CAN NO LONGER DEFEND STATE TAX COMMISSION

Former President Auditors and Treasurers' Ass'n Scores 'Autocracy' of Body.

I want to congratulate you on your recent articles touching on the poor excuse we have in the shape of a Tax Commission. I am sure you will recall my stand when President of the auditors' and Treasurers' Association with reference to this body and how I stood by them when almost to the man the various officers through-out the state were dead against them. CROWDS ATTEND "CYCLONE MACK" - Union, Oct. 2.—The greatest crowd of the campaign crammed the "Cyclone Mack" tabernacle last night to hear Baxter McLeon speak to voters. It was estimated that over 4,000 were present and girls sat and stood throughout the hour and a quarter of the evangelist's talk, many sitting in the aisles. In a dignified, scholarly manner, without any suggestion of slang or extravagance, he preached one of the most remarkable sermons ever heard in this city. The dogmatic evangelist has won Union. ...

Give an individual a soft job and he will go to sleep; give a business an outright monopoly and the business will go to sleep. In the tropics where the sun shines month after month the natives are only half awake. They live in the rudest kind of huts and clothe themselves in rags or straw.

In the temperate zone where the next week's weather is mysterious, the inhabitants build themselves substantial houses, they provide themselves with garments suitable for all conditions, and they conserve their food against season of non-production. The man with a soft job lives from hand to mouth; he is soft both mentally and physically. When a storm hits him in the shape of an unexpected crisis he does not react, he is unable to meet the new conditions and he goes under.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1925

The sporting pages of the daily newspapers are now black with football scores. About a week ago these United States, or a greater part thereof, slipped into that strange and seasonal frenzy that will not subside until the season is over.

This is the season that provides a thousand mimic wars a week and gives to millions of Americans the most colorful of all America's sporting spectacles.

Last year about ten million people watched the more important games and had there been room in the bowls more would have seen them.

Bowls holding from fifty to seventy-five thousand people are common at the colleges in the east and now we find many southern and western colleges building huge stadiums. Pittsburgh expects to soon increase its space to one hundred thousand.

The erection of these huge bowls has been forced by the public. General interest in the game has grown amazingly in the past few years. The public has discovered the game. It loves the color, excitement and uncertainty of football.

The cost of the erection of these large stadiums in most instances, are being met by the receipts of the game. And with this increase in attendance and financial abuses of the funds in the securing of players.

Many colleges are now doing a little needed reforming themselves and are not waiting until the game must be reformed with an axe. Football is too fine a game to spoil by "commercialization."

Supreme Court To Decide.
 A case coming before the South Carolina Supreme Court this week of interest to the merchants of the State is in reference to the cosmetic stamp tax.

The Tax Commission has ruled that the stamps must be placed on all packages and containers, whereas the Attorney General ruled that the stamp could be left off the container and placed on the specific article at the time of sale.

The case is before the Supreme Court and is a test case, the tax commission agreeing not to enforce their ruling until the case is settled by the court.

Pay Shelf At Library.

Editor, Chester News:
 Dear Sir—
 Will you kindly publish the enclosed clipping from an article of Dr. Frank Crane's, and follow it with a notice as follows:
 1. Use the library. The public library is not appreciated nearly enough. It is amazing the information you can get there free. Get the library habit. Set aside at least an afternoon a week to visit the library. Keep a little memorandum book and jot down subjects you don't understand. Ask the librarian or the assistants where you can get the desired information. They enjoy helping you.
 2. By a recent decision of the Board of Governors of the Chester Free Library all new books coming under the head of Current Fiction, will be placed upon the "pay-shelf" for a stipulated time, and may be taken out, for a period of three days only, upon payment of a fee of ten cents. When the book is paid for, it will be removed to the free shelves, and circulate without charge. This plan is in operation in many public libraries, and will enable the Chester Library to provide a greater number of new books for its patrons.

 There are now on hand five new books:
 "The Keeper of the Bees"—Jean Stratton Porter.
 "A Son of His Father"—Harold Bell Wright.
 "The Needle's Eye"—Arthur Train.
 "The Divine Lady"—E. Barington.
 "The Alaskan"—Oliver Curwood.

Chester Loses To Camden. The Chester Hi football team went down in defeat before the strong aggregation from Camden on the Chester Fair Grounds, last Friday afternoon by the score of 25 to 0. To the observer it was evident from the first play that Chester was doomed to defeat unless such a thing as a break, and several of them came. Chester's back came to the conclusion that Chester Hi has a shoddy team this year. Those who saw the boys in action Friday afternoon are predicting a good team for Chester. Many of the boys are without previous experience and with more training and practice it is assured that they will round out to a first class aggregation. Buster for a beginning Camden did not field men, and the heaviest and possibly the fastest, was out of the game Friday on account of an injury. When Colo gets back in the game the fans are looking for him to do some good work. Practically all of the Camden boys were last year's players and the outstanding man is now playing his fourth year high school ball and also played one year at prep school. Camden has a husky team, one-man tipping the scales for 235 pounds. They have a seasoned outfit to start with and the Chester boys did well to hold them to a score of 25. In the last half Camden only made one touchdown.

CHESTER COUNTY

Is today a safer and better place to invest in real estate than Florida. IT IS BETTER Because you can buy cheaper. IT IS BETTER Because Chester county property in many instances has made purchasers in seven to ten years' time 2,000 per cent to 3,000 per cent on their investments. IT IS BETTER Because 99 per cent of the population are native-born Americans. IT IS BETTER Because it is backed up by substantial and mammoth industrial developments and activities operating night and day twelve months of the year.
