TUESDAY, JULY 11.

Thus does jealousy always reach itself. It brings you to those against whom it is directed, who it greatest have to those who harbor it. Why would men conceive such strong dislike to their youngest brother that his coat, his dreams, his manner, and everything about him become contemptible to them? Jealousy feeds on pitiful food when it picks the pieces of the personality of its victims. Personally, the man who is jealous of his Lord has created, but in the end of jealousy is a selfishness. Do you know what that jealous spirit of yours will lead to if you do not check it? It will lead you to the miserable business of cutting ground from under another person's character and will make you a murderer of reputation and influence. The sociologist who is elected to an office that you have coveted for yourself may be in every sense worthy of the honor, but your jealousy leads you to say spiteful things of him and to lay plans for his ruin. Carried out into the world of business, jealousy injects poison into competition and robs a fellow man of his powers of success. In the church, among people who rank as the best of the earth, jealousy often works to the undoing of great leadership and to the defeat of many a plan for the progress of God's kingdom in the world.

The first car of Georgia tomatoes ever shipped have gone forward, according to reports from Valdosta to the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad officials in Atlanta. The car is said to have netted the owners more than $1,000. It is pointed out that if this price could be maintained all through the tomato season, Georgia would get rich growing tomatoes. As it is, there is said to be good money in tomatoes, where there is easy access to a market, a good market, or both, in order that the surplus crop may be handled to a good advantage. The fact that the first car netted more than $1,000 seems to forebode us about $400 or $450 during the season. This it is claimed, would make tomatoes a profitable crop. When the tomato vines are properly worked and kept in good condition and there is a sufficiency of rain, they will continue bearing until frost.

Heins, the pickle man, it is stated, has his tomatoes grown by contract.

It Takes Money

It takes money to operate a printing plant. It takes money to operate a mercantile business. In fact it takes money to operate any business—even a Ford business.

Printing is our business. We must have printing to do business and when we do printing we must make money in order to continue to do business. No business can operate long unless it makes a profit on the business done. Every sensible business man knows that and should be willing to allow the other fellow a reasonable profit.

The News has long since quit guessing at printing prices—we have the prices fixed out, right ready for you when you have the job to us, and on every job we do, a profit is figured. We are in the printing business to make money just like you are in the mercantile business to make money.

Some printers still hang on to the old style of guessing at every job of printing brought to them. John Smith brings them a job and they guess less than cost and give him a cheap job. Tom Jones brings in a job and they guess 100 per cent too low and Jones helps pay for the Smith job. That's not right. Every man should pay for his own job. That's the way The News charges for printing. It lets every fellow pay for his own job.

There is no need of your sending a job of printing out of Chester. The News can and will give you a reasonable price on your work as any printer who does printing in a business way.

The News is a Home Establishment and every dollar you spend with us stays right in your town to help the town grow. In fact, the employees of The News spend more money in Chester each year than the total were not for "foreign business. If it were not for "foreign business" The News would have to move its plant out of Chester. Looks funny, but the figures prove it.

Don't send your printing out of town. You might be able to get a cheaper price somewhere but there is as a whole, cheaper than The News and stay in business very long.

We not only want you to buy your printing at Home. That's the way we must all do it. We want to see Chester grow.

and he has more than 40,000 acres growing for him near Pittsburg. The cotton crop last year was twenty-five cents a bushel and where the tomatoes are grown intensively, it is that the profit averages $200 an acre.

In making county and community figures of demonstrations and other extension activities for the year, extension agents in Oklahoma report to the United States Department of Agriculture that the use of county census and assessors' figures as a basis for determining the county's major agricultural production is proving very successful. A meeting of the men and women from each community is called each year by the county agricultural agent for the purpose of making a program for the year's extension work.

In these meetings it has been found that these figures are of great service in showing agricultural conditions of the county in a concise and comprehensive way. In one instance it was found that about 51 per cent of the county's agricultural land was farmed by tenants. Discussion brought out the fact that the Federal Farm loan was practically unknown in the county and plans were made to conduct a campaign to bring the benefits of the loan to the attention of the communities as a possible means of securing a greater percentage of farm ownership.

Figures showing that more acres in the county were being planted to wheat than any other crop started a discussion which indicated there was a difference of opinion as to the best variety for the locality; it was there fore decided that demonstration plots of the best liked varieties of this crop be grown in eight sections of the county. In a smaller way all the figures covering the agricultural activities of the county are studied in these program-making meetings, and as a result a program is made which is based on what statistics have shown to be the most urgent needs of the communities and in which general interest throughout the county is felt.

Federal aid road projects totaling 663 miles in length were completed and 541 miles went under construction during May, bringing the total under construction to nearly 15,000 miles and the mileage in completed projects to 12,083, according to reports of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture. These figures indicate that the Federal aid system grew at a rate of more than 20 miles per day on each working day of the month. All lotments of funds to definite projects amounted to $7,928,000 during the month.

