SERIOUS DAMAGE BY WIRE WORMS

Outbreak Caused by the Destruction of Field Larks—Colleton County Infested.

Secretary James Henry Rice, Jr. of the Audubon Society, South Carolina, who has just finished a tour of the eastern counties...

On being asked about the origin of the wire worm, Mr. Rice said: "The wire worm is the offspring of one of the click beetles, or in plain English, snapping bugs. The eggs are laid in May and June and are about the size of a small slug, white in color. They are laid near grass roots. They soon hatch out and the larvae develop, passing through their first winter in the larval or worm form. The next year they develop greatest destructiveness, attacking the main roots of the plants. They do most anything that comes to their way. They have some 14 joints, each joint being fringed with tiny spines...

"It would be improper for me to discuss the entomologists are doing until they are ready to make their own report public, but I do not hesitate to say that nothing can avail against the wire worm except the work of the field lark and of this the entomologists are fully aware."

Less Cotton Ginned This Year. Washington, September 8.—The bulletin of the director of the census showing the operations of the cotton ginner for 1909 was issued today. Halley's Comet Due. Scientists have their telescopes in readiness for observing Halley's comet which is now about due to become visible and which is the most renowned of all such phenomena. This comet was observed first nearly 7,000 years ago when a word of fame was observed in the heavens before the birth of Christ and filled a superstitious belief in the minds of men and expectations of evil visitations.

Since that time this comet is said to have been visible at intervals of 75 to 76 years. It was observed in 1835. Its reappearance is, therefore, not far off and the astronomical world is keenly aware with interest looking for its approach. It is believed that it will be visible in the latter part of next year. "GRAFT" CASES NOW IN COURT

INDICTMENTS WERE GIVEN TO THE GRAND JURY

The Charges Under Which Former State Officials Are to Be Tried in Court

The dispensary graft cases have been brought into court. Men once given confidence in office are now being tried for crimes and offenses against the state.

Not all of the indictments have been handed out, but the prosecution appears to have considered well in view these cases for three years. Not all of the indictments have been handed out, but the prosecution appears to have considered well in view these cases for three years.

Wylie is a former director of the state dispensary and alleged to have turned state's evidence. Although, of course, the proceedings before the grand jury were in secret session; Henry Samuel, now mayor of Charleston, and close friend of Wylie's; Schmidt is bookkeeper for the Anderson-Busch concern, long represented in this section by the Southern Railway in South Carolina, and a lawyer of recognized ability and force.

DETAILED CROP REPORT ISSUED

STATES FOR DIFFERENT SOUTH CAROLINA PRODUCED 72,000 Bales More in 1908-9 than in the Previous Year

New Orleans, Sept. 7.—Supplementing his report on the cotton crop for 1908-9, as issued on August 31, Secretary Hester, of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, today made a detailed report of the crops of the different States.

Alabama 1,428,000, against 1,171,000 last year. Arkansas 1,032,000, against 747,000. Florida 5,128,000, against 4,900,000. Georgia 2,118,000, against 1,960,000. Louisiana 885,000, against 873,000. Mississippi 1,721,000, against 1,490,000. North Carolina 747,000, against 629,000. South Carolina 1,298,000, against 1,000,000. Tennessee 426,000, against 338,000. Texas 3,819,000, against 2,221,000. Oklahoma 704,000, against 960,000. Total crop 13,926,000, against 11,574,000 last year.

Referring to consumption by American mills, Hester says that North and South they have had a season of unparalleled activity. In no past year, as far as he is concerned, has so much cotton, and phenomenal as the extent of the business has been, it has not reached the limit of their capacities.

DISPENSARY TRIALS THIS WEEK

No Time to be Lost in Bringing Cases Before Court

Columbia, September 11.—An effort will be made to have the dispensary cases brought to trial next week. Several attorneys in this section are endeavoring to have the charges laid were the indictment and return of a true bill against Dennis Weiskopf, Company, of Cincinnati, who sold the state dispensary bond $35,000 worth of labels, charging him with perjury in that he testified before the legislative committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the dispensary in February, 1906 which was in session to investigate the purchase of labels made by the state dispensary bond.

