2-4-1985

The Johnsonian February 4, 1985

Winthrop University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/thejohnsonian1980s

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/thejohnsonian1980s/50

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the The Johnsonian at Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Johnsonian 1980-1989 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. For more information, please contact breamed@winthrop.edu.
By LISA BUTE
TJ managing editor

"I'm very pleased," were the words used by Elections Board Chairperson Pam Williams to describe last Wednesday's SGA and DSU elections.

Williams said that 1,129 students voted, almost 50 percent more than last year. "I think we had a great turnout because there was so much competition in almost every office. I think all candidates did an outstanding job," Williams said.

The recent renovations on campus have been excluded from the study. They have mounted, however, to $2 million.

The study indicates that Winthrop students spend $14.6 million annually. The survey shows that all full-time students are in the community mainly to county such as cultural events, and percent of the part-time college short courses.

The study is a result of surveys taken by the faculty, staff and students in regard to their spending habits. The survey does not include part-time or temporary employees since the majority of their income and spending are not Winthrop-oriented.

According to the Economic Impact Study, direct college expenditures totaled more than $28 million while indirect campus-oriented spending reached the $18 million mark. Indirect expenditures were obtained by the use of an economic multiplier, which was computed to 1.64.

Therefore, for every direct college-spent dollar, an extra 64 cents was spent locally.

The study indicates that Winthrop students spend $14.6 million annually. The survey shows that all full-time students are in the community mainly to county such as cultural events, and percent of the part-time college short courses.

Griffin saves student

By SUSAN SMITH
TJ editor

Frankie Griffin may not be a member of the Emergency Response Team at W.C., but he certainly was the key to saving a life last Monday night.

Griffin, Winthrop Housing's North Area Coordinator, was contacted by the night clerk in Thomson dorm around 11:30 Monday night that a resident of the dorm has climbed onto the roof with a pistol.

"I cannot say enough about Frankie," commented Dean Cassens, "he's a true hero."

Though Griffin has been involved in similar situations, this was his first involvement with a weapon.

Chief Williams added that he is "extremely pleased with the way all the departments on campus worked together in this emergency."

"The residence life staff did a super job," said Cassens.

"Public Safety needs to be commended for their prompt and efficient handling of the situation," commented both Cassens and Griffin.

Griffin said that he recognized the student and spent 30-45 minutes "just talking with him. I told him sometimes it just takes an instant like this to get you help and encouraged him to get the help he needed." The student then handed over the gun.
Newbriefs

Student Alumni Council

Membership is now open to all students for the Student Alumni Council.

Applications are available in the Alumni Relations Office, 3rd floor Tillman. ABSOLUTE APPLICATION DEADLINE IS MARCH 5, 1985 at 5:00 p.m. So come see what the Student Alumni Council is all about by attending our open reception which will be held March 5, at 8:00 p.m. in the Alumni Relations Office for all interested students!

K.A. Little Sisters

K.A. Little Sisters want to welcome and congratulate all the new pledges: Jay Emery, Jeffery Gaffney, Todd Howell, Jerry McCurry, Steve Potts, Sidney Swing, Kevin Snyder, Keith Taylor.

Poetry reading

The Department of English and Drama is sponsoring a poetry reading by Dr. John Eells, Emeritus Professor of English, at 7 p.m. Wednesday evening, March 6, in Kinard 315. Dr. Eells, who was Winthrop's Distinguished Professor for 1987, will read from poems published in the Kepner Review and elsewhere. All interested students and faculty are invited to attend without charge.

Student Dietetic Association

Student Dietetic Association, $2.00 cost. March 6th, 412 Thurmond, 6:00 p.m. Microwave Demonstration Complimentary Samples.

Health Fair

Health Fair will be held March 6 and 7 from 9-4 in People's Gym upstairs. Exhibits with free health information. Open to everyone.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The brothers and little sisters of Tau Kappa Epsilon would like to welcome their new associate members: Matt Cooke, Johnny Waters, Guido Poez, Dave Newhouse, Matt Smith, Sergio Silva, Wess Gravel, Scott Canhove, Charo Gutierrez, Patrick Smith, Leland Spencer, and Jose' Diez.

Lambda Sigma Chapter

The Lambda Sigma Chapter of Delta Zeta would like to congratulate the Pi Pledge Class of officers: President- Leah Roof, Vice President- Debbie Sivels, secretary- Tracy Timmerman, treasurer- Jane Hart, scholarship- Robin Fuller, historian- Charlene Powell.

 Theta Sigma

Theta Sigma Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity is proud to announce their Spring '85 Pledge Class: Scott Welch, president; Jeff Crogger, vice president; Craig Wilkinson, sponsor; treasurer: Chip Anderson, Larry Baker, Sam Baker, Steve Clayton, Doug Cobb, Greg Faulkenberry, Phillip Hardee, Billy Joyce, Nick June, Doug Marriott, Jim McCammon, Barry Newkirk, Richard Parrish, Michael Pullon, Yanne Larsson. Congratulations, guys!

Seminar stated

"Investment Finance - A Seminar on Financial Planning for the Serious Investor", with Dean R. Blackwell, moderator with a group of professionals speaking. March 19 and 26, April 2 and 9 (4 nights total), 7:00-9:30 p.m. Fee is $45 per person. Fee includes coffee break and all course materials.

Ms. Black Rock Hill

The Miss Black Rock Hill Pageant, Inc. is accepting applications for contestants to compete in the April 27, 1985, scholarship pageant. Contestants will compete for a scholarship and other prizes. Deadline for application is March 16, 1985. For further information please call 329-1279 after 6 p.m.

Jazz clarinetist featured

By JUDY ALSTON
TJ staff writer

Dr. Ron Odrich, New York Jazz Clarinetist, was feature guest soloist Thursday, February 21, in Byrnes Auditorium. Assistant Professor of Music Phil Thompson accompanied Odrich on woodwinds.

Odrich combines his dual professions: periodic surgeon by day and nationally known jazz clarinetist by night.

Many musicians regard Dr. Odrich to be among the finest improvisationists on his chosen instruments. Odrich effortlessly achieves a nearly four octave range on the clarinet where most players barely squeeze two or three octaves.

He also plays the alto and tenor saxophone and flute. His father was a New York studio musician accomplished on the clarinet, saxophone, oboe, and English horn.

