Columbia Special Education Major Who Loved Her Friends Passes Away

Quick Facts

- Lindsay H. Salter was a sophomore special education major.
- Her visitation will be from 6:30-8:30 p.m. on March 18 at Spring Valley Baptist Church in Columbia.

Lindsay H. Salter

ROCK HILL, S.C. — A Winthrop University student described as someone who “consciously looked after her many friends” passed away on Saturday, March 15.

Lindsay H. Salter, a sophomore special education major from Columbia, S.C., passed away due to complications from an unexpected illness after leaving campus to return home to Columbia. Salter was an active member of her Margaret Nance Hall residential community.

Frank Ardaiole, vice president for student life, passed along the following request from Salter’s mother via campus e-mail to faculty, staff and students that captured her daughter’s spirit: “Ask the students to remember her by befriending others, serving each other with kindness and love beyond themselves.”

Visitation will on Tuesday, March 18, from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at Spring Valley Baptist Church, 91 Pollo Road, Columbia, SC, 29223. Her funeral will be at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, March 19, at the church.

“Thank you for blessing our community with your presence for far too short of a time,” Ardaiole added in his e-mail.
