BIG ARMY OF MINERS IDE IN COAL FIELDS

Strikers Await Outcome of Conference in Washington-Northeast Call for Fuel

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Indications in the coal strike situation tonight were that notwithstanding a predicted loosening of the tension in a few states the seriousness of conditions would not be minimized. In Chicago where regional coal and railroad representatives were scheduled to meet tomorrow, more strenuous conversation of fuel was expected. Approximately 400,000 soft coal miners remained on strike in spite of the action of their national officers in rescinding the strike order in obedience to the mandate of a federal court. Indications were that they would remain out except, probably in West Virginia, where union leaders and operators were calling upon them to return to the mines tomorrow and in Wyoming where a wage agreement had been effected and operations were expected to be resumed.

The miners continue to await action in the conference of operators and mine workers' leaders in Washington. The union leaders have demanded a 60 per cent. increase in pay and a six-hour day. Private advice from Washington tonight were to the effect that the operators were considering offering wage increases averaging 20 per cent and that the question of hours was not under decision.

T. W. Procter, regional coal committee chairman, said tonight that the strike is not expected to end for another week unless there is a shut down of every non-essential industry west of the Mississippi river.

Appeals for coal from Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota and the Northwest generally have been received by Mr. Procter.

ROAD PAVING STOPPED

Restraining Order Issued Against Anderson Highway Commission

Anderson, Nov. 16.—Saturday morning a restraining order was issued on the members of the Anderson county highway commission to stop action on highway paving on the road to Williamston. The commission had a resurvey and decided to change the road from the one normally used and which has been on the Pat Major road. The order was granted by Judge George K. Pryor. It is claimed that the highway route is the most direct and has been accepted as the Williamston road by the commission which will save the county $40,000 by using the road that runs off towards Bolton. Anderson paving to the Williamston road. The date set by Judge Pryor for the hearing is November 23.

LOYAL EMPLOYEES GO AFTER REDS

Pledge Themselves to Rid Plant of Radical

Baltimore, Nov. 14.—Loyal employees of the Baltimore Dry Goods and Shophopping Company took hand at a little "boring from within" on the Reds in their ranks today, with the result that leaders of the working force were to be expelled radical leaders will be abandoned after tomorrow which is pay day.

After a Red circular urging the workers to rise and take possession of the plant for themselves, had been found there, the plant superintendents at the noon hour today called the workers together and laid the situation before them. The men pledged themselves to rid the plant of Reds, without outside aid, and if in the next few hours the vigilantes had rounded up all the Red propaganda literature which had been circulated among their fellows. The circular, headed "You Shop, you're a traitor," was as follows:

"This is propaganda leaflet number three, issued by the Communist Party of America, 1219, 13th Avenue, Chicago.

Quantities of the inflammatory document were turned in to the company headquarters and destroyed and heads of the workmen's committee informed the management that they would undertake to have the literature taken out of their hands this day for tomorrow's closing.

The sale of lots on the York road opposite the colored Methodist church was only sold at auction as advertised last Saturday, and was bought by various persons. The property brought a handsome price. In fact the price paid for the lots was a surprise to the seller for the miller with the sale of Chester property.

AUDIT OF COUNTY OFFICES.

Below will be found a report of the auditing company, which recently audited the books and accounts of the various offices of Chester county. The Grand Jury at the recent term of court referred the complete report to the Judge and requested that the county newspapers publish certain pages of the report, which we are doing. The complete report of the auditing company covers a number of pages, and goes into detail in connection with the various offices of the county.

That part of the report referred to by the Grand Jury follows:

Office of County Auditor.
Books and Records.—The records of this office have been compiled in a very satisfactory manner in most particulars. We have found a few errors in connection with our audit of the additional section of the tax books. Such errors, however, do not affect the charges against the County. There are no annual settlements, as the proper amounts are shown by the abstracts supporting such settlements.

Office of Clerk of Court.
Books and Records.—This office is keeping all books required by the law for his office, and it appears that the recording, etc., is being taken care of by a General Ledger, which transactions in detail, and supported by vouchers, is kept for recording all funds held in trust by the Clerk of Court.