Odrich began his musical studies at the age of seven with the cello, and played for four years. After a small accident at the age of 11, the cello was destroyed. When he was 14 he found an instrument more to his liking, the clarinet. His interest in jazz came shortly after that when his brother took him to a jazz concert. Then Odrich became a great admirer and protege of Buddy De Franco.

After high school, he entered Queens College as a pre-dental major and began. Playing engagements and record dates around New York.

When his induction into the Korean War draft became evident, Odrich auditioned for the Air Force Band. While in the Air Force, he spent his entire three-year stay, playing clarinet in a jazz sextet in Washington, D.C.

Following the Air Force, Odrich returned to New York for academic studies and local playing activities. During this time he worked with many jazz musicians and in many famous clubs such as Birdland and Basin Street East.

In the late 1950's Odrich entered Columbia University Dental School, and had to reduce his musical schedule. During this time he learned to play the bass clarinet.

He now has his own dental practice and teaches courses in periodontics at Columbia University and still has a very active playing schedule.
Williams-Backbone of Public Safety

By TOM STEARNS

TJ staff writer

Behind every well organized department stands one well organized individual. And so it is with Winthrop’s Public Safety Department, under the direction of Bob Williams.

“I’ve always had an interest in law enforcement,” admitted Williams. “My father was a police chief in Great Falls, and so I naturally fell into the role. And I’m really proud of the public safety department at Winthrop.”

Williams refers to himself as a “very simple, very laid back” individual. He went into the Navy immediately following high school graduation, and remained there until his retirement in 1983. Following his retirement from the Navy, he took over as head of Winthrop’s Public Safety Department.

“I’ve seen a lot of changes over the last 20 years,” said Williams. “Everything from the school going coed to the recent move for NCAA competition. I even remember when it was against the rules for a male to play tennis without a shirt on!”

Williams is content with his job saying, “I really enjoy it. I like working with the faculty and staff, and I feel they have treated the Public Safety Department well down through the years. I also enjoy the contact with the students. It’s great to be able to work with them and I appreciate the respect they give the department.”

Williams is also laid back in his spare time. He has been officiating high school football games for 29 years. He and his wife own a farm in Great Falls, S.C. where they raise beef cattle. The farm, its 3 grandsons, and his 5 grandchildren take up most of his spare time—“not that he minds.”

Williams comments on Winthrop in general, “I think the administration has things well in hand. I’m also glad to see the support the students have been showing the athletic department lately, although I wish the students would stop throwing toilet paper and ice, before somebody gets hurt.”

Williams’ greatest pleasure at Winthrop, however, has been watching the Public Safety Department grow. “I’m very proud of the advances we’ve made since I came here 22 years ago,” said Williams. “Public Safety has grown from being simply a campus guard to a full fledged law enforcement agency, with 12 commissioned officers, 3 security officers, 4 dispatchers, and 12 student workers whom we couldn’t operate without.”

“Our bottom line,” Williams concluded, “is that we are here to enforce the law, and we must be straight and fair in our dealings with the staff and students. I appreciate the support they have shown us.”

Maghsoud caters to Winthrop

By VIOLETTA WESTON

TJ staff writer

Winthrop College and Epicure Food Services are fortunate to have Essie Maghsoud as the catering manager.

“I love what I’m doing; each day is a new challenge. It’s a seven day a week job that lasts anywhere from ten to nineteen hours,” said Maghsoud.

Maghsoud and his forty-to-fifty student workers cater parties with as few as four people to as many as 1,000. Most of his services cater to alumni, faculty, staff and students. They also cater to other groups outside Winthrop. “Being Epicure’s Catering Manager involves planning and preparing refreshments for receptions, weddings, and parties. There is always something different. It goes to the mountains, and I look forward to visiting California within the next year.”

In addition to his duties as manager, Maghsoud also does ice sculptures. Ice sculptures take time and patience. It requires at least four hours of sitting in a freezer creating the figure. When asked what he could create, Mr. with a sense of humor, Maghsoud said with a smile, “Oh, just anything.” He recently worked on a creation of Cupid until one of the students broke.

In his spare time, Maghsoud plays racquetball and tennis, and enjoys traveling. He has traveled to England, a career with Epicure and Winthrop. I wouldn’t want to leave Winthrop for money or anything else. I enjoy my work and the people here at Winthrop,” added Maghsoud.

Frat Book Shakes Florida

GAINESVILLE, FL. (CP)–“I’m hearing more and more University of Florida officials of this type of thing,” says a suspended fraternity and Eileen Stevens of Sayville, N.Y., are likely to probe all the fraternity—founded the Committee to promine “little sister” programs on Halt Useless College Killings at campus after one house started her son was killed in a selling a raunchy handbook to fraternal initiation ritual.

One UF “little sister” program continues to generate interest in law enforcement,” Stevens said. “I’m really proud of the public safety department at Winthrop.”

“My brother the book that was intended as a joke, but In this case, Florida suspension university administrators aren’t spending the handbook for the replacement of 1985, and its “little sister” program for an indefinite joke or as a National Lampoon parody. In other words, I find it funny,” says The university also may assistant student affairs Dean review all such programs at the school.

“Little sister” programs try to inculcate female students in activities of a fraternity. Most of students “sand niggers and ten the females are not sorority pointy heads,” and makes anti-semitic references to others. But, the Fraternity in a prepared statement, the Fraternity’s Executive says fraternity president, said the “little sister” programs are “not handbook of an official desire” because they distract publication of and is not condoned by the fraternity.

The handbook is “in poor taste. We find it funny,” says Thomas Beyer of the national Beta Theta Pi what fraternity members ask of them.

National fraternity officials One UF “little sister” told the can’t recall seeing similar student newspaper she is books at other schools.

Upset by a group of a group of Student Affairs monitoring fraternity hazing James Scott is to decide within practices says she has been told the week whether to launch the of “dozens and dozens” of similar campus wide probe of “little sister” groups.

Johnsonian

T.J. will return... March 25, 1985. Have a GREAT Spring Break!! TJ Staff
Finally, Spring Break

Thank goodness! In just 4 more days, it will be that wonderful time of the year we have all been waiting for. That’s right! Spring Break is just around the corner.

Winthrop College campus will look as though an epidemic has struck. Suitcases will probably be packed before Thursday, rooms will empty out, cars speed away, and the administration promises that Phelps will be ready when we return.

