GREAT POWER WHOLESALERS.

Electrical Magazine Speaks Wonderfully of Record Made by Southern Power Company.

Just how great an enterprise is the Southern Power company whose head offices are to be moved shortly to Columbia from Charlotte, may be learned from an article in "The Electrical Review and Western Electrician." A summary of this article follows:

GREATEST IN THE SOUTH

"In five years there has been built up along the Catawba, 4th in North and South Carolina, the greatest hydro-electric system in the south. "With the Rocky Creek plant just started the Southern Power company has a generating capacity in its three water-driven stations of 25,000 kilowatts, or 78,000 electric horse power. These plants are all three in South Carolina and about 32 miles in their greatest distance apart. Just south of the North Carolina line comes the Catawba plant, some 25 miles down stream in the Great Falls station, and three miles below this latter point is the development just completed at Rocky Creek.

"The Catawba plant began to operate in March, 1904, and in September, 1906, it had a peak load of 10,000 horse power with a generator capacity of 9,000 kilowatts, or 30,000 electric horse power. Within one and a half years after the starting of the Catawba plant, that is, in September, 1906, work began on the development at Great Falls, and was completed in March, 1907, giving a construction period of about 18 months for this hydro-electric station of 24,000 kilowatts capacity. Within a year after the development of the Great Falls site was under way, that is, in August, 1906, clearing began at Rocky Creek, and the completion of this latter plant in April of the present year gives it a construction period of about two and two-thirds years. The work was started.

THE GREAT FALLS PLANT

"Beginning with the Catawba plant in March, 1904, and coming to April, 1909, a space of 61 months, these three hydro-electric stations, with a combined capacity of 48,000 kilowatts, have gone into commission along some 40 miles of the Catawba. More than this, within a year's construction has been started at what is known as the Ninety-Nine Islands plant, near Blacksburg, S. C., on the Broad river, where it is proposed to install six generators of 8,000 kilowatts each, a total of 48,000 kilowatts, or 160,000 electric horse power. The date for the completion of this fourth development is fixed early in 1910, and it will give the Southern Power Company a combined capacity of 72,000 kilowatts, or 96,000 electric horse power in water driven generators. Such a record of aggregate capacity at several different stations in a single system all completed in a period of six years has probably never been equaled anywhere.

THE TRANSMISSION

Originally these transmission circuits were operated at 44,000 volts, but provision was made for doubling this voltage to 88,000 when desired, and it is understood that this increase has been put into effect. At the generating station at the Catawba, the transmission line that connects the generating station and larger cities. "At the Catawba station, which was designated before the present ownership began, the current is delivered at about 11,000 volts and is transmitted to some points only a few miles from this figure, but the generators at this station are also connected with the 44,000 volt line through three transformers of 2,000 kilowatts each, so as to operate in parallel with the other plants.

"The Great Falls and Rocky Creek plants are equipped with 2,500 volt generators and with transformers that raise this pressure to 44,000 volts for transmission. "In the distribution of energy from the generating station to the many factories and lighting stations that are supplied, a voltage of 500 is employed at some points and of 2,500 at others. The great bulk of the energy is used by cotton mills, and the voltage of distribution is largely determined by that of these mills.

"During the first year of two which the transmission system was operated the tendency of the mills was to use 500-volt motors; but more recently the practice has been more general to adopt 2,500-volt motors where the sizes made it practicable."

Solomon Denies Everything.

There was a dramatic incident in the dispensary investigation this afternoon while former Liquor Salesman, H. L. Solomon, from (month) connected in this State and Georgia was on the stand. The prosecution had questioned him about an hour, during which he denied all knowledge of an agreement between him and other liquor drummers whereby a set scale of rebating to the dispensary directors, Black, Rawlins and Wylie were arranged; denied contributing to a fund to beat Attorney General Linn in the primary, and denied contributing to a fund of $5,000 to buy the influence of Editor Koester. He admitted contributing when the liquor men passed the Brice bill, but denied all knowledge of the liquor drummers getting together to raise $5,000 to have Commissioner Tatum release payment on a full bunch of claims, as Attorney General Linn was about to stop them with an injunction. He admitted making $15,000 or more a year selling the State liquor by methods which violated the law, but denied paying rebates to anybody. He said he was now interested with Tatum in a bank, farm, and newspaper at Exile, S. C. At this point the talking of testimony was suspended while the marshal sat behind Mr. Solomon, who nervously chewed the end of a cigar. The State's Attorney started to the office of a magistrate to procure a warrant, charging Solomon with perjury, but the Attorney General turned them back, as he does not do so at this time with an injunction. A preliminary trial on the perjury charge would force out. Solomon was allowed to go.

Nothing made as good as Devil's Kidney and Bladder Pills for any ailments of the kidney or bladder, which always result in weak back, headache, rheumatic pains, rheumatism and urinary disorders. Somebody in the court house should have authority and give orders for the most important item in the reunion preparation. It will never do for the old-veterans to assume daily for meals without proper decoration inspiration. Let us have the bunting, the flags and the bunting floating at the most popular rendezvous for the old soldiers.

Tree With a Record.

According to the Greer Observer there is an apple tree up in the Highland section of Greenville county that bids fair to vie with the "Mecklenburg tree" as one of the wonders of Piedmont. This tree which is as much of a wonder in its way as the "myth" is in a different manner, is located on the farm of Mr. Walter Moon, one of the substantial farmers of the prosperous Highland section of this county. The tree, it is eight feet in circumference, and has a limb six feet from the surface of the ground that is five feet eight inches in circumference. There is also a hollow in the trunk in which several of the biddies of Mrs. Moon's poultry flock made their nests, with such result that seventy-five eggs were gathered therefrom this year. One has been determined to break all records, hatched out a brood of fifteen chicks in this hollow. But this is not all. Tradition has it that in 1878, Mr. Bar Pennington, who owned the property at the time, made fifteen gallons of brandy from the years crop of apples. By well authenticated records, the age of this remarkable tree is established at 125 years. It is still vigorous and will produce a bumper apple crop this season.

