Miss Winthrop Pageant held

By DONNA CAPPS
TJ staff writer

The 1985 Miss Winthrop Pageant was held on April 20. The pageant was sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi and Zeta Tau Alpha. All proceeds went to P.U.S.H. (Play Units for the Severely Handicapped) and A.R.C. (Association of Retarded Citizens). Seventeen girls competed for the title.

The winner of the pageant was Diane Hutchinson from Charleston who was sponsored by Delta Zeta Sorority. She is a junior majoring in Fashion Merchandising. "I was shocked because it was the first pageant that I’d ever been in," Hutchinson stated. Hutchinson explained that she has worked hard preparing for the pageant. Since spring break she has done aerobics, lifted weights, and worked on her tan. With the help of her mother she made the evening dress worn in the pageant and placed first in the evening wear competition. She also placed first in the swimsuit competition.

Hutchinson stated, "I plan to represent Winthrop College at different pageants and functions in the Carolinas. My first appearance will be at the Miss County Pageant on April 27. I express my gratitude to Pi Kappa Phi and Zeta Tau Alpha for all of their hard work on the pageant which made it a success. Hutchinson will go on to the Miss South Carolina/USA Pageant.

Susan Hunt, a sophomore music major from Woodruff, was the first runner-up. She was sponsored by Margaret Nance Hall. She was also the first winner of this year's Miss Rock Hill Pageant. "I enjoyed the Miss Winthrop Pageant more because I was more relaxed. It was more fun working with fellow students." "There is always that chance to be a finalist, but there is less a chance to be a first runner-up," stated Hunt. Hunt will go on to other pageants such as the Miss Rock Hill again, or the Miss Fort Mill. "If I were to have won and held the Miss Winthrop title, it would not have been just for me but also for Margaret Nance," concluded Hunt.

The second runner-up was Susan Crawford, a junior history major from Greenville. Crawford was sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi. This was her first pageant. "It was a learning experience for me. It taught me how to deal with stress which can either be good or bad depending on how you handle it. It can be good because it can give you a lot of energy, but it can also be bad if you let it overwhelm you. This can paralyze you with fear." She thought to herself, "at least I placed." Since the pageant, Crawford believes in the saying whatever you want, you can get it if you try hard enough. "All of the hard work of Pi Kappa Phi, Zeta Tau Alpha, the contestants, and entertainers (all volunteers) benefited the philanthropies P.U.S.H. and A.R.C. This says a lot for the people involved, it shows that Winthrop students aren't as apathetic as some believe."

The third runner-up was Janet Larkins from Rock Hill. Larkins, who represented Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, won the title of Miss Congeniality. Donna Herger was the fourth runner-up. Herger represented Phi Upsilon Omicron Honor Society.

Dorms get facelift

By BRYAN ROBERTSON
TJ assistant news editor

A few of the dorms on Winthrop's campus have undergone renovations to better accommodate the boarding students. McLaurin, which has been closed for this purpose for the past academic year, will re-open this fall.

According to Cynthia Cassens, Dean of Student Housing, the students who are presently living in Bancerot will be moving into Margaret Nance this fall. By doing this, Bancerot will then be vacant for renovations to begin. The completion of McLaurin will enable some students to relocate there and will also provide spaces for incoming freshman.

Upon the completion of Bancerot, Margaret Nance will then be renovated. Total completion should be expected for fall semester 1986. "We're really looking forward to having McLaurin open and seeing what we can do with the building. The people in Bancerot are really excited," Cassens said.

As a result of the renovations the boarding fees will increase this fall. According to Dr. Skip Tuttle, vice president for business and finances, the total cost of renovating McLaurin, Bancerot, Reddy and Unisale will cost approximately $4,000,000.

Special thanks

Mary Catherine Lader and her parents thank you for your interest in her arrival. We are sorry that we have been unable to thank each of you in person for your kindness and your cards. We've been very touched by your thoughtfulness and wish you a terrific summer.
New officers

Tuesday, April 22nd, a luncheon was held in Dunlap-Roddey Room. The guest speaker was Professor Jean Claude Crapoulet and the election of new officers was conducted. The new officers are Christopher Cook — president, Kris Markham — vice president, and Cindy Clabirne, secretary/treasurer.

Delta Zeta

Delta Zeta would like to thank all those Greek organizations who participated in the “1st annual Greek Kid-napping.” They are Alpha Delta Pi, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Zeta Tau Alpha, Chi Omega, Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Pi Kappa Phi. A total of $383.01 was raised for the Rock Hill Home for Battered Women.

