a bill passed raising the postage rates on newspapers and periodicals to an amount which will force many of the publishers out of business.

The government is now engaged in selling Liberty Bonds to the citizens of this country and in order to make these sales it will, and is necessary that a great amount of advertising be done. People are going to buy bonds without knowing what they are. A National Advertising Advisory Board was created and they submitted a plan for paid advertising which fell through. However, the newspapers throughout the country went to the assistance of the board and informed them that they would give their space free. The advertising space of the newspapers is what they have to sell and since they are selling their goods to the government we see no reason why some congressmen should attempt to be hard on them. We have failed to notice where any manufacturers of shoes, clothing, or other things used by the government have offered such free of charge.

The Semi-Weekly News is among the papers which is giving space to the government and in the same issue of recent date we donated $17.00 worth of space. We have no "kick" to register because we were not forced to give it but we do think it is deserving of credit by the government.

It will be recalled that several months after the beginning of the European war thousands of Russians were slain on the battlefields because of ammunition sent to the front which did not fit the Russian gun. This was found to have been a German trick and was worked through German sympathizers in Russia.

That there are pro-Germans in the United States is generally known and it stands to reason that this country is going to have more or less trouble with them, and possibly along the same lines as was experienced in Russia.

A few days ago two nurses were killed on the Marston and another wounded by a defective shell. The cause of this defective shell has not yet been publicly announced but the residents of the Marston are anxious to find out that this country has already

Chandler Price Must Advance $200 June 30th

The price of the Chandler Six becomes $1595 on the first day of July. The present model, identically the same car, will be continued after that date.

Until that date the price remains $1395

It has always been a basic part of Chandler policy to keep the Chandler price low

We have kept it low. Men considered the original Chandler price of $1785 established four years ago an impossible price. Later when the Chandler Company reduced that price to $1595 the trade thought we were courting disaster. Further reductions came as a positive shock to the industry.

Meanwhile the Chandler Company prospered and

Chandler business grew to front rank proportions: The Chandler car was never cheapened, but, rather, improved and refined from season to season until the whole motor car purchasing public has come to recognize the Chandler car as a car of surpassing values.

Our whole purpose has been to build the best light-weight Six and sell it at the lowest possible price;

We have sold the Chandler car for hundreds of dollars less than cars of similar quality

We have built into the Chandler car, as fundamental features of construction and equipment, the most important features which are characteristic of the highest priced cars of all types—features which are not found in other medium-priced Sixes, or found, at best, to very slight degree.

Now, however, the Chandler price must be advanced

It must be materially advanced to cover greatly increased costs which have arisen this Spring by reason of unprecedented conditions in the material supply and labor markets and in problems of transportation.

Production costs throughout the past three months have advanced steadily and in long strides. This is a condition which we cannot control. It is a condition which we must meet.

So the Chandler price must be advanced. In making this advance we do not depart from our firmly established policy of keeping the price just as low as it can be kept and still provide reasonable manufacturing

At $1595 the Chandler car will still be under-priced

It will be distinctly under-priced, as compared to other cars which some may consider of similar quality. By test of any conceivable comparison this statement is a provable fact.

Now you can buy this great Six at $1395, f. o. b. Cleveland.

While the $1395 price holds, the demand will continue to greatly exceed our production, and we cannot guarantee deliveries been having trouble along this line. The St. Louis, while enroute to England some time ago, was engaged in gun practice and out of forty-eight shells fired, fourteen proved defective. The St. Paul was recently engaged in practice and shot-fired many defective shells, some of which even put the guns out of commission.

As stated above, the cause of these defective shells has not yet been made public but it is evident that something is badly wrong somewhere.

The German agents in the United States are going to cause us considerable trouble in our conflict.

 A scope of country along the C. & N. W. railroad between McConellsville and Guthrieville, varying in width from two miles to more, was the hardest hit according to the best information obtainable. Crops in that territory were literally cut, to pieces by the icy pellicle, and much replanting will be necessary. Many fields of young cotton and corn were practically wiped out, and a serious damage was done to the grain crop. Orchards in the path of the storm were stripped of their fruit.—York News.
 C. D. Reid, of Edgewater, was in the city today. Mr. Reid stated that he had 100 acres of cotton wiped out by the hail and will have to "plant" the entire acreage again. A goodly portion of this acreage had been chopped out. Last week Mr. Reid planted a number of acres for the second time, the seeds having been killed by the cold. A number of other farmers in his immediate vicinity suffered damage from the hail, the truck patches being killed and practically ruined.—Rock Hill Herald.
 Every minister in Lancaster preached a special sermon Sunday morning on Red Cross. The ministers had all given their sermons much thought and study for their efforts Sunday and the congregations at each church were well pleased. At the Baptist church the special collection taken for Red Cross work amounted to $21 and this sum will be turned over to the local Red Cross Society, in addition to the individual sums subscribed by members.—Lancaster News.