Many will head for Florida, more specifically—Ft. Lauderdale. The only place in the world where it’s legal to party for seven days.

Others will embark on Myrtle Beach, Charleston, or even the ski slopes for one last run before real hot weather.

And there are even a few of us who will drift back to our hometowns to work or find summer jobs.

Wherever we may all choose to scamper to, it’s a much needed break. (Thank goodness we didn’t have to wait as long as we did for Fall Break!)

Let’s remember one important point, at the risk of sounding like your mother, be careful; think before you act. Wonderful times can be easily scanned. Look out for yourselves and your friends. It’s great to meet new people, but don’t be over trusting. It honestly pays to be aware.

So, now go on your way to fun, it’s less than 72 hours away.

Everyday challenges lead to growth

By LISA HAZEL
Special to TJ

Everyday life presents us with many challenges, the primary challenges being to accomplish whatever it is we set out to do. Along with long term goals and aspirations, we have daily goals necessary to accomplish, for goals set are goals met. Whether it be writing that dreaded 500 word essay or even going with your friends to watch the Eagles play at the Coliseum, it makes you feel good when you can say that you’ve gotten done what you wanted to do today.

Successful days give us a sense of self-esteem, personal gratification. We feel good about ourselves and we have more to offer others in our lives. Our inner incentive provides us with ammunition to tackle whatever task is set before us for tomorrow. Being satisfied with ourselves allows us to healthily interact with our roommates, friends, instructors, and co-workers. Experiencing this good feeling gives us the incentive to go the extra mile or stay up an extra hour to complete our tasks effectively and thoroughly, and more importantly, with a sense of pride.

There are times, however, when we may lose our incentive to fulfill our daily goals. Poor habits begin to dominate our lives. We cut class for no reason at all; we fail to prepare for exams, or cancel obligations previously set with others. When this happens, we usually pledge to ourselves, “Oh well, I’ll get it done tomorrow!”

As all of us have the tendency to procrastinate at least once in our lives, these unfulfilled goals can get lost in oblivion and may never get accomplished. Losing our sense of motivation can result in a loss of self-esteem. Negative thought patterns begin to override our positive side, and we might begin to put ourselves down. What’s worse is that we may lose respect for ourselves because we seem to be letting others down as well. In this lethargic state of mind, we are becoming closer to the very essence of our being.

DEFINITION OF "PUBLIC SAFETY"
...A FINANCIAL PARASITE TO RESIDENT STUDENTS ILLEGALLY PARKED!!!
Commercialism - spare me!

By ROBERT McDONALD
TJ contributing editor

Please, spare me! I swear, if I turn on the television set one more time on a Sunday afternoon and see a starving Ethiopian, I think I’ll croak! Ya’ll, this subject is getting real old, and I think it is time somebody ran the risk of becoming “public enemy number one” by saying so. Things are really getting out of hand.

Every Sunday it is the same thing. You have a choice between watching a very dull basketball game (with twenty or so slow-motion repeats of the same shots) or being a first-hand witness to starving people with flies crawling in and out of their mouths. How wonderful! How will I ever choose?!?

Now, I realize that the first thing many of you will say or think is that I am the most hard-hearted, uncaring, selfish person alive, but this is not true. I promise. I just like to be realistic. O.K.? Face it, everybody. If all the people in those devastated countries look like the ones shown on those Sunday afternoon missionary shows, then there is not much an extra bowl of Corn Flakes or a bologna sandwich is going to do for them. Am I right?

There has to be money in those countries somewhere. Governments need money to operate. They can feed their own people. What we sympathetic Americans see is the bottom line. For once, I’d like to see (if I have to watch these stupid shows) how the other half of the country lives. You know, the “upper crust.” The middle class would even do. Think of it. What would a middle class Ethiopian look like? Anyhow, my stomach simply cannot take watching the flies and the dust around dried-up bodies one more time. This is not something we need to watch after one of those gourmet Sunday dinners served in Thomson Cafeteria.

The best part of the shows, though, has to be when amongst all the grossness of famine, in walks girl-like Sally Struthers with a whine in her voice that could shatter crystal. With her Estee Lauder face, she proceeds to describe the scene which surrounds her and then just happens to begin reciting the address of the relief agency that she is promoting. Her acting skills come in handy, too. She can almost make a sane person dig deep into his pockets and send a twenty-dollar bill that will feed Dominique for a year. Not me. I got wise.

I started wondering, “Why do they always have actors as sponsors for these shows?” I noticed that they never interview any “common” people that have been there. I suppose it is because there are so many out-of-work actors and singers (Dale and Roy Rogers!!!) that they can get those stars and use their name for a significantly discounted price. At any rate, though, I resent the feeling that I got that I was being used. I felt like my emotions were being played on to squeeze as much as possible out of my wallet. I bought it, and I won. Yeah!

I truly do feel sorry for all the self-righteous good Samaritans that freely send their money to all these relief funds because it is the “good” thing to do. Don’t you realize that there are lots of “good” causes right here at home that are suffering severely because they are being ignored? I guess the only way these causes will receive just attention is for their directors to hire a good, convincing, unemployed actor or actress to support them. Then, all that is left to do would be to take a few of the grossest, most heart-wrenching photographs (exaggerated if necessary to gain full effect) and flash them all over the television screen on Sunday afternoons. Think it would work?

Letter to the Editor

Dear editor,

Recently a friend of mine brought me a copy of The Johnsonian. Although I do not continue to attend Winthrop College, I enjoy keeping up with Winthrop events. I was pleased to read a letter written by a friend of mine, Christopher Cook. He was opposing the viewpoint of a previous editorial concerning a film which certain students found inappropriate for campus viewing. His letter was in support of the film.

Imagine my dismay to discover a few days later that he had suffered retribution from his letter.

Last year, another friend of mine, Misty Barton, wrote a letter to the editor concerning certain privileges extended to Greek societies, but to no others. She suffered mortal anguish and verbal persecution because she voiced an unpopular opinion. What galls me the most is that the Winthrop population has fallen to this level, that every unpopular viewpoint is a thing to be violently opposed.

Sincerely,
Lynn Fenton

Security

Dear editor,

I think that our security guards are failing to do their complete job. Instead of being so concerned about a wrongly parked car, they should be concerned about people’s property. So trucks don’t get stolen from light parking lots or cars vandalized. Maybe they could try to protect students from non-students who cruise campus looking for trouble.

