THREE PICNICS FOR THIS COUNTY

ARMENIA PICNIC TAKES PLACE WEDNESDAY.

Preparations Completed for a Great Occasion—Educational Rally on the 10th

Three big picnics scheduled for this county in the next few days are causing a lot of interest and with the work at hand for laying by the crops, there is at the highest pitch.

First on deck is the great rally at Armentia on Wednesday next week, the 4th of August. Now where can people have a better dinner or accept more hospitable than the good people of the Armentia section.

The educational rally to be held at Pleasant Grove Methodist church on August 10th, is likewise attracting much interest.

Then follows the Ribburg picnic on the 17th of August, the second of the rallies to be held over the county.

Commenting upon Judge Hudson's service on the circuit bench of South Carolina, the News and Courier of Friday says:

"For the long time he was on the circuit bench Judge Hudson was recognized generally as a superior jurist in the state, and yet we dare say that he could not have indulged the average judge's boast of being second reversed by the courts above."

The Famous Kimis.

Kimis is a valuable beverage for use in the sick-room. Heat one quart of milk to seventy-five degrees Fahrenheit, add one part of cane sugar and one fourth of a yeast cake dissolved in one table-spoonful of lukewarm water.

A West Philadelphia husband had just comfortably seated himself for his after dinner cigar the other evening when his good wife took the table and parrot from the room.

"Mary," said he, "what in the world did you take that parrot out of the room for?"

"I was afraid that you might see him a bad example," answered wife. "What do you mean?" demanded the wandering invalid, wife, handing father the envelope, "that I have just received my dressmaking and millinery bills."

ROCK HILL MAN KILLED.

Mer. Horrible Death by Drinking Carbolic Acid.

Will Cash, an operative at the Highland Park Mill, No. 3, returned home shortly after 10 o'clock from last night and going immediately to his room fell upon his bed and expired within five minutes.

"A negro gave me carbolic acid for whiskey and I drank it. I am going to die," he said.

Cash and his wife lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Hargett, on "Back Row" about a half mile from the Highland Park Mill. The house is located near the county home. The couple had been living with the Hargetts only 10 days, and little could be learned of them or the man's habits.

When Cash entered the house from the back door, Mrs. Hargett was in one of the rear rooms, while Mrs. Cash and Miss Fannie Hargett, with Mr. Will Dye, were sitting on the front porch.

"I was drunk," said Mrs. Hargett, "but I didn't go to his room, for his wife left the porch when he came in, and then my daughter went to him."

Miss Fannie Hargett said that Cash told her:

"I was to get me carbolic acid for whiskey and I drank it. I am going to die." "I asked him," continued she, "what the negro was and he said 'I don't know, but he was drinking before I met him.' With that he seemed to have a fit and doubled up in a coil and died. We couldn't do anything for him and before the doctor came, he had been dead for some time."

Mrs. Cash was prostrated from the awful shock and physicians were with her most of the night.

Mrs. Hargett said, "Cash has been married for two years. He and his wife did not get along too well together, as he was a man of fit nature. She was always good to him but sometimes he would get stubborn and leave the house, not returning for several days. Today his wife asked him to pay the rent for the room before he would return in a little bit and that was the last we saw of him. He and his wife came to live 10 days ago to the house at Rock Hill."

"For the long time he was on the circuit bench Judge Hudson was recognized generally as a superior jurist in the state, and yet we dare say that he could not have indulged the average judge's boast of being second reversed by the courts above."

LOST CALHOUN STATUE

Disappeared During Civil War and Never Has Been Found.

What has become of the handsome marble statue of John C. Calhoun, which was brought to Charleston from Italy in 1854 or 1855 that placed in the city hall here? That is a question which several members of generation past is able to recall events of a half century ago have been asking each other recently.

The statue was made in Rome by the American sculptor Powers. It represented Calhoun standing, wearing a Roman senator's toga. In his left hand he held a scroll, representing "Truth, Justice and the Constitution"; the right hand of the figure was pointing toward the scroll. The statue cost, it is stated, $10,000.

The statue was shipped from Rome to New York. It was, when the ship foundered, it is said, one of the few things that were not washed overboard, and, under the direction of Mr. Powers, it was repaired in this city by a stonecutter whose name was

One story has it that the statue was placed in the city hall and remained there until the civil war, that it was then packed and shipped to Columbia, where it was kept in the basement of the Columbia College building. It was later found in the basement of the building, but that when Columbia was burned the statue perished.

There are other accounts given as to the last chapter of the statue's history. Some hold that the statue was never sent to Columbia, but that it was buried in the lot around the city hall; others claim that the statue was shipped to Columbia, but that it was not buried. They say that when the statue was broken up by the soldiers, and may still be in existence, however that may be, the facts connected with the statue's history are so difficult to obtain as they would appear to be interesting.—News and Courier.

