New Payment Policies To Begin In February

New payment policies are being set up at Winthrop, according to Dr. Charles Davis, president.

The new system, which will begin on February 1, will affect all students, including dormitory and commuting students, who plan to return to Winthrop for the fall semester next year. By requiring that all student accounts be settled by July 15, in advance of the fall semester, it is expected that Winthrop will be able to pay the winter school's bills early and have more money to work with.

To implement the new system, Winthrop will have to bill more money to students who are paying monthly, and less to those who are paying in full. According to Davis, the new system will help Winthrop to better manage its financial affairs.

In the past, Winthrop has had to pay its bills after the fall semester, which has resulted in a cash flow problem. By billing students in advance, Winthrop will be able to have more money to work with during the winter months.

Davis said that the new system will also help to reduce the amount of money that is owed by students. According to Davis, the new system will help to ensure that students pay their bills in a timely manner, which will help to reduce the amount of money that is owed by students.

Davis said that the new system will also help to reduce the amount of money that is owed by students. According to Davis, the new system will help to ensure that students pay their bills in a timely manner, which will help to reduce the amount of money that is owed by students.

The new system will also help to reduce the amount of money that is owed by students. According to Davis, the new system will help to ensure that students pay their bills in a timely manner, which will help to reduce the amount of money that is owed by students.

The new system will also help to reduce the amount of money that is owed by students. According to Davis, the new system will help to ensure that students pay their bills in a timely manner, which will help to reduce the amount of money that is owed by students.
Stop Contributions To Theft

A problem which invariably increases at holiday time is that of theft.

Miss Iva Gilson, dean of women, and Becky Tweet, residence hall assistant, recently told us that they are "deeply concerned" about recent incidents of theft on the Winthrop campus.

Stalking, both pilfering and more serious crimes, have been on the increase during certain seasons. It is a definite problem at all times, but particularly acute at this time of the year.

Winthrop is not different than other schools—or any other places, for that matter—in being involved with this problem. Miss Gilson and Tweet agree that "nothing can be done to prevent the incident, but that the situation can be tolerated or allowed to fester better if everyone knows that it is happening everywhere."

Theft is tolerated among the student body—it is not encouraged or approved. Becky Tweet in her "bail-out" room where she is sure that the Judicial Board that is the one offense to which students are most re-tent to confess. This is a major crime aimed at theft, but it is difficult to find and even in the most serious cases to prove. We see from these statistics that the situation has not signif-ificantly worsened at Winthrop. campus, whereas it has been identified by those in attendance at the School of Business and Administration as the major crime at the school.

The problem is not easy to solve. We cannot be certain that the problem is not worsened by the fact that the police are doing less to prevent the crimes.

Complaints Not Constructive

Recently, we have heard complaints about the food in the cafeterias. These complaints, however, are not justified. For one thing, we are more likely to hear complaints about the food when it is bad than when it is good. For another, we are more likely to hear complaints about the food when we are hungry and the food is not good than when we are not hungry and the food is good.

In other words, the food is not good and the people who are complaining are not justified in their complaints.

The food is not good.

Letters To The Editor

Students Contradicts Remarks, Criticizes Assembly Discussion

by JOAN ANDERSON

In an effort to clarify the recent remarks of the Student Activities Assembly, which denounced the election of President Donald Trump, I would like to present some facts.

Firstly, the election of President Donald Trump was not a reflection of the American people's desire for change. On the contrary, it was a rejection of the status quo.

Secondly, President Trump's administration has been characterized by corruption, incompetence, and divisorism. It has failed to address the pressing issues facing our country, such as inequality, climate change, and the erosion of democratic institutions.

In conclusion, I believe that the Student Activities Assembly's stance on the election of President Donald Trump is based on a misunderstanding of the American people's desires and the actual state of our nation.

Honesty Speaking

by JOAN ANDERSON

Dear Editor,

We, the students of Winthrop College, have been informed that many of the recent attacks on the campus are due to the election of President Donald Trump. As a result, we have decided to take action.

We have organized a protest march to be held on Saturday, November 11, at 2 p.m. The march will start at the campus quad and end at the city hall. We welcome all students, faculty, and staff to participate.

Sincerely,

Joan Anderson

Stop Contributions To Theft

A problem which invariably increases at holiday time is that of theft. Miss Iva Gilson, dean of women, and Becky Tweet, residence hall assistant, recently told us that they are "deeply concerned" about recent incidents of theft on the Winthrop campus.

Stalking, both pilfering and more serious crimes, have been on the increase during certain seasons. It is a definite problem at all times, but particularly acute at this time of the year.

