FUNNY, ISN'T IT?

Don't you think this world is funny, With its silly human race? People, for a little money, Risking ruin and disgrace. Nearly everybody feeling That this treatment is unfair; Cheating, gouging, grafting, stealing. Needless trouble everywhere. Every driving people crazy, Gambling bringing folks to grief. Men so careless or so lazy, That their children need relief. Mothers from their babies turning, To enjoy forbidden things. Few with patience to be earning, Men and women telling others, 'What they should or shouldn't think; Sons who cause their gray-haired mothers, In the depths of grief to sink; Laws and rules and regulations; Wrangling, jangling, tangles, Haunted by unholly fears. Ignominy and superintention; Robbing, riots, and regret; Many fits that no physician Cures or can subside, as yet; Jealousy, suspicion, lying; Hatred, humber, snobbing, slighing; Gallows and electric chair. Evil aims, bad apprehensions; Foolish haste and sad mistakes; Sordid motives, false pretensions; Needless pains and cruel aches; Honor killed aside for money. Love lost for a little chink; Don't you think the world is funny, This is, if you ever think?

SENATE BATTLE EXPECTED SOON

Many Conferences With President Included, Republicans to Have Party Meeting for Discussion of Bonuses—Talk of Closure. Washington, June 15.—A bitter fight in the senate next week over the soldiers' bonus issue was predicted in all senate quarters tonight as a result of numerous informal republican conferences today to which President Harding was a party. A call for a formal party conference of republican senators next Monday morning to discuss procedure with the bonus and pending bill, together with the proposed majority closure rule, was issued late today by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican floor leader, after he had conferred with the president and many republican senators. Also next Monday, if the naval appropriation bill is passed, meanwhile a motion to lay aside the tariff bill and proceed with the bonus measure will be made by Senator McCumber (Republican) of North Dakota, the chairman of the senate finance committee and in charge of both bills. Senator McCumber said he would make his motion with full knowledge of President Harding's views, and would favor his bill should be delayed until after disposal of the tariff measure, and also regardless of whether the Republican conference should recommend. Senator McCumber said he did not object to a party conference, but would not "be bound" by its decision. President Harding in his talk with Senator Lodge on the senate legislative program said to have reiterated his opinion that the tariff bill should be pressed. The president was represented as holding this view "very strongly" and his statement was transmitted to Republican leaders by Senator Lodge. The president's view, it was said, believed that the disposal of the tariff bill before consideration of the bonus measure would be given senate right of way. Senator McCumber's plan to move for consideration of the bonus bill next Monday was said tonight to have a battle royal in the senate. The fight on the McCumber motion, it was concluded, among the lead of all senate factions, next Monday will furnish one of the most spectacular debates of the session. Predictions were made that the president would again intervene actively in the bonus controversy by bringing more influence to bear to hold the tariff bill before the senate.

CAMDEN VOTES BONDS

Two Hundred Thousand Dollars for Paving. Camden, June 16.—The election held here Tuesday on the question of voting $200,000 for paving some of the streets of Camden was carried by a vote of 154 to 21. Each of the six wards in the city voted in favor of the bonds. The plan is to have the streets of Camden paved, the principal streets through which the travel goes over the main highways pass through town, and also a portion of Bridge street.

HEINIOUS CRIME

Cheraw, June 15.—Information was received here of the arrest of a young negro man in Middendorf on a charge of sexual assault on a young white woman near that place. The assault was made on Saturday afternoon. An examination of the crime the sheriff was phoned for and responded in a very short time. The young woman described the best she could her assailant, stating that she sought until her strength failed and that she was satisfied the negro bore a number of bruises and scratches on his face and person. Accompanied by Sheriff G. W. Gentry the sheriff took up the search but was unsuccessful in locating his man until about dinner time Tuesday. The assault was committed only a short distance from Middendorf and the negro was run through the mill at that place. When arrested it was found that he bore marks of a struggle and being taken before a justice he was immediately recognized by the woman who had been with her brother. He was then taken to Chesterfield and placed in jail to await trial. The name of the negro is not known here.

BE NOT ORDINARY.

The great majority of people do their work in an ordinary manner. If it will get by, it satisfies them. Excellence does not enter into their minds as an element that brings them to a higher standard of earning power. They are shirkers, or they are content to remain, earning their lousy weekly wages in contentment. There is nothing beyond that inspires them to make the effort to acquire efficiency, and so then content to be passive units in the industrial life.

As long as men look upon their life work in this manner, they will remain in the ranks of the ordinary. It is not the ordinary workman who is selected to become a boss or a superintendent. It is not the ordinary man who is put in charge of a business. It is not the heedless man who is given a responsible position. The ordinary workman is never called to the office to receive an increase in wages. He may demand it, but he will not get it as long as men can be found to do his work at the same pay. His wages may be increased, but it will be at a time when there is a shortage of labor in his line of work.

The person who gets ahead is the man who works honestly for his honest day's pay, and while he is doing it is thinking how he can acquire efficiency—how he can do his work better and more rapidly; how he can acquire speed without lessening the quality of his work. He goes home at night and studies to improve his mind. He may have all the aids of a book, and he may improve the product of his labor without increasing the cost of production, and his active mind develops something of value to his employer.

This is the last his services are recognized and he is put in charge of the work, or of a department of it, and both his family are soon living in another atmosphere, the envy of those who were content to labor and shirk. God gave man a brain with which to think and work out his life problems. If he cultivates it properly it will reward his every effort.

