ELEVEN NEGROES ARE CONVICTED

Total increased in Arkansas Court in Connection With the Uprising in Phillips County.

Helena, Ark., Nov. 4.—Quick disposal of the cases of negroes facing charges in connection with the uprising... Total increased in Arkansas Court in Connection With the Uprising in Phillips County.

Testimony in three cases involving five negroes tried today brought out that members of the "lodges" of the "progressive farmers, an household union of America," were threatened with death unless they carried out orders of their leaders...

Banks, who testified for the state in the case of Wardlaw, declared he had been instructed to act as pilot for the meeting of the negroes...

When he was asked to do this, he said he was "in a hole" and was told to go to the meeting...

John C. Miller, prosecuting attorney, declared the negroes were not race riot, but "organized insurrection," with little race feeling displayed...

The cases of a large number of negroes charged with assault with intent to commit murder for tomorrow, the prosecutor announced...

Urges Boycotting All Who Cling to Short Skirts, Bare Arms and Very Low Necks.

GETS ABOVE $1,400 FOR THREE BALES

Long Staple Bought at 83 Cents, Says Harris.

"New York cotton men say that there are no buyers for every bale of cotton," says Cottain's Mill News.

"There is less cotton or cotton cloth per capita today than at any other period in the history of the world," since cotton became a worldwide commodity.

"Now, these statements are false and with such a condition, why or how should the farmer buy or sell when at warehouse his cotton can borrow money to carry it until next June or July and it will pay him a greater profit to do this than to buy fertilizers, pay high priced labor, and buy high priced mill power cotton in 1920 until mill warehouses."

Short staple cotton is selling in many places in this state for 40 cents a pound. Six months ago, the market at 25 cents would look as good as the market at 40 cents today.

"If the farmers of the south would stop producing basic cotton and go into other lines, they would not be going out to the farms, hunting in their automobiles and would not say, 'Here's what I've got for you.'" "If you want to get 50 cents for your cotton, it will cost you $100 to get it."

SENATOR SMITH AROUSED

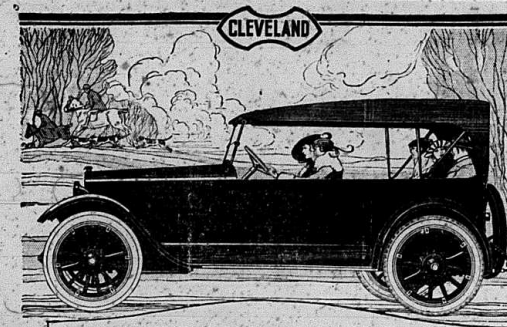

Says He Will Fight Any Why Reasonable Abandoned Airbase is Ignored.

Columbia, Nov. 4.—I cannot understand why the department of agriculture privately ignored the resolution demanding a report on an abandoned airbase."

Disagreement with and surprise at the department's recent estimate of the yield per acre of cotton is expressed by the senator who says that weather conditions over the greater portion of the belt had been adverse to the full development of the plant.

"The senator promises to take up and push his investigation as to why the government has ignored the fact of the commercial values of the different grades."

Asked—You to remember the Senator News when in view of Mr. Fringing. We are equipped to do all kinds of work. Don't think because we are located in a small city that we cannot do it.

KENTUCKY GOVERNOR DEFEATED AT POLLS

Democratic Incumbent Loses to Republican Opponent by Large Majority—Result Conceded.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—Edwin P. Morrow, Republican, today was elected governor of Kentucky over Gov. James B. Black, Democrat, by a majority.

Morrow's majority is estimated at from 15,000 to 20,000. Hayes Carter, former manager of Governor Black, in a statement conceded Black's defeat by from 8,000 to 10,000.

In the western end of the state there was a considerable falling of Democratic normal majorities while in Jefferson county, which includes Louisville, the Republican candidate not only overturned a majority of 4,063 for Staley, Democrat, four years ago but turned it into a Republican victory by a plurality of 9,000.

Figures on the two constitutional amendments were believed to have indicated that the statewide prohibition amendment had carried by a large majority. Legislators had few figures on the amendment which would remove license who failed to protest promoters from mobs.

The issue in the campaign was local, the hypocritical platform pledging an honest administration as Frankfort, the state capital, and the Republicans opposing "a honest clean."

MINERS ARE LOYAL DECLARS LEADER

Keeney Says Men Are Intensely Patriotic.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 4.—Denouncing the "loyalty and intense patriotism of the West Virginia miners," U. S. Senator Keeney, U. S. District No. 17, United Mine Workers, in a letter to President Wilson...