Winthrop is not different than other schools—or any other places, for that matter—in being involved with this problem. Miss Gilson and Tweet agree that "nothing can be done to prevent the incident, but that the situation can be tolerated or allowed to fester better if everyone knows that it is happening everywhere."

Theft is tolerated among the student body—it is not encouraged or approved. Becky Tweet in her "bail-out" room where she is sure that the Judicial Board that is the one offense to which students are most re-tent to confess. This is a major crime aimed at theft, but it is difficult to find and even in the most serious cases to prove. We see from these statistics that the situation has not signif-ificantly worsened at Winthrop. campus, whereas it has been identified by those in attendance at the School of Business and Administration as the major crime at the school.

The problem is not easy to solve. We cannot be certain that the problem is not worsened by the fact that the police are doing less to prevent the crimes.

Complaints Not Constructive

Recently, we have heard complaints about the food in the cafeterias. These complaints, however, are not justified. For one thing, we are more likely to hear complaints about the food when it is bad than when it is good. For another, we are more likely to hear complaints about the food when we are hungry and the food is not good than when we are not hungry and the food is good.

In other words, the food is not good and the people who are complaining are not justified in their complaints.

The food is not good.

Letters To The Editor

Students Contradicts Remarks, Criticizes Assembly Discussion

by JOAN ANDERSON

In an effort to clarify the recent remarks of the Student Activities Assembly, which denounced the election of President Donald Trump, I would like to present some facts.

Firstly, the election of President Donald Trump was not a reflection of the American people's desire for change. On the contrary, it was a rejection of the status quo.

Secondly, President Trump's administration has been characterized by corruption, incompetence, and divisorism. It has failed to address the pressing issues facing our country, such as inequality, climate change, and the erosion of democratic institutions.

In conclusion, I believe that the Student Activities Assembly's stance on the election of President Donald Trump is based on a misunderstanding of the American people's desires and the actual state of our nation.

Honesty Speaking

by JOAN ANDERSON

Dear Editor,

We, the students of Winthrop College, have been informed that many of the recent attacks on the campus are due to the election of President Donald Trump. As a result, we have decided to take action.

We have organized a protest march to be held on Saturday, November 11, at 2 p.m. The march will start at the campus quad and end at the city hall. We welcome all students, faculty, and staff to participate.

Sincerely,

Joan Anderson
BUSY CHRISTMAS COMES TO WRC

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(Continued from Page 6)

I was intrigued by your column on "The Christmas Story," which I found to be a valuable contribution to the Christmas season. I am writing to express my appreciation for your efforts to promote the true meaning of Christmas and to encourage others to do the same.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Mr. Editor,

I am writing to express my agreement with your recent column about the importance of Christmas. I believe that it is crucial to focus on the true meaning of the holiday and to avoid the commercialization that has become so prevalent in recent years.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Mr. Editor,

I appreciate your column on Christmas traditions. As you mentioned, it is important to maintain the customs and practices that have been passed down through generations.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Mr. Editor,

I was impressed by your column on the impact of Christmas on society. As you pointed out, the holiday has the power to bring people together and to promote goodwill.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Mr. Editor,

I am writing to express my disagreement with your column on Christmas. I believe that the holiday has become too commercialized and that we should focus on the true meaning of Christmas.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Mr. Editor,

I was interested in your column on the history of Christmas. As you mentioned, the holiday has a rich and complex history.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Mr. Editor,

I was impressed by your column on Christmas music. As you pointed out, music plays a significant role in the celebration of Christmas.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]
Interview With Shaw Reveals
Winthrop Professor Practices
Brandywine Girls' History

by PAUL WILLIAMSON and ALICE ANS TOMPSON

"As a matter of fact, I ran into him once at an intersection in Vermont," said Alice Anstomp.

"But I didn't know who he was until he asked me to come over and talk to him about what he was doing for Christmas," she continued.

"He was on his way to see Mrs. Shaw at the Winthrop School," Williamson added.

"It seems that Mrs. Shaw has been instructing the girls at the school on how to prepare for the holidays," Anstomp said.

"She has been giving them tips on how to decorate their rooms and how to make sure that they are ready for the Christmas season," Williamson explained.

"And she has been teaching them about the history of Christmas and how it has evolved over the years," Anstomp noted.

"I was surprised to hear that Mrs. Shaw was an expert in the field of Christmas history," Williamson said.

"She has written several books on the topic and has given lectures on the subject at da number of universities," Anstomp added.

"And she is also a practicing professor at Winthrop School," Williamson explained.

"I think it is great that students have the opportunity to learn from someone with such expertise," Anstomp
said.

"It is also important for students to understand the history of the holiday so that they can appreciate what it means to people today," Williamson
noted.

"I definitely think that Mrs. Shaw's teaching is an asset to the school and the students."