The Clemson Agricultural College

South Carolina's School of Engineering and Agriculture

1544 Acres of Land. Value of Plant, $1,300,000. Over 100 Teachers, Officers and Assistants. Enrollment 975.

Location and Environment

The College is located in Oconee County at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains, on the homestead of John C. Calhoun, and later of his son-in-law, Thomas G. Clemson. The College is over 800 feet above the sea level, and the climate is healthful and invigorating. Compensation to dissipate or to spend money foolishly are reduced to a minimum.

The students are under military government and every effort is made to train up young men who will reflect credit on the College and on the State.

Religious Influences

The College contributes to the salary of four resident ministers, who conduct divine services and do pastoral work among the cadets in barracks. There is a four-building Sunday School and Y. M. C. A. with two salaried secretaries. A $75,000 Y. M. C. A. building was completed January 1, 1917.

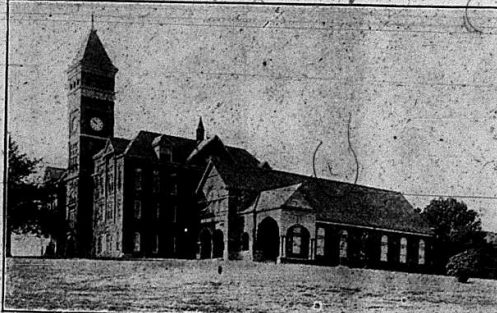

Requirements of Admission

No student will be admitted who is not at least 16 years old at the time of entrance.

An honorable discharge from the last school or college is required.

Nothing is forbidden by the laws of the State as well as the laws of the College. Therefore, the Board of Trustees has ruled that no application shall be accepted, unless the applicant has had the honor of a recommendation or first entrance, unless the name of the recommender is on the list of names on the file of prescribed form not to include in listing.

The scientific requirements are the same as those of the other Colleges in South Carolina. Details are given in College catalogues.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Scholarships and Examinations

The College maintains 169 four-year scholarships in the Agricultural and Textile Courses, and 51 in the One-Year Agricultural Course. (October 10th to June 7th). Each scholarship is worth $100 and free tuition.

Scholarship and entrance examinations are held at the county court houses at 9 a. m., July 13th. Write for full information in regard to the scholarships open to your county next session, and the laws governing their award. It is worth your while to try for one of these scholarships.

Those who are not seeking to enter on scholarships are advised to attend examinations on July 13th, rather than wait until they come to College in the fall. Credit will be given for any examinations passed at the county seat.

AGRICULTURAL HALL

The One-Year Course in Agriculture

Begins October 10th and ends June 7th. It is designed to give the simple scientific principles upon which good farming rests.

Open to young men 18 years old and over who have worked three or more years on the farm.

There are 51 scholarships open to students taking this course. Examinations for the award of scholarships held by each County Superintendent of Education on July 13th. Send for full information.

TEXTILE DEPARTMENT

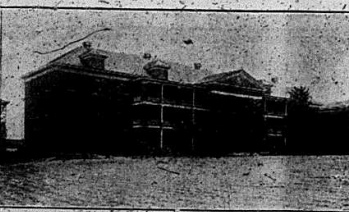

Technical Education a Patriotic Duty

Never before in the history of the United States has there been such need for technical men. The selective draft, and those not replaceable of danger in modern wars are not always the places of recreation. An adequate food supply is absolutely essential. Engineers are needed at home to carry on the work of transportation and utilization, as well as to handle the engineering problems of the war.

At a conference of College Presidents in Washington, D. C., on May 5th, the following resolutions were adopted as a statement of principle. These resolutions are in accord with expressions of the Secretary of War made to the conference:

1. We believe that all young men below the age of liability to the selective draft, and those not replaceable of danger in modern wars, should be urged to do, in order that they may be able to render the most effective service, both during the full period of the war and in the trying times which will follow its close.

2. We believe that in view of the supreme importance of applied science in the present war, students pursuing technical courses such as medicine, agriculture and engineering, are rendering or are rendering of the highest value and are valuable and efficient in the military service at once.

ONE OF THE THREE CADET BARRACKS

In view of the attitude of the government, it is the patriotic duty of every young man under the age of twenty-one to enter a technical college if he can possibly do so, and if already in college, whatever his situation, to continue and complete his training. The colleges must serve the nation in whatever way the government deems best. At present their greatest work is to turn out men skilled in agriculture, engineering and allied lines.