Office of Superintendent of Education.
Books and Records.—The Superintendent of Education is keeping the uniform system of accounting prescribed by the State Superintendent, and approved by the Controller General. His work was satisfactory in most respects.

Office of Judge of Probate.
Books and Records.—The files in this office are arranged alphabetically and numerically for easy reference, and we find that the Judge of Probate is keeping all books which the law requires. The register of marriage licenses is arranged under an alphabetical index, and under a numerical schedule of all marriage licenses issued since the law became effective.

Office of Sheriff.
Books and Records.—The Sheriff is keeping his records in a neat and businesslike manner. No criticism in this respect is necessary. An accurate accounting has been made for tax delinquencies and other matters involving the collection of 1918 executions in his official capacity.

Crowds are Enthusiastic about the Cleveland Six

The crowds which have filled our store from day to day to see the new Cleveland Six have admitted it beyond measure. They have exclaimed it the great car of the year, the car which will surely dominate the whole light car field. Those who have ridden in it, or driven it through hard tests say, "It's a regular automobile."

The Cleveland is an extraordinary car of power, pickup, speed and comfort, comparable in its design and construction, yet roomy, and unusually economical in cost of operation.

The men who build the Cleveland Six are men of broad and successful experience in the motor car manufacture, and into their car they have built their skill and integrity. For three years they have put it through all conceivable tests in shop and laboratory, and on the road. And when they did announce it, it was Really.

GIRL HELD AS SUSPECT SEEN WITH SLAIN MAN THURSDAY NIGHT, ALLEGED

Witness Tells Coroner He Saw May Bowles and Another Woman in Charlotte Tuesday Night, and of Her Visit to Her Home on Thursday

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 16.—There have been no new developments in the Smeagone shooting mystery here today.

Writing Gray George Hunsucker, who were arrested Friday afternoon and May Bowles and Lillian Hillton, two young women who were arrested in Charlotte yesterday, are still in jail, and have not been questioned further today by Coroner Spear.

The two women were brought to Coroner Spear's office by Special Officer McCarty, and since their first statement to the chief of police had not been allowed to talk to any one. May Bowles is well known to the local police, though the Hillton woman is a stranger here.

Both of the women said they were in Charlotte Tuesday night, and of her visit to her home on Thursday night.

Several men from Charlotte came to Coroner Spear's office and tried to get the police to take the Hillton woman out on bond. This request was not granted.

Coroner Spear announced late this afternoon that he will continue his investigation tomorrow morning, and it is probable that he will have several of the press reports under review brought before his jury at that time.

While believing that the federal reserve system should do everything possible with due regard to safety to the "wants and requirements" to "aid the cotton producer in the country" to aid the cotton producer to market their products in a profitable manner, it is a matter so that no one might be forced to sell at a sacrifice. Mr. Harding said the banks should not be used as a medium for purchasing cotton to be sold without it entirely from the market with the view of forcing prices to an unreasonable level.

LOANS ON COTTON TO BE CONTINUED

Harding Says Grades Must Be Shown, However Governor of Federal Reserve Board Holds That Receipt Must Indicate Value of Staple

Washington, Nov. 16.—Insistent rumors to the effect that the federal reserve banks have contemplated the recall of loans made to the cotton producers in the South Carolina state the chief of the federal reserve board, in a letter today to Senator Smith of South Carolina stated the only change made in the position of the banks regarding cotton loans was a tendency toward stricter examination into the grade of cotton shown, by the receipt pledged as collateral.

"The bank will not assume the value of over 20 cents a pound," Mr. Harding said, "unless the receipt indicates the grade of other satisfactory evidence is furnished as to what the grade is. There are many different grades of cotton and the spread between the value of the low and the highest grade is so great that it is difficult to determine the exact knowledge of the grade is necessary in lending intelligently on cotton as collateral."

Mr. Harding declared there was nothing to warrant the inference that a plan was to be re-announced to limit the maximum value for loans to 20 cents a pound. This action would be some long staple cotton recently sold at New Orleans at 75 cents a pound.