Tatler arrives

For those who ordered Tatlers, please come by the Student Publication Building to pick them up. Office hours are 1:00-5:00 Monday through Friday. Please hurry to pick up your book.

Apology

For any mistakes or errors in the 1984-85 Tatler, we the staff would like to submit a formal apology. We regret any inconvenience this may have caused to any party. The Tatler, Elizabeth Johnson and Roxie Fogle.

Delta Mu

Friday, April 19th, three pledges were inducted into the Delta Mu Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega Fraternity. Congratulations to the new members: Kim Funderburk, Jim Crapoulet and the election of new officers was conducted. The new officers are Christopher Cook — president, Doug Aycoc — vice president, and Kim Harne — secretary/treasurer.

Mayday beauty pageant

A Mayday Beauty National Sweetheart Pageant will be held May 4 at Celenesian Union Hall, 1031 Mt. Gallant Rd., at 2 p.m. Applications may be obtained from Erin’s, The Tree House, and It’s a Small World. Competition is in talent, beauty, and modeling. Interested students may contact Maxann McMinn at 329-4691.

Film star visits Winthrop

By LISA BUIE

TJ editor

Rose “Andie” MacDowell never intended to become a star. The young woman from Gaffney simply wanted to get a Winthrop degree in special education so that she could work with mentally retarded children. Her college experience was just like any other student’s in 1977. She lived in Richardson Hall, studied, and enjoyed good times with her friends. Little did she know that only seven years later, she would model all over the world and land a co-starring role in a major motion picture.

“I had no idea that I’d ever get as far as I have. At Winthrop I played Abigail in The Crucible, and I was absolutely awful!” MacDowell said.

“But I enjoyed the time I spent at Winthrop. It wasn’t too big and everyone knew everyone else. I liked that. When I left I felt like I missed out on some things, though. I didn’t get to call from Paris and want to talk to everyone on my hall. It was great.”

After attending three semesters at Winthrop, MacDowell went to New York to search for a job.

“I felt really weird when I was in New York. I couldn’t communicate. I was in a haze, and then realized that I didn’t know the people who were just Yankee; they were much bigger than I was,” MacDowell said.

However, she soon learned to relax.

“I never had the confidence I needed at first. Stress put too much pressure on me. But I learned to develop that sense of self-worth. It’s very important to have you want to be successful. And a good agent doesn’t hurt either,” she said.

MacDowell co-starred as Jane Porter in “Greystoke: The Legend of Tarzan,” although her voice was dubbed over with a British accent.

“I didn’t know that they were going to do that when we shot the film. It was a hard decision for my director to have to make. I really didn’t want to be the one at first. I cried so hard,” she said.

“I enjoyed doing the movie. The wild animals on the set were fascinating. I liked the elephants best. They were the most beautiful,” she said.

“I’ll be totally honest. It’s a real ego trip to see yourself in a movie. You take your family and your friends and you say ‘wow, that’s really me up there. It’s so neat!” she said and laughed.”

MacDowell said that she will definitely continue to develop her career. In her next film, “Elmo’s Fire,” she plays the part of a doctor trying to discourage a girl with a mad crush on her.

“It’s a fun film about people who have just grown up trying to make it to the top,” she explained.

In addition to acting, MacDowell wants to continue modeling and eventually begin a singing career.

“Most of all, I want to have fun. I like to go to the movies; I enjoy taking care of my huge dog and being with my boyfriend, Craig Sheffer. I take my work very seriously, but I want to relax, read more and enjoy myself. That’s important. I wish I could have done more of that when I was in college,” she said.

Winthrop releases Tatler

By TOM STEARNS

TJ staff writer

The 1985 Tatler has been released. The theme for the 82d issue of the yearbook is “The Nightly News.”

Elizabeth Johnson and Roxie Fogle were this year’s co-editors. According to Fogle, “We tried to make this year’s edition more student oriented. We added some new things to keep with that idea, such as putting the dorm photographs in color.”

“Also,” Fogle continued, “we did a section on the Greek houses, which has not been done in previous years. We also required all organizations interested in having a spot write a paragraph about themselves, telling who they are and what they do.”

“Then we tried to make the cover comical to go with the added emphasis on the students. We want them to feel that, although it is for the faculty and staff as well, it is primarily for them,” Johnson said.

The new co-editors for next year are Patty Toepke and Margaret Patterson. “We plan to continue keeping the emphasis on the students, but we would really like to have their reactions to this year’s edition. That way we can make next year’s Tatler even better. Students should write us, or even better yet, join the staff,” Toepke said.