Sincerely,
Troy Kelley
Athletic department
Utilize your assets

By LAURIE ANN DEDES
TJ sports editorial writer

A day does not go by when I don't drive by that huge construction on Eden Terrace Road called the Coliseum. Hopefully, you all know which multi-million dollar facility I'm speaking of. And every time I drive by this glorious monument that represents in one GIANT nutshell, the progress and power that Winthrop College is attaining, the parking lot is virtually empty. And every time I drive by this symbol of victory (political or otherwise) I have to ask myself (I'll say) "Dedes, why is that place so empty?" And the answer is because with the exception of basketball and special events, I don't think that the Coliseum is utilized the way it could be.

Everything has room for improvement including utilization of the Coliseum. I think that classes should be taught out there. For coaching and physical education majors this would be the ideal site for recreation and intramurals but the Coliseum could have one of the most prestigious educational development centers if they're evaluated the utilization of the Coliseum and Winnthrop College could have one of the most prestigious athletic education departments in the Big South Conference if they're evaluated the utilization of the Coliseum and improved upon it. The Coliseum was not built for just the basketball team but it was built for the entire student body. It's out of Peabody Gym. "Peabody is great for recreation and Eden Terrace Road. But it could be better. I say "Get athletics and we just didn't have it," Mims also added.

When asked about the team's bad luck on the road, Mims said, "We were not pleased with our road record. But possibly it could have been due to the long road trips, the change in playing facilities such as a wood court on a tartan floor, and of course we had to consider the other team's home court advantage.

Mims also added, "We tried to make each road game feel like a home game and told the players each game was a new night, new game, and a new chance to win." With Winthrop's recent push for NCAA Division I status, Mims said, "We played better competition, had longer road trips and also showed more intensity."

"Next year we play Furman, East Carolina, Campbell, and take a 4-day trip to Quincy, Illinois for a 3-day tournament," Mims said of the schedule for next year.

Mims also added, "The district we left with teams such as College of Charleston, Lanier, and USC-Spartanburg was very strong and the new Big South Conference also has some good teams. We, in the athletic program, feel fortunate to be in the league."

This year's team had several strong players on which Mims commented, "Fred McKinnon was a strong offensive threat, Allen Washington was a force rebounding, Jerome McKiver turned into a steady playmaker, while Brian Pope was a consistent shooter."

One strength about this year's team was defense of which Mims said, "We played good defense all year, with the exception of two or three games we easily could have had a few more wins."

About recruiting Mims said, "It's an ongoing process. We are looking at more physical players than in the past. We feel certain we should be able to sign three or four good players."

Mims also added, "I'd also like to thank the fans for their support. Also the managers Terry Brannon, Chris Penn, and Todd Hutchison. They did excellent jobs for the program. Also the graduate assistants Jeff Burkhammer and Steve Roberts for great jobs.

Season goes well

By TODD HUTCHISON
TJ sports writer

"As far as a coach I was disappointed by the losing season, but there were plenty of other positive aspects on the season," said Billy Mims on the men's basketball '84-85 season.

The biggest aspect of the season according to Mims was a 3-answer question. "First, we had a continued improvement at home. We won our last 7 games at home, and we hope to continue that tradition till next year. Secondly, the team played well where the game was played the course of the season, with the players playing good teamball over the last two months of the season. Third and lastly, then we defeated Campbell on January 26th, it was Winthrop's first win over a sanctioned NCAA Division I school."

"On the other side of the coin, we had too many turnovers and didn't play well on the offensive end," said Mims on the team's weak points.

"Specifically, we started the season with experience, actually five juniors. The staff felt that the team should have had poise and we just didn't have it," Mims also added.

Great Britain's Scantlebury; Foreigner makes the scene

By DOUG COBB
TJ sports writer

Peter Scantlebury, a freshman from London, England, is one of the recruits this year for Coach Niel Gordon's Winthrop Eagles basketball team.

Scantlebury played basketball at Eastfield University in London during his Freshman year. He was one of the most prestigious athletic education departments in the Big South Conference if they were evaluated the utilization of the Coliseum and improved upon it. The Coliseum was not built for just the basketball team but it was built for the entire student body. It's high time everyone benefited from it!

Scantlebury comes from a medium-size family of five. He has one brother (18), and one sister (19). His mother is a nurse, and his father is a motor mechanic.

Before Scantlebury came to Winthrop to play for the Eagles, he played Semi-pro basketball in England for a team called Braknell.

When Scantlebury was asked, "What is the best thing you did for fun back in England?" Scantlebury replied, "We mostly go out to clubs or discotheques."

Scantlebury enjoys the weather and friendliness of the United States.

With three more games left this season, Winthrop's chances to make the District 6 Playoffs are very bleak, especially since they finished the regular season with the red-hot Clemson Tigers.

Eagle Events

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Event</th>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Score</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Baseball</td>
<td>March 3</td>
<td>Tusculum College</td>
<td>Home 2:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>March 4</td>
<td>Voorhees College</td>
<td>Denmark, S.C., 3:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>March 6</td>
<td>Gardner Webbe</td>
<td>Home 3:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>March 7</td>
<td>Gardner Webbe</td>
<td>Home 2:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Softball</td>
<td>March 8</td>
<td>USC-Spartanbarg</td>
<td>Spartanburg 4:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Men's Tennis</td>
<td>March 5</td>
<td>UNC-Ashville</td>
<td>Home 2:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>March 6</td>
<td>Erskine College</td>
<td>Due West, S.C., 2:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women's Tennis</td>
<td>March 4</td>
<td>Erskine College</td>
<td>Due West, S.C., 2:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>March 6</td>
<td>USC-Coastal</td>
<td>Home 2:00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Finally, Spring Break
Eagle Pitching
Walters will be key

By DOUG COBB
TJ sports writer

The Winthrop College Eagles baseball team has always relied on strong pitching. Mitch Walters is no exception. Walters is expected to be one of the leaders of the team in this, his junior season. Head coach Horace Turbeville commented, "We are expecting him to be one of our mainstays in the pitching staff."

Walters is a 6 foot, 3 inches, one-hundred and ninety-five pound righthander. Walters played his high school baseball at Northwestern High School in Rock Hill, S.C., under the supervision of Coach Owen Privette.