MOB KILLS NEGRO IN MISSOURI TOWN

Lynchings Occur in Public Park at Moberly Dead Man Accused of Beating and Robbing Farmer Three Companies Escape

Moberly, Mo., Nov. 16.—A negro, one of four said to have beaten and robbed Edward Thompson, a farmer, Thursday night, was lynched here today. The other three companies escaped.

Mr. Thompson, a farmer, was captured and was in custody at a police station in the mob.

The negro was reported to have been lynched in a public park in Moberly, Mo., where a mob of about 50 men gathered to lynch the negro.

Last night large numbers of farmers congregated on the streets here, and fearing mob violence Sheriff O'Connell took the negro to the county jail. Learning of this the mob stormed the jail and demanded that Sheriff Jesse Starnes turn over the negro to them. The sheriff pleaded with the mob, but his jail keys were taken forcibly from him, and the negro was returned here. The negro was killed only in their night clothes.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 18,

The News is of the opinion that there is an ordinance with reference to people operating automobiles on the streets with the cut-out open. If there is no such ordinance, one should be passed at the next meeting of the city council. It is an every minute thing that the streets of Chester with the cut-out open, and in addition to the unnecessary noise they raise, it is a danger that would result in a Western cowboy of a wild herd of cattle on the sand plains. There is enough that and this in the air of our city without every autoist trying to see much more he can add, and, too, the average man is not disposed to be concerned in knowing whether or not some other man's automobile engine is running on all cylinders. There is something, no reason for any man operating an automobile on the streets of a town, with the cut-out open. If one wants to know how his auto engine is running, he should take his car to a garage or to some secluded spot in the rural sections and "heat it up" to his heart's content.

Another thing, we think it about time the city fathers were again putting "glitter" on the scene. The residential streets to call some who have forgotten the lesson of a few months ago, and are now "burning the wick."

It is with genuine regret that the people of Chester know that the resignation of Mr. S. E. Wylie, a county treasurer.

Mr. Wylie went into the treasurer's office on the fifteen day of February 1909 and has been serving the people of Chester county for almost twelve continuous years. While Mr. Wylie has had opposition several times he has always been selected by the people by a handsome majority. He is considered as one of the most competent county treasurers in the State, and will be sorely missed by the people of this county.

Mr. Wylie has not yet made public just what his future plans will be but we are sure that the people of the county wish him well in any undertaking that he may make.

Does Life Really Corner Us

There are times in all our lives when we feel as though life had cornered us, and that notwithstanding all our efforts to the contrary we seem doomed to failure. No normal man is without ambition of some kind, varying in degree and intensity of individual capacity. If it could not be otherwise because of the daily interference with his fellow beings, and it follows that at some period in his life, each man must have set his hopes on the achievement of a certain end. It is the disappointment that results from his failure to attain that end that makes him discouraged and dissatisfied. He sees about him those who have succeeded in achieving the ends for which they have worked, and he cannot understand why it is that he has been denied his purpose.

It is a pity that we cannot accept with courage, our crosses as they come to us. If we could do this we would begin to unravel the first tangle in the philosophy of life. We would if only in a vague way glimpse that knowledge which as a rule, does not come until long years of experience and hardship have made their deep impressions. We would understand, above that there are some things for which we yearn with all our strength that are better omitted from our lives, and that often what we desire are justly punished or discriminated against by a large Providence we are, in fact, the objects of the most Fatherly care. There are some things for which we long that would not in his sight be to our benefit and with a far-seeing wisdom He desires them to be in order that we may work out for ourselves a better and a wiser destiny. We only learn these things, however through experience, and it is while we are enduring the hardships and the apparent discriminations of the latter that we are willing to believe that life has indeed cornered us. It is difficult indeed, not to feel that way at times, especially when we see so many persons who seemingly have all that they want most of life while we are happy and prosperous when, as a matter of fact, hope merely flashes up at times and ambition is all but dead. But the man who can fight his battles with the head erect and a smile to the world when his heart knows only bitter regret and unfulfilled hopes stands a very good chance of succeeding in the end.