In addition, “We want to make the best yearbook possible,” Johnson added. “We know it has its faults, but we did our best to make this the best yearbook possible.”

Cafe’ renovation

By JEFF COLEMAN

TJ staff writer

Thomson Cafeteria will undergo renovations within the year of 1986. Skip Tuttle, Vice-President of Finance, reports that the renovations will mean an addition in serving lines and in seating capacity.

“The cafeteria was built to accommodate approximately 2,000 students per meal, but now that there’s an extra 300-400 seats, about 300 more seats will be added,” Tuttle stated.

Plans for the renovations are tentative now, Tuttle reports. “The only certain thing is that the additions and renovations will take place.”

The cost of the expansion is currently estimated at approximately $350,000.

“The Board of Trustees has authorized the administration to use meal plan funds to help make the improvements. It includes Tuttle.”

“The rear area adjacent to Thurmond will be beautified by the addition of a landscape plaza scenery complete with seats to give the area a better look. The area now looks mainly like a dumpster area. We want to give it a more scenic look,” Tuttle concluded. The outside renovations should be completed by the end of 1986.”
Students commissioned

By VIOLETTA WESTON
TJ staff writer

Graduating seniors, Doug Curyl, Mark Lintner, and James Norris will be the first Winthrop College students commissioned for the Army on May 25, 1985 at Davidson College.

“We're excited,” said Lintner, “it's a big career goal you plan for when you enter. When I signed up (for National Guard), there were ten men, now there are three. It was a long, hard road, but we worked around it,” he added.

Lintner, a History major, became involved because he wanted to fly. “The National Guard offered different opportunities with the best opportunity to fly,” Lintner's choice was also influenced by Davidson and Winthrop colleges.

Norris, a Business major, got involved the summer before he entered Winthrop. “My father (also a member) took me to the recruiting office where I joined,” he said. “It helped me mature and devote more time to responsibilities, because it’s more demanding,” he added.

After graduation, Norris will attend Officer's Basic Course at Fort Gordon in Augusta, Georgia. “Afterwards, I want to find a job as a programmer,” he said.

Curyl, also a History major, will be a platoon leader after he is commissioned. “I got involved through Winthrop's recruiting services. It gave me the opportunity to be involved in the military and to be a civilian at the same time. Since I have joined, I've become more confident. I also appreciate the commitment full-time officers have made for the Army,” Curyl said.

Billy becomes batty

By ROBERT JOLLY
TJ managing editor

At approximately 12:30 p.m. Thursday a rather strange occurrence took place on the third floor of Richardson. Brent Moore, John Thomason, Jeff Cope, “Buzzy”, and several other third floor residents noticed a small brown bat near one of the stairwells.

One of the brave residents, Mike Minshew, approached the bat, was attacked and momentarily grossed out! “I saw the bat, and it looked dangerous. I went after it with a net and missed totally. I guess it scared him, and he flew onto my face,” said Minshew.

Minshew was not bodily injured, and was able to help in the pursuit of the bat. The residents finally chased down and cornered the bat in room 332. “He was sweeping down at us, so I finally caught him with the net. I knew something important might come of it if I caught him,” said Minshew.

The original danger is over as the residents secured the bat in a rat cage; however, the residents were then faced with the problem of what to do with the precarious creature. “I was gonna let him go in the cafeteria, but instead I'll probably just have a party and let it out the window. We named it ‘Billy Bong Bat’,” said Minshew.

Keeping the bat’s health in mind the residents kept the bat in the dark, so to speak. “We have been keeping Billy in the closet, however, we did let it out to watch ‘General Hospital’ with us,” Minshew said.
Will summer dreams come true?

By LISA BUIE
TJ assistant news editor

Summer—that lazy, carefree time of the year for fun, whether it's making that perennial pilgrimage to the college Mecca of South Carolina, otherwise known as Myrtle Beach; getting that exciting internship or summer job; rekindling old flames or sparking new ones; but most of all, to sit back, relax and dream.

For me, this editorship is a dream come true. When I first walked through these doors as a scared freshman, I knew that someday I wanted to be the editor. I also have some other dreams. Some are close to becoming realities in the fall and some are simply out of the question, but Winthrop would be a much more wonderful place if you picture the following:

- Margaret Nance residence hall will be stripped of the electric blue enamel in the hallway and renovated with plush carpet, new banisters, and a central heating unit.
- Epicure will have great food and a wide variety of ice cream flavors rather than vanilla in five different color combinations.
- The legal drinking age will be lowered to 18.
- The Winthrop athletic department will be run more efficiently.
- The “pits” will be paved.
- Winthrop guys will ask girls out on real dates rather than picking them up at The Money.
- The books I need will finally be found on the shelves of the Dacus Library.

