Mr. W. L. Stedley of the Railroad Ave. Line Railway, was in the city

Saturday with reference to the new passenger station, which the Seaboard has been ordered to build in Chester. Mr. Stanley had the plans for a wooden structure which the railway company wishes to put up here instead of a brick structure. Several of the citizens have already raised a petition to build a wooden structure and at present it begins to look like another fight between the citizens and the railway company. A "Spokesman" for The News heard one merchant say that if the Seaboard put a wooden structure of Chester it would never get another pound of freight from him that he could divert to any other railroad. We also understand it is talked that a petition will be circulated among the business men of the city as to freight shipments if the Seaboard tries to build a wooden structure.

The erection of a big ice cream plant at Camp Jackson, with a capacity of 4,000 gallons per day, has begun. The milk for the plant will be brought from the various co-operative routes. HARRIS-WHITE.

Anderson, Ky. 10-A. A notable event of Thursday evening was the wedding of Miss Jean Harris to Henry White of Chester. The marriage was solemnized at the home of Dr. J. C. Harris of Calhoun Street.

The entire lower floor was converted into a bower of attractive bridal decorations of green, red and white.

Just at the hour of 8:30 a musical program was given by Mrs. W. J. Harris and Mrs. L. C. Gely, who sang "Barcarolle" and a solo, "Jean."

At the concert closed Mrs. Charles Sheppard began playing the wedding march and the bridal party descended the stairway. First came Miss Georgia Harris, the young sister of the bride, who was the only bridesmaid. Next came Mrs. Paul Ligon, another sister, dame of the bride's other sister, as maid of honor. Emma Florence Clinkcales, the pretty little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clinkcales, came while "Chrysanthemum," the white chrysanthemum, which came in the arm of her father, Dr. J. C. Harris, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Kelly-Patrick of Chester.

The bride is a beautiful and accomplished young woman. She is a graduate of Due West Woman's College and has traveled extensively. She has lived in Anderson, Ala., her life.

The groom is a fine young man of Chester, engaged in banking business, and is popular in both business and social circles.

NOT PLANTING WHEAT

County Agent Riley Received Letter From Mr. Long—Calls Attention To Needs of The Government.

The following letter has been received by Mr. J. A. Riley from Mr. W. W. Long, Director, with the request that same be handed to the press for publication:

"I have been greatly disappointed in the information which I have obtained. Up to this time, little grain, and especially wheat, has been sown. There is little time left, if we expect to obtain a profitable crop next harvest. Surely our people have not forgotten the call by the Government for the sowing of an increased acreage in wheat to the amount of thirty-seven per cent over last year. Last year's acreage in the state was 225,000 acres. In order to meet the demands of the Government we should seed 350,000 acres. This is absolutely necessary if we are to do our part in furnishing the bread supply for our army and the armies of our Allies.

"We are asking our young men to defend our honor and our liberty, if not by arms, at least by their lives. If these are willing to die for us, surely for people should be willing to live for them."

"We have this letter published in all of our county papers, and bring every influence to bear, that we may move the sacred demands of our Government."

NOTE OF THANKS.

We wish to express our appreciation for the kindness shown us by many friends during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father.

41 Suffragettes Taken as They Begin "Duty" at White House

Washington, Nov. 10.—Militants of the women's suffrage movement picketed the White House in force, today and forty-one of the banner-bearers were arrested as fast as they took their places.

Among the arrested were Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, wife of the pure food expert; Mrs. William K. East, wife of former Representative Kent of California; now a member of the tariff commission; and Miss Lucy Burns, vice-chairman of the Women's party. Mrs. Kate Stafford of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Mary O. North, Jacksonville.

All the women, who represented fifteen states, were bailed out by Mrs. Mary Hughes, of Philadelphia, for appearances in police court Monday morning. Seven of the militants are serving sentences in jail here for the same offense.

Starvation Stories Discarded

Those representatives of Scandinavian women in this country so vehemently assailing the neutrality of their respective countries and presenting so laborious evidence to prove that starvation in our lands will starve to death in from ten to fifteen minutes if the United States does not sell them a lot of food, they confidently can be traversed and refuted by a few statements made in a letter published on this page yesterday.

It was written to Copenhagen, and it declared that Denmark, instead of being the verge of starvation, was in a state of unexampled plenty, with everybody getting fabulously rich out of an enormously profitable trade with Germany. So hard is it to believe more than a relatively small class in any country to be benefiting from the war, that there is room for suspecting some exaggeration on the part of the writer of this letter. The excuse for suspecting that, however, is no better than the excuse for singling out that the Scandinavians who talkative other way also magnify their ills at least as much.

In vain do they argue that the startling increase of their importations from the United States only makes up for what they used to buy in Germany and Russia. Every now and then something has come from the complaining countries—something which, like this letter, confirms the belief that the ultimate destination of our goods or of most of them, was not Denmark or Norway or Sweden or Holland, but Germany.