So much depends upon our interpretation of the word "success." Measured from a worldly standpoint fame and wealth and high position are necessary, and such a success is not always easily achieved even after years of labor. Measured, however, from a more spiritual outlook happiness and contentment, courage and perseverance are all that are necessary to make us look the world in the face and feel that we have wrong success from it. It is true that the latter condition does not necessarily bring fame and wealth with it; indeed the chances are that we shall, have to be satisfied with very few of the world's goods and trappings of prosperity, but at least we shall, at the same time, be relieved of much responsibility and accountability. We do not often take the latter obligations into consideration when we envy the possession of others. If we are so much as willing to take our share of the hardships that they satisfactorily were, we give on the opportunity of doing so, by rights and high position, fame and leadership bring their own train of care and tribulations and anxiety which have no place in the life of one who may be viewed from all standpoints success carries with it its own penalties, and the best that a man may do in this life is to strive with all his strength to live uprightly and honorably regardless of the responsibilities and obligations, hardships and disappointments of his position in life.

Life only corners us when we become self-satisfied and desiring as long as we keep up our courage and our determination we may always make a trial, whatever the outcome. It is only repeated failures that are to hold us back, but great is the benefit in the justice of God, a strong heart with which to stand the buffetings of Fate and a lively appreciation of our obligations in life will rise above our failures into opportunities of fulfilling those ambitions which may lead us into achieving the sort of success that is best adapted to our individual needs.

BURTS RESIGNS CHURCH POST FOR NEW POSITION
Pastor of First Baptist Church of Columbia, S. C., Nov. 16—The Rev. C. E. Burt, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church of Columbia for ten years, tonight announced his resignation to become the head of the general Baptist board of South Carolina created at the state convention here a few days ago.

Dr. Burt will assume his new duties December 7 and will likely continue his pastoral duties until the end of the year.

Dr. Burt is one of the most influential leaders of his denomination in the state and his church is reluctantly giving him up. The work of the new board provides a large and useful field for the enlargement of scope of work made possible of the seventy-five million dollar campaign.

Greenville Downs Chester

The Chester High School football hopes were shattered last Saturday when they went down before the Greenville High to the tune of 25 to 0. It was a case of too much Greenville, that's all.

The Greenville team had some twenty-five men to throw in, and throughout the game had a heavier team than Chester on the field.

In the first quarter, owing to stars fight or some such emotion, Chester allowed two touchdowns to be captured easily. But from then on she stiffened up, and showed that fight that had carried her through the Catawba championship. Everything Greenville made after the first ten minutes was fought for and was only through superior weight, and by using fresh men every few minutes.

Fumbles lost Chester several good chances to score, and put her playing defensive ball most of the time.

The entire Chester team deserves credit for the fight they made against odds, but special mention goes to Hugh Patton, who played a good game, as any college coach could want. Hindman staid in with a broken leg, and played right on Lewis intercepted a pass and made a forty yard run. Banks and Brice played fast and hard ends in the second half, while the line did well considering the hammering they took, and the fresh men they had to meet.

Greenville last had more football players than Chester has high school boys—so they won.

It has only been a few months since we organized the One that the ball weevil had crossed the Savannah river and put foot on Spauldy Extra this soil. A few weeks ago we noted in these columns that the pest had invaded the lower half of Richburg county and would probably reach Chester county some time next year. We failed in our prediction as the time the weevil would reach Chester county. The pest has exceeded the speed limit and has been located on the farm of Mr. John McDaniel on the farm of A. R. P. Clardy, about ten miles from the city of Chester. County Agent Sanders went to Mr. McDaniel's farm and brought several of the weevils back to Chester. In speaking of the matter recently Miss Mary Sluder, Secretary of the Home Service, Section 10, reported for The News that she had recently handled papers for a number of war-affected persons. Lella Coleman, a colored woman who lives in the Brooklyn settlement of Chester. The woman's husband, Ernest Coleman, was gassed in France and was brought back to this country where he died in one of the hospitals with tuberculosis. He had over a thousand dollars insurance and now his wife, Lella Coleman, receives $57.50 each month, in addition to that she gets $25.00 in monthly compensation. She will receive the compensation so long as she does not marry again. However, she will receive the $25.00 each month for a term of twenty years.