I hope some of these dreams come true, just like I hope everyone else’s do. But needless to say concerning some of these wishes, “Dream on!”

Openness is the best policy

By BRYAN W. ROBERTSON
TJ assistant news editor

In response to Nield Gordon’s letter in a recent TJ; my past experiences involving the news media have involved news writing for my high school newspaper which led to the position of editor during my senior year. I have also produced and directed my own television series. All three of these positions took place over a period of two years.

Out of those two years involved with the news media, I have NEVER once received an accusation that something I printed or said was falsely stated. I thought it to be very disturbing that any member of the college faculty would conjure up his own story to make his department look good.

My task a few weeks ago involved interviewing Head Basketball Coach Nield Gordon concerning athletic privileges. I walked into Mr. Gordon’s office and sat down, then proceeded to ask questions that had been written PRIOR to the interview. Mr. Gordon did not seem too pleased that allegations had been going around concerning the athletic department. He attacked only two of the questions brought up to him and went off on a tangent about what athletes are REQUIRED to do.

I cannot really say if Mr. Gordon is suffering from memory lapse or if he just does not want to face facts. I can only say one thing—Mr. Gordon’s attitude concerning the issue was inappropriate for a college faculty member.

Fix that stupid sign

By MARK WOOD
TJ contributing editor

You know, I can’t seem to have much luck at the ice cream stand in Thomson Cafeteria. You see, I always have my taste buds primed for a nice cup of heavenly hash or chocolate ice cream. So after tangling with what seems like a ten pound piece of baked (rarely fried) chicken, I walk over to the crowded ice cream bar. I looked up on the sign just to make sure at least one of my two favorites is available.

Trusting that infernal sign was my first mistake. I should have known better. Really, I mean the good people at Epicure did prepare that sign at the beginning of the semester. And I suppose that at the time it was accurate, but the “dedicated” employee in charge of updating that sign should be sacked immediately. I really don’t think it’s unreasonable of me to expect those flavors advertised on the sign to be in the bin. But anyway, I asked the enthusiastic attendant politely for a cup full of heavenly hash and got only another sigh and said, “We ain’t got no heavenly hash.” My blood began to boil.

As I gritted my teeth I calmly (and still politely) asked for my alternate flavor, chocolate. Now I’ve been told by some that I’m droll, that I lack originality for liking chocolate ice cream. Now I never really thought anyone would try to judge my character and personality by the flavor ice cream I prefer, but anyway, back to the tragedy. So I gritted my teeth and asked for chocolate and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.” Well my friends, let me tell you something. I can only take so much abuse, but poor grammar and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.”

I’ve just about had enough,” I berated. By now I had lunged across the top of the ice cream bin and the people in the cafeteria office screamed for their lives. So I gritted my teeth and asked for chocolate and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.” Well my friends, let me tell you something. I can only take so much abuse, but poor grammar and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.”

I screamed at the top of my lungs. “I’ve just about had enough,” I berated. By now I had lunged across the top of the ice cream bin and the people in the cafeteria office screamed for their lives. So I gritted my teeth and asked for chocolate and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.” Well my friends, let me tell you something. I can only take so much abuse, but poor grammar and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.”

I never really thought anyone would try to judge my character and personality by the flavor ice cream I prefer, but anyway, back to the tragedy. So I gritted my teeth and asked for chocolate and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.” Well my friends, let me tell you something. I can only take so much abuse, but poor grammar and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.”

As I gritted my teeth I calmly (and still politely) asked for my alternate flavor, chocolate. Now I’ve been told by some that I’m droll, that I lack originality for liking chocolate ice cream. Now I never really thought anyone would try to judge my character and personality by the flavor ice cream I prefer, but anyway, back to the tragedy. So I gritted my teeth and asked for chocolate and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.” Well my friends, let me tell you something. I can only take so much abuse, but poor grammar and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.”

I’ve just about had enough,” I berated. By now I had lunged across the top of the ice cream bin and the people in the cafeteria office screamed for their lives. So I gritted my teeth and asked for chocolate and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.” Well my friends, let me tell you something. I can only take so much abuse, but poor grammar and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.”

