THE COTTON FARMER IS AGAIN BEING MARKED FOR SLAUGHTER
 In a page advertisement in the Dallas (Texas) Morning News, the Southwest National Bank of that city makes an emphatic appeal in behalf of the orderly marketing of the present cotton crop, in which it says: "Shall we conserve the ultimate value of the present short cotton crop or shall we permit the speculator to reap the rewards of injudicious marketing?" Continuing the Southwest National Bank states: "Stability of price, as we see it, can be obtained through only one agency—and that is the quiet, orderly marketing of the production. This can be done, thanks to well distributed warehousing facilities, of our farmers receive proper encouragement and financial assistance where needed. "The Southwest National Bank of Dallas stands thoroughly committed to safe, sane and orderly marketing of our cotton crop, and, believing in this as strongly as we do, we are prepared to make advance on a property margined ware- "Intelligent and wholehearted cooperation upon the part of all business interests in our State means greater prosperity for all, and as sure to the farmer a fair return for the products of his labor." Mr. W. T. Blackwell, editor of the Cotton & Cotton Oil News, writes the Manufacturers Record that he considers this "one of the best and most patriotic advertisements ever run by a bank, and if just twenty-five more big banks in the larger cities of the South would follow this most worthy example, the buyers would be hunting this famine crop of cotton and offering not less than 25c a pound and the farmers would at once stop plying it on the market, scared into such action by timid merchants."

THE BAT

"The management of the Chester Opera House takes this opportunity of highly recommending "The Bat" which will be seen at the Chester Opera House on Monday evening, October 16th. The manager of the local theatre went to Charlotte two weeks ago to see the play and assures the patrons of the local theatre that the show is absolutely clean and is without any suggestion anywhere in the show.

It is one of the best plays which has ever been booked for Chester and is one that has been running in New York City for more than two years."

The company has a most excellent cast; in fact some of them played with the show in New York City.

Chester is decidedly the smallest town on the circuit and is getting a show that is making Charlotte, Asheville, Knoxville, Chattanooga, Atlanta, Columbia, Charleston, Savannah, Augusta, Macon, Birmingham and New Orleans.

The prices in Chester will be as follows: Gallery $1.00; Dress Circle $1.50; Orchestra $2.00. At no place has the orchestra for this show sold for less than $2.50. See Charlotte, Atlanta and Columbia papers for verification of this statement.

Watching an elderly man scattering cracked corn to City Hall sparrows the other day stirred a remembrance in me of one of the bunch occupants. "They treat sparrows" differently than they did twenty-five years ago," he said, "and they don't care if they couldn't get rid of them and decided to make them comfortable. "I've spent more of a century ago many communities made determined efforts to kill off sparrows. State and county authorities offered bounties on them and a just profit on their labor, can co-operate in aiding the farmers to market their cotton in a more economic, efficient way. They will find the farmer willing to hold his cotton if they will make it possible for him to get a little longer credit. With the world cotton supply at a low ebb and socks of cotton goods equally low, it will be a crime against the people of this country if Southern cotton growers are not allowed to realize a fair profit on their wares. Fined to sell their cotton as fast as it is picked and ginned; through the shortsighted policy of money lenders in the South, (because the cotton farmer mainly is dependent upon borrowed capital) demanding payment at a time when such a general practice is bound to force cotton growers to sell their crop for loss and have to stand by and see the cotton speculator parasite wax fat. Metropolitan and crop backing merchants, bankers and all others in the South by co-operating with the cotton grower for better marketing of his crop will benefit, along with the grower in helping to keep the money at home that usually goes outside to the speculator, and America will benefit through the increased prosperity of the South by keeping the money in this country that would go to foreign cotton speculators—Manufacturers' Rec'd.

Buttermilk "Sprees" is New.
 The buttermilk spree is a late sport. There are several places downtown where you can drink buttermilk to perfection upon payment of a nickel, a perfectly safe venture for the consumer so far as the writer is concerned, by the way, this was the last impulse I had during the last few weeks. Two neighbor ladies recently engaged in a sewing match, each concocting a shirt for her husband, the last to finish her task by the buttermilk spree. Truly these be degenerate days, when respectable matrons can distribute the uncut and unproved. But, of course, the innocent husbands have to suffer the real pain. They have to wear the shirts Portland Oregonian.

A NEGLECTED BUT IMPORTANT BY-PRODUCT
 Do you own or work in a factory? Do you hold any stock in any industrial corporation? If so, we should like to ask a question which stands as likely sound today, is bound to be asked throughout America with increasing frequency: "What kind of men and women is your factory turning out?" No, we are not asking this question out of moral or religious motives. It is an industrial question, a question which scientific managers are beginning to worry about. The fact is that the great industrial machine of America, supposedly the most efficient machine in all history, is not developing a sufficient number of skilled mechanics to keep it in repair. At present we can still import such skilled help from Europe; graduates of less efficient industrial establishments where men still learn as they work. But we can't keep that up long. The European factories are fast imploding ours, introducing more efficiency, more standardization and less opportunity to learn. Obviously, if something is not done about it very soon, industrial progress must stop.

Land Reclaimed From Lake.
 Montenegro will gain a navigable outlet to the sea and nearly 30,000 acres of rich new land, by negotiations pending between Jug-Slavia and Albania, which have as their objective the lowering to sea level of the ancient lake of Scutari. The project involves a cost of $2,000,000 and will lower the level of Scutari lake by eight feet through the deepening of the River Bojana, from Scutari to Adriatic. The draining of the lake shores will increase Montenegro's territory 25,000 acres of rich land. This addition will make Montenegro self-supporting for the first time in its history.

Dates From Fifteenth Century.
 Interesting discoveries have been made at "Ye Olde Griffin" hotel, Amherst, England, a coaching house dating back to the fifteenth century. The digging out of a leaking water pipe has brought to light a perfect example of an early Georgian fireplace. It has wide seats on either side and an immense hearthstone in the center, with a date 1587. High up in the chimney is a recess which tradition says was used as a hiding place during the political persecutions of two hundred years ago—Montreal Family Herald.

Harsh Criticism.
 An unusually caustic critic was being shown through one of the Paris art salons by an enthusiastic friend. They stopped before some of the most modern of modern art. It was the handwork of a woman, and might have been a life-size portrait of anything from a sandstone to a steam roller. "She must be wedded to her art," the critic declared, unprovoked. "Yes, and every picture she has painted is sufficient reason for a divorce," was the reply.
