SHARE OF PROFITS GO TO OPERATIVES

Darlington Cotton Mills Take Advanced Step—Workers Also to Be Represented at Directors' Meeting by Board of Managers

Darlington, Nov. 7.—A plan has been worked out and adopted by the management of the Darlington Manufacturing Company whereby every man, woman and child on the payroll of the company becomes entitled to his or her share in a 50 per cent. division of the net profits of the concern. In addition to this, the operatives of the mill have organized and elected a board of operatives and a board of managers for the operative, and it is proposed to admit one or more of such managers to the meeting of the board of directors of the company. The net earnings of the business are to be determined by a disinterested auditor to be available to the operatives through their properly constituted officials. Each operative is to share in the 50 per cent. of the net earnings in proportion to his or her wages for the year. This is the first plan of distribution will be worked out for each man.

At a meeting of the operatives and the board of managers, C. C. Twitty, spoke at length and outlined the ideas of the company. A full statement was given of the plans of operation hereafter and all of the operatives taken into full confidence and made real partners in the conduct of the large business. It is proposed that the net earnings be fixed and determined by deducting from the gross earnings all expenses, taxes, depreciation and other charges, together with the legal rate of interest of the capital invested and deductions of 20 per cent. of the remainder for a sinking fund.

This plan for industrial democracy in one of the largest cotton mills in the state has been adopted in Darlington and both mill owners and operatives are very sanguine over the prospects. For many years this company has built up a reputation for fair dealing with its operatives and this, the most radical step thus far, is another evidence of the interest the mill owners have in the welfare of those who are by their labor contributing to the successful conduct of its affairs.

HOW TO VACATE

Mr. Goppers of the Federation of Labor and Mr. Lewis of the United Mine Workers agree that a conference between operators and miners, as suggested a fortnight ago by President Wilson can be had on one condition, which is that the Indianapolis injunction be vacated. This amounts to a demand that the Department of Justice abandon its effort to enforce the law against a conspiracy to restrict the production of necessities.

In view of Attorney General Palmer's scathing explanation of his act and his reasons for resorting to it, which apply to operators and miners no less than to the labor leaders make it clear that the position they have taken is untenable. With the strike still in progress they are free to negotiate with the operators but in that attitude they have no standing with the Government. Least of all are they warranted in making a motion by the Government of its sworn duty a condition precedent to their negotiation with anybody.

It is to be remembered that the coal strike in defiance of law was resorted to because the officers of the mine-workers refused to arbitrate and negotiation and arbitration which they now accept on their impossible terms. In a controversy involving many rights and wrongs, labor should be established or cured only by publicity and reason. Mr. Goppers and Mr. Lewis can have no objection to this upon the captivation of the Government as a prerequisite to a settlement. The way to get rid of the injunction is to show the law and call off the strike.

Miami, Fla., Nov. 4.—The presence of anti-union public opinion incited by putting an end to the proposed general strike which 27 branches of organized labor at work in the American Federation of Labor had called for tomorrow morning. The people openly declared themselves in the issue and many union men asserted it was unjust that the public should be made to suffer because of the strike. There is a Knight, initiated in employing laborers on the open shop basis for the erection of their Tamiami hotel.

NATURE ON THE JOB

More Boys Than Girls Generally Born After Great War

Nature, including the human variety, has wonderful ways of healing her scars. There has never been anything of the reactionary about nature in all the ages of her existence. Though she may seem at times to go back, she does not really. It is our vision usually that is at fault, and that which we deem a retrograde movement is in fact a return to the true groove from which we had considered her progress merely to be a faulty divergence.

"Take for instance the common belief—which scientists have assured us is a fact—that more boys and girls are born during and immediately after a war. This is nature's way of replenishing the force expended by the cannons. This condition has prevailed in the past and if we are to have faith in nature it must be expected to hold now. But in certain rare has fallen off, and babies of either sex have ceased to appear as numerous as they once did. There are some who call this state of affairs a progressive step; it is generally so called by those who are most in favor of equal franchise.