I never really thought anyone would try to judge my character and personality by the flavor ice cream I prefer, but anyway, back to the tragedy. So I gritted my teeth and asked for chocolate and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.” Well my friends, let me tell you something. I can only take so much abuse, but poor grammar and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.”

I’ve just about had enough,” I berated. By now I had lunged across the top of the ice cream bin and the people in the cafeteria office screamed for their lives. So I gritted my teeth and asked for chocolate and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.” Well my friends, let me tell you something. I can only take so much abuse, but poor grammar and once again the jovial employee let out a sigh and said, “We ain’t got no chocolate neither.”
Letters to the editor

Officer's behavior

Dear Editor,

On Sunday, April 14 approximately four a.m. I was driving some friends back to their room. Two of the four needed to be let off at Phelps.

I began up the one-way horse-shoe driveway noticing a Public Safety car at the exit of the drive. The Public Safety car had pulled up and began talking to the officers. I waited and then closed another five feet. Still the Public Safety officer gave no signs of moving.

My passengers and I became irritated so I again eased forward. I waited and waited for him to move. He did not. I figured if the conversation was serious enough the officer would have gotten out of the car to talk to the boys from his car.

After a moment I eased toward him about five feet. The other car did not move. I waited and then closed another five feet. Still the Public Safety officer gave no signs of moving.

My passengers and I became irritated so I again eased forward. I waited and waited for him to move. He did not. I figured if the conversation was serious enough the officer would have gotten out of the car to talk to the boys from his car.

At this time one of my passengers noticed that a second Public Safety car had come up the drive and soon would be behind me. I continued down the drive toward the parked Public Safety car pointed my way. The opposing car blocked the exit of the drive, so my two passengers and I waited for it to back out of the way. The officer was still talking to the boys from his car.

After a moment I eased toward him about five feet. The other car did not move. I waited and then closed another five feet. Still the Public Safety officer gave no signs of moving.

My passengers and I became irritated so I again eased forward. I waited and waited for him to move. He did not. I figured if the conversation was serious enough the officer would have gotten out of the car to talk to the boys from his car.

At this time one of my passengers noticed that a second Public Safety car had come up the drive and soon would be behind me. I continued down the drive toward the parked Public Safety car pointed my way. The opposing car blocked the exit of the drive, so my two passengers and I waited for it to back out of the way. The officer was still talking to the boys from his car.

One of my passengers told me there was a Public Safety car coming around behind me. I began to stop when I noticed blue lights flashing. Officer Mullinax, driver of the first car, pulled up beside me and jumped out of his car as if he were after me. He asked me why I was out in front of Phelps at this hour and said I shouldn't be blowing my horn. I couldn't believe Officer Mullinax was so absurd as to imply that there are curfews for driving on campus and sounding the horn. I had no idea that I would be cross-examined for merely dropping two friends off at their dorm. I told him I was doing something I had planned for you to move, but you didn't. He snapped, "All you had to do is back up."

First of all, I couldn't back up because I was being blocked by Public Safety car which pulled in behind me before Officer Mullinax flashed his blue lights. Secondly, he was asking me to break the law by illegally backing up thirty feet, around a sharp turn, lined with cars, and down a hundred foot stretch, as opposed to his backing up ten feet.

I don't consider that an equal ratio even if he is a Public Safety officer telling me to do an unsafe act. I told him that this was ridiculous. He was breaking the law and then asking me to break the law. It makes me wonder too, how many other infractions Officer Mullinax has committed just to keep from inconveniencing him.

I know he's the President of the college and has many responsibilities, but I believe that he should be spending a little bit more time at Winthrop College and a little less time striving for governor of S.C. which most of us know he will not achieve in the next election.

Sincerely your friend

Anna K. Hopkins

Former students to perform

By JUDY ALSTON

TJ staff writer

Two former Winthrop students will perform on "You Can Be A Star," seen on the Nashville Network May 1 and May 8. Pam Baldwin and P.J. Brunson represent the Carolinas with two performances of original material on the show, which is a country equivalent of "Star Search."

Pam has received such honors as second place in the Professional Western Roundup in Columbia, S.C. which is a professional talent search for country performers. P.J.'s creative efforts have been noted in several songwriting contests such as the American Song Festival's National Lyric Competition, and a regional country songwriting contest sponsored by SESCA in Greenville and Kentucky Fried Chicken.

The duo will perform two original songs on the Nashville Network: Pam's country/rock tune, "In Between," and P.J.'s country ballad, "It's Alright To Cry."

