ASSOCIATED REFORMED PRESBYTERIAN HISTORY IN CHESTER

By Arthur Corwell

Hopewell is one of the oldest of the Associated Reformed Churches in the South. Like most of the churches founded in the early history of the country very little written history of this church has been preserved, and the historian has to rely largely on tradition for his facts.

The congregation was organized in the year 1787 or 1788. The exact date is uncertain; but Dr. Lathan thinks that it was organized in 1787 by the Rev. M. H. Lathan.

In 1788, Rev. John Bove was sent South by the A. P. Presbytery of Pa., and labored first as stated supply, and afterwards as pastor of Hopewell, Glendon, Grand Creek and New Hope. He labored there in N. C. Mr. Bove's pastorate was a short one, he being called March 18, 1793. In Feb. or March, 1798, Hopewell, Union and New Hope congregations united in extending a call to the Rev. John Bove. He had been sent to preach among these churches by the First Presbytery of Pennsylvania. The pastoral labors of Mr. Hembell began in the fall of 1795, but he was not installed until the 19th of September, 1798. Hopewell had been sent to preach among these churches by the First Presbytery of Pennsylvania.

On May 31, 1830, the Rev. W. C. E. Bove was installed and installed as the fourth pastor of Hopewell. This pastorate closed with the death of Mr. Bove on the 14th of March, 1876. All the ministers speak their entire ministerial lives as pastors of Hopewell. The Rev. W. C. E. Bove was installed on May 31, 1830, the Rev. W. C. E. Bove was installed on May 31, 1830, the Rev. W. C. E. Bove was installed on May 31, 1830.

During the one hundred and thirty-seven years of Hopewell's pastorate, three hundred and thirty churches have been erected. At first the congregations met for worship in the woods, but in 1788 the first house of worship was built. This was a log house, and stood about one hundred yards northwest of the present building. This log church answered the purpose until the year 1800, when a brick building was erected. It was destroyed by fire in 1844. A new brick church in 1844. It was destroyed by fire in 1844.

A community welcome is to be given Rev. W. W. Harrison, new pastor of the First Presbyterian church Sunday night when the church is to be dedicated. Several churches of the town will join in a union service to be held in that church. Rev. Mr. Harrison who for several years just past has been pastor of a church at Fort Smith, Ark., arrived here Thursday to enter upon his pastoral duties. His family are expected to come to Yorkville later, having been detained in Raleigh, N. C., on account of illness in the family.

Charles S. Auld of Yorkville, was named carrier on York road. More than twenty persons stood a civil service examination for the place several months ago. W. W. Cray of Yorkville, it is understood, made the highest mark on the examination, Auld standing second highest.

Reginald P. Jackson, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church of the Blackburg Spinney Mill at Blackburg, was principally hurt about the neck and back by an elevator in the mill. He was carried to the Fennell in Yorkville, and is lying there for surgical treatment. It is feared that Mr. Jackson may have sustained serious internal injuries.

With an earnest motto and flying for the initial day, the Hickory Grove High school on Tuesday morning, with indications that there would be a larger attendance as soon as school opened. The school is located in Grove, is again superintendent and has a most efficient corps of teachers assisting him.

The congregation of Edgemoor, Chester County, Pa., was organized by the Rev. J. C. Moffat by order of the First Presbytery, April 13, 1869. It was situated midway between Union and Neely's Creek, and was made up in part by members of these churches. Its first pastor was the Rev. W. C. E. Bove, who was ordained and installed in 1892. Mr. Ewatts continued pastor until the spring of 1894, when Dr. F. Griffin was installed in December 1896 and continued pastor until December, 1901.

The Rev. L. T. Presby was installed November 28, 1889. The first church building was destroyed by fire in 1844. A new brick church in 1844. It was destroyed by fire in 1844.

13 BLOCKS BURN WHILE FIREMEN TEND HELPLESS

Shreveport, La., Water Main Breaks and Floods in a Train. Fire Dept. in Charge.

Shreveport, La., Sept. 4.—More than 15 blocks in Shreveport's residential section had been destroyed by fire at midnight while firemen looked on helplessly because of lack of water due to the bursting of the city main. The fire was gradually eating its way toward the business district and was sweeping through a negro residential section. Damage was estimated that hour by more than $500,000.