Dependability is built into every one, just as sure fire is a dead certainty with Winchester ammunition. This is true because every gun loving Winchester rifle is carefully tested and proved and every cartridge rigidly inspected.

If you want you to come in and see our display of Winchester Big Game Rifles at the same time take a fall to look over our stock of Winchester Shotgun and 22 Caliber Rifles.

We have a complete line from heavy powered rifles—that land a bullet with a shock pressure eleven times that of the small of light rifle shooting. We have the skin and ammunition for any kind of shooting in which you are interested. Drop in today and look them over.

County Treasurer Resigns. Elizabeth in this issue of The News appears a card from County Treasurer S. B. Wylie in which he offers his resignation to the Governor and the people of Chester county as county treasurer to take effect on the first day of December. The office pays $1800 per year, and from this salary the treasurer must secure any additional salary that his office may require. As it is generally known the duties of the office have been increased for the past several years. Such being the case it is almost impossible for one man to do the work of the office, especially at certain seasons of the year and owing to the small salary Mr. Wylie cannot consistently employ additional help, hence his resignation.

Mr. Wylie's term of office expires on July 31st 1921 and his resignation will have to be appointed by the Governor, upon the recommendation of the county treasurer. The party receiving the appointment will serve until July 31st 1921.

SPECIAL NOTICE. To the Citizens of Chester County: In view of the fact that it has become necessary, on account of the increased volume of work of this office and insufficient salary to allow me to employ sufficient help, to tender my resignation, which I have this day, to the Governor, R. A. Cooper, for him to see of the fact that my health is and has been jeopardized. No such news gives my appreciation to you for the kindness that you have shown me since I have had the honor of serving you as Treasurer, but when I lay to find words to express my appreciation, I fail, but I am sure of one thing and it is this: I have done my best to make you a good treasurer, if I have failed in this particular, you are the judge. I thank you, I am as ever, S. B. WYLIE.

TOLEDO STILL WALKS.

Street Car Muddle May End by City Purchasing Lines.

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 16.—Toledo completed its eighth day of walking today because of the absence of street cars and it may be eight more days before the cars resume operations, it was said today by city officials who are working with Henry L. Doherty of New York.

Mr. Doherty a week ago last night ordered the cars into Michigan when it became known that the people had an election on November 4 and had sustained an order ordinance.

Actual work of placing a valuation on the property of the Toledo Railway and Light company's rolling stock in preparation for submission of a municipal ownership proposition will begin tomorrow under supervision of a commissioner appointed by Mayor Cornell Scribner, who withdrew the order ordinance last night. City council also will meet tomorrow night but may take no action on the street car proposition it is said.

FORM TEXTILE UNION.

Operatives of York Mill Join Labor Organization.

York, Nov. 16.—A branch of the textile union was organized here at a meeting held in the court house Friday evening. Present were about 150 operatives from the four cotton mills of York. The speaker of the occasion was Morris Birkh, a well-known attorney and union labor advocate of Charlotte, N. C. He made a spirited address, emphasizing the necessity of concerted effort on the part of working people to secure and maintain their rights against the encroachment of capital. The operatives at the York cotton mills number more than 400 and the indications are that most of them will soon join the union.

WOOD ALCOHOL FATAL.

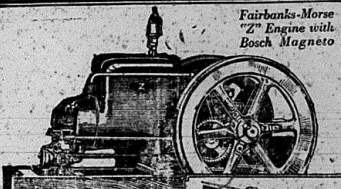

Young Man Dies After Drinking Poison in Florence.

Florence, Nov. 16.—Laurie Adams aged 23 years, drank a Coca-Cola bottle full of wood alcohol Friday afternoon and died from the effects of the poison at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. On his death bed, he told the physician he had bought the stuff from a man in a cafe near the depot in this city but was unable to give his name. The bottle was not labeled. The young man suffered great pain before he died. He was a son of John Adams of Darlington county and came here some time ago to work in the Atlantic Line shops. The matter has been reported to Coroner Smith and an investigation will be held.