While not performing Pam works as a security guard for Neighborhood Rangers in Columbia, S.C. P.J. lives in Charlotte and is employed as a technical writer for Burroughs Corporation. She is also pursuing a graduate degree at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Both graduated from Lugoff-Elgin High School.

Baldwin played with the band "Sketches" and also performed solo. Brunson has played in the bands "Daydream" and "Phantasy." Both performers have appeared at ATS.

Lader leaves

Dear Editor,

I am truly concerned about the incident which happened at the Academic Awards Banquet held April 17, 1985, at McBryde Cafeteria. I am speaking about the appearance of President Phil Lader.

Dr. Smith introduced him and he walked up to the podium, gave his speech about how glad he was to be able to attend this function and at the end of his speech President Lader turned and walked straight out of the door. Now don't you feel that someone who talks so highly of academies like Phil Lader should have stayed and listened to the awards just as everyone else did?

I know he's the President of the college and has many responsibilities, but I believe that he should be spending a little bit more time at Winthrop College and a little less time striving for governor of S.C. which most of us know he will not achieve in the next election.

Sincerely your friend

Phil

Anna K. Hopkins

What do you think of this year's Johnsonian?

"I don't know: ask Nield Gordon."

"I don't know; ask Nield Gordon."—Laurie Ann Dedes sports editor

"The sports page was mighty fine, and Susan was a groovy editor. I think the paper will MANAGE next year. Mom, When are we gonna have fun?"—Robert Jolly managing editor

"It's been wild and crazy. Although I've been accused of not doing things that I know I did, it's been great! I really look forward to next year's paper. This has been a recording, a recording, a recording."

—Bryan Robertson
What is the deal?

By LAURIE ANN DEDES
TJ sports editor

Have you seen the Coliseum and lake area lately? Like since the tailgate party and fireworks display last Friday? It looks like a burned landfill! We open up our facilities to the public and they trash the place. So I told “adults” don’t even have the courtesy to clean up the mess they make. Instead, the physical plant (more on them a little later) has to do it and so far even they haven’t. And the rest of you students aren’t any better. I’m the one cruising the lake in the light blue convertible Mustang with the blond driving. I’m the one on the passenger’s side watching you slobs guzzle your beer and then throw your beer cans into the lake and on the ground. You know who you are. Just remember - I’ve got that 35mm camera strapped around my neck and a picture is worth a thousand words and I NEED all sorts of interesting pictures for the sports page and the coliseum and the lake are MY territory!

Speaking of the physical plant, aren’t those guys supposed to be taking care of the golf course? Have you seen the golf course? My “on campus source” pointed out to me Saturday during the baseball game that it has really gone down hill in the last five years.

So, I decided to have a little look. Don’t those guys ever seed or fertilize the course? I’ve seen greener things crawling around on a plate of cafeteria food. There are no greens out there! I don’t see how anyone can play ANYTHING out there.

Another “on campus” source also tells me that the golf team does not even play out there. Instead they play at some country club. We’ve got the facilities, Why aren’t they taking care of them and using them? Something just doesn’t click with all of the money this college pulls in it can’t cost that much to take care of a golf course.

Speaking of golfing, the Tenth Annual Discinas Open was last Saturday. Taking the honor this year was Dave Nielsen with a 4 over par 74. Risher Brabham, Dennis Wright and Mark McCarthy finished respectively with 78’s. Mark McCarthy won the lowest putts competition while Randy Cato and Randy Gregory won closest to the pin on holes eleven and eighteen. Congratulations guys! Heard you all had a blast.

I went to the tennis match on Saturday afternoon also and there weren’t a whole lot of people out supporting the men’s team. They were playing Armstrong State, and when I left they were looking pretty good. Hey girls, they’re kind of cute, you need to be out by the courts giving that student support!

I also skipped on out to the baseball game on Saturday. I arrived during the fifth inning and we were behind by three! Sh*t changed, and we beat Coastal Carolina 9 to 8! Way to hustle! I’m the one on the passenger’s side watching you slobs guzzle your beer and then throw your beer cans into the lake and on the ground. You know who you are. Just remember - I’ve got that 35mm camera strapped around my neck and a picture is worth a thousand words and I NEED all sorts of interesting pictures for the sports page and the coliseum and the lake are MY territory!

Well, just as I start taking over the sports page it’s time for summer! I don’t know about the rest of you, but I plan to go home and get a little healthy.