The "emancipation of woman" is another name for it. There are those who, though heartily favor the granting of equal franchise to the hitherto submerged sex, deplore the woman to be done with all possible care.

Those who view with alarm the present condition have been asking "how is the customary post-bellum replenishment of the male population to be evinced?" But nature is at work—female nature herself. The emancipation of woman affords a place for the equal franchise. Therefore those housekeepers who were once able to employ them and who dabbling in politics and other things which are really not work are finding it more and more necessary to attend to domestic affairs themselves.

Now, it is a well-known fact that large families are not born to idle parents but the stark to a free woman is a relief. The parents but the stark to a free woman's work is never done. "We wonder what nature is up to now."

CRITICISM AND CITIZENSHIP

It is the plain, public duty of every citizen to criticize proposed government measures believed to be harmful.

Swift & Company is in a better position perhaps, than others, to understand the meat packing business in all its relations to public and private interests, even though the others may have been giving the subject a great deal of sincere attention.

TROLLEY CARS ARE REMOVED FROM STREETS

Traction Corporation Raised Fare

Toldeo, O., Nov. 9.—Car riders who last Tuesday voted for a strike by ordering the street cars from the city, are now being paid for the privilege of riding on the street cars. The cars were removed without notice to public and city officials. All were taken into Michigan and stored in small stacks. The action was taken immediately after the board of elections that the street cars had been approved by the voters.

Mayor Coppell Schroeder himself took the oath before the city council and the five cents to six cents, and two cents for a transfer to take care of an increase in car fares.

Mayor Schroeder called a meeting of the cabinet today and placed the blame for the lack of street car transportation on Frank R. (Ante) president of the operating company. The mayor declared that President Coates "broke a gentleman's agreement" with the mayor that the cars would stop running until the city officials notified the company to cease operating.

Chester Won Football Game

Last Friday, which was Educational Day at the Chester County Fair, brought the largest crowd to Chester County Fair since the opening of the fair. In fact, it was estimated that the crowd Friday was the largest which has ever gathered at Chester County Fair. While the receipts was not as large as that of some days, this was due to the fact that all school children were admitted free on this day.

The feature Friday was the football game between Chester and Rock Hill. The Chester lads being the victors, a field goal giving them a margin of three points. In addition, each team scored a touchdown and kicked a goal.

A special train came from Rock Hill to the fair on Friday afternoon and brought several hundred people, among them being a large number of school children who came for the purpose of supporting the Rock Hill team.

The game started with Chester kicking and Rock Hill receiving. The game passed up and down the field until Chester drove a long pass to a field. The Chester team gained about 15 yards during the first two downs and levels, of Chester were out of the game. During the second quarter the Chester lads made a touchdown and kicked a field goal. The game passed to Chester and they drove a long pass to a field. The Chester team gained about 15 yards during the first two downs and levels, of Chester were out of the game.

BOYS WHO AIDED FATHER IN KILLING FIVE BOND MEN, (Ga., Nov. 6.—Lewis had Charles Sheppard, who with the father, J. H. Sheppard, were indicted here last Monday for the murder of five men. Sheppard was indicted for the same on $25,000 bail by Judge H. A. Matthews and wife, ex-convict, was released from the Bibb county jail tomorrow.

Serious Crime Against White Man

Charged with an attempt to kill W. A. Painter, wealthy man about 25 years of age was arrested Thursday evening by Chief of Police J. C. Steele and Patrolman W. E. Rogers and placed in the county jail. The alleged crime occurred at the home of the victim, a citizen, where a well-known woman, Mrs. J. C. Painter and the young woman, who had been invited to the party, were present. The man was found in the room of the house, which was in the employ of a local concern, some time Wednesday night. The young lady was seized at the time and being arrested by the presence of Chief of Police Steele. Early yesterday morning she was released from the room, which was in the employ of a local concern, some time Wednesday night. Very Short Cotton Crop

The number of bales of cotton shipped to November 10, from the 1919 crop, was 617,366 bales counting round as half bales, the bureau of the census announced. The total amount of cotton in the country in 1918 was about 7,717,159 bales or more than a million bales in excess of the amount for this year.