During the past two years, Walters has compiled a 15 wins and 3 loss record, 8-5 in '83 and 7-1 in '84. In '84 he had an earned run average of 2.88 and 3.46 in 1983. Walters only had 25 strikeouts in '84 and 31 in '83. This fact shows as Coach Turbeville stated, "He's not a powerful pitcher, but he has excellent control and pitches well. He has rhythm and can pitch long. These are his main attributes."

Winthrop fields a young team this semester. When asked if the team's youth would affect the team, Walters stated, "It will affect the team; we are inexperienced." He further stated, "The upperclassmen will have to take over for us to do well."

Walters plans to graduate with a degree in Physical Education next year. During the offseason, he plans to go to the beach. After graduation, Walters plans to move to California.

When asked how he thought he would do this season, Walters replied, "I hope I have as good a season as I have the past two seasons."

If Walters' success is near to the success of his two previous years, then his play should prove to be a key factor in the Winthrop College Eagles' 1985 baseball season.

Wheelchair game to be held at W.C.

By JUDY ALSTON
TJ staff writer

The Southern States Regional Wheelchair Games will be held at Winthrop College on April 19 and 20, 1985. The Southern States Region consists of Mississippi, Tennessee, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

The National Wheelchair Athletic Association, the sponsor of the Games, was founded in 1958 and has been going strong ever since. Winthrop has been tentatively sanctioned by the National Wheelchair Athletic Association. According to Debbie Blackmon, the Director of the Human Development Center, there are five events in the Games. They include the slam, track and field, archery, swimming, and weightlifting.

There are two divisions in each event; junior and adult. In each event, the gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded.

Men's tennis team warms up to a new season

By TRISH McKITRICK
TJ sports writer

Sunshine and warmer weather in February? Our men's tennis team certainly can't complain! What better way to start out a very busy season? A total of 35 matches are scheduled, and the Big South Conference won't be held until 2 weeks after school has ended.

Tennis coach Gerald Hendricks explains the gist of what has happened in the past six games by saying, "Basically we have gotten off to a slow start. Our record is 2-4. But, after winning our last two matches I feel that we will continue to do well. Also, it should be noted that although our record shows a loss against four of six teams that we played, those teams were ranked in the number ninth and tenth divisions of the nationals. The men played very well; the matches were only lost 5-4."

The team is made of a group of experienced players. The first six players have been established as follows: Dean Taylor (1); Mike Cox (2); Mah Raj (3); Pena (4); Bozue (5); Ejer (6).

Luckily there have not been too many injuries among the players. Unfortunately, there is an exception to this in the cases of Mike Cox and Hutch Moore. Cox injured himself during practice but should not have to leave the team. However, Moore will not be able to return this season due to a stress fracture.

"This season's schedule is competitive," commented Hendricks. He said, "Our toughest match will be against Lander. They beat Clemson, who are ranked in the top ten in the nation, 5-4. Furman will also be a challenge."

Hendricks feels that Winthrop's going NCAA will not affect the men's team that much. "I have not changed any of my policies since our schedules in the past have already been mixed NAIA and NCAA."

Hendricks feels that the competitive schedule will be good for the team. He remarked, "The more we play, the better we will get."

Tennis team rained out

By CINDY JOHNSON
TJ sports writer

The Lady Eagles tennis team was rained out this week while engaging in a match with Presbyterian College. The match was tied 3-3 going into the double matches, but was postponed until a later date. The Eagles' '84 record consists of a loss to Virginia Tech, a team which is currently ranked second in the Metro Conference.

The team members are, in order by flight, Kelly Grant, Karen Roof, Chris Delosh, Maria Risk, Ashley Shealy, and Jean Gallager.

The Lady Eagles will play in both the NAIA District 6 and Big South Conference tournaments. The team will not become a part of the NCAA until September.

In the match against Virginia Tech, Chris Willoughby, a freshman from Federalburg, Maryland, and Ashley Shealy, from Columbia, S.C., defeated the opposing number three doubles team 6-2, 6-4. The Eagles lost the match 8-1.

The men's record stands at 2-4 on the season. Coach Gerald Hendrix predicts that both the men and women teams will have fairly good seasons. He stated, "If we can win 50 percent of our matches for the women, we would consider the season a success."
Wellness increases life span

By JODI BROWN
TJ staff writer

Possibly the best time to begin living a wellness lifestyle is during the college years. If you wait until the night before that huge exam that will determine the fate of your life to begin studying; if you haven’t eaten a vegetable and have no idea what fruit looks like since you left your mother’s table; if you find yourself living off of beer, cigarettes, and occasional pizza and a Snickers bar; if you take caffeine pills so that you can last the semester with only two or three hours of sleep weekly; and if you have to look the word “exercise” up in the dictionary, you’re a terrible candidate to adopt the wellness habits that will add quality, and perhaps quantity, to your life.

“My lifestyle isn’t that extreme” you say? Do you sleep an average of eight hours a night, eat breakfast daily, drink in moderation, exercise, maintain a moderate weight, and refrain from smoking? If all of these things are second nature to you, congratulations. You live a wellness lifestyle that should ward off sickness and disease, handle stress, be happy and more satisfied with your life, increase your energy and success on the job or in school work, and improve your appearance and blood levels.

Jackie Patterson, the manager of health education at Blue Cross Blue Shield in Columbus, visited Winthrop faculty and staff recently to spread the wellness “gospel” throughout the ranks. The slim, attractive Mrs. Patterson is living proof of what a wellness lifestyle can do for a person. She circulated a photograph that was taken of her when she weighed nearly 200 lbs.

“Every time we face stress we get a dump of adrenaline that we don’t work off with exercise. At night, we cannot rest properly. We are the first living generation to have no activity in our lives. Our world of communication and easy access to transportation, have made us overweight, but we don’t eat enough to get our nutritional requirements.”

Patterson warned of the bad repercussions that result from excess fat, sugar, salt, and chemical additives in our diets. “Our 19-year-old men have a 15% buildup of plaque in their blood vessels. We know that this causes heart attacks and high blood pressure. Some of the same chemical additives put in the foods we eat are also used in cleaning fluids, to kill lice and in rubber cement and oil paint solvents.”

“Smoking is the worst habit people can adopt,” Patterson asserts. “We’ve talked about the tobacco industry and the jobs it’s created; how glamorous it is overnight. The body is created, how glamorous it is. Our 19-year-old men have a who don’t smoke live much longer on the average than those who do.”