I thought I’d start running and take off a few pounds! You should too; it’s great for the cardiovascular system. Well, gang, have a great summer - take it easy and remember, friends don’t let friends drive drunk. And Nield . . . I’ll be talking to you in the fall . . . maybe!

Wrestlers take to mat and cage

By TODD HUTCHINSON
TJ assistant sports editor

On a night filled with American patriotic feeling the Russians, Ivan and Nikito Koloff started the wrestling event held at Winthrop Coliseum on April 16. With the crowd chanting U.S.A! U.S.A! in the background the Russians defeated their opponents in convincing style. Much to the displeasure of the crowd the Russians escaped the match unanomred by the barrage of ice, Coke cups, and American fists.

The next wrestler from the “Legend-of-Doom” was noted William “Superstar” Billy Graham. With a vast display of “Karate” Graham beat his opponent but not without a disturbance. Graham’s arch-rival Jimmy “Boogie-Woogie” Valient showed up and disturbed the flow of the match. Graham soon overcame his opponent with a vice-like full nelson that made his opponent submit to the punishment.

The “Nature Boy” Buddy Landell was next to take to the squared ring. Although he had blonde hair, real wrestling fans would know that the real “Nature Boy” is Ric Flair, who was reported to be on hand. Landell beat his opponent after a tough match.

Coming out to “Born In the USA” by Bruce Springstein, Don “Mr. USA” Kernodle showed why he is one of America’s favorites. After getting up to a slow start Kernodle gained a victory when he “clotheslined” his opponent off the ropes.

Next was TV title match between Rock Hill’s own Buzzy Landell and Buddy Landell. Landell won the fewest putts competition while Randy Cato and Landell was next to take to the squared ring. Although he had blonde hair, real wrestling fans would know that the real “Nature Boy” is Ric Flair, who was reported to be on hand. Landell beat his opponent after a tough match.

Coming out to “Born In the USA” by Bruce Springstein, Don “Mr. USA” Kernodle showed why he is one of America’s favorites. After getting up to a slow start Kernodle gained a victory when he “clotheslined” his opponent off the ropes.

The next match was won by Superstar Billy Graham and his trusted partner The Barbarian. The match was over when the Barbarian and Graham decided to inflict punishment on their opponents. With “Old Lady” (his trusted axe-handle) the Boogie-Woogie Man inflicted a blow on the Superstar Billy Graham. As he went to hit the Barbarian, the Barbarian knocked “Old Lady” out of his hands. Next with the Volleyball recruit signs

By CINDY JOHNSON
TJ sports writer

Winthrop head volleyball coach Cathy Ivester announced last week the signing of Melinda Eubanks. Eubanks is a 6-9 middle blocker from Brandon, Florida. She agreed to a grant-in-aid to play volleyball at Winthrop next season. Eubanks is the second Winthrop recruit to sign with the Lady Eagle volleyball program this year.

The Florida native has played AAU Junior Olympic volleyball and was voted all county this season. She led her Brandon High School squad to an undefeated season, as well as a state championship. She participated also in softball and basketball at Brandon. Eubanks led her softball team to a no. 19 national ranking. The Brandon basketball team made it to the Florida state quarterfinals.

Head coach Cathy Ivester stated last week, "I am happy to have Melinda coming to Winthrop next year. She was strongly recruited by other schools, so we feel fortunate to have her coming to Winthrop." Concerning Eubanks' ability, Ivester stated, "Melinda's assets as a good blocker and hitter will help us immediately next year. She will fit in well in our program.

In Ivester's first year as Head Coach the Lady Eagle volleyball team finished the 1984-85 season with a 28-15 record.

Personal messages

Kevin Dupree, By eating grain fed to beef instead of eating the beef, we would increase the energy we obtain from the grain by approximately 100 percent. Allison Love

Christie Love, See, I told you there was a personal message for you! Allison

Bob, Thank you in advance for putting up with me this week. I Love You, too! Allison

Laurie Ann Dedes, Here's to good friends! Allison

To the graduating seniors of Sigma Sigma Sigma and the Brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon - it's been a super year, thanks for all the fun times! Have a nice summer and we're looking forward to the fall. We love you! June and Julie

M.J. Burns- Looks to me like that arm needs a little TLC. D.H.

To 5th Floor Wofford - Congratulations girls, you deserve that Cassens Cup. Thanks for being a terrific hall. Connie

Happy Birthday Carol Clayman! Love, Kim, PJ and Rob!