 Mr. James Edward Doster, a well known citizen of Waxhaw, N. C., died at his home in that place last Friday, at the age of forty-five years. The insurance commission has turned over to the State treasurer for January, February, March, April and May the sum of $111,039.78, one-half of which goes to the State and the other half to the several counties. Cheater county's part is $78,979.
 Orders have been issued that no applications will be accepted in the organizations of the National Guard of the State after June 5th. The National Guard is now engaged in receiving a larger strength but they are not fitted up by June 5th. It is understood that the shortage will be supplied by selecting 2000 men who are desired to get in a South Carolina Company which has a few days now in which to enlist.
 Mrs. A. E. Anderson, of Washington, D. C. will arrive in Cheater county tomorrow night at 4:30 o'clock in the interest of the Navy Cadets. This arrival will be of special interest just at this time and the public is invited to attend, especially the ladies.
 The commencement exercises of Winthrop college will begin on Sunday, June 5, and continue through the following Tuesday. There are more than 200 young ladies who will receive diplomas this year—122 in bachelor of arts, eight bachelor of music and five the master of arts degree. The Rev. A. D. P. Gilmore of Spartanburg will preach the sermon before the Young Women's Christian association, Bishop J. H. McCoy of Birmingham will preach the baccalaureate sermon, while Robert A. Cooper of Laurens will deliver the address before the graduates.
 Cheater county people accustomed to take advantage of summer excursions and thereby secure inexpensive trips to various parts of the country, will not have opportunities to enjoy outings of this kind during the present year, according to an announcement by an official of the Southern Railway company this week. This railway system is being made ready to the matter of transportation problems in the war crisis, and the officials do not care to tie up the single-trip of the cars or sometimes on pleasure excursions. The decision to cut out excursions and cheap summer rates, is being met with about $100,000,000, several hundred thousand dollars.
 The Southern Railway has appealed to the railroad commission to allow them to discontinue several trains in South Carolina. Traffic which may be discontinued passing Cheater are No. 35, southbound, which reaches Cheater at 7:45 A. M., and No. 28, northbound, which reaches Cheater at 7:45 P. M. The railway officials announced that this step is taken in order to conserve the coal supply, to release men and equipment used to clear the tracks for the efficient handling of troops and supplies for the army and navy.

 Death of Mrs. Lily Mobley Douglas. Mrs. Lily Mobley Douglas, widow of the late Dr. Thomas H. Douglas, passed peacefully into the Great Beyond on Tuesday evening at her home in the Woodward-Bowling neighborhood. Although Mrs. Douglas had been in failing health for two or three years, she had not been confined to her home until recently. The end was from pain and discomfort and she slipped away quietly.
 Mrs. Douglas was the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Isaiah Mobley and is the first of a family of five daughters and one son. She is a native of the Woodward church community.
 Mrs. Douglas was a member of the Woodward Baptist church and devout in her observance of its laws and its teachings. She was a woman of great energy and was found faithful in all the relations of life.
 The body was laid to rest in Woodward Baptist cemetery. Funeral services being conducted by Rev. J. W. Bishop of Blackstock.
 The beautiful floral designs placed on her grave were a testimonial of the high esteem and love in which she was held by her sorrowing friends.

NATIONAL LEAGUE FOR WOMAN'S SERVICE MEANS.

 We must all speak, act and serve together—For God, For Country, For Home and for Humanity.
 War is more than a National crisis, it is individual in its effect upon a nation. It grips the home, disrupts the even tenor of life, and troubles each and every one the measure of disorder and peril.
 There is no all at this time, do our part in our own way, and daily troubles.
 The object of the National League for Women's Service is to coordinate and standardize the efforts of women of America, along lines of Constructive Patriotism, to develop the resources and promote the efficiency of women in meeting their every day responsibilities to Home to State, to Nation and to Humanity.
 To cooperate with the Red Cross and other agencies in dealing with any calamity, fire, flood, famine, etc., and to use the resources of the work of the Red Cross, the Army and the Navy—and to deal with the questions of Woman's State, to National and International.

MEMBERS CHESTER RED CROSS

While the Chester Red Cross Chapter has only been organized a few days its membership has already reached 113. It is hoped that within a very short while the membership for the active county will reach 1,000.
 The Red Cross Society has a very important part to play in the war and the greater part of the care of the wounded and sick will be upon the Society.
 The benefits to be derived from the Red Cross Society are many and confined to the war district but when any destruction takes place anywhere the Red Cross renders aid. They have already done so in the work in Atlanta where a fire rendered several thousand homeless a few days ago. Every citizen of Chester county, who possibly can should join now so they can tell what this Society will be called upon to render aid in our own community at some future date.