Patterson stressed the importance of eating breakfast. She cited statistics which show that 75 percent of accident victims in the workplace did not eat breakfast and of the students who fail 80 percent did not eat breakfast on a regular basis.

“Breakfast is essential because overnight the body moves into a fasting state. Eating suddenly in the middle of the day causes a dump of insulin that turns fat overnight. Eating breakfast increases the metabolism. A bowl of cereal is fine.”

According to Patterson, exercising just 20 minutes three times a week helps the body to relax and makes stress easier to cope with.

“We should try to change our unhealthy habits we’ve acquired during our lifetime all at once. That would be virtually impossible. Mrs. Patterson suggests beginning with our nutritional habits.

“We should increase the fruits and vegetables we eat as well as high fiber breads and cereals. Decreasing the butter, gravy, and oils we put on them. Substituting fruits for sweets, skim milk for whole milk, whole wheat bread for white bread, and beans and peas (an excellent source of protein) for meat, is a great way to reduce calories and increase nutrition and fiber value.”

Jumping one hurdle at a time is the prescribed measure. “After we alter our diets, quitting smoking and getting into a good exercise routine with variety of walking, swimming, aerobics, floor exercises or running will be the next step.”

Sound hard? Isn’t an improved, maybe lengthier lifespan worth it?

Model U.N. attends Harvard

By JEFF COLEMAN

The goal of the model UN is to promote world peace by simulating the proceedings of the actual United Nations. The Harvard Conference consisted of colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada. Each college was assigned a country to represent. Winthrop represented the country of Iran, and were opposed by Georgetown University, who represented Iran.

Laura Cude, head delegate, was pleased with the overall performance of the Winthrop representatives, but was somewhat surprised by the Georgetown delegates because they “weren’t as challenging” as she had expected. She adds that “Georgetown and other colleges were very much out of character with the countries they were representing.” Ashely Byrd adds that the “hot, heated debate” between Winthrop and Georgetown culminated when Georgetown agreed to a cease fire between Iran and Iraq. In Byrd’s opinion, this was “very unusual and unrealistic since the two countries had been at war for ages. Byrd adds that Winthrop delegates were able to work with larger colleges and universities on an equal basis.

Randy Firestine adds that the Winthrop model UN is “more realistic” than the Harvard Conference because Harvard is less formal and more relaxed, unlike actual United Nations Conferences. “The Winthrop delegates, learned a lot in regard to how to improve our model UN, and also learned what mistakes not to make as well,” said Firestine.

James Dedes said that he enjoyed the conference, but feels that “organization is far better at Winthrop than at Harvard. Dedes adds that he expected much more from Harvard and also from Georgetown. He states that Harvard only had state department representatives, whereas Winthrop has national diplomats attending our conferences. He adds that the trip was a “great learning experience.”

According to Melissa Colman, “the Harvard Conference was good in the sense that it gave the Winthrop delegates a model to go by.” However, she feels that the Winthrop Conferences are “more realistic and probably as good as the Harvard Conference.

All of the delegates felt that the trip was beneficial in one aspect of another. The students left campus Wednesday Feb. 20 and returned to Boston approximately 2:30 Thursday. The conference was held at the Boston Marriott.

The Winthrop College Model UN Conferences will take place April 10-13. Unlike the Harvard Conference, the Winthrop UN consists of high school students. Over 300 students from various high schools throughout the states are expected to participate.

Dance Theatre entertains

By DONNA CARR
The Winthrop Dance Theatre, directed by Joanne M. Lunt, presented its annual Spring Concert Feb. 21 and 22 in Johnson Auditorium.

The dancers performed seven dance numbers. There was a variety of dance styles including ballet and jazz with subject matter concerning humor, drama, and the abstract. The music included four concerts each year.

The Winthrop Dance Theatre takes place in the spring with a variety of walking, swimming, aerobics, floor exercises or running will be the next step.”

According to Lunt, many dancers had the flu during the week of the performance, but that did not stop their determination or dedication. She stated that “They are extremely disciplined girls.”

After Spring break, the group will begin rehearsing for the next dance concert which will be in late January. Other choreographers included Karen Dugan, a past time dance instructor, Meme Holst, Patti Marks, and Jack Yantis, a guest from Augusta, Ga. who created “Enigma.” “Enigma” was created in a weekend workshop in late January.
Personal Messages

Plastic Amy. When are you going to wear your pants again? And tell Cathy to get a date by eight on Friday. PSW

Nancy Stewart: I'm looking forward to your performance tonight at ATS. Break a leg! Your suitemate and No. 1 fan. Lori

Darren-Beautiful shot—your mom would have been proud! Love you, G Cone

Mike Clarkson: I wish I was still...just down the hall. I love you, too! Becky Young

B.C.T. Those eyes...T.T.A.

Hey Lisa, I do exist! T.T.A.

To Amy: Get over the thanks you guys have to study and let's party soon! We love you, Leigh and Ali

To Angie M.: Have you been to and bought 4 pizzas lately? Hope you didn't fall down. Love M&M

I'll be sorry to see basketball season leave us, but I'll be glad when I can wipe my butt with toilet paper again!! The general consensus of 2nd floor Mar. Nan.

Terr, I watching you "T"

Richard P: My alc needs to be cleaned. What else is a little brother for? Keep up the good work. J.D.

Perry W: The A&P parking lot just isn't the same without you. Your purple polo goes nice with my leather. You know who.

Brett S: Good luck in the election! J.D.

PIKA Little Sisters and pledges: Thanks for all the help in homecoming! What a team!! J.D.

To Lubia, Franca and Suha, I'm still waiting for my flowers. Edie

To Pam B: You're my favorite Sigma pledge. Love always, Tim B.

Tricia, I had a great time at homecoming! I hope we can meet again real soon at Waffle House. PSW

Sam B: You're a great little brother. Keep up the good work! Try to be punctual. Also try to stay in South Carolina for one weekend. Perry W.

James Dedes: Now that you've had the "Ivy League" experience of Harvard and Princeton, doesn't it make you want to TRANSFER? (hint, hint)! Just kidding! Your loving sister-L.D.

To Lina: Beware of toilet brushes with long bristles! They could be dangerous. We love you! Leigh & Ali

Tina: Get a buzz and get over it because it azz. Love one L and one L.

Julie B: You're the best! Love your lil' sister.