SELLS COTTON AT HOME

Fort Mill Farmer Hauls Product Back From Charlotte. Fort Mill, Nov. 8.—Fort Mill appears to be showing up rather well in the cotton market. Prices and interest rates as compared with other places in the light of a recent transaction. A farmer living some distance from Fort Mill, who has cotton laid in Charlotte, has been able to get a lower rate here than in Charlotte. A few days ago Fort Mill cotton from Charlotte to Fort Mill had been sold here he could get a better price here.

The Boll Weevil Invades North Carolina

On October 15 the boll weevil was found at Columbia, S. C., in extreme southern North Carolina, by the Government entomologist. Since then the pest has been found in New Hanover County, a considerable distance to the east. The weather since has been warm and the weevil has probably advanced still farther. This fall year this great cotton pest has practically covered the state of South Carolina, the last of the important cotton-growing states.

It is of course impossible to say how much damage the weevil will do in the fall. The weevil has been found in New Hanover County, a considerable distance to the east. The weather since has been warm and the weevil has probably advanced still farther. This fall year this great cotton pest has practically covered the state of South Carolina, the last of the important cotton-growing states.

CONGRESS RACE IS NIP

AND TUCK IN OKLAHOMA. Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 8.—Sixty on scattered precincts tonight in the Democratic a kind of a hundred votes in the special election a vote a successor to the late Representative J. B. Thompson from the fifth congressional Oklahoma district. Democrats are claiming Claude Weaver, Democrat, carried the district by a majority estimated under 500. Fifty per cent. of the returned Oklahoma County gives Judge J. W. Harrod, Republican, a slight lead.

Remember, the boll weevil has put its foot on the big fellow to the wall. Prepare now.

GOOD SISTER HAS FAITH IN FORD

Doesn't Worry Over Minister's Statement That Cars Are Taking People to Hell.

The following appeared a few days ago in the "State Register" of Springfield, Ill.: "Many are the stories of Henry Ford and his popular automobile, but Hilda's is relating what it calls the best of the best, and the facts in the case are true. It happened one of the leading churches of the city that the pastor took for the text of his sermon 'Better Church Attendance'.

The pastor held that the automobile has taken more people away from church than anything else. He concluded with the explanation that the Ford car has taken more people to hell than any other thing that I can mention." Whereupon an elderly lady in the congregation began to clap her hands and shout "Praise the Lord! Praise the Lord!"

"What's the matter, sister?" asked the pastor. "The Ford never will want any thing that it couldn't make the road trip, and I am sure that all of those people in 'hell' will be back," she answered. "Praise the Lord!"

OBJECT TO CARRIAGE OF MAIL BY AIRPLANE

Florence Banks, Complain to Senator Dial Unsuccessful. Washington, Nov. 7.—Father of the airplane, Senator Charles G. Doolittle of Washington, was today greeted by representatives against transmission of first class mail by airplane without specific authorization from the end of the check Mr. Jones says he will keep the check as a souvenir of the days when the airplane as a means of transportation was in its infancy.

Check From Airplane Wreck

Dillon, Nov. 7.—W. V. Jankovic of Dillon has received from the first assistant postmaster general at Washington a check for $100 and a slip of paper on which was the following notation: "Taken from an air mail wreck near Baltimore, October 17." The check was being sent to him in New York in settlement of a bill for merchandise.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER, 11.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor declared Sunday a national holiday after a four-hour meeting, and asked for the "add and general endorsement of the public. We are not the official spokesman for the "general public" but we take this opportunity to let our members that if they are expecting any endorsement from the public they are going to wake up foolish.

Editorial
One of the chief causes for the higher price of sheep may be found in a bulletin prepared by the Division of Statistics, Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce on recent exports of leather, from which the following paragraphs are quoted:

"The value of all domestic leather and tanned skins exported from the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1919, amounting to $126,471,264, broke all previous records and was three and one-half times the value of similar exports in 1914."