CANNING PRECAUTIONS

Cleanliness is one of the important secrets to success in canning. Be absolutely clean in every operation and keep all the surroundings the same. Carefully sterilize with boiling water every utensil before it is used. Also the jars, rubbers, and caps. In buying glass jars, secure the best. One of the most satisfactory types of jars is the "Lightning Bolt" with a glass top held in place by a simple wire spring. Use the best grade of tin cans even though they cost a little more than the cheaper grades. With glass jars always use new rubbers.

Fruit for canning should be ripe but firm. Do not use overripe specimens. Vegetables for canning should be young and tender.

Fruit and vegetables are better for canning if gathered in the early morning and kept in a cool place until ready for use.

Fruits and vegetables must be thoroughly cleaned before being put in jars or cans. Do not attempt to can decayed or dirty fruits or vegetables.

Write the Horticultural Division, Clemson College, S. C., for circular No. 21, "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables," also "Home Gardening" bulletin.

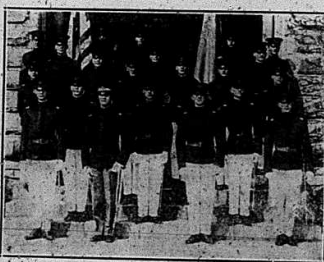

THE STUDENT BODY

Every year the number of applicants to enter Clemson College exceeds the capacity of the institution. Early in August it is necessary to begin a "waiting list," as all available rooms in the barracks have been taken.

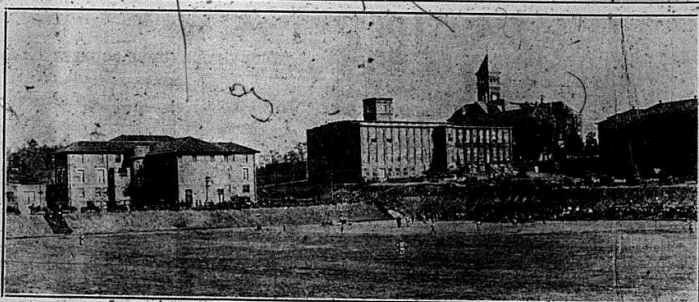

This session the enrollment (not considering the 124 enrolled in the summer school) was 211.

The following data on 211 students enrolled in College this season will be of interest:

- (1) Average age, 19 years, 9 months.
 - (2) Average height, 5 feet, 4 inches.
 - (3) Type—blonder 291, brunettes 455, or 52.7 per cent.
 - (4) Living in country and small towns, 490 or 71 per cent.
 - (5) Living in cities and towns over 2,500 population, 246 or 23 per cent.

Award of Scholarships and Free Tuition

The State Board of Charities and Corrections is charged with investigating the financial standing of all applicants for four-year scholarships and free tuition, and reporting their findings to the Board of Trustees of the College. This Board passes finally upon the matter, accepting as correct the information gathered by the State Board. Appeal from the decision of the Trustees may be made to the State Board of Education.

The College will furnish blanks to all applicants for scholarships and free tuition.

THE DAIRY BUILDING

BE A FARMER PATRIOT

With the packing houses snarled for the State this fall all farmers should recruit at once in the army of meat producers which will put South Carolina on a self-supporting basis, as well as help feed the millions of people who are now dependent on the United States for food supplies. This is the time for the farmer to exert himself more than ever to grow plenty of food stuffs on the farm. The possibilities of a good wheat and oat crop are very good, and this makes it all the more necessary to prepare to grow more feed stuffs and to grow more meat than ever before. Be a farmer patriot.

HOG CHOLERA

Every Farmer Should Know How to Infect Cholera Serum. Write to Dr. R. O. Foster, Clemson College, S. C., and request a free bulletin on hog cholera symptoms and post yourself. When your signs show these symptoms phone or wire your county demonstration agent at once for aid, unless you have already had his services, in which case you ought to know how to proceed without his help. It is impossible for him to see every man's hog, so it will be necessary for you to learn to treat them yourself after one demonstration. "Prevention is worth more than cure" is an old adage which applies especially to this malady.

FIND PICTURES OF CLEMSON COLLEGE

Works for Welfare in Many Ways. Picture a country estate of 1,500 acres with stately buildings placed at elevated points in a form of a semi-circle in a beautiful grove of native oaks, threaded by smooth drive-walks. Turn smooth paths against the sky at a distance of 20 miles, range after range of mountains, the home of the Highlands, of Caswell's Head, Whitefish and other lofty peaks of the Blue Ridge. Think of these mountains as if summer clad with verdure, standing out black against the horizon, and in winter often white with snow. Take for the southern boundary a river of Indian legend, and follow in its sweeping, crookedness, the swift and turbulent Santee. Be it twice the way and that so much feel the need of canned vegetables, but there are a great many of the tender sorts that will not grow at this season and must be preserved in cans. Think also of the number of fruits that may be canned. Even when one has neglected, to have a good orchard there are in most localities an abundance of blackberries, raspberries, grapes and blueberries. In cases enough vegetables have not yet been planted to furnish a surplus to eat. It is a good time now to make up a deficiency. Tomatoes, snap beans, lima beans, sweet corn, and other vegetables may yet be planted in the garden, during the dwindling and '61' season. Any one interested in canning should write the Horticultural Division of Clemson College for Circular No. 22, "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables." The office of the college is located on the campus.