Patriotic Service.
The joy of whole-hearted service is a blessing that few of us can afford to be without. We sometimes seem to spend most of our time in doing for others, or at least we think that we do, but, of course, when there is the least possibility of serving others, the exhilarating joy of work is lost. On the other hand, there are few people who have not at some period of their lives experienced the desire to be permitted to be of assistance to their fellowmen, and it is just then that the best and most loyal service is rendered. The need for such service is ever-present and today especially makes a direct appeal to our patriotism. For that reason it is naturally all the stronger and all the more urgent. The aid and cooperation of everyone in this country are absolutely essential at this time, not only in mobilizing its resources but in organizing the forces which are to make effective use of these resources. We read from day to day of the progress which is being made in this direction and we wonder at the efficiency which is being displayed, the foresight which is exhibited and the sagacity of the majority of citizens everywhere to be of some practical use to the country in its hour of need. Yet there are always some persons who for one reason or another are backward in entering active service notwithstanding the many opportunities which are afforded them, it is largely through indifference or perhaps because of a lack of full understanding that many persons do not come forward and enter heart and soul into the work which lies ready to their hands. The numerous patriotic organizations which are being formed and the various campaigns for increased membership in these already in existence offer chances to those who wish to do their bit for their country. The food question, its production and its conservation, are vital issues which are being placed before the public in one of the most energetic and strenuous campaigns ever undertaken in this country. It may be said at first glance to many more or less thoughtless persons that his problems do not concern them especially, but consideration soon demonstrates the practical help which each and every member of each and every family in all this land may render to the country in the great crisis which confronts it. The small farmers as well as the big farmers are expected to be their part now, and even the inexperienced young backwoods grower has the chance to show what he can do in raising his own vegetables this summer, and in thus paving the way for perhaps the future enlargement of his activities in new fields. There is a large practical problem of supplying a limited purse and a limited food supply to unusual conditions. It has always become a difficult task for many housewives to supply their tables adequately under the soaring prices; the task bids fair to be raised to the dignity of a fine art before a very long while. Thus are practical problems which must be met and solved, and the only way in which they can be solved satisfactorily is by whole-hearted cooperation and whole-hearted service in a cause that is dear to all hearts.

Again, tomorrow the local Red Cross Chapter begins an active campaign for increased membership, a need which should appeal to every patriotic heart. The opportunities offered for doing work of a kind that will be of almost effective character are innumerable. They do not belong to a member of compulsory service, but they do appeal to the higher and nobler impulses of men and women who would like to do something for the cause of humanity. Active service in peace as well as in war, the Red Cross is known from coast to coast of this great country as well as in all parts of the world. It has done noble service on the blood-stained battle fields of Europe and it is now daily increasing its strength and working capacity in America to a point where it may be in position to meet any possible eventualities. The time to house canvas which opens tomorrow has two definite ends in view: the membership fee which is essential to its work and a person's membership which affords the person the opportunity for doing service which has before us, nor what our necessities may be in the near future, but it is best that we should fit ourselves to render the most efficient service when the call comes. To do this most effectively we must do it in union and under strong leadership. Working together with a single purpose in view we shall be able in present conditions to render better service than we could if we depended upon our too-often untrained individual work. There are so many different ways in which we can render service of some sort in our present crisis that it does not seem possible that there are those who stand back without good and sufficient reason. That there are such reasons is, of course, appreciated, but at least those of us who feel the thrill of patriotism, the desire to be of some use to our fellowmen, and the longing to contribute to the great cause of humanity, have an opportunity now to do the sort of service which secures our own best reward—Selected.

GREENWOOD VISITED BY SEVERE STORM
Considerable Damage Done Buildings and Trees by High Wind of Tuesday Night.
Greenwood, May 25.—Greenwood was visited last night about 8:30 o'clock by one of the severest wind storms the town has ever experienced. The westerly and southern sections of the town considerable damage was done by the toppling of chimneys. Trees were uprooted and had their tops twisted off while small trees and outbuildings were lifted off their pillars. A portion of the tin roof on the hospital at Bailey Military Institute was blown off. Grandmill No. 2 had part of the fourth floor driven in by the force of the wind and part of the houses in the village. The building at the fair grounds in which soldiers are quartered was badly wrecked but no one was injured. Three were about 40 men in the building at the time.
The storm was particularly severe on trees, chimneys and tenant houses in the Phoenix section of the county and in the county between there and Greenwood. I. B. Taylor and A. E. Taylor, whose places are about five miles from town, were heavy losers. A brick store at the home of I. B. Taylor was blown down. There is no loss of life reported from any section.

NOTICE OF APPRECIATION.
Before coming to Chester we had often heard of the "Chester Hospitality" but we were not in position to understand the real meaning of it. However, since coming to Chester a few weeks ago we have been the recipients of much attention and we now feel that we know just what "Chester Hospitality" means.
We thank the citizens in thanking the people of Chester in general and especially Mayor Davidson and other city officials who have shown many favors to the company.
We trust it will be our good fortune to remain in Chester until our President requires our services at the front. No matter where we might be called we will ever bear in mind the many favors received at the hands of the citizens of Chester.