"Fifty per cent of this leather went to Great Britain, and leather constituting the largest item. As for the price at which the leather has been sold is about half that at which leather has been sold in other countries."

The medicines used down to even recent days against most extraordinary to our ears. As late as the eighteenth century dried toad was seriously considered a specific against the plague. In an article in the New York Medical Journal, Dr. William Brewster Riddell of Toronto, Canada, mentions a few of the remedies in vogue.

A plaster made of arsenic was applied to cancers. Bleeding was practiced on all occasions, even in the time of our grandparents. But the sovereign remedy of all was known as mithridatism of thierax. This was the great antidote of Roman pharmacy. It originally had forty or fifty ingredients, all vegetable, but Nero's physician, Andromachus, added the flesh of vipers. Every physician had his own variation of the formula, and Mithrax in the sixteenth century put no less than 120 ingredients into it.

The name thierax or thierax under which it was commonly known, was derived from the Greek "therion," a wild beast, as the stuff was considered a specific against the poisonous bite of bees and serpents. The French word "theriaque" was corrupted into the English "treacle," and the medicine was known in England as "Venice treacle." It was the famous Swedeham who first proposed the use of drugs. In fact when Sir Richard Blackmore asked him for a good guide in practice he replied, "Don Quixote" and declared that the arrival of a good doctor would do more for the health of a city than that of twenty asses laden with drugs.

WILL SELL LINTERS:
An announcement has just been made from Washington which is of considerable interest to the cotton seed industry in South Carolina to the effect that the War Department has entered into a contract with Ellis E. Earle, of New York, in accordance with which Earle will offer for sale the entire surplus of cotton linters held by the War Department, approximately 700,000 bales. The best market prevailing, whether foreign or domestic will receive the linters, which are to be disposed of within twelve months if possible. Earle's compensation was fixed at 2.12 per cent of the net prices at which the linters are sold at points of government storage.

There is another case with the government pending now, involving the disposition of 226,000 bales of linters, which the government contracted to purchase from the crashers during the war. A decision in this case is expected at an early date. The linters which the government has just agreed to sell are now located in powder plants and approximately 500 oil mills throughout the South. The War Department has issued orders for the concentration of approximately 325,000 bales of linters at Charleston, S. C.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC HALTED IN GERMANY
Berlin, Saturday, Nov. 8.—Germany's suspension of railroad passenger traffic for two weeks is proceeding to have been a stop taken in contrast, a doubtful thousands are discovered, who are unable to insure railway officials to permit them to travel over the freight trains. A rumor was circulated that a limited number of trains would be run for short distances into the city but those attempting to profit by them found that these trains were solely for milk, food and mail. Nothing short of death in a man's family could get him a place in a freight car and then he was required to pay a second class fare. Dresden has established a motor bus line to Berlin on which the charge is 150 marks for passage one way. Aerial posts have been arranged between Berlin and Leipzig and Berlin and Breslau.

While a good many Chester people took advantage of Aviator Merrill's presence in Chester and viewed sights from above, the aviator would have had many more passengers but for the price. Many people were heard to say that they would like to go up in the airplane but that they did not feel disposed to part with fifteen "bones" for such a short flight. However, Mr. Merrill closed on to three hundred dollars during his three day stay in Chester.

The eclipse of the moon early last Friday evening was only one of three interesting astronomical events promised for this month. An eclipse of the sun, which is stated will be visible here, will occur on the morning of November 23, according to scientists, and a meteoric shower will be seen on the evening of November 16th. On last Friday evening the moon shone in partial eclipse for an hour and a half. The size of the earth's shadow on the moon increased from a 6 o'clock till 4 o'clock when it attained its maximum and began to decrease.