To the sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha, Thanks for all the guidance, support, good times, encouragement - but most of all love. Zeta Love and Ours, Omicron Pledge Class

Southern Belle, alias S.F., and Coconut- Thanks for being there when I needed you. It's been a great year. Don't be strangers this summer. Come see me in Florida! Boston Yankee

Herd named Player of the Month

By TODD HUTCHINSON
TJ assistant sports editor

This year Ten Herd has stepped in and played in 44 of 45 games as the starting catcher on the Eagle baseball team.

Herd, an 18-year-old freshman from Pasadena, Maryland, has to date batted at a .324 average with 45 hits in 146 at bats. Included in those hits are 8 home runs and 45 runs batted in while compiling a .707 slugging percentage. Behind the plate Herd had thrown out 13 of 46 runners attempting to steal for a 29.1 percentage throw-out rate.

This season has been a surprise according to Herd, "The season has been going great for the team. It was unexpected for us to do this well considering how young we are."

Herd, who has been playing baseball since he was six years old, has always played catcher in high school Herd played 4 Most of it has been on my own years and also played American Legion baseball for two years. "I school coach has been a big congratulations to scouts told me about Winthrop and its baseball team and how the team needed a catcher. After I called Coach Turkett visited the school and I was impressed," said Herd.

"College has been tougher on the freedom I have is to tough to manage," said Herd about college compared to high school. Herd has had two influences in his baseball career. He said, "My mom and my high school coach have helped me in baseball, and set some school records.

Three recruits signed to basketball

By LAURIE ANN DEDES
TJ sports editor

Head Basketball coach Nield Gordon announced the signing of Everett Seeker to the Winthrop team. Seeker is a 6-9, 200 pounder from South River High School in Edgewater, Maryland. Seeker is expected to play the best position for Winthrop as they enter the NCAA. Coach Nield Gordon, said, "Everett is the big man we need to compete successfully in the Big South Conference. He is an excellent rebounder and an outstanding defensive player." He also said, "He played in a tough league and led his team to the play-offs. Everett is another player in a long line of players from the Maryland area that have played sporadically.

Head coach Cathy Ivester announced last Saturday. (Photo by Laurie Ann Dedes)
Winthrop College Students

ONE TIME ONLY SPECIAL

ONLY $69.00

for

1 Year Membership

Call Now For Appointment

Offer expires May 6, 1985

---

Spa Fitness Center

359 Park Avenue
Rock Hill, SC
324-5291

---

Spring Savings

from Etienne Aigner

Mother's Day
May 12

Shoulder Bag in Great Feeling Leather with outside pockets from Aigner

Color: Signature (Wine)

---

THE TIME HAS COME...

for all students to sell their books at the

Winthrop College Store

9:00-4:00
Mon.-Fri.

This BIG EVENT will begin as soon as you come to the Store

We buy back all current editions. We'll give you Money to Spend

Money, Spend

Money, Spend

Money, Spend

Have A GREAT Summer

---

APRIL SPECIAL

FREE EAR PIERCING

with the purchase of

APRIL BIRTHSTONE STUDS

only $3.99

Other Earrings $5.00

---

Thursdays Too Next Door

WINTHROP
COME SEE US BEFORE SUMMER BREAK!
HAPPY HOUR MONDAY, TUESDAY & WEDNESDAY 9-11
Longest Happy Hour In Rock Hill!

---

Spa Lady

Cherry Road
Beatty Mall
Rock Hill, SC
324-4030

---

Spring Savings

from Etienne Aigner

Mother's Day
May 12

Shoulder Bag in Great Feeling Leather with outside pockets from Aigner

Color: Signature (Wine)

---

New Event

Winthrop College Students

ONE TIME ONLY SPECIAL

ONLY $69.00

for

1 Year Membership

Call Now For Appointment

Offer expires May 6, 1985

---

Spa Fitness Center

359 Park Avenue
Rock Hill, SC
324-5291

---

Spring Savings

from Etienne Aigner

Mother's Day
May 12

Shoulder Bag in Great Feeling Leather with outside pockets from Aigner

Color: Signature (Wine)

---

THE TIME HAS COME...

for all students to sell their books at the

Winthrop College Store

9:00-4:00
Mon.-Fri.

This BIG EVENT will begin as soon as you come to the Store

We buy back all current editions. We'll give you Money to Spend

Money, Spend

Money, Spend

Money, Spend

Have A GREAT Summer

---

APRIL SPECIAL

FREE EAR PIERCING

with the purchase of

APRIL BIRTHSTONE STUDS

only $3.99

Other Earrings $5.00