UNITED STATES CAN SUPPORT POPULATION OF 574 MILLION

No Cause for Worry Concerning Food Supplies, He Says—Italy Must Have Outlet for Growing Population, Foreigners Declare.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 1.—The United States can support a population of 850,000,000 and by applying German methods a population of 874,000,000, it was asserted at the Institute of politics today by Dr. J. C. McCall.

PROVING YOU ARE YOU

By Wickes Wambolt Just the other day a jury for which I was called declared he wasn't dead, and the father and mother of the man declared he wasn't dead, too.

It is a mighty good idea not to break the line of communication between where you are and from where you go to; that is, unless a man is particularly desirous that no one shall prove that he is himself.

We knew an old lady who had been married for 50 years to the old home town. She was a descendant of the Rutland family. She was a millionaire.

It has been predicted that in 30 years no one but the very rich and the very poor will be left in New York City, he asserted. "The middle class will have been squeezed out by the rich and the millionaires of population pressure."

A spirited debate occurred at the round table on Great Britain's use of her army and navy. Opposing speakers asserted and denied the territorial ambitions of her empire.

"We talked in the way that the world differences could be made more numerous because the islands there can shelter a multitude of submarines."

IT'S PERSISTENCY THAT COUNTS.

If you are continually striving to do your best and working hard, the fact that you are not is no sign that you are not a good man and worthy of appreciation.

If you are always doing your best you are just as great as the man who is noted for having accomplished some great deed—perhaps greater; for—who knows—he may have had an easier road, and you may be working under a greater handicap.

The fact that you honestly try to complete each task assigned you makes you worthy—not everything in business is in a whirlwind finish.

There ought to be a law. A fellow out in Steamboat fell down and cursed his shin.

LAWLESSNESS APPEARS TO APPEAL TO PEOPLE

WOMEN'S DRESS 'Tis not for the likes of us, North Carolina and Georgia have recently added some amendments to their marriage laws, whereby it is required, we believe, in Georgia at any rate, that a short notice be given of intention to apply for marriage license.

It is neither our province or talent to suggest what shall be the design, the architecture, whether Colonial, Corinthian, Tuscan, Roman or Italian, of the dress which shall grace lovely woman, or the al fresco frizzes best fitted to outline it.

When vision lights on a woman the bare tiff, the softness of an inflection, the gleam that comes when she is adorned like a bird of the Parthenon, we are sometimes moved to consideration of the ways that circumstances alter cases—and in that some cases they should.

Now such dress will become a womanly and attractive debaucher who flit from store to store and with graceful gesture wear their way to the self-dirk tables of the drug stores.

It has been said that a law is a suggestion. It is a suggestion that we should have better girls two sizes smaller; they attend as handmaidens to Grace and Youth; the robes of varied colors and designs are assembled in the folds of the youthful wear.

KNOW YOUR STATE

South Carolina is rich in historical interest—Old Statesburg, Standard Capital by One Who Was There, New Ideas in Agriculture, "Know Your Own State" is the title of a very attractive booklet...

Historically, then, it is told that the first English colony was established on the west bank of the Ashley river in 1670 at a place called "Charles Town"...

"I am glad they are clothing the places of business in Charleston without the passage of a law. I have never been much of a believer in making laws to regulate people's good."

The story of St. Michael's bells—the old church erected in 1762—is told. They were cast in England and hung in the old church until 1782...

The Southern Public Utilities Company is under the jurisdiction of the South Carolina Railroad Commission...

"I think Mr. Duke is the man behind the Southern Power Company and the Utilities Company, one of the best men in this country."

Castle Pinckney has recently been placed in a national monument. It was near this point that the first successful use of the torpedo was employed as a factor.

"The first successful use of the torpedo was employed as a factor." Other points of historic interest in and about Charleston are described.

St. Charles's Deserited Village—St. Charles's architecture will be interested in an old church tower that stands off by itself.

"I was talking to a farmer yesterday who has been farming most all his life. He has made good. He is not wealthy but he is independent."

The Revolutionary War, resulting in the defeat of the British troops. Some fifteen miles farther up the river... The history of the Revolution is a story of the struggle for freedom...

There is a view of the historic Anderson house at Statesburg, which was built by one of the state's capitalists, losing by only one vote...

"At Cheraw we strike the Capital Trail and follow it to Camden, which with other associated towns was fortified by Lord Cornwallis..."

"This quaint building in Charleston from 1703. Having come safely to this country, the British were ordered to leave the country..."

Other excerpts from the book follow: "A Great Legal Battle. Do you know the story of Maria Lee's will? The legal battle that followed her death..."

"Three monuments have been erected to commemorate the battle of the Clouds in 1815. The first was erected in 1909 by the Federal government..."

"At Wellington, between Calhoun's Falls and McCormick, is one of the most interesting public buildings in South Carolina. The De la Howe State School..."

"De la Howe State School is said to be the oldest manual training school in the United States. It was founded in 1874..."

"The De la Howe will, 1,000 acres to be kept in forest and as a result, this section is new territory, worth $50 to $100 acre..."

The "SAMARITAN" FARMER. Dr. J. W. Hollander. Sickened had Farmer B on his back. His corn needed plowing and his early hay must be cut...

Before the second evening the work was done. As they took their leave, Farmer B said: "I thank God that I live among Good Samaritans."