Aviator Merrill arrived in Chester at the County Fair grounds last Friday afternoon from Florence, accompanied by Dr. R. H. McFadden, who went to Florence Thursday to accompany the aviator in Chester. The trip was made in a Curtiss plane without any trouble whatever, the trip being made in something like an hour. Aviator Merrill did a number of "high air" stunts for the Chester County Fair visitors and also took up a number of Chester people Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Merrill left Chester today for Chesterfield, where he goes to another fair. Among those who made the trip over Chester with Aviator Merrill were: Miss Mabry, one of the teachers in the local graded school; Miss Madeline Boone, of the S. N. W. Railway office force, and Messrs. James Orr, James Morrow, M. F. Padgett, Captain Pledge, Albert H. Ruzick, F. J. Anderson, and Robert Anderson. Mr. Merrill made a charge of fifteen dollars for each passenger carried up. The fare returned was $1.00 up, come here from Florence.

In the Pennsylvania shops the output per man in 1919 does not exceed 90 per cent of what it was before the war. According to A. J. Be sure to hear Mr. Reichard play the pipe organ at the Dreamland Theatre. He is great! Come and hear him for yourself!

The North-Central District of the South Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs will hold their annual session in Chester on Thursday, November 20th. The meeting will be held in the large Sunday School building of the Purity Presbyterian church. A list of the committees, etc., will appear in the next issue of The News.

The full term of the court of common pleas for Chester county yesterday morning. The first case to be taken up was that of Mrs. M. J. Limes vs. the Chester County Highway Commission. It was stated that the construction of the new road near Lewis' Turnout had taken more than two acres of Mrs. Jones' land over her protest. The jury found for the defendant. The court is today engaged in the case of Blount vs. the Baldwin Cotton Mills. It is expected that court will continue all this week and that it will adjourn next week.

Many friends in the Rockville section, and elsewhere throughout the county, were invited to join in the death of Mrs. Ella K. Stone on last Saturday afternoon at the Prior Hospital in this city, following a serious operation for appendicitis. The hospital was at Union cemetery at the home of Mrs. Stone on the corner of Richard Sunday, at which a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives paid their last respects to the departed soul. Mrs. Stone was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Kirkpatrick, and was a devoted member of the Methodist church. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Virginia Stone, and the following brothers and sisters: Messrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick, of Fort Lays; Davis, W. L. and James Kirkpatrick, of Chesterville; Mrs. J. D. Sanders, of Chester; and Mrs. T. M. McGill, of Leola, Tenn.

Wednesday WILLIAM S-HART in "Wagon Tracks"

Little he knew where those tracks would lead; but some one had slain his brother, and grimly he followed the trail—to vengeance—to death—to love. A picture big with the west, strong with the power of the man's man who plays it. Come.

Thursday DOROTHY GISH in "Nugget-Nell"

She didn't have a single thing to wear" excepting her shooting clothes. And there she her best beloved—and a "dolloped up" rival watching over time. But Nellie had nerve, and—well, watch her collect "glad rags" from gasping ladies, right on the street! You'll laugh till your throat aches. See this.

Lowryville, Nov. 3.—Mrs. E. W. Guy, of Lowryville, was hostess on last Friday at a lovely luncheon. The table was beautiful in its decorations of yellow and white, the centerpiece being a basket of yellow and white tulips filled with keepies, dressed to the accompaniment of Miss Louisa Aho to James Moore Williams, the wedding to take place November 23. The attractive place cards, Cupid and his arrows, were the initials "M. I. A. and J. M. W. November 23." A five-course luncheon was served.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, COUNTY OF CHESTER.

By A. W. War Esquire, Probate Judge.

Whereas, W. S. Reid and David C. Reed made suit to me to grant them letters of administration of the estate of and effects of L. B. Reed, deceased.

These are, therefore, to me and amonsh all and singular the kindred and creditors of the said L. B. Reid, deceased, that they be and appear before me in the Court of probate to be held at Chester on the 25th day of November, 1919, next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any they have, why the said Administration should not be granted.

Given under my hand, this 23rd day of October, A. D. 1919.