Not a Little Boy.

"Little Jean's" parents were enthusiastic whistlers, and Jean was moreover a whistler himself.

MORE IS TOLD

ON CATTLE TICKS

TELLING ALL THE FACTS TO THE PUBLIC

Valuable Information to Cattle Growers of the Entire Country Given Out.

There are four practical methods that may be employed in freeing cattle and pastures of Texas fever ticks: (1) Picking or brushing off the ticks; (2) smearing or spraying the animals with a disinfecting solution; (3) dipping the ticks into a solution capable of killing the ticks without injury to the cattle; (4) a systematic pasture rotation whereby the ticks are eliminated by changing the cattle from one pasture to another, allowing the ticks to drop off, and preventing new ticks from getting on the cattle.

FEASTERVILLE NEWS

Matters of Interest to the People at Large—Some Fine Crops in the Neighborhood.

Feasterville, July 28.—The farmers are almost done work and the social season is well advanced.

The following parties from Chester attracted the party: Misses Kathryn Cross, Katharine Corwell, Pauline Crosby, Lucile Crosby, and Messrs. Claud Crosby, D. P. Crosby, Jr., Tom Spratt, Carlisle White, Law Motter, and Geddings Crawford.

Mr. Harper James, of Mississippi, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin James of Buckleard, Mr. James is engaged as superintendent of a large cotton farm on the Mississippi river and gives an interesting account of their farming on the lands in the Mississippi valley.

Mr. George Stevenson, of Texas, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jeffries and family. We are glad to have them with us.

Miss Janie McLean and Mr. James Haire were married last night at the Baptist parsonage by the Rev. E. E. Wells, a few ladies and the bride's parents made them welcome by giving them a dinner to which several were invited.

There was a basket picnic at Mr. John S. Stone's on Wednesday the twenty first was largely attended there were several from Blackstock and many from other remote sections of the county.

There was a game of basketball between Blackstock and Shelton nights last week. The result of the game was a tie. Refreshments were served on the grounds and all seemed to enjoy themselves. We are having a nice time in our country, which I think will make us enough to keep the well away from the door.

We have recently read a copy of David Dickson's system of farming, which is a very interesting book. He had ever read Dickson's letters on farming, he said, "but no's not necessary for you to read Dickson, just read my book, and down to Mr. C. Hill's and look at their crops. Taking the grade of land into consideration I think I'm in sight of them on the farm."

They have got improved land a sufficiency of fertilizer and labor, and I have very little of either. The best thing is the one who makes the most product with the least expense on poor land. The youths of our country should be taught that there is just as much honor in running a farm on poor land and improving some pieces of worn-out land and living an honorable life on the farm as there is in occupying a seat in Congress, though I would like the latter very much.

Mr. Editor, I hope I am not trespassing on your valuable space. It is my belief that the reason I am writing at length.

R. R. J.

Fully Appreciated.

Raymond, age five, returned from Sunday School in a state of evident excitement and reported that he had been in the room as if about to burst with importance. The sympathetic eyes of his mother was not slow to observe this.

"What was the matter, Raymond?" she asked.

"Oh, mother," exclaimed the small boy, his eyes sparkling, "the superintendent of the school had a awful piece of news for me in his prayer this morning."

"What did he say?"

"He said, 'Oh, Lord, we thank Thee for the few feet of carpeting in the Women's Home Companion for August.'"

A Cuck Egg Hog.

A cuck egg hog is quickly made. Bake the whites of one egg until stiff, and add gradually, while beating constantly, one teaspoonful of sugar, one teaspoonful of cream, and a few grains of salt. Add to this the mixture, while beating constantly, four thirds of a cupful of cold milk. Turn into a greased tin and bake for fifteen to twenty minutes on a low heat. Exchange.

One kind of Mexican pineapple, known as the "cane" one, is remarkably sweet, and the flesh is remarkably tender and juicy.

WHY THIS DISCRIMINATION?

Mr. J. E. Sanders was arrested on Wednesday evening after he had fired his pistol a number of times in the street near the Southern depot, cursed, and disturbed the peace generally.

We want to know how it was that he was released on Wednesday night instead of being locked up and no bond demanded until the following morning?

CLEARANCE SALE At WYLIE'S

Men's styles in Clothing change radically from season to season--indeed, what is "the thing" one season is quite passe the next. Recognizing this fact it is our policy never to carry over any goods, but to close them out at the end of the season, regardless of cost.

Men's Oxfords CLOTHING. We have too many Men's Oxfords; they must be closed out and in order to do this we have cut the price. Here is the way they will go:

BOYS' SUMMER SUITS AT FIRST COST. STRAW HATS at First Cost. Ladies' Tan Oxfords closed out regardless of cost. Ladies' Wash Skirts at First Cost.