"The miners did not receive a just compensation sufficient to afford families a decent living."

Mr. Keeney quotes figures from the department of mines showing that the wage increase granted the miners since 1916 amounted to 60 per cent, while the increase in the selling price of coal was 150 per cent, and the cost of living increased from 12 to 85 per cent in one year from 1912 to 1918.

"The first move on the part of the coal operators toward bringing about a new program of work in the union fields of West Virginia came today when the Kanawha Coal Operators' association passed resolutions placing themselves and their properties at the state and federal government to be used as tax, man, beam in this crisis."

Will the President and the Governors and all municipal authorities take the stand? If so they will save our country from the trouble that threaten.—Manufacturers Record.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7.

We read every day about the labor trouble throughout the entire country, which is a matter of concern to every one. The following article by Mr. Rodgers Sherman appeared in a recent issue of the Baltimore Sun in the city of an advertisement. Mr. Sherman is president of the Citizens National Bank of Baltimore, which has received over thirty million dollars. Mr. Rodgers is a recognized authority and has spent many months in an investigation of the labor situation. Mr. Rodgers' article is well worth the reading:

1. The present industrial unrest is not caused by economic necessity.
 2. Working men, generally speaking, are saving more money than at any time in the period of American history, and, in proportion to the cost of living, are receiving the highest wages ever paid in this country.
 3. Nine-tenths of the strikes in effect in the United States and Canada are the result of a wide-spread campaign led by a skillfully conducted, methodically organized body of revolutionary leaders, whose sole object is the disruption of the present social system. Their campaign of slanderous misrepresentation, intended to cause suspicion and class hatred, is being vigorously waged in every city, village and hamlet throughout the United States.
 4. Conditions will rapidly become normal as soon as there is a concerted movement among loyal Americans to acquaint working men with the truth in the same manner that the radicals reach them with gross misrepresentation.
 Right now the agitators boast that they control more than 30 per cent of all organizations in the country.
 It is high time that business should meet the industrial attacks and governmental methods of the Red labor agitator on his own ground. Why not, then, use every means to drive home the REAL TRUTH of the economic situation to the same audience that is listening to the misrepresentations—class hatred—and insidious unrest, propaganda of the unscrupulous and lying agitator.

The enemies of American institutions and American business are using every publicity vehicle available to put their propaganda across. Business does not propose to stand idly by the same brags, but it is today must meet the Red Agitator's every insinuation; every calumny, every lie with the naked truth.

The great laboring classes are 100 per cent loyal Americans, but the human is so constituted as to react to good influence as well as to bad. Let us repress the correct address, let every business man in Baltimore, working individually and collectively, begin immediately to place before every working man and every working woman in this community through every legitimate channel, and by every legitimate means, a propaganda of truth that will show up the Red labor agitator as he is, what he is, what he does, what he says, what he thinks, what he says in clothes.

CHESTER ROAD WORK.

The following communication from County Engineer Lester refers to the building of Chester county roads, is very interesting and information which will be received with pleasure by the people of the county. The communication follows:
 In the construction of roads during the winter the policy will be to keep the top soiling up with the materials that only a short part of the different roads under construction will be liable to interfere with travel during bad weather. Good cooperation has been met with on all the roads so far and every effort will be made to see that the work is done in a satisfactory manner.
 All grading work having been completed on the Blackstock Road, it is now being moved and will begin work on the Fiddlers Road, beginning at the city limits of Chester, completing at the Blackstock Road, and will be completed during the next month.

The bridge contractors have about completed the bridge between the main road and one on the Lockhart

Road near Baldwin Mills and the one on the Ashford Ferry Road at Two Mile Branch. The forces will be moved to Rocky Creek on the Rocky Road and to Mobley Creek on the Ashford Ferry Road. Work on the big bridge over Rocky Creek on the Roseville Road was started this week.

All grading work has been completed on the Roseville Road and as soon as this force completes the top soiling and do some grading on the road towards Landis, they will be moved and begin work on the Roseville Road.

The county chain gang has been working on the Sandy River Road for two weeks and have made good progress on this work. Top soiling behind them will be begun in about ten days and will be kept as close up as can be done.

TUBERCULOSIS HAS FIRM HOLD IN THIS STATE

Secretary Tuberculosis Association Estimates Number of Cases at 200,000.

Columbia, Nov. 3.—The conference of representative men and women coming from practically every county in South Carolina here Saturday was shocked when Miss Chauncey Blackburn, executive secretary of the South Carolina Tuberculosis Association, declared in the course of her speech that she estimated the number of cases of tuberculosis in the state at not less than 200,000. Only a comparatively small number of the cases she reported she says, in one town in the state she declares only four cases have been reported, whereas as a matter of fact, twenty men were rejected by the draft boards from that place because of tuberculosis.