HOME CANNING

Every farmer should have a small canning outfit for use in preserving fruit and vegetables for winter. An abundance of canned products of this sort adds comfort and health to the family, and often there is enough surplus to give a nice little income. It is seldom that canned fruit and vegetables of fine quality fall to command a good price. With a good fall garden one does not need to buy canned vegetables, but there are a great many of the tender sorts that will not grow at this season and must be preserved in cans. Think also of the number of fruits that may be canned. Even when one has neglected, to have a good orchard there are in most localities an abundance of blackberries, raspberries, grapes and blueberries. In cases enough vegetables have not yet been planted to furnish a surplus to eat. It is a good time now to make up a deficiency. Tomatoes, snap beans, lima beans, sweet corn, and other vegetables may yet be planted in the garden, during the dwindling and '61' season. Any one interested in canning should write the Horticultural Division of Clemson College for Circular No. 22, "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables." The office of the college is located on the campus.

A Large Plant

The college tract contains over 1,500 acres. On the property there are 22 principal public buildings, 10 dwellings and 61 minor buildings. The college has in its employ 116 teachers and officers. Its inventoried property is $1,227,722.87. The office of the college is located on the campus.

Clemson's Finances

The public has a right to the fullest information in regard to the fiscal affairs of a State institution. It would not be possible to make a fuller or more detailed report than does Clemson College.

Not only does the Treasurer's annual report to the Legislature contain the usual summary of receipts and expenditures, but this report of 150 pages lists each individual bill paid out of College funds is shown.

Since the support of an educational institution is of interest and importance to its patrons, the following brief summary for the last fiscal year should be of interest:

Resources
Balance brought forward from June 30, 16	$701.04
Income
Privilege Fertilizer Tax	$11,015.63
Morrill & Nelson Fund (U. S.)	25,000.00
Interest on Landscap.	5,754.90
Interest on Clemson Bequest	2,513.36
Gifts from Cadets	1,170.00
State Loan	67,400.00
State Interest, House of Representatives	1,581.28
	$179,939.54
Repaid on Loan	21,511.44
Total available resources, '16-'17	$245,179.44

The above total represents what was available for the use of the College, including its local development and its Public Service. The South Carolina Experiment Station receives $10,000 from the United States Department of Agriculture for conducting agricultural research, but none of this money can be used by the College. Likewise the funds from the Federal Smith-Lever Act can be used only for demonstration and extension work, under Federal supervision.

The money paid in by students for board, laundry, heat, light, and water, medical attention and incidentals, is held in trust by the College for the use of the cadets, and is not used for College expenses.

The following is a condensed summary of expenditures:

Expenditures
1. For operating expenses of College (Salaries of faculty, laborers, insurance, coal, shop and laboratory material, etc.)	$145,657.24
2. For building, permanent improvements and additions, laboratory equipment, etc.	5,309.65
3. For public work (Fertilizer inspection and analysis, veterinary inspection, etc.)	85,730.15
Total	$236,727.04
Balance carried forward from July 1, 16	$1,452.40
Total	$238,179.44
Unpaid balance on loan carried forward	$46,838.58

Grand Headquarters of The French Armies in France, June 2.—The Germans have sacrificed hundreds of killed and thousands of wounded in their vain efforts to reach the range of hills comprising Mont Carmel, the Casque, the Tet, Rhema, Stuy May 20 their fruitless assault has numbered sixteen.

A visit to Mont Carmel demonstrated the importance attached to this place, and the extraordinary preparations made to hold it in order to preserve the shortest route through the German lines. Inside the hill the Germans had excavated a tunnel with three exits on the northern slopes.

The French waited a counter-attack from the cavern of the tunnel similar to that of the seventeenth, but none occurred. A German officer, captured near the one of the ventilation shafts of the tunnel, also expressed astonishment at the absence of reaction by his countrymen.

Since this French success the German artillery has been greatly hampered, owing to lack of observation facilities. The fire of the Germans has as a consequence been more erratic and their infantry attacks here, therefore, has declined to failure.