If a man's services and product remain the same day after day and year after year he is falling behind, for there are others who are increasing their efficiency to the degree that an altogether better product is turned out as the years go by, and the man who stands still is left behind in the race, and when he becomes old finds that he is an inferior workman, an old-timer, and is laid off to make way for a younger and more active man. He has neglected to keep pace with progress, while the active and thoughtful man has not only kept up in his work, but has gone beyond the standard to such a degree that his services are valuable, and are paid for accordingly.

There is nothing made that cannot be improved upon, and there is no process of manufacture that may not be improved, cheapened or increased in volume, and here is where it pays to be efficient—not ordinary, but excellent.

RUB-MY-TISM

If you could put a magnifying glass on the contents of your crank case after using the same oil for from 500 to 1000 miles you would refuse to drive another mile until you had emptied the burned-out oil, flushed the case with Nuso and refilled it with POLARINE.

There's many a chance for a slip—between the oil well and the gasoline service station. It takes a whole lot more than the best of refining apparatus and crude oil to make a satisfactory gasoline.

Skill and experience are the big factors in refining. It is largely the knowledge of men who have learned the refining business from the bottom up with this company that has made the improved "Standard" Gasoline possible.

"Standard" is as uniform and dependable as the water supply of a great city—it is tested just as carefully. It is dependable under every condition because it is balanced with the right proportion of light, intermediate and heavy fractions. You can't go wrong with "Standard."

Are you using the right oil for your car? The Polarine Chart will tell you.

THE TOLL OF INSECT ENEMIES

With the disappearance of our native birds, insect pests are multiplying at a rapid rate. The time was when the birds kept these pests under subjection, and their destructive-ness was not particularly noticeable. Today they are free to act—with very little restriction, and they are carrying on their destructive work in spite of the millions of dollars that are annually expended in efforts to exterminate them.

Every gardener and farmer carries on a desperate fight for what he raises, and often gives up in despair and lets the bugs, flies, worms and insects of every type have full swing at the ruins they have made, regardless of the efforts of the agriculturists to save and raise at least a portion of their crops.

Nothing seems to escape the ravages of disease or the hungry pests that make havoc in the corn fields, the potato fields, the tobacco fields, and in fact the fields that contain any kind of a vegetable or fruit that is necessary to the sustenance of man.

Not content with destroying the crops certain insects have appeared to destroy the timber and the forest growth. Already fifty per cent of the balsam growth of Quebec and all the north-easterly sections of North America are suffering from the insects that prey upon the trees of the forests, the grain and other crops in the fields, and in fact upon everything else that man has depended on for his living. The north and east are not alone. The cotton crops of the south are menaced, the grain destroyed, the cattle preyed upon by multitudes of insects.

Now, what are we going to do? Will man himself escape? May there, not soon appear some kind of an insect to destroy man? It may not be a bug that can be seen with the naked eye, but there is a possibility that such pest will come and get him. In the southern sections of the country the hook worm is active, while its victims are. They give up. It may be that they are obliged to do so, and that people who are affected with that type of pest are to be pitied rather than laughed at.

It is a far cry from a spruce bug

There Are Thousands,

Of makes of typewriter ribbons. Some of them are very good; some of them are of a mediocre quality; and a few of them are real typewriter ribbons. If you want the best typewriter ribbon made you will find it at the Chester News.

Try just one and if it is not the best ribbon you have ever used we will give you a present of an Eskimo pig.

They do not cost any more than the ordinary ribbon and they last five times as long, to say nothing of the real satisfaction you get in using them.

to a hog-worm, but speaking of pests, the world is full of them, of one kind or another. How to exterminate them is a problem yet unsolved. Their ravages may be checked, but no permanent benefits have resulted from all the millions of dollars that have been expended to rid the country and the world of a variety of termites that menace the happiness, if not the life, of mankind.

THE ALIBI

In psychology, the study of human nature, one of the most interesting things is the almost universal human tendency to seek an alibi of excuse for the defects for which the individual himself is absolutely and entirely responsible.

You remember the alibi of the affluent old fellow who never got around to repairing the roof of his barn. He said: "When it rains, I can't fit the roof. And when it isn't raining, it doesn't need a roof."

There never was a drunkard who couldn't stop drinking. The trouble was, they didn't want to stop. Deep in his heart, every victim of John Barleycorn knew this. But he hypnotizes himself into believing that "The mug who grumbles, that he never had a chance, is an alibi artist. Deep in his heart, he knows that most of the big successful men never had a chance, but, instead, went out and MADE their chance."

IT'S NOT WHAT IT COSTS TO GET IN THE NEWS—BUT WHAT IT COSTS YOU TO STAY OUT.

What does It Cost to Stop Advertising?

You remember James Pyle's Pearline. It had been advertised regularly from 1873 to 1907.

Then the trustees of the estate saw a brilliant chance to save money.

They cut out advertising.

Sales dropped like a clap hammer—profits went where soap-suds and bubbles go. In 1914 Pearline, like Jess Willard, tried to come back. But it was too late. The business was sold at a price which is said to have covered barely the value of the machinery and inventory.

Moral: A business will grow as long as it advertises.

A salesforce will thrive as long as it TRIES.

You can't make progress against the current unless you keep rowing. But the harder you row, the faster you go.

How much will The News' readers spend in your store?

Doesn't the answer, to that question depend upon you?

Advertise—means to sell.

Not to advertise usually means to fail.
