While Fort Mill was sweltering last Tuesday afternoon in the heat which ran the thermometer up to 90 degrees within two miles of town, the temperature was below the freezing point. Only one citizen of the community experienced the sudden change from the heat of summer to the cold of winter, however, and that citizen was Capt. Elliott W. Sprague, who climbed in one of his special cars on an altitude of more than 12,000 feet above town. Capt. Sprague's ascent to the greatest height he had reached since he resumed flying after his experience as an aviator in the World war, was watched with interest by many citizens of the community. At an altitude of a mile or more above the earth, Capt. Sprague piloted his machine in the hope of sufficiently approximating the atmosphere to produce rain, but the effort was not successful. While the machine was at its greatest height, ice formed on various parts of it, Capt. Sprague said, but the ice melted before he returned to the earth.—Fort Mill Times.

BASE BALL MEETING TO-NIGHT

The directors of the Chester Baseball Association held a meeting to-night at eight o'clock and after full discussion of the present condition of the local association decided to submit the question of whether or not the association would continue, to the stockholders and fans of the Chester Chamber of Commerce and every stockholder and fan is especially urged to be present at the meeting.

The present board of directors consists of the following: R. R. Haffner, chairman, Dr. E. A. Abell, Dr. B. H. McFadden, T. H. White, N. M. McCall, G. E. Dawson and H. S. Adams. These gentlemen stated that they were resigning as directors and would not continue to serve, but did not wish to demand the stockholders submitting the matter to the stockholders and fans and if it is desired that the Chester club continue through the second series of the league the stockholders and fans could make the necessary arrangements at the meeting to-night.

The attendance at the games in Chester, while being pretty good, have not been sufficient to properly finance a league such as the Palmetto League has grown to be. The Chester club is not in the hole financially at present, but it is realized that it will go in the hole unless the stockholders are made.

It was understood in the beginning that the stockholders would not be called upon for additional funds, hence the meeting to-night, at which time the matter will be placed before those present for their decision and action.

As to whether Chester will continue as a Palmetto League team will be decided upon tonight and all interested are urged to be present.

District Meet At Edgemoor. An auspicious and enjoyable occasion at Edgemoor, Tuesday, was the district meeting, at the Edgemoor A. B. P. church, of Catawba Presbytery, comprising sections from Unity, Edgemoor, Oak Grove, Catawba, and Rock Hill churches.

A feature of interest was the inspiring talk by Miss Minnie Alexander, the church's pioneer missionary to India, who will return to her work next month, to continue her labors, along with her sister, Dr. Jeannette Alexander, missionary physician. Another splendid and pathetic appeal was heard from Mrs. J. G. Dally, who, with her husband, Dr. Dale, is a missionary in Mexico.

Mrs. Dale told of the interruption of the work by revolution, and other phases of the work, there.

Rev. R. A. Lummus made a fine talk, giving comparative statistics of conditions twenty years ago and today.

After a bountiful dinner on the grounds, served as only the Edgemoor women know how to serve, the afternoon session was in order. The outstanding feature of this was an "exhibition meeting" of the Junior League of the church, which was full of interest to the older visitors.

A LOVELY RECEPTION. Richmond, July 12.—On Friday, July 6th, Miss Juliet McCrorey gave a lovely reception in honor of Mrs. J. T. McCrorey, Jr., a recent bride. During the afternoon more than seventy-five guests called.

The receiving line consisted of Miss Juliet McCrorey, Mrs. J. T. McCrorey, Miss Mary Lou Simpson and Mrs. Emmett Conliffe. The guests were received at the front door by Mrs. J. O. Barker and Mrs. E. M. Gage. Mrs. Septimus Jordan in her pleasing manner entertained in the drawing room. Mrs. Lillian and Mrs. J. B. Drennan ushered the guests into the dining room where Mrs. Lisa Wylie and Mrs. F. W. Hicklin aided the cream.

Queen Ann's lace was used throughout the house to harmonize with the color scheme of green and white. Delicious green and white cake, cream was served by little Virginia Simpson, Frank Walker and John Wylie Hicklin.

The center table, was lovely in a way that cover with a green tulle. Green and white were carried by Mary David McCrorey and Sara Hicklin.

As the guests entered the hall, Joseph Lorrain Gale gave each a dainty souvenir.

Miss Annabelle McCrorey and Miss Edna served delicious punch from a latticed garden, which had been arranged on the porch.

BABY CLINIC HERE TODAY AND TOMORROW. The baby health truck of the Bureau of child hygiene of the South Carolina Board of Health has been in Chester county the past week and has visited Great Falls, Landis, Cornwell, Armenia, and is in Chester today and tomorrow.

Those in charge state that they have had a very successful trip throughout Chester county and that many of the mothers have been brought to the clinic for examination.

The clinic is at the Chester Sanatorium today and tomorrow and parents are urged to bring their children for examination. It is urged that the clinic be brought in for examination, the examination being absolutely free.