We want to apologize to Winthrop for acting like such immature jerks. We figure that everyone knows what losers we are anyway so maybe everyone will overlook our personal problems. West Thomson 3rd floor losers: David Marke, Dean Kelly, Leonard, Kevin Dupree, Jay Costa, and Mark Braddern.

To Amy S: Let's go cook some corn dogs at Carowinds and discuss comedians in the early twenties. We love you, Leigh and Ali

To Amy M: Have you been to A&P and bought 4 pizzas lately? Hope you didn't fall down. Love M&M

I'm going to wear your pants again? I don't think I will need any help to supply her with the chisel. Sound like a good deal? P.S. Where's our beer? Love ya! Postie

Kermi, Welcome back to Winthrop. It sure is nice having you around again! B & D

LT, I haven't seen you in a while. Your dinner is cold, it's been waiting for weeks. Hope to see you soon. Your normal, well-adjusted little guinzo Italiano friend.

Miss Piggy: Since we were gone this weekend and you had the place all to yourself, how did the "new you" work? We can make arrangements for next weekend. Too. Tune in next week for details! Love ya-For & Beak

Wats: Are you being mean yet? I don't think I will need any help from the tattoo. Everything fits perfectly now, no problem. How's the new conquest or should I say old? He'll come around. Remember your promise. Love ya, Sherlock

Brian, How are the bananas down in Nigie land? Coco

Carla H: Have you eaten any peaches lately? Good luck with Richard. Love, Yohan

To the newest 3rd floor W. Thomson stud-puppy: David will meet you in your laundry room.

Jeff, I hope you had a great Birthday, March 1st. I didn't forget! Love Tammie

The concert was great, girls. Congratulations!! Winthrop Dance Theatre! Love, Tammie

Goosy and K.D.: Thanks for everything. I love you! Tammie

Amy & Angie, Thanks for your concern. By the way, do you have any more zit cream?

Warrant: 2 Sigma Pledges wanted for removing a sister's furniture. Minus 500 points when I find you! K.K.

Sigma girls are the best and I love you all. K.K.

Sigma pledges: Ya'll are wonderful and I love you, Beth Marcia, Campbell's Soup can suicide is not a good idea. Don't try it again. Love: the ambulance driver.

Sigma Nu's—We're gonna have a blast at White Star this weekend! GP

Sly, I sure do hope you're acting like a girl today!! P.Sst—are you awake? Love you lots--Miss Arrogant and Unreliable. P.S. When are we going to eat pizza again?

Joni: Do you smoke? Not today—oh, maybe tomorrow. Watch out for that chair!!! What whipcream! What's the beer bottle doing under the table? Love you, Englebertt-alias Barry Manilow

Miss Piggy, How was your weekend? Remember, my room is always available (with a small charge, of course)! Love ya! Postie

Kerry & Russ, We've hired a maid to come clean your bathroom next week. You'll have to supply her with the chisel. I can't wait! Love, Sara

DSH—Next time the plumbers come, please don't ask them to fix the sink. It was the longest 20 minutes in my life!! EWA

To the brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon—Hope ya'll have a wild and crazy Spring Break and I'll be looking for you in Savannah on St. Patrick's Day. Love your lil sis, Sara

Miss Piggy, How was your weekend? Remember, my room is always available (with a small charge, of course)! Love ya! Postie

Kerrp, Welcome back to Winthrop. It sure is nice having you around again! B & D

DSH, Congratulations on last week's success (to PIKA). He really deserved it "Mom"—EWA

Kerry & Russ, We've hired a maid to come clean your bathroom next week. You'll have to supply her with the chisel. Sound like a good deal? P.S. Where's our beer? Love ya! B & D

Bob Mercer: Where have you been? Too good for us now or what? C.

Hey Brigan—You ain't so bad. You ain't so bad.

Varsity Cheerleaders: Thanks for a great year! The memories of the hard work and fun times will always be with us. We'll be with you in spirit when you go for that national championship next year. Love, Kim & David

H-O, Sly, Wats—I'm sure glad I'm here. Munchkins just don't fit in unless there are other munchkins and honorary munchkins around. I love you all—Munchkin No. 3. P.S. Thaxn

Mike Clarkson, Thought it was going to say something else, huh? Still wish the same thoughts and still want you to know I love you, too! Becky Young

Happy Birthday Rubena Dorch, Angie Green, Alison Hall, Sherri King, and Mary Travis. Guess Who?

Happy Birthday to Delta Zeta sisters Susie Harris (March 4) Angie Green (March 6) and Trish Waddell (March 8).

J.D.

Watson, Did you see that elephant? Haven't seen Lurch lately, have you? Well, maybe you better just go to bed. Love you lots too—Raise your hand.

Shannon H, Hope you have a super-fantastic week! Your Secret PIKA Pledge

Robbie M: Have a great trip to Ethiopia over Spring Break. Bring me back a surprise. J.D.

Linda Ciesia and Amie Baime—Who's green panties were those waving from an extension cord out of that 5th floor Wofford window? Love, the Bratnapper

Peanutbutter—You're groovy! Get out of my window! Love, Groover

Kim B: What does B.G. stand for? R.M.S.

To Tim, E.B., Dean, Marc, Ty, Tommy, Dana, John, etc.—Have a nice Spring Break. You're probably not going to party too much! Take care, OSH & Tay

To Holly, See ya in the city! I love you Tracy

Vamers!—Here's to your future! Take care of yourselves. We love you—Brenden, Brandt, and Thad. J.O.

Kim B: Does B.G. stand for? R.M.S.

To Tim, E.B., Dean, Marc, Ty, Tommy, Dana, John, etc.—Have a nice Spring Break. You're probably not going to party too much! Take care, OSH & Tay

To Holly, See ya in the city! I love you Tracy

Varsity Cheerleaders: Thanks for a great year! The memories of the hard work and fun times will always be with us. We'll be with you in spirit when you go for that national championship next year. Love, Kim & David

Bob Mercer: Where have you been? Too good for us now or what? C.

Hey Brigan—You ain't so bad. You ain't so bad.

Laura, Thanks for being such a good little sister—Love, Your Big Sis.