Since late winter the United States Department of Agriculture has been advising farmers in the Northwest to prepare early for grasshopper control this season by ordering poisoning material well in advance of hatching time. Reports received indicate that grasshoppers are already doing tremendous damage in eastern Montana and Wyoming, over a widely scattered area, where precautions have been inadequate. The insects will last six or eight weeks, or until about the middle of August. The Bureau of Entomology has four men in the territory helping in control work.

CROP CONDITIONS IMPROVE

Corn Being Neglected for Cotton in Southwest—Weevil Doing Damage.

Washington, July 9.—General improvement in crop conditions along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and in the Northwest east of the Rocky mountains was noted by the agricultural department in its crop summary for the last half of June made public today.

"Throughout the corn belt," the department's observers found, "small grains were more or less injured by the unusual hot and dry weather and in the Southern states much badly needed field work was accomplished. The corn belt generally made progress except in the Southwest where it was neglected for cotton. Wheat threshing is going on in the Southwest and some of the South-eastern states. Data are reported generally poor to fair, and cotton has fairly good growth. Weevils are numerous and considerable damage, as yet unestimated, has resulted. The Irish potato crop is reported to be "fair to good," a large acreage of beans and cabbage has been planted and other vegetables are said to be in good condition. Tobacco harvesting has advanced in the "cigar wrapped" section of the Southeast, and the crop has advanced elsewhere. The crop is reported well advanced in Virginia and Maryland and full acreage is predicted in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Walter M. Hughes, prominent attorney of Rock Hill, was unanimously endorsed for the judgeship of the Sixth circuit by the recent death of Judge Ernest Moore, of Lancaster, at a meeting of the York county bar association held in York last Thursday afternoon. Hughes setting forth his fitness for the position were passed and will be presented to the general assembly at its next meeting. A York dispatch says: "York, though the most important county in the Sixth circuit, has not had a representative on the bench since the late Judge D. D. Waterson of this town. For the crime many years ago. The late Judge Ernest Moore, whose death caused the existing vacancy, was from Lancaster and his predecessor, Judge G. W. Gage, was from Chester. It would therefore be fitting, according to opinion here, that a York man be chosen to fill the position and especially so when the one advanced for consideration is so able an attorney and high-toned gentleman as Walter M. Hughes."

Although an unexpected death of Mr. James S. Glasscock, which occurred last Thursday night at two o'clock at his home in the Neely Creek community, brought genuine grief to hundreds of citizens throughout Chester and York counties. Mr. Glasscock had been in health for several years and for the past three months had been in bed. His condition grew more critical as the week passed. The funeral was held from the Neely's Creek Church in Reformed Presbyterian church, in which the deceased had been an official for many years at 2:30 o'clock. The service was conducted by Rev. O. W. Carmichael, pastor, assisted by Rev. A. S. Rodgers of Rock Hill, and Rev. Frank Pittman of Harborside. The remains were laid to rest in the church burying ground, a large concourse of surviving friends being present to pay their last respects. Mr. Glasscock was born and reared in the Neely's Creek community and is survived by his wife, who was Miss Frankie McFadden, and several sons and daughters.

Women do not have to tell their ages when they register or when they enroll for the Democratic primary, the only requisite being that they must be "21 or over," according to Attorney General Wolfe. This will be a great "blessing" to many of the female voters, who may be timid about admitting their age. Under the present law the voter must be 21, but other than this no age is stipulated. Mr. Wolfe indicated that women 46 years of age might say they were "21" and everything would be all right.

The third week of the campaign for state officers came to a close in Orangeburg Saturday and the voters were given a "work week" of up to the present time nothing sensational has happened in the race for governor. About the most interesting developments have resulted in the race for superintendent of education where J. H. Hope has put J. E. Swearingin on the defensive when he charges that the useless duplicate adoption of the text books by the state board of education cost the school patrons more than a quarter of a million dollars. Mr. Swearingin has "phoned" the state board of education, claiming that they are responsible. Mr. Swearingin says that South Carolina needs no book agent for state superintendent of education and Mr. Hope says that Mr. Swearingin will be glad to book agent for the primary election.

Celery Arriving twice each week at Chester Cash and Carry Grocery Company.

That a still made of an old tin bucket and a gun barrel for a worm will get you a barrel is evidenced by the fact that Wade Sawyer, colored, who lives on Mr. Earl Colvin's farm in the Calvin's Spring neighborhood, is in the hands of the law for the still having been found on his premises Sunday by Sheriff Anderson and Deputy Howze. Sawyer is said to have had a few drinks with him and after showing his hospitality he and his sons forthwith proceeded to attempt to give the visitor a drink. Realizing that odds were against him the visitor opened a round with his knife, after carving Sawyer proclaimed, to "hit the trail" before the Sawyers could get their shot gun into action. However, the stranger left his mule in the possession of Sawyer and did not give it up until the arrival of the officers. The mule was restored to its owner and Sawyer brought to jail. Yesterday for the thirty arrival of a physician Sawyer would probably have passed into the great beyond, and therefore and he is now in these parts. His precarious condition was brought about by his having inhaled too freely of the "hot air" of the still. However, he is now on the road to recovery and sooner or later he will have to face the music.