Fear of the latter country accounts for a good many of the appeals that come from Scandinavia, but affection for her money accounts for more of them. "Poor little Denmark," is especially susceptible to both of these influences, and while she has no reason at all to love the Government that robbed her of two provinces, she has at least a few reasons for doing what she can to help it.—New York Times.

MEN FOUGHT WELL AGAINST GERMAN

American Captured Brought Down Three Guns

With the American Army in France, Nov. 11.—Complete details of the fighting of the recent German attack across the Meuse, the American troops on that occasion set an example for courage and valor seldom equalled. The officer who had charge of the fighting, the attitude of the raid and to the correspondent today.

"I am proud to say that our men fought in the fight did everything within their power. They jumped into the fight and stuck to it. In the first place the troops had been in the trenches less than three hours when the barrage fire of the Germans began. They had marched a good part of the previous night and were tired. Some of them were allowed to go to sleep in a dugout 25 feet under ground."

"When the barrage began they did not hear the racket. It is apparent that they first knew of it when the Germans started throwing gas shells upon them. It was these men who were taken prisoner but they fought well, even when strangled with gas, and the majority of the troops were covered with blood, and especially the top half, showing that the Germans there must have been hit. The entrance to the dugout also had indications of close hand-to-hand fighting."

From the dugout, the trenches and over the top through the barbed wire and well out into No Man's Land, there was a wide front.

There is a corollary now in the hospital back of the line who did a good deal. He was in the line when the barrage began. During the firing an officer made his way through the shells. "God knows how and yelled to the corporal to get out the dugout. There the corporal saw the officer's line moving but did not understand the command and remained at his post. At the end of the barrage he saw Germans all around him—five being right in front of him. He shot and killed one and fired three shots and three of the enemy were sent to fall. Then a hand grenade fragment entered the corporal's back and put him out of action."

Investigation shows that all the American telephone wires between the observing posts and trenches and batteries at the rear were cut by fragments of German shells, which numbered approximately 50,000. The Germans crossing No Man's Land rolled up telephone wires behind them and set up a small field telephone exchange outside the American barbed wire with branch line running to at least three points, while the raid was in progress, to direct the artillery.

Canada, feeling the need that all nations and many people do now, to ward more money and how money provides, is going to supply immediate relief in her purchasing and paying power by borrowing. What the United States was in the same position a few weeks ago it attained the desired end by means of what was called "Liberty Loan." That name having been prompted by her neighbor, Canada, going to name her forthcoming bond "a Victory Loan."

Perhaps she had other and better reasons for choosing that title than mere desire to be different. The reason, however, cannot be that she is any more confident or hopeful as to the outcome of the war than we are, or because she does not realize, as we do, that the object of the war for us both is to insure the preservation in the world of liberty as she and we and all allies of both of us are fighting for it.

As Canada has suffered from the war far more than the United States has, as yet, it may be that the loan for the war's one tolerable end is more prominent now among her emotional stresses than among ours. We set out step across the line of preparation into the domain of action, and our casualties, in comparison with hers, are small indeed in number. They are quite large enough already, however, to give up solemn thoughts and to have away the ill-humors some of the war to have had as to the seriousness of the conflict in which we have engaged.

But that Canada is able to declare her loan to victory, and to leave liberty as a sort of necessary implication of the war, is a fact that is encouraging. When our losses and expenditures are proportionate, with hers, we must win a Victory Loan, and still believe with all our hearts that the name is accurate as well as bravely chosen.—New York Times.

Democracy in Germany Check.

It is in its early stages the Russian revolution inspired stimulus to the democratic movement in Germany.

It is in its early stages the Russian revolution inspired stimulus to the democratic movement in Germany. It is in its early stages the Russian revolution inspired stimulus to the democratic movement in Germany. It is in its early stages the Russian revolution inspired stimulus to the democratic movement in Germany.

The failure—even if it is only a temporary failure—of democracy in Russia has closed up one of the roads to a satisfactory peace, the road that led to peace by way of the democratization of Germany. It is the democratization of Germany that the German people have still more completely closed that road. This is the result which one would expect to come from such events as these that it has actually ensued from them is shown by various signs.

On the other hand, Herr Erberger, formerly one of the leaders in the democratic movement, issued a statement affirming that Germany had not in the month achieved democracy. Of course, nothing of the sort is true and Herr Erberger's statement really means is that he will admit the democratic movement no longer. His statement that democracy has already been achieved is merely an excuse for his change of front.

That democracy has not been achieved, is proved, if proof were needed by the attitude of the new Chancellor, von Hertling, who has been practically to a threat that military dictatorship will be established. Never before have the military masters of Germany and their civilian mouthpieces felt more anxious to make such a threat. The fact that they make it now proves that they no longer seriously fear liberal elements in the empire.

One cannot say that the Russian revolution was a calamity. If it had not come, the Imperial Russian Government imprudently with pro-Germans, would probably have sold out to the Germans. But the collapse of the Russian democracy has been a fearful calamity not only to Russia but to the world.