Hints to the Housewife.

A pinch of cream of tartar added to icing prevents it from crumbling and a dusting of flour over the top of the cake will keep the icing from spreading.
To more feathers from one pillow to another, make a large pastboard tube or cone and run it up and down the length of each pillow and shake the feathers through. Some persons use a tin can in the same way. Both made of the cake will be out and the rough edges smoothed.
The zinc cover on a kitchen table may be brightened by rubbing with oil or saw filings with vinegar. After washing with soap and water, rub with dry white paper.
Some trace of acid this might remain. Moths hate turpentine and are more afraid of it than of any other substance. It is a wise plan to rub turpentine on cotton with this and lay in the horse and trunk in which you pack winter articles.

Letter to J. L. Glenn Chester, S. C.

Dear Sir: A bank messenger lost a small coin. He set his bag down and took for it. Found it but the body else had run off with it. A man who is going to paint had better look out for his gallons. There is the least gallons paint. It is called that. It isn't the price of a gallon. With one paint, 10 gallons is plenty; another 11 or 12 or 13 and even 14 gallons, and every gallon has to be paid for and painted. It is $1 a day for the paint. It is stuffed with some sort of whitewash. The less the price of a gallon, the less the paint.

Bank messengers better look out for their bags and not stop to hunt for small coin and property owners better look out for the gallons that make the expected price for the price which has nothing to do with it.

Yours truly,
P. S. John C. Stewart sells our paint.

Big Day at Fort Law.

The new Methodist church in the thriving little town of Fort Law, was dedicated Sunday, Rev. R. E. Staehle, the presiding elder of the Rock Hill District, presided at the service. The congregation worshipped in the building Sunday before last for the first time, the pastor, Rev. W. Smith Martin, preaching to a good congregation of hearers. This building is very neat and in good keeping with the rest of the town. It stands as a monument to the energy, liberality and devotion of the little band of Methodists in and around Fort Law. Through the faithful efforts of the organist, Miss Bessie Clifton, a nice $150 Epworth organ has been purchased and is now in the church. Much credit is due one and all, but especially Mr. W. P. Rodger, who has given not only his means, but much time and labor in the erection of this church. His daughter also, Mrs. Rapa, has been faithful and successful in raising money for the erection of this building.

Some Races for the Horse Show.

Mr. J. B. Westbrook, superintendent of the horse show which is scheduled for Thursday afternoon of this week, announced this morning that in addition to many other entries the following races were on deck for Thursday afternoon: The first two trotting races are as follows: In the Free for All race there has been entered, "Reuben Blue" owned by Wylie & Anderson, will be driven by Mr. D. G. Anderson, with a record of 2:10. A sorrel horse of Mr. John Frazer, will be driven by Mr. Alex Frazer, with a record of 2:05; another horse name and work not known, from Union County. In the Stallion Race the following have been entered: "B. J. F." owned by a local syndicate, will be driven by John Frazer, Jr., "Hans Speer," owned by John Frazer, Sr., and will be driven by him; another stallion owned and will be driven by Young Coleman.

There are several splendid entries for the running races but the announcement cannot be made yet. However it is known that the first two mile race will also be in line. It is also understood that many others will enter the parade. In addition to this will be the various horse shows, the militia, the sons of veterans, the secret orders and possibly some other organizations. The parade alone will be well worth a trip to Chester on Thursday. There will be several bands in the parade, the Union Military Company will be accompanied by a band.

Flots Will be Handsome

From what can be learned it is evident that the floats in the parade on Thursday will be the finest ever seen in this section of the country. The numerous houses have spent much time and labor on their respective floats and a creditable showing will be made. The number of floats will be large and very handsomely decorated. The floats will also be in line. It is also understood that many others will enter the parade. In addition to this will be the various horse shows, the militia, the sons of veterans, the secret orders and possibly some other organizations. The parade alone will be well worth a trip to Chester on Thursday. There will be several bands in the parade, the Union Military Company will be accompanied by a band.

There is the least gallons paint. It is called that. It isn't the price of a gallon. With one paint, 10 gallons is plenty; another 11 or 12 or 13 and even 14 gallons, and every gallon has to be paid for and painted. It is $1 a day for the paint. It is stuffed with some sort of whitewash. The less the price of a gallon, the less the paint.

Bank messengers better look out for their bags and not stop to hunt for small coin and property owners better look out for the gallons that make the expected price for the price which has nothing to do with it.

Yours truly,
P. S. John C. Stewart sells our paint.

Big Day at Fort Law.

The new Methodist church in the thriving little town of Fort Law, was dedicated Sunday, Rev. R. E. Staehle, the presiding elder of the Rock Hill District, presided at the service. The congregation worshipped in the building Sunday before last for the first time, the pastor, Rev. W. Smith Martin, preaching to a good congregation of hearers. This building is very neat and in good keeping with the rest of the town. It stands as a monument to the energy, liberality and devotion of the little band of Methodists in and around Fort Law. Through the faithful efforts of the organist, Miss Bessie Clifton, a nice $150 Epworth organ has been purchased and is now in the church. Much credit is due one and all, but especially Mr. W. P. Rodger, who has given not only his means, but much time and labor in the erection of this church. His daughter also, Mrs. Rapa, has been faithful and successful in raising money for the erection of this building.
