THE BIG STORE

LIME

We have secured the Agency for the best ground Limestone made, and will take pleasure in talking to our Friends and Customers about this lime, and what it will do for your land.

Experts from the Government tell you that Lime is the cheapest and best thing you can use. It brings out the Potash that is in the soil, and as we cannot get Potash it looks like it will pay any one to use Lime this Fall.

This Lime is very finely ground, which is much better than a coarse ground Lime. We could have gotten a coarser Lime for less money, but you do not get as quick results with coarse Lime.

Call and see us for prices.

SEDITION HOTBED FOUND ON FARMS OF MIDDLE WEST

Region Honeycombed, With Federal Agents—Populace Sharped, Divided into Loyals and Disloyals

Pearl, Ill., Aug. 18.—Pro-German activities which have been discovered in the wheat and corn belts of Illinois and Iowa have drawn to the attention of the State Service men, who have been sent to drive against the disloyal. These men have been road drivers from Chicago and other large western cities, and they have been their hands full for weeks.

In that time hundreds of cases have been investigated. In all of these the offenders have been warned. In others if has been necessary to use even more drastic measures to stamp out sedition, while in general, reliance has been placed upon the power of the press to restrain the traitors.

To such extremes have the loyal demonstrations in southern Illinois gone that the Department of Justice's agents are working to prevent any alleged sedition movement among farmers in St. Clair, Madison, Willis, Washington and Jersey counties.

They are said to have organized "Leagues of Humanity," the object of which is to prevent the United States from sending units of the new National Army to France.

For weeks petitions have been circulated among men of draft age in the agricultural sections asking that their names be on an oath to go to Europe, using force if necessary to prevent their transportation. Copies of the petitions are in the hands of the secret agents, who, containing lists of names of the signers, it is reported, already have been taken into custody.

The leaders of the alleged movement are said to be in Frankfort and are meeting to select a meeting of leaders of the anti-draft movement.

According to Federal officials the records of several exemption boards in the suggested counties are said to show that scores of pleas for exemption have been worded identically.

The discovery of the activity among the United States in the community where the majority has been due to two important factors. One is the natural patriotism of the American neighbor. The other is the spiritual work of the Four Minute Men, an organization of young patriots who have been keeping the spirit of the war alive.

Naturally, while this disloyalty has been marked in several sections, it did not at first become known to the world outside. But the arrival of the Secret Service men last year may have been the signal for the outbreak of the movement.

On the eve of the wedding of Johnston-Gentry.

The secret service wedding of the Johnston-Gentrys took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright on Washington street.

Only close friends of the young couple were invited to the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. J. S. Lyons, Miss Ruby Clay, furnished the wedding music.

The bride was charming in a tailored suit of midnight blue with hat and accessories to match. Her only attendant was Mr. Robert B. Wright, a friend of the Johnston-Gentrys, and the groom had also been a friend of the Johnston-Gentrys, and the groom had also been a friend of the Johnston-Gentrys.

After a short wedding trip, Lieutenant Johnston and his bride will be at home at Fort Oglethorpe, Chattanooga, Tennessee—Tennessee News.

The local officers of the Chester County Interdenominational Sunday School Association are busy preparing for their County Convention to be held here on September 4th and 5th. Of late years the convention has been held at different places.

A large, early preparation for the 1914 convention has been prepared. Among the out-of-town speakers are Mr. R. D. Webb, General Secretary for South Carolina and Mrs. S. P. Morris.

Johnston-Sunday School in the County is entitled to five delegates, two of whom are the pastor and superintendent. Three others are to be appointed next Sunday by the School.

As soon as each school elects its delegate, the names are to be sent at once to Miss Anna Bell, Secretary of the County Convention.

On next Sunday morning each Superintendent in the City of Chester is asked to appoint his committee to secure bidders in his church for the delegation to the County Convention.

The complete program will be published later.

For Read-Dwelling, location 108 Main Street, apply to L. T. Nichols, Chester, S. C.

The many friends of Mr. A. M. Peacock in the midsection of the state fall from the roof adjoining the Agnew building last Tuesday night, will be pleased to learn that he is resting better today although still suffering great pain.

He is to the Committee.

On coming to the front door latched and not having his key with him went out on a side roof with the expectation of going into the back window. He thought the roof extended before the window and making his way to the window stepped off the rear of the roof, falling about twenty-five feet which resulted in breaking several bones in his legs.

He was taken to the Chester Sanatorium for treatment.

Benjamin Franklin said:

"Plain Eating Means Clear Thinking."

On his arrival in Philadelphia in 1732 he spent three pennies, all the money he had in the world, for bread and, as he says himself:

"Walked off with a roll under each arm and eating the other."

Bread made the physical strength that enabled our forefathers to do big things and become great patriots.