ENDORSES ACTION OF COMMITTEE

Good Roads Mass Meeting Yesterday Made Much Progress.

The good roads mass meeting yesterday, adopted a resolution endorsing the recommendations of the committee which have previously been published in The Lantern. The resolution was adopted by a large majority and the over-see system of working the roads. The recommendation of the committee was changed from a two mill mill to a one mill mill. The funds raised in each township go to that township to be used for all the money to go into a general fund to be distributed equally among the townships. It was the sense of the meeting that the work on the roads should be carried on simultaneously and equitably by each township. The original committee, which drew up the plans, were appointed to cooperate with the legislative delegation in the consideration of the law. It was a little after 11 o'clock when Chairman Beld called the meeting to order. Representative men, desiring to propose some scheme for building the roads, were invited, with the time for the opening arrival and both interest was manifested in the deliberations. Chairman Beld read the report of the committee, which was received by the committee and read by him. The first recommendation was for a $3 commutation tax on or in lieu thereof six days work on the roads, and a 2 mill special levy. The greatest difficulty in the law, as it is now, is that Senator Hardin stated that the levy was increased last year for ordinary county purposes two mills, making a total of 2 1/2 mills. He proposed 5 mills for this year, with four thirds of one mill for interest on the railroad bonds. Mr. Hardin stated that the cost of the establishment had cost the county something between $100,000 and $200,000.

Visit of Columbia Lawyer Gives Rise to Current Rumors Connected with Dispensary Prosecution.

Mr. P. H. Nelson, Jr., a member of the law firm of Nelson, Nelson & Columbia, which is counsel for some of the alleged dispensary graters, was in the city yesterday evening, coming up at four o'clock and returning to Columbia on the evening train. Mr. Nelson did not make known the nature of his business at least to the public at large but, appeared very much interested in hearing of the dispensary graters. As he has stated the firm is engaged to defend several graters connected with the alleged dispensary graters, business and rumors were current on the street yesterday evening that this was the nature of the visit here. This man, father, Mr. P. H. Nelson, Sr., will be one of the main lawyers for the defense and being one of the great criminal lawyers of the state his movements are watched with interest. Mr. Nelson evidently was here for purposes of investigation but whether he accomplished his purposes is not known. The reporter for The Lantern happened to be introduced to him at the train and he was very willing to talk of the dispensary matter as affected Greater but declined to do so in a roundabout way and did not say to him that he had anything at all to do with it. He was contentedly smoking a cigarette and talking to a friend of old college days, every now and then branching off and talking of "State witnesses" and other things in connection therewith to a very general audience. He was very friendly and smiling knowledge when one or two things were mentioned.

If You Go Hunting—

Don't lean on your gun.
Don't point your gun toward your dog.
Don't kill game wantonly. Stop when you have all you need.
Don't get rattled. Keep cool, no matter how big the game you are hunting.
Don't shoot towards houses or fields with long range guns when you are anywhere near them.
Don't let your squirrel tails hang out of your game bag or pockets out of your sportsperson to take a shot at them.
Don't forget that a gun is a dangerous instrument, yet harmless as a piece of wood if you use judgment and caution in its handling.
Don't pull your gun after you when you "chuck crabs" through a basket wire fence. Push it through first, with the muzzle away from you.
If you fall by going, down step hills or over rough ground, don't drop your gun. Hang onto it and keep the muzzle pointed the other way.
Don't shoot even approximately in the direction of any one in the woods, as a glancing bullet may strike the eye or the side of the head, and kill you on the spot.
Don't shoot where the smaller rifle or shotgun the more steady you should hold it when you shoot. It takes a mighty good shot to do long range shooting with a small target rifle.
Don't take the trigger out of your gun, you are sure you know what you are shooting at. Quite a number of men are in their graves now because in a quick change of position the trigger was pulled and a deer or a wild turkey among the bushes.
If you are in the woods a long time and do not see anything, don't fall over your gun, clean, especially if it is a target rifle or pump gun. It will shoot later. Besides, a foul gun is liable to explode than a clean one.—E.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 16th, 1902.