Rue, Thanks for being so understanding Thursday night. You're a super roommate. Love, Sue

Sue T. Was the hall comfortable? A concerned sister

Angie Green (March 6) and Tnsh Waddell (March 8).
W.C. sponsors studies abroad program

By BRYAN W. ROBERTSON
TJ staff writer

Would you like to add more to your summer vacation than just a trip to the beach for a week or two? Paris—where is it? Then take advantage of the Winthrop College Studies Abroad Program which will include a six-week span in various French cities. Not only will you be able to see the places you have read about, but you will also receive six semester hours upon completion of your studies. The trip is sponsored by Winthrop's International Center under the direction of Dr. Glen Thomas.

The program is open to anyone with two years of high school French or one year of college French. You must be 12 years of age or older, or 17 years of age with written permission from parents. You must also have the recommendation of your French teacher sent to the Winthrop International Center. Already, people ranging in ages from 17-57 have signed up to go. According to the Travel/Study program is yours to visit such cities as Aix, Paris, and South of France between the Alps and the Mediterranean Sea.

The cost of the trip is $3,000 per person which includes round-trip airfare from Atlanta to Paris, all around transportation in France, room and board, 21 meals per week, tuition for six semester hours, group excursions, tickets for theatre and concert performances, and fees for museum entrance. A $55 application fee must accompany your application. Once you have been notified of your acceptance, a $175 deposit is due.

Dr. Judith Barban, a lecturer of French at Winthrop, will be director of the program in France. She will be participating in the first Winthrop faculty exchange with a foreign institution. "There are a lot of exciting details we are able to work out. I plan to work in a lot of surprise activities and extras that normally would not be a part of the program," Dr. Barban stated. She will depart for France in April.

According to the Travel/Study pamphlet, the itinerary for the program is as follows:

July 1- Depart Paris for Aix-En Provence via "TGV", the world's fastest train. For four weeks you will study at the University of Provence in the South of France between the Alps and the Mediterranean Sea. You will earn six semester hours credit in courses ranging from intermediate to graduate levels. You will be placed at an appropriate level according to your demonstrated ability. You will stay in one of the new University Residences at the University of Provence in Aix where each person will have his own private room.

While in Aix you will be given the opportunity to roam the streets and shops and stroll the cafe-lined Cours Mirabeau. Weekend excursions to the French Riviera, including Nice, Cannes, and Monaco are available. You may also visit the Roman ruins of Nimes, Arles and Orange as well as travel to the Camargue region and see the “cowboys” and wild horses. The university will also sponsor academic, athletic and social activities.

July 29- Via chartered bus, depart Aix for a seven-day lecture tour of the following:

Burgundy (LaBourgogne) offers some of the world-famous vineyards and wines of France. In the Palace of the Dukes of Burgundy in the medieval city of Dijon, visit the Hotel-Dieu (medieval hospital) in Beaune and the romanesque cathedral of Tournus. Loire Valley (chateaux district) will offer you the chance to travel through the heart of France to the noble Renaissance chateaux of Chambord, Chenonceaux, Blois, as well as many others via Vezelay and Bourges. Following the tour of Loire Valley you will return to Paris for a farewell banquet at an announced surprise location.

August 5- Depart France for your return flight home. For those who wish to remain in France longer arrangements can be made.

The Pi Delta Phi French Fraternity has sponsored fundraisers to get scholarship money to help students get in the program.

For further information and/or an application contact Dr. Judith Barban, International Center, Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S.C. 29733 or call (803) 323-2231.

The Record Cellar

Music Videos
Sheet Music - Folios and Individual Sheets
Complete Selection of Albums, Cassettes and Accessories, Compact Discs

366-6139
109 M.L.S. V
Rock Hill Mall

$1 OFF
ON ANY
8.69 LP or TAPE
Coupon And Winthrop L.D. Must Be Presented BEFORE Sale. One Copy Per Minute.

Wash, Dry, and Fold Orders
Hangers and detergent furnished
Attendant on Duty at All Times!

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 8 a.m.-10 p.m.
HORACE'S LAUNDRY
AT THE
SALUDA SHOPPING CENTER
OFFERS WINTHROP STUDENTS
25% DISCOUNT
ON ALL
WASH, DRY, AND FOLD ORDERS
HANGERS AND DETERGENT FURNISHED
ATTENDANT ON DUTY AT ALL TIMES!

STEP INTO RELAXATION!

Thursdays

ROCK HILL'S LONGEST HAPPY HOUR
12-20 UNTIL 7:00
MON. 9-11, HAPPY HOUR WINTHROP-
THIS ONE'S FOR YOU!
FREE EAR PIERCING
with purchase of earrings at
ONLY $5.88
Large selection to choose from.

Love's
2030 Cherry Rd.,
Rock Hill, SC
18-6 Daily & Sat.
Fine Jewelry At Beautiful Prices; Long-time 10.

Want Something Original?
Let US Design Your
Formal Or Wedding Gowns!
Starting At $65.00
Also Offering Consultants For Alteration Needs

Triple "E" Sewing Shop
516 Oakland Ave.
Rock Hill, S.C.
94 MON-FRI

Hear Soviet Defector
TOMAS SCHUMAN
Tell How The "K.G.B." Manipulates
Our Press... And Hear His Recipe FOR PREVENTING NUCLEAR WAR!
• Friday, March 8, 1985 — 8:00 P.M.
• Rock Hill Law Center
120 E. Black St.
Rock Hill, South Carolina
• Sponsor: The Larry McDonald Crusade
• For Information Phone: 803/547-7451
• Tickets: $3.00 Advance; $4.00 at Door
$1.00 for Students

TAKE A BREAK FROM WINTER BLAHS,
Send a SPRING bouquet from Nancy's Flowers!
Also Available:
Balloons
Gift Baskets
Dish Gardens
FREE DELIVERY TO WINTHROP

Nancy's Flowers & Etc.
150 CRESTRY BLVD.
ROCK HILL, S.C.
327-6568
OPEN MONDAY - SUNDAY
10-8 MON-THUR
10-9 FRIDAY
10-6 SATURDAY

Greyhound gives you a break on Spring Break.
Round trip. Anywhere Greyhound goes.

3/4-3/8 with coupon
from the date of purchase.
Not valid with other offers. One per person, per day. For more information, call
Greyhound
1299 E. Main St.
Rock Hill
327-9388

Greyhound
And leave the driving to us.
THERE'S A LITTLE IRISH IN EVERYONE.

BUT FOR THOSE WHOSE IRISH RUNS TRUE... THIS BUD'S FOR YOU.

Distributed Locally By B & B Distributors, Inc.