The city water main went rocky tonight and at 9 p. m. the fire started. Origin has not been learned. All of the fire fighting apparatus of the city is reported to have been completely disabled by lack of water. All trucks were pressed into use and the firemen devoted their time to loading up household effects and sending them out of the danger zone.

Sensational News Expected.

Sensational developments are expected in the probate of the state highway department, according to intimations by C. E. Jones, of Halesburg, member of the commission and chairman of the investigating committee.

With the financial end of the investigation now in the hands of State Bank Examiner W. W. Bradley and a corps of assistants, Mr. Jones said his committee plans to turn on new light. An investigation is now being made of the rents paid by the department for quarters in comparison with other buildings in the city, and into various other matters which he said may be of a "startling nature."

The following marriage licenses were issued at the Judges of Probate's office during the past few days: Mr. Samuel Sexton and Miss Willie Mae Queen, both of Salem, N. C.; Mr. Wilburn A. Mr. Haffer addressed this class a few weeks ago and his second address is looked forward to with pleasure.

The class is interdenominational and extends a welcome to all men, especially those who are not members of either Bible classes. The meetings are held in the ballroom of the Jefferson hotel from 10 to 11 o'clock—Columbia States Saturday.

Rev. C. B. Betts to Clinton.

Rev. G. Byron Betts, pastor of the Troy A. R. P. church for 12 years, has resigned to accept the pastorate of the Clinton church effective September 1. The following dispatch is from Troy:

The Rev. Mr. Betts has given 13 years of faithful service and Associate Reformed Presbyterian church and the community in general. Other churches called him at various times, but at the earnest solicitation of his first flock he stayed in to shepherd his people with joy and sorrow, prosperity and adversity. So it was with poignant grief that they finally accepted his resignation. All denominations have felt the influence of his uplifting consecrated ministry in the church and the community. He and his wife deeply regret the severing of ties made by these many years of Christian fellowship, but the best wishes of all and prayers of many will follow him in his new field in dispensing the bread of life and the 12th Baptist church of Troy will again remain on the outside for him.

TO BUILD NEW STATION.

Mr. C. C. Young, proprietor of the Liberty Filling Station, has awarded a contract to Yandle and Burris, local contractors, for the erection of an up-to-date filling station on a lot recently purchased by him on North Saluda street, adjoining the site of the Baldwin Tool Works plant.

Mr. Young says that the new filling station will be modern in every particular and will be different from any station that he has yet erected. Adjoining the new station he will have a tourist camp to take care of tourists passing this way who may care to spend any time in Chester.

The location is on the Carolina Short Route and is at a point where all southbound traffic enters the City of Chester. Work is expected to commence on the building within the next few days.

Golden Opportunity Slipping.

The News is in receipt of a letter which says: "Enclosed find stamps for which please insert the enclosed advertisement in your Want Columns. We have used your columns several times this season and the result has been very gratifying. We have received considerable business from Chester county through these little ads. Pardon us for mentioning the subject, but a look at the census report which gives your town over 5,000 people, and a look at your paper indicates that the business establishments of Chester are losing a wonderful opportunity in not advertising their merchandise. I don't think I ever saw a newspaper in a town the size of Chester which carried such little local advertising. Why don't you wake up those merchants?"

Boiled icicles

at the snap of a switch

A BOILED icicle illustrates one phase of the service which electricity gives you.

Boiled icicles—that is, both extremes of heat and cold at the same time. That's exactly what you can get out of a socket or convenience outlet.

A fan and a heater can be connected to the same pair of wires. And the same current that will operate a machine to produce ice will boil your eggs and toast your bread.

Just one of many wonders of this servant. Your lighting company supplies the current night and day. An electrical contractor will provide the wiring and the appliances to get the most out of this service.

... obeyed the order and organized a church of 18 members. The organization was effected at Old Church, and Joseph, W. H. Matthews, W. H. Henry and John Simpson were the first elders.

It was a small band, but they were faithful and true, and were vitally attached to the A. R. P. Church. In 1871 the congregation bought the old Methodist church on Center Street, and moved into town. (Note: This is the present site of the Episcopal church.)

In 1878 a new house of worship was erected on the same site and dedicated March 16, 1879, the dedication sermon being preached by the Rev. W. M. Orter, D. D. The Rev. R. B. Brier supplied the church with preaching one-fourth time, until 1879, when the Rev. P. M. Marston was called for three months of his time, and in the course of about three years Mr. Marston was called for the whole of his time. A continued pastor still resides in March, 1882. In 1882, the Rev. Maan W. P. ...

The church has a continuing annual growth, and it is now one of the best churches in the Synod. In 1887 Mr. Joseph W. ... presented the congregation with an elegant parsonage on York Street. The presence of such a noble home of worship was erected in 1897, and was dedicated February 8, 1898, the dedicatory sermon being preached by the Rev. C. E. McDonald.

The Chester church has always been composed largely of the most influential people of the city, and has always exerted a marked influence in the community.

There have been gracious revivals in the church at various periods, and its membership is composed of intelligent and godly people. At the Centennial Synod held in Winaboro, S. C., in 1903, three ministers at the vestry were members of this congregation, viz: the Revs. H. M. Henry, D. D., J. A. White, and ...

A splendid new Sabbath School building is almost completed, which will mean a great step forward in this church. It is built at the rear of the church building. Rev. David White, of the ...

Besides those named at the organization of the church the following persons have been Elders in this church: D. H. Duncan, David Moffat, A. B. ...

Wintco-Salem, N. C.—The F. H. Hester Knitting Company will erect an addition to its warehouse. J. E. Strine & Co., Greenville, S. C., will erect a new factory near River, N. C.

Sparranburg, S. C.—From information contained in an notice sent out to its customers by A. M. Law & Co., local investment bankers, after the purchase of the property and plant of Brown Mills of Anderson, S. C., it is likely to be considered by the stockholders. This firm is asking for options and proxies on the matter is being indicated that the number of the larger stockholders have already approved of the sale.

Lovonia, Ga.—Lovonia Manufacturing Company is making additions and improvements to their plant which will consist of a new stock dyehouse, new cotton storage warehouse, additional machinery and new and modern conditioning system.

It is understood here that the factory will be completed by the end of the year. The plan is to build a Sody plant which will be operated as a separate plant, but will be managed by the Richmond organization, and the output sold through the Richmond organization.

Duke, N. C.—The Erwin Mill No. 5, which has been under construction for some time, is being equipped with the best machinery within a short time. The new plant will have 38,000 spindles and 1,160 looms.

Charlotte, S. C.—The Conestee Cotton Mills, located along Reedy River, 10 miles south of Greenville, S. C., are being damaged, an order for the City of Greenville to construct a modern sewerage disposal plant and to prevent further dumping of raw sewage in the Reedy unless the plant is built, in litigation started here by the city.

The extraordinary drought obtaining over this section has served to give appreciable relief to the average situation here. The Highland Park group of mills, which have been operating on part time for some weeks, have closed down for an indefinite time.

The plants include Highland Park No. 1 and 3 here, Highland Park No. 2, Rock Hill, and the Anchor Mill, Hunteville. These mills are among the more important gingham plants in the South.

College days are here. Another scholastic year begins. Are you ready for it?

At the last commencement of the University of Pennsylvania, a post-mortem decree was awarded in the name of a senior student who died two or three months before. To get an education, a boy literally starved himself took his own life.

For years I was a college student. My office gave me little contact with the knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the death of students. Some with hundreds of dollars of personal comfort made by men hungry for an education.

What South Carolina Needs. The State of South Carolina needs a political campaign based upon business principles, contends the Spartanburg Herald. It needs leadership towards material progress. It needs constructive statesmanship.

What Kills Babies? The United States government has compiled and issued many bulletins on what kills babies. It has found that the most common cause of infant mortality is lack of proper care.

When you know how to live you can work very, very hard and yet keep well. Hard work is not the secret of the body's health. It is the secret of the body's health.

Regular meals of simple foods, plenty of sleep and an abundance of fresh air, systematic exercise and a reasonable amount of recreation. These must be bodily and, if you do not know that Nature will not submit to bodily abuse, your preliminary education is insufficient to justify further attempts of acquired knowledge.
