DISTINGUISHED CITIZENS PAY GREAT FALLS A VISIT TUESDAY

President of New York Cotton Exchange, Editor of Commerce and Finance, and Editor Harris of The Charlotte Observer, Pay Visit to Great Falls, and See the Wonderful Improvements Made by the Hand of the Late James B. Duke and his Associates.

The following editorial appeared in The Charlotte Observer yesterday morning: "The first of the Duke water power developments was made at Great Falls, across the South Carolina line. The dam and powerhouse were completed about 16 years ago. At that time there was nothing in the locality but fields and woods. A party of Charlotte people went there in a special train as guests of the Southern Power Company, to inspect the plant. The water had just been turned into the turbines and the machinery was operating for the first time. Only a few shacks were up by the construction forces and a rough-floored building or two. The water continued to flow. Tuesday, this section was favored with its best sample of the pimento. The woods were gloriously arrayed in Fall colors, and there being two men in the party, who were interested in an object lesson in Southern industrial development, a joint to Great Falls was decided upon as the proper place for the always-ready Kester got Theodore H. Price, editor of Commerce and Finance, and a man who is well acquainted with Southern conditions by reason of his former demonstrations with cotton-picking machinery. Mr. Harris, president of the New York Cotton Exchange, interested in the machine and its operation, and the most beautiful sections of the two Carolinas to Great Falls. They there had visited the machine and saw the hand of James B. Duke had wrought in a single instance. A flourishing residential and industrial town of 5,000 people and a string of three large cotton factories; streets laid off on the plan of Myrtle and other winding through the wooded sections; beautiful park-ways, and a block of stores of modern type, in polished steel and granite, handsome churches and large schoolhouses, playgrounds in abundance, water, gas, lights and all modern improvements."

What has transpired in creation of this new center of industry and prosperity is of a nature which hundreds of localities in North Carolina and South Carolina. Great Falls a striking example of what Duke has done for the South.

The Northern visitors were particularly interested in the new production of spinning and weaving rooms. Great Falls is the seat of the Republic chain of mills, a management of the plant, and H. B. Mebane, and the production is print cloths, silk and cotton goods. The spinning and weaving rooms are furnished with the best of the new machinery, and the production is print cloths, silk and cotton goods. The spinning and weaving rooms are furnished with the best of the new machinery, and the production is print cloths, silk and cotton goods.

Another impressive circumstance—could not be called a revelation, because both the men were familiar with the conditions in the South as well as New England—was the character of the work. The men and women, the utilities provided, and the playgrounds, the schools that are at the service of the mill people.

The Observer, however, was particularly interested in the transformation that has taken place since the day it first visited the place. It is a city of gardens, and the most beautiful sections of the two Carolinas to Great Falls. They there had visited the machine and saw the hand of James B. Duke had wrought in a single instance.

YORK NEWS

Items From The Yorkville Enquirer of More or Less Interest to Chester County People.

H. F. Horton, well known farmer and contractor, of Sharon No. 2, who has been known for several weeks past, is now residing in his home in his daughter, Mrs. D. C. Sturges in Rock Hill. Mr. Horton is more than 80 years of age.

Contractor W. T. Beangard, of Clover, who has the contract for the building of the new High School at Blackstock, Md. Saturday that the work is so well advanced that he expected to begin pouring concrete on the foundations yesterday or today.

R. L. Wilkerson, farmer of York No. 1, is reported quite sick at his home with influenza. Mr. Wilkerson has been a prominent citizen of York county, having served as a court bailiff for twenty years.

William Bolin, well known citizen of the community, died last Friday following a long period of ill health. He was about 75 years of age and most of his life had been spent in the cotton business.

Mr. Bolin is survived by his widow and two sons, T. B. Bolin of Lancaster and Edwin Bolin of Hickory Grove No. 1.

Friends of Mr. Ida McConnell, who has been ill for some time, are glad to hear that she is getting on her feet at this place. Mr. McConnell is a native of York county and a member of the Methodist church.

Miss Alicia Castle, 55, died at the home of her brother, W. W. Castle, of York No. 1, last evening, following a long period of declining health, and her body was buried in the cemetery.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 19.—The State Board of Health, under the leadership of Dr. McLeod, on recommendation of the state supreme court, as special judges of the health of the state, are to be appointed to assist in the enforcement of the health laws.

SOUTH CAROLINA HISTORY

"First declaration of Independence" was written in South Carolina.

No wonder a South Carolina is so proud of this state. It is only twenty years ago that the first declaration of independence was written in South Carolina. The document was signed by the representatives of the people of the state, and it was a bold and brave act.

The Old South is truly the "Mother of the Nation." The great events of our country's history took place here. From the first settlement to the present day, the state has played a prominent role in the development of the nation.

In 1776, May 16th, Virginia instructed its delegates to the Continental Congress to declare its independence from Great Britain. This was a landmark event in the history of the United States.

South Carolina was the first state to secede from the Union in 1862. This was a tragic event in the history of the nation, and it led to the Civil War.

The state has a rich and varied history, and it is proud of its many achievements. From the first settlement to the present day, the state has played a prominent role in the development of the nation.

LANCASTER NEWS

Items From The Lancaster News of More or Less Interest to Chester County People.

M. L. Beckham, of Pleasant Hill, cotton crop statistician for Lancaster county, was in Lancaster Saturday and stated that 10,943 bales of cotton counting round as half bales, had been given in Lancaster county prior to November 1, 1925, as compared with 10,977 bales given to November 1, 1924.