W. WISE, Judge of Probate. Published on the 28th day of October, 1919.

Do You Think the War is Over? Then What About—

The 250,000 disabled fighting men? The 300,000 American boys who were " unfit for service"? The ONE American baby out of SEVEN that dies in his first year? The 750,000 people who die annually of tuberculosis? The 500,000 who would die in another influenza epidemic like the last? The 300,000 children under five who die annually of preventable disease? The thousands of children forced out of school by physical defects? The accidents that kill 100,000 and disable 500,000 yearly? The ONE adult in SEVEN known to be in need of medical attention? The 7,000 people who cryn every year in American waters? The war has just begun! The Red Cross fights Ignorance, Sickness, Suffering, Misery. Will you help fight?—Join the Red Cross. Chester Hardware Co. "Quality First"

We Haven't an Axe To Grind

It isn't a selfish motive that prompts us to steer you away from poor quality clothing this Winter. It's a duty that we owe to our customers and to our competitors.

We are in sympathy with any other good store in this or any other city that maintains a high standard of quality in these uncertain times but we detest any set of underhanded methods that tend to lower the good name of the retail clothing business at large for we are retail clothiers and happy to say, we are as proud of our profession as a Professor is of his prefix.

A cheap suit to-day isn't as good as the cheap suit of yesterday and the advertisement that quotes good clothing this Winter at 1914 prices is the worst kind of an insult to American intelligence.

The Case Touring Model

Painstaking motor car purchasers no longer choose cars for mere beauty yet it is one of the things they insist upon. Well informed purchasers demand a car that combines power with economy, beauty, comfort and durability. To the man who seeks these things, comes the timely introduction of the new Case Six, Model V. Built for those who demand the best, but who avoid extravagances.

A car combining popular, tried and proven units built by recognized specialists working in conjunction with Case engineers. The motor, for instance, is the Red Seal Continental with a 3 1/2" bore and 5 1/4" stroke. A power plant that has long won recognition for its dependability. The starting and lighting system is Westinghouse; Delco ignition switch and coil. Rayfield carburetor, Borg & Beck adjustable dry disc clutch with 10 spline shaft. The transmission is Grant Lees with double row S K F ball bearings, nickel steel gears and shafts. Columbia rear and front axles. Bock roller bearing throughout. Ball bearing steering knuckles. Rear axle three quarter floating. The Jacox, easy action steering gear is adjustable and irreversible. The braking surface is extra large with 16x2 1/2 inch brake drums. Semi-elliptic springs are long and wide and have alloy main plates with rebound top plates.

The speedometer is a 75 mi. Van-Sickle driven from transmission. A power tire pump is regularly furnished. The equipment is 34" X 4 1/2" Goodyear. Duplex head lamps are adjustable horizontally and vertically.

The upholstery is of genuine leather. The cushions are soft and deep. The panelling is genuine Circassian walnut, inlaid.

A Larger and Handsomer GRANT SIX

Featuring Smartness with Dependability.

It is with pride and confidence that we present the new Grant Six. As will be instantly discerned from a study of the illustration, this entirely new model is larger, handsomer, and, of course, more powerful than any previous Grant Six. In it is embodied the full experience gained from building and marketing over fifty thousand light weight sixes.

While this new Grant expresses the light weight principle that has been a fundamental of Grant design, it is so much bigger and finer than any Grant Six heretofore built that it brings the Grant Six into an entirely new field from the standpoint of both performance and quality.

Its roomy body is one of the most beautiful ever designed. It combines the rakish, speedy lines of a sport model with the genuine comfort and roominess of a full size five passenger touring car. It is a handsome car viewed from any position. Its long, low straight lines fairly melt into the bonnet. The new style radiator is imposing in appearance and completely in harmony with the body lines. The top is well designed and well made. The upholstery is in genuine leather, luxurious and comfortable. Seat springs are the finest money can buy. Inside trimming is finished with leather-covered moldings. Steering wheel is 18-inch notched mahogany and carries both spark and throttle control. Instrument board is mahogany finished. Tool kit is carried in the left front door. Equipment includes a power tire pump and Boyce motometer in addition to the accessories usually furnished.

You will agree with us that the new Grant epitomizes smartness, comfort and fine engineering. Every mechanical detail measures up to the highest expectations.

We will appreciate your business, and promise you prompt service, full service, and the best of service.