Miss Blackburn also told the members of the conference that the disease was making inroads in the state.

It is invading homes of every class, the poor as well as the rich. A strong will, organizing and determined fight against the disease is necessary, she says. Such as one the South Carolina Tuberculosis Association hopes to wage next year against the disease. It is proposed to raise this amount through the sale of Christmas stock. The conference Saturday was of the men and women throughout the state who have agreed to conduct this campaign December 1-10, under the direction of Mrs. Fred S. Marshall as state chairman. Everybody in South Carolina is going to be called upon to purchase these little seal bullets in the battle for health, they have been called.

Miss Blackburn says that every five hours a life passes from tuberculosis and for every life that passes, four are left behind infected with the disease. "The sad part of it," she says, "is that so many are dying from a disease which is preventable, and which science has found is curable, if caught in time. The menace of the disease is that so many people have it for so long a time before they find it out, and when they discover that they have it, they are in the last stages too late for treatment to save them." It is, she says, "the people along these lines that the South Carolina Tuberculosis Association plans to wage its campaign."

Mr. W. Carlisle White,
Chester, S. C.
Dear Mr. White:-

For ten days in the one phase of the Battle of the Argonne the American did not move as much as three kilometers. For ten days every American Division did its best in a grinding, muddy, heartbreaking struggle, and at the end of that time, summing up the results it was found that the American Army was almost exhausted, and the ground it gained was negligible. So they decided to quit, and let it go at that.

Not the American Army. That isn't the way they do things. They summoned the remainder of their reserves. They brought up from the "C" line to the buck private "tomorrow we will redouble our efforts," and they did. And the next day the Kreimhilde Stellung line through the Argonne Forest broke in half a dozen places, and the German High Command and Staff were negotiating for an armistice, to save its army of Northern France from annihilation.

The Third Roll Call has started well. From everywhere in the United States come reports that a smashing drive was under way the first day—they are enthusiastic, and on the job. And when the first momentum of the drive is spent, and it becomes more difficult to carry on the drive, will they stop, and let it go at that?

Not Americans. That isn't the way they do things. There will be a marshalling of reserves, and the word is going to be passed that the organization will redouble our efforts, and they are going to carry this drive through to the greatest success that has ever attended a Red Cross Roll Call. The Campaign Slogan is—"AMERICANISM."

Join the Red Cross, all you need is a heart and a dollar.

Unsettled cottonseed mills are placed on the priority list for steam coal. It is possible that they will be forced to shut down in the near future, on account of the coal miners' strike, which has now been on for the past seven days. If the mills are forced to shut down, they will of course, store huge quantities of seed. It is estimated that the South Carolina has only about ten days' supply of coal on hand.

ing the Fair Bureau informed that an act passed by the General Assembly of South Carolina prohibits any circuit court showing within a radius of five miles of any agricultural fair, without permission of those in charge of the fair, and if they are to show in Chester, it would be necessary that they pay the Fair Bureau five hundred dollars for the permission. This the show did. They also paid the city two hundred dollars, which is the usual license fee for circuits, and they also paid the county one hundred dollars. Ringling Brothers had a similar experience in Spartanburg five days ago but got away by paying the only seven hundred and fifty dollars to the fair association.

LARGEST GUERNSEY SHOW EVER HELD IN SOUTH CAROLINA

When speaking of the Guernsey show at the Chester County Fair one of the largest numbers. The Guernsey show this year, as a fact, it was one of the largest Guernsey shows ever held South of the Ohio River. The large cattle barn was filled to its capacity and several people were forced to leave their automobiles at home to come to the show.

There were 88 head of Guernsey cattle at the show and the Mesopotamians, of White Oak who expected to bring seven head, have been forced to leave them on account of lack of room in the big barn. The 88 head at the fair did not belong to Chester county people, but 22 were from outside of the county. However all of them belonged to South Carolina breeders.

At the National dairy show at Chicago, Ill. there were 87 head of Guernsey cattle. The Chester show was the only one of its kind in the country and it was the only one of its kind in the South. The show and every one of the factors, many of whom had visited numerous Guernsey shows, stated that the Chester show was the best show they had ever attended.

In addition to the Chester County Guernsey show, the Chester and Wadesville live stock show, Mr. A. L. McIntosh, of Doubloville, Darlington county, had a number of Guernsey cattle on hand.