Dr. Lee To New Orleans.

It was with genuine regret that the people of Chester learned that Dr. Robert G. Lee, pastor of the First Baptist church, had accepted the call to become pastor of the First Baptist church of New Orleans, La. Dr. Lee made the announcement at the close of his morning services Sunday, stating that he would conclude his work in Chester about the first of September and after a rest of a month will take up his work in New Orleans.

Dr. Lee has been pastor of the church here about fifteen months, coming to Chester from Edgelyville, Md. Since coming to Chester he has received nearly 400 members into the church and was instrumental in the new Sunday school building which is now being erected.

At the night services Sunday the following members were appointed as a committee to recommend a suitable successor to Dr. Lee: David O. Lee, J. E. McFadden, J. M. Wise, J. T. Perkins, J. T. Collins, M. E. Brockman, W. J. Corwin, S. E. Lawrence, W. A. Ecklin, T. C. Edwards and G. W. Byars.

COLORED K. O. P. CONVENTION

Committee Calls on Chamber of Commerce For Assistance.

At a meeting of the Entertainment Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, the matter of assisting the local committee in arranging for the colored K. O. P. State Convention, which meets in Chester July 25th to 28th inclusive, was considered.

The local committee reported that there will be about one thousand delegates here during the four days. The City has granted the use of the Opera House for the meetings and the Chamber of Commerce will let the committee use the fair grounds, where they will have their tents, baseball games, etc. The local committee will put a considerable expense in arranging the different features for the convention and a portion of this expense will be borne by the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to undertake to raise $500. The total expense estimated by the budget committee will be over $1,000.

Members of the committee present at the meeting yesterday were: Messrs. Geo. R. Dawson, Chairman; J. W. Young, Carl Latimer, S. C. Carter and R. M. Strange. The committee will make the canvass this week.

An Attendance Contest.

A county-wide attendance contest has been announced in connection with the approaching Calvary Sunday School Association Convention to be held at New Hope Methodist church on Monday, July 15, according to the plan of the association officers in charge of arrangements.

At this convention a banner is to be publicly awarded to the Sunday school having the largest number of persons (over 16 years of age) present at the convention in proportion to the distance traveled. Under this plan, ten persons coming ten miles, each to the convention count the same as twenty who come only five miles each, making it fair for all, both near and far. There is no limit to the number who may attend from any Sunday school.

The banner becomes the property of the Sunday school winning it and may be taken home for permanent display in the Sunday school room.

Lee, pastor of the First Baptist church, had accepted the call to become pastor of the First Baptist church of New Orleans, La. Dr. Lee made the announcement at the close of his morning services Sunday, stating that he would conclude his work in Chester about the first of September and after a rest of a month will take up his work in New Orleans.

Dr. Lee has been pastor of the church here about fifteen months, coming to Chester from Edgelyville, Md. Since coming to Chester he has received nearly 400 members into the church and was instrumental in the new Sunday school building which is now being erected.

At the night services Sunday the following members were appointed as a committee to recommend a suitable successor to Dr. Lee: David O. Lee, J. E. McFadden, J. M. Wise, J. T. Perkins, J. T. Collins, M. E. Brockman, W. J. Corwin, S. E. Lawrence, W. A. Ecklin, T. C. Edwards and G. W. Byars.

Trail of the case of Mrs. Effie Judkins and Albert Zimmerman, charged with the murder of the former's husband, has been fixed to begin in York tomorrow. Mrs. Judkins will be the first white woman to be tried for murder in York county in thirty years.

To Form Poultry Association.

A meeting was held at the Chester Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon at which the organization of a Chester County Poultry Association was discussed and a committee appointed to nominate officers for the association.

It is planned to get the association in such shape that it can take an active part in the poultry show at the Chester County Fair this fall and it is hoped to have one of the largest displays in the history of the county. An effort will be made to stage poultry from outside sources on display at the fair.

The forming of the poultry association will be a county-wide affair and it is hoped to get both the people in Chester and throughout the entire county interested.

Poultry raising is being extensively engaged in all states which have been hit by the boll weevil and it is hoped that Chester county people will soon be giving more attention to poultry raising and such being the case it is thought that now is the proper time to form the association which might at a later date act as a selling organization.

The Chamber of Commerce is planning to erect a modern and complete poultry building at the Fair Grounds and assures all poultry owners of the best attention to their fowls. The management of the fair is already looking around for an expert poultry judge.