It recalls the story which Jesus told to describe the human side of His Gospel. "Four men were out on the road from Jerusalem to Jericho..."

"A Great Legal Battle. Do you know the story of Maria Lee's will? The legal battle that followed her death..."

"Three monuments have been erected to commemorate the battle of the Clouds in 1815. The first was erected in 1909 by the Federal government..."

"The De la Howe will, 1,000 acres to be kept in forest and as a result, this section is new territory, worth $50 to $100 acre..."

"Thousands of Christian professors are of the priest's faith. They look out for themselves first, last and always. Their religion is pure selfishness..."

Thank God for the people who intrude their faith to men who are in need. They help the weak and the broken hearts along the highway of life...

"I believe in faith and prayer, and make my devotion, but I believe in a Christian simply and solely to save his own soul..."

"The Good Samaritan had the best time of any one who walked the Jericho road that day, for he had done something to help his fellow man..."

Elizabethton, N. C.—The Bell Manufacturing Company has been organized here to establish a new mill. The company was organized in accordance with plans announced last week by W. H. Bell, of Charlotte, and others.

Rockwell, Tenn.—The Southern Cotton Mills have been incorporated with a capital stock of $500,000 by Irving D. Saxton, 71 Saxton Ave., and associates. The new company will take over the Pendergast Cotton Mills, Pendergast, Tenn., which were placed in receivership some time ago, and will improve and enlarge the plant.

Rockwell, Ala.—The Culp Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of overalls, has sold out to the Valley Mills, of LaGrange, Ga., and will henceforth be operated as a link in the chain of industries owned and operated by the Galveston interests. It Culp will continue in charge of the local plant, and Nat Carruth, of LaGrange, will be general manager of this and other similar plants.

Jacksonville, Fla.—J. M. Short, of Alta Vista, Va., has been selected as manager for the Broward Textile Mills Company and will take over the supervision of the construction and operation of the cotton mill to be built in the immediate future at Rialto, near Callahan. J. M. Brown will head the new mill, which will be located at 349 St. James Building, Jacksonville.

The mill will be of 20,000 spinners capacity. Construction work will probably begin within the next two weeks.

Greenville, S. C.—A number of Greenville mills will be closed down for a week or two of vacation while others will run continuously, according to information obtained. Among the mills closing are the American Spinning Company, Fox, Bismarck, and the Pulmett, while Camperdown has been on a curtailed schedule for several weeks. Dumas, Judson and possibly others will not close for the vacation, it is understood. Officials of the Woodside Mills said they had no vacation plans in mind.

The fact that most of the Greenville mills are running full time is in direct contrast to the same period of last year, when virtually all textile plants in this section were on a curtailed schedule.

The fact that the mills are in operation six days a week is reflected in trading conditions here. Greenville mechanics declared.

Cumberland, N. C.—The Cumberland Mills, which were incorporated last week by D. J. Rose, P. G. Shors and E. N. Brower, all of Rocky Mount, have taken over the Corley Mills, which were sold by the receivers. Work has been resumed at the mill, which is now running on full time.

The addition is a little larger than original plant. The new building is magnificent in structure and covers a large plot of land. It was built by the Fiske-Carter Company, of this city.

Greensboro, N. C.—A distinct better tone is indicated in the circles in the Piedmont section of North Carolina within the past month, and some mill men are of the opinion that things are even better than they seem to be.

The improvement, however, is the Knoxville Cotton Mills, Knoxville, Tenn.

Considerably More than $200,000 A Year Will Be Saved to the Light and Power Customers on Our Lines Through These Reductions.

Since May 1, 1915, we have reduced the top lighting rate from 15 cents to 8 cents per kilowatt hour. It is the fixed purpose of this company to render to its patrons the best possible service at the lowest possible cost, and these reductions are in line with this established policy.

If this sacrifice of revenue should temporarily result in less than a reasonable rate of return for this part of our service we feel that we can reasonably expect that the deficiency will soon be supplied through the increase in the consumption of current which must result from the large reductions in the cost of service to the consumer.

We believe that the great electrical development of our country is yet in its infancy, and that greater and more varied uses will be made of electricity in homes and in factories.

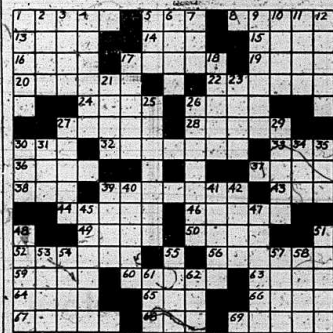

We wish to assure our patrons that we are going to do our part in bringing about this greater development by maintaining at all times an up-to-date and efficient service and by giving to our customers from time to time in the future as in the past their full share of the advantages and economies that may be derived from the increased business.

The rates under the new schedule above given will be effective with bills to be rendered September 1 for August service.

THE SOUTHERN SERVES THE SOUTH

Faith in the South and courage to back it

It took courage to turn more than a hundred million dollars of the earnings of this railroad back into the property without paying a dividend for thirty years. It required foresight to insure the wisdom of such courage. Faith in the South stood back of this program. Now, after thirty years this faith has borne its fruit.

The South is prosperous. The Southern Railway has come into its own, and Southern Railway securities are taking their rightful place in the investment markets.