If you are in need of any of the above goods it will pay you to see us, for when we say "cut price" we mean it.

J. G. L. WHITE, Pres. Chester County Farmers' Union, Chester, S. C., July 28, 1909.

I had a bachelor apartment at one time with an Englishman, who was always talking about his 'bawh', you know, and a few 'York bawhies'.

"The first thing in the morning he said: 'I must take my bawh, you know. Really, now, I must take my bawh—have, law!'"

"He did so much talking about his 'bawh' that I stayed one morning to see him take it—to see if it was different from the bawh of the American."

It was. This is what he did: First he spread a soft towel at the bottom of the bathtub, then turned on the water until it was about two inches high.

"So as not to chill my feet, you know—'have, law!'" he explained to me.

Then he stood on the soft towel in the two inches of water, turned on the spray, sprang through it, leaped out and rubbed for a towel.

He had taken his 'bawh, you know—'have, law!'"—Washington Post.

Many those dying words of the great jurist, Judge Hudson, who in passing away imagined that he was on the bench, delivering a charge to a jury, ring in the ears of jurors and lawyers have enough to do with the administration of justice: "Do the right as God gives light to see the right."—Wintboro News and Herald.

Mr. Parrott to Speak at Richburg.

George J. G. Richards, who was scheduled to speak at Richburg, will not be able to attend and in his place will be Mr. S. F. Parrott, the newly elected president of South Carolina Farmers' Union. The many friends of Capt. Richards are so sure that it will be impossible for him to be present but Mr. Parrott will fill his place and give the people something worth listening to.

Mr. Samuel Wilson, a workman in the cloth room of the Springstein mill was painfully injured Wednesday by a belt which slipped off a pulley, while the machine was running at high speed. A supporting timber however broke the force of the blow and Mr. Wilson is not seriously injured as was feared at first. Physicians were summoned and the wound was dressed and Mr. Wilson is going along very well.

Chester Kennedy Convicted.

Barwell, S. C., July 29.—At 6 o'clock this morning the jury in the second trial of the case against Chester Kennedy charged with complicity in the murder of Perry Ussery in November, 1908, returned a verdict of guilty of murder with recommendation for mercy. The defense will ask a new trial and if that is refused, will appeal from the verdict, which carries a life sentence. Kennedy, it is alleged, hired Cutlerman Johnson, a negro, convicted for the killing, to shoot Marvin Holland. By mistake the negro killed Ussery, who was standing by the side of Holland, watching the dismantling of a carnival company's apparatus.

NEW PASTOR INSTALLED

Rev. D. G. Phillips Installed as Pastor of Local A. R. P. Church.

A call meeting of the First Presbyterian was held yesterday morning in the A. R. P. Church, for the purpose of installing the new pastor, Dr. D. G. Phillips.

The meeting was called to order by Moderator Hon. J. F. McDonald, of Wintboro, after which the assembly was led in prayer by Rev. R. L. Robinson.

A certificate was read showing that Dr. Phillips had hitherto been enrolled as a member of the Second Presbyterian, and upon motion being made he was duly elected to membership in First Presbyterian.

The formal call signed by all the members of the congregation was then read by Rev. Jno. A. White, and referred to committee consisting of Revs. Oliver Johnson, Jno. A. White and S. H. Latham, who endorsed the call and reported it made out in regular form.

Rev. John A. White then preached a strong and appropriate sermon for the occasion, his text being "We are Laborers with God." Impressing upon the people the solemn obligations and sacred duties they as a congregation owed to their pastor and his church.

The usual questions were then propounded and upon Dr. Phillips assenting his intention of accepting his new labors and performing his duties as a pastor, according to the dictates of his conscience, he was given an opportunity to greet the members of the congregation.

Rev. Oliver Johnson, in behalf of the congregation, then delivered an impressive address to the congregation calling upon them to uphold and assist their pastor in his new field of work.

Rev. R. L. Robinson of Lenoax then delivered a fitting charge to the congregation, upon the duties of the church members to their pastor and the things they should expect of him, and urging the necessity of encouragement and cooperation, for upon this depended the success of his work.

The exercises were then closed by a benediction by Rev. D. G. Phillips.

A man in North Carolina who "re-acted" certain things said about him in a local paper proceeded to hunt up the editor and give him a beating. Later the injured citizen found out that the editor had not written the article in question, though of course he was responsible as editor for what went into his paper—and the pugilistic citizen was inclined to be sorry that he had, in his view, beat up the wrong man. The fortunate part of the affair is that the indignant citizen used only his fists—if he had resorted to the customary pistol his regret over his mistake would have sorely availed very much.—The State.