With the party is Miss Ada T. Graham, director of the bureau of child hygiene, Dr. V. A. Cornwell, pediatrician, and Dr. W. A. Boyd, orthopedist. Mrs. Henrietta Abland, nurse, is in charge of the truck and is assisted by Miss Margaret Macdonald.

DIAMOND DUST.

Well, well, we lost again yesterday, making two straight to York.

Union again yesterday lost to Rock Hill. This fact makes a real fight between Rock Hill and York today and tomorrow, both teams having the same percentage.

Chester's catcher Hood, got a home run yesterday. Good for Hood.

York fellows also got a home run or so yesterday.

mond means some ball.

A home run on the Chester diamond.

Chester expects to do better in the second series.

Studemire has been out lately with injuries. His services are being missed.

What became of Wilson?

Rock Hill wanted us to win yesterday—a purely selfish motive though.

The first series belongs to either York or Rock Hill and they fight it at York today and tomorrow.

There will be some crowd at the two games and some ball playing is expected.

York is fortunate in getting the games today and tomorrow. It means "fuge" gate receipts.

Why the South Doesn't Produce More Hogs.

There has been much criticism of the system of farming followed in the Cotton Belt for the last fifty years. The basis of this criticism has generally been that we were one crop farmers, that we grew cotton too largely, and did not grow sufficient livestock.

It must be admitted that some years we have grown too much cotton and some farms have had too large a production of the cultivated land in cotton, but the chief defect in our agriculture has been a cropping system which neither tends to increase soil fertility nor provides sufficient feeds for livestock.

So far as the proportion of cultivated land in corn and cotton is concerned, Illinois is about as much guilty of one-crop farming as Arkansas or Alabama, but the difference is found in the facts, that whereas 80 per cent. of the corn crop is fed to livestock, only a small part of the cotton crop, only a small part of the seed, is used for feed on the farms where grown, all the lint and practically all the seed being sold from the farm.

The greatest fault of our cropping system is, we repeat, that it has not produced enough feedstuffs. So long as we fail to produce the feeds for the livestock we already have we certainly ought not to increase the number of animals to be fed.

There is one primary reason why we have not produced more livestock, and particularly why hog raising has not been more extensively developed. Until this obstacle is removed there is little reason for discussing any of the minor obstacles, which are only in a small way responsible for the relatively small numbers of hogs produced in the South. The chief reason why we do not produce more hogs is because we do not produce sufficient cheap and suitable feeds for hogs.

Corn has been the cheapest and best livestock feed in this country. It has been the basis for the hog industry of the North, and the South has apparently assumed that it must also be the basis on which this industry must be developed here. The result is that we produce few hogs, because our corn crop is not large enough to feed the other livestock, particularly the horses and mules which we must keep to produce the cotton and other money crops. If our corn yield were more larger, more would be produced, but the price per bushel would be less and the cost of production would also be less.

It seems evident that until we base our hog production on other feeds than corn we cannot compete with the corn belt in hog production, certainly not until we increase our corn yields. With an average field of less than twenty bushels per acre the South cannot produce on corn and compete with the North, where the yields are from 50 to 100 per cent. larger.

A larger hog production than exists in the South, that is larger in proportion to acres farmed and the farm population, exists in some sections where corn is not used as the chief feed but as the basis of hog production. Here we take our hog production less from those sections instead of from the large corn producing states, we will seek to increase our hog production by using other feeds more largely than corn. Until we do this, or until we increase corn yields greatly, there is not much prospect of a large permanent increase in hog production in the South.

A large hog production has not been developed in the South because we have tried to follow Northern methods and make corn the chief feed. There is not enough corn produced to make it profitable to produce hogs in competition with the Northern states. So long as 75 to 80 per cent of the total cost of producing a hog is for feed, we cannot produce hogs profitably in competition with other sections until the feeds the hogs consume are produced more economically, or at a not materially cheaper feed than corn now is. In the South, to make hog raising attractive—Progressive Farmer.

MRS. W. B. FLANNAGAN OF BOWLING GREEN DEAD

Bowling Green, July 9.—Mrs. W. B. Flannagan died at her home in Bowling Green Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Flannagan had been ill for some time and had been feeling better than usual for two or three weeks and attended church and Sunday school Sunday morning and taught her Sunday school class of girls. Shortly after coming from church she was stricken with apoplexy and died almost immediately. She was before her marriage a Miss Caldwell, daughter of the late John Caldwell, of the Beechshea community. She was 49 years of age and was a devoted member of the Bowling Green Presbyterian church and took an active part in all of its activities. Surviving are her husband and three children.

YOU OWE IT TO YOUR CHILDREN - TO YOUR FAMILY TO SEE THAT THEY GET THE MOST NUTRITIOUS WHOLE SOME BAKINGS.