AT LAST!

The County Board of Commissioners yesterday enforced the action of the committee to increase the tax on a two mill special levy and a commutation tax. The Lantern is glad to let its readers know that they have reached a decision on this question at last and anyway it is better late than never.

THE GRAFT CASES.

The Attorney General showed his hand in the graft case on last Friday when he handed to the grand jury of Richland county a bill charging that many persons were having accepted bribes, bribes, and other counts charging them with conspiracy and perjury. The grand jury did not return true bills in every case, as is told in another column of this issue.

It seems that at last a long suffering and patient people will lay the hand of the law on men who for years have stole the State's money, broken their oaths of office, and rought the name of South Carolina into disgrace. The most corrupt and blackest times of the Republic fall into insignificance when compared with the discovery of this heinous and lawless conduct. It brings a blush of shame to the cheeks of honest citizens when the nauseating and disgusting tale is told.

These men violated both the laws of God and man, pocketed ill gotten gain, and brought shame upon many a fair name in the State. Heart broken mothers are today weeping over their wayward sons, fearful lest justice be done and her son wearing a convict's garb.

We do not wish to condemn a man who is not guilty, but we hope that the matter will be tried to the bottom and that every man guilty will be shown up. It is reported and in fact, substantiated by the evidence now in the hands of the Attorney General, that many of the persons of honor and trust, who stand as representatives of the law, are guilty of bribery and some hint at perjury. We want to see the elements of hypocrisy and concealment torn from these men and let them stand with all their record bare before the eyes of their fellow citizens.

THE MASS MEETING ON ROADS.

The action of the mass meeting yesterday in recommending a two mill special levy and a $3 commutation tax for good roads will meet with the approval of the majority of the people of this county we believe. It means that Chester is determined to have a road system of the present and one that will give more roads.

THE TARIFF.

Some figures which Senator Hardin read in the court house yesterday will probably be of some interest in regard to the taxes. The levy for ordinary county purposes for last year was 2 1/2 mills which amounted to $7,158,285. 85,000 of which went to the support of the changing roads and bridges to the levy for interest on railroad bonds, sinking fund of a mill, the constitutional levy of 3 mills, making total of 6 1/2 mills. If the 2 mill special levy is adopted, it will run the entire levy 8 1/2 mills. Of course in addition to different school districts is special levies for interest on railroad bonds.

Meeting of the Farmers' Union.

The Chester Farmers' Union met in extraordinary session yesterday evening at 3 o'clock in the court house. The meeting was called by the Secretary C. C. McAllister, in the special place and a goodly number of the members in attendance.

Five Pellagra Cases in Macon.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 12.—According to County Physician William C. Campbell, there are five cases of pellagra developed cases of pellagra, all the patients being white. Three of this number are very prominent people, living in fashionable suburbs, and they are in a very serious condition.

Marion, minor, has this day made application into the court for a final discharge of said guardian, and that he is ready to receive the same at 10 o'clock a. m. at my office, has been appointed for the hearing of said petition.

City Graded School Open.

The city graded schools opened yesterday morning. Sept. McAlister met new pupils has been graded that so that they might be put in the classes and assign books and lessons. The number of pupils on hand for the opening day last year. Of this number 104 are in the high school department, a most creditable showing for this department which has been a year.

Girl's Debt to Her Mother.

What does a girl "own" her mother? To manifest an interest in whatever affects or amuses her.

To seek the mother's comfort and pleasure in all things before her own eyes as the New York Sun.

Not to forget though she may be old and wrinkled, she still loves pretty things. Frequently to make her simple gifts and be sure that they are appropriate and lasting.

To remember she is still a girl at least so far as delicate little attentions are concerned.