N. C. Hughes, Jr., of Columbia was in Lancaster Friday, and Mr. Hughes has accepted a subcontract for the erection of three concrete bridges, one over Wildcat Creek, near Troutville and two in Flat Creek township near Kerbarth. Work is now under way and will be completed by the first of January.

D. W. Cate, of the P. & O. Hill section of the county had a painful experience one day last week when he lost an eye. While out hunting Mr. Cate and his gun and a plunger fell out, striking him in the eye. The missile deeply indented the eyeball, and he had to be cut out at a Rock Hill hospital where he was kept for several days.

George Mahaffey, aged 21, of the town of York, was killed at 7 o'clock at his home about two miles southwest of Lancaster. He was driving a car when he was struck by a train. He was killed instantly and his body was taken to the hospital.

Weather Damage to Poorly Stored Fruit Will Offset Increased Price. The price of cotton is going to be higher than it has been for some time. This is due to the fact that the cotton crop is smaller than in previous years, and the price of the raw material is higher.

A six-room house on the farm near the town of York, was burned Friday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, the origin of the blaze being unknown. The house was owned by Mr. Cunningham, and it was a great loss to him.

R. D. Bailey, who does all the wooden work on bridges in Lancaster county for both the county and the state, has moved his shop to the town of York. He has a large and well-equipped shop, and he is a very skilled workman.

There are some citizens in the county who are under the impression that the state tax on county tax money has been or will be diverted to the expense of building a bridge across the Catawba River. This is not true, and it is a pity that such a rumor should be spread.

Union Man Found Dead. Union, Nov. 18.—John Gierer who lives at Excelsior Mills went out hunting Saturday afternoon and did not return at bedtime. His body was found in a field near the mill, and it was a tragedy.

CHARGE OF MURDER AGAINST SHIRLEY

Inquest Held Into Automobile Crash Near Bethune.

Camden, Nov. 17.—Warrant charging murder has been issued for Balthasar Shirley as a result of the death of Benjamin Russell, and Mrs. Annie Mae Russell, the one killed and the other fatally injured in an automobile crash near Bethune Sunday.

An inquest over the body of Mrs. Annie Mae Russell, the second victim of the crash, who died Sunday night, was held Monday morning and a jury composed of Messrs. M. L. Beckham, Shearn, Ohio Waters, D. L. Howell, H. C. Hasty and P. D. Stokes rendered the following verdict: "That Annie Mae Russell came to her death in an automobile wreck, and the driver of the car but the jury was carried to the hospital and Mrs. Shirley, wife of the dead man, who was also injured, swore positively that Shirley was driving the car and that she was sitting on the back seat with her husband. Shirley has been confined to his home by injuries and has not been committed to jail.

It was at first reported that Benjamin Shirley's wife was instantly killed in the same wreck, which was the driver of the car but the jury was carried to the hospital and Mrs. Shirley, wife of the dead man, who was also injured, swore positively that Shirley was driving the car and that she was sitting on the back seat with her husband. Shirley has been confined to his home by injuries and has not been committed to jail.

BAPTIST BANQUET

Men's Bible Class of First Baptist Church held Banquet last evening. Mr. W. A. Corkhill is Treasurer. Dr. Harry Clark, of the membership chairman in charge. Judge Simpkins also present.

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist Church held their annual banquet last evening in the Sunday School Building and it was a most delightful affair. The banquet hall was a scene of beauty on this festive occasion.

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Dr. W. G. Moore, pastor of the church, asked the blessing and then a delicious supper prepared by the ladies of the church followed in the culinary art, was served in courses by the young ladies of the church. It was the consensus of opinion that never was food prepared so well as served with such ease and grace.

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Mr. W. A. Corkhill, who won for himself a reputation as toastmaster at last year's banquet was at his post again this year and presided with ease and grace. His delightfully informal manner, witty remarks and well applied jokes kept the spirit of fun during the entire evening.

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

As special guests of the class were the superintendents of the other Sunday Schools of the city. These men were recognized and introduced by the toastmaster and were given hearty applause.

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Thinking that perhaps some of the speakers, appearing publicly for the first time, might be a little nervous, Mr. Corkhill announced that the first number in the program would be music as this would do much for a soothing effect and help quiet the nerves.

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Mr. W. A. Cox, President of the class, was next presented by the toastmaster. Since becoming president of the class Mr. Cox has been a tireless worker and it is due largely to his zeal and enthusiasm that the class has grown in its present proportions.

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

As this completed the program the toastmaster bade the guests good night.

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Keenly Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Lawrence, Ky.—Mr. J. F. Newton, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theodor's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says:

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and could not work with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple of times, then I would be very comfortable. A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It cleaned my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head. Full of pep and could do twice the work."

ROCK HILL VS CHESTER.

Rock Hill High Football Team and Chester High Will Battle at Chester Fair Grounds Next Wednesday Afternoon—Probably Last Game of the Season.

Although not a scheduled game it has been decided between the Chester High school football team and the Rock Hill team to play a game at the Chester Fair Grounds next Wednesday afternoon.

A game of football between these two teams is always of interest due to the rivalry between the two towns and a large crowd is expected at Wednesday's game.

The Rock Hill Herald in part says: "Fair Grounds next Wednesday from the scores made by the teams in previous games this battle will probably be closely contested. While Chester has a heavier team that Rock Hill, it is expected that what the Bearcats lack in weight will