Don't take the chance of sacrificing quality, economy and food value by using self-rising flour mixtures. They are only substitutes for good plain flour and good baking powder.

The best baking results are obtained from good baking powder and plain flour. The results are far better than from self-rising flour.

There is no substitute for good baking powder and plain flour.

Economy does not necessarily mean cheapness of price, nor does it mean the easiest way. In these times the greatest care should be used in determining between true economy and the sham of mere cheapness because there are so many preparations and substitutes in the way of leavening agents on the market.

For best results use—
Calumet Baking Powder
and a good plain flour.

THE PEACH SHOW AT HAMLET.

The Sandhills peach show at Hamlet this year is to be the biggest and best of the several attempted by the growers of the North Carolina peach. The Government of the two Carolinas are scheduled to act jointly in officially opening the exposition. An expert has been engaged to prepare the program and manage the show. This will be the only distinctive exhibition devoted to peach culture in America. It is an advertisement to the world that the peach which the North Carolina sandhills is as good as the best and better than most.

The sandhills, with a section climatically the same as that around Hamlet, is also becoming interested in the cultivation of peaches. The presence of Governor McLeod at the Hamlet show is expected to have the effect of boosting the industry in his State. The work that has been done in the sandhills section in recent years is proof that Georgia will not much longer be supreme in the matter of this most delicious of fruits.

The transformation of the North Carolina sandhills into a land of producing orchards is one of the amazing changes in the history of the State's progress in recent years. Peach trees are now growing and fine fruit maturing where before might be seen only white waste stretches relieved here and there by the dark foliage of the scrub pine. The peach is now one of North Carolina's important crops.

UTILIZES STRAW.

Henry Ford Makes Steering Wheels Out of Straw From His Farm. Daily Consumption—About a Ton and a Half Each Day.

Detroit, Mich., Invaluable, yet daily gripped in the hands of millions of persons, straw from the farm of Henry Ford is literally scattered to the four corners of the earth.

Strange as this statement may seem, it is true.

Out on the Ford farm at Dearborn, Mich., operated entirely by Fordson Tractor power, there was no use for the great loads of straw grain until the Ford Motor Company, given to doing unusual things, found a use for it.

The straw is used as an ingredient in the composition of Fordite, a material of flint-like hardness and a development of the Ford Motor Company, from which steering wheels are made and the Fordite plant at Highland Park supplies steering wheels for all Ford Cars and Trucks, wherever assembled throughout the world—in the United States, Canada and abroad—and also for use on Fordson Tractors.

The Fordite plant, begun about four years ago something as an experiment, is at present producing an average of 8,000 of these steering wheels daily, under the manufacturing schedule of three eight-hour working shifts six days a week. Subjected to the most minute inspection and given the most exacting tests, they are the strongest and most durable steering wheels of the world, of ever-wearing quality, a bright lustrous black and superior in many ways to wooden steering wheels.

The straw from the Ford farm, which is sufficient in quantity for only about nine months' manufacture after which straw must be purchased outside, was utilized, following a shredding process, as a binder in making that part of Fordite which forms the core of the steering wheel, insuring a rim of exceptional strength. The daily consumption at present is about a ton and a half.

STOLEN KISSES

CAUSES TROUBLE

Husband Pitches Preacher's Head Through Plate Glass Door.

Boston, July 9.—Resenting attention, to his wife of two months, Lieutenant Wesley M. Hague, of the United States navy, this afternoon whipped the Rev. George Payne, who had married them, in Payne's office here.

Lieutenant Hague then tipped his hat to the minister's typist, apologized for his roughness, and backed out.

The Rev. Payne later admitted that he had recently asked Mrs. Hague to go motoring, had asked her for a kiss while chatting with her in a meadow, and had kissed her—menage a matrimonial, as he refused. He then took her to his home in Cambridge.

As Lieutenant Hague walked into his office today the minister extended his hand, but the officer ignored it and shot his fist to the Rev. Mr. Payne's jaw, knocking him to the floor. The clergyman went into a clinch on arising, and Lieutenant Hague then shoved his head through plate glass in a door. The officer pushed the clergyman back in the door, shoved him again, and departed.

The Rev. Mr. Payne is executive secretary of the Boston Federation of Churches and is a son of the late Robert Treat Payne and a descendant of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. He is married and has two sons at Harvard.

Quality Printing

We are equipped to do printing of all kinds. Our shop is thoroughly equipped. Don't think we cannot do it—try us for your next job. No job too large or complicated.

We have special punching machines, perforators, book binding equipment, numbering machines, etc.

If you want special ruled forms don't think of sending it off. We can do ruling of the most complicated kind, from the smallest to the largest ledger sheets.

You will find our prices in line with other printing establishments who give quality printing and good paper. We have never prided ourselves on cheap work, however, if that is the kind you want we can give it to you, but we prefer to give you the better kind.

Printing is like other things—you usually get just what you pay for.

Think of us when you are in the market for printers' ink.