To get her full confidence and avoid meeting her disapproval.

To lift the many burdens from shoulders that have grown stooped perhaps in waiting upon her girl and in working for them.

Never by word or deed signify that the daughter's world and hers differ, or that one feels the mother is out of date.

To study her taste and habits, her likes and dislikes, and cater to them in an unobtrusive way.

To bear patiently with all her peculiarities and infirmities, which after all may be the result of a life of care and toil.

To defer to her opinions, even if they do seem antiquated and not obviously to possess the wisdom of one's own conclusions.

To do one's best in keeping the mother youthful in appearance as well as in spirit by oversteering her course and the little details of her toilet.

Not to shock her by turning into ridicule her religious prejudices, if they happen to be at variance with one's own advanced views.

To introduce to her one's friends and enlist her sympathies in one's projects, hopes and plans, that one who she may receive her own youth.

If she be no longer able to take her accustomed part in the household duties, never allow her to feel she is the central factor of the home.

To remember her life is monotonous compared to one's own and to take her to place of amusement or for an outing in the country as frequently as is convenient.

The girl who endeavors to repay in a slight measure what the old woman has mother will be most popular with those who are worth considering.—News and Herald.

ONE MORE BANK FOR THIS CITY

For some time there has been persistent rumor floating around the city that a new bank was to be organized. It is known that several farmers look into matter of organizing such an institution in their favor and while this was hanging fire another movement for a bank started. It is rumored that the new bank will have a capital of $50,000 and that about $30,000 of this has already been subscribed. The backers of the two movements have gotten together, so it is said, and another bank is now a certainty. Nothing authoritative has been given out but in a few days something definite will be known.

Governor Ansel Wednesday appointed the Hon. J. L. Glenn, of Chester, a member of the state board of education, to succeed Col. A. R. Manly, of Columbia, who resigned. Col. Manly, it will be recalled was resident of Lancaster some years ago. While the appointment of another citizen of Lancaster—Justice Ernest Moore, for instance, a fine scholar and one of the ablest lawyers in the state—to take the place vacated by a former Lancasterian, would have been indeed gratifying to our people, no possible objection can be made to the selection of the Chester lawyer. Mr. Glenn, as the Fifth district's representative, will prove an exceptionally valuable and useful member of the state board. In addition to being profoundly versed in the law, he is a man of broad mind and liberal views and has always taken a keen interest in the cause of education.—Lancaster News.

The request of thirty-five members of Purty Chapel in this city to be organized as the second Presbyterian church of Chester, which had previously been denied the sanction of that church, the parent branch, was favorably passed upon by Bethel Presbyterian at age meeting at Bethesda church last week, and the following constitution was appointed to organize the church and perform the other offices incident to the occasion: Rev. G. G. Pleasant, of Blackstock, G. G. Pleasant, of Grove, S. J. Cartledge, of Chester, and elder W. D. Knox, of Chester. The evening of Sunday, October 10th, was fixed for the offering, at which time members will be received and enrolled, officers will be elected, ordained and installed, and a name will be agreed upon for the new church.

The County Board of Commissioners held a special meeting yesterday transacting mostly routine business. The most important thing was the decision to plant a good wheat and corn crop on the poor farm. The board endorsed the action of the committee in recommending the two mill special of $7 and a 95 cent commission tax.

September.
There's a haze that hides the meadows and the river from the hills; There's a wreath of royal purple where the ribbed chairs and glowing fire; There's legend in rich abundance—come and gather while ye may, Come and breathe the breath of summer—gain a lifetime in a day. There are hills red and glowing in the marsh land lying low; There are they asters all astir where soft the breezes blow; Come and gather, come and gather, of the blossoms red and white; Learn the lore of field and meadow by the summer's lingering light. For the sunbath bush is all aflame, the maple catches fire; From twig to twig the color runs as high as flames appear— Come and breathe the breath of summer—there's a whisper in the trees. That she's going, going, going. Who would lose such days as these? —The Outing Magazine.