The ribbons were tied by Prof. W. W. Kirpatrick, superintendent of the dairy divisions of Clemson College.

Stole Cadillac Towing Car.

Dr. Robert E. Abell went to Hickory Grove yesterday to get his Cadillac towing car, which was stolen from his home in the Chester county fair grounds.

Dr. Abell left his car just outside of the fair grounds gate, along with a number of other automobiles, while he was visiting the fair. When he returned to the point where his car stood about nine o'clock he found that it was gone. He immediately notified the authorities and also phoned surrounding towns for a radius of seventy-five miles, in facting various vehicles in the place men on the roads, especially at the bridges.

About three o'clock yesterday morning the man who had stolen the car stopped at a home in the Hoodtown section, near Hickory Grove, to make inquiries as to where he could get gasoline and upon being informed he left the car and proceeded to walk to Hickory Grove. The man whom he asked about gasoline thought he acted suspicious and while he was going after gasoline the man took a good look at the automobile and was caused by their name on one of the automobiles. He phoned the authorities at Hickory Grove and the authorities at Hoodtown arrested the man and while in the Hoodtown station he was taken to the front and asked the druggist, who was standing near the front door, to sell him some candy. When the druggist went behind the counter, the thief bolted out of the door and made for a patch of woods nearby, making his getaway.

The top of the automobile had been battered in and the body also had a large dent placed in it. It is thought that this was done at the fair grounds and was caused by the thief backing the car into a tree while endeavoring to get out of the grounds. The car was easily recognized but will cost Dr. Abell possibly $200.

The thief evidently was not familiar with Cadillac automobiles as he had almost certainly seen them when he bought it was an Oldsmobile Cadillac automobile the gasoline forced to the carburetor by an air pump and when the air pressure got down the thief thought he was out of gasoline when he had only pumped up his air pressure, he would have been ready for a long trip.

WOMEN WORKERS

ADJOURN TODAY

Conference in Washington Nears End.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Preparatory to adjournment tomorrow, the first International Working Women's congress today considered a plan of permanent organization.

Suggestion by the British delegation that "provision" be made for affiliation to a certain extent with specified political organization was encountered by a plan submitted by a group representing practically all the other delegations which would limit membership to trade union organizations. Under the latter plan another international meeting would be called within the year at the same time and place as the meeting of the International Labor conference of the League of Nations. It was suggested the headquarters of the congress be in the United States. Recommendations for legislation safeguarding mothers and babies secured a majority approval as well as a resolution of negro work hours for men and women except in continuous industries regarded as a public necessity.

The congress at its session today also approved legislation prohibiting employment of women in industries in which poisonous materials are used. Recommendation was made that bureaus be established under the direction of the League of Nations for the study of statistics for correcting of conditions inimical to motherhood and to coordinate the work of national research in research in dangerous trades with a view of substituting non-poisonous substances wherever possible.

LONGEVITY

Dr. William J. Mayo addressing a surgical congress in New York, says that at no instant-day, having in capsule effect of radium in overcoming cancerous growths, the average term of life will be extended by ten years.

Even today the productive period in the lives of many men and women is extended by their own use of a syringe of radium, and content to find their hands and feet in "illness" in the very prime of their life or to run down to claim on the active drama of geriatrics and senectus. We find Champ Clark vigorously confirming the idea that some of the generation in the main Congress are ready to be shelved for precocious youth. The ex-Speaker cites Clemens, at seventy-eight, among the innumerable Frenchmen and indeed France was shaken to us throughout the war, a galaxy of old men whose natural abilities were not dulled by old age.

The grave and revered senators, at the council board in debate and on the field in action, have some well in the last few years there has been a general reversal of opinion as to the value of old men. Their sagacity and their experiences have been found in consultation and were not found to be wanting. We are men of us infatigable, yet even the youngest of us" these often quoted words of the wise Benjamin Jewett, of Baltimore, are so true as when they were uttered, and they serve to remind us of the value of the same, poised judgment of age. Philadelphia Ledger.

NATURAL OIL FOUND

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 4.—Natural oil had been discovered in Georgia, Dr. S. W. McCullie, state geologist, announced today after an investigation extending over two months. The oil had been found on the property of H. G. Sample, near Scotland, in Talfer county, Dr. McCullie said. It refined about 60 per cent kerosene, which said was about the quality of California oil and inferior to most of that in Texas and Oklahoma. While advising the owners of the property, that he believed having of coal wells is warranted, the state geologist issued a public warning to the citizens of Georgia that "evidence was here before us is not conclusive as far as the existence of oil of commercial value is concerned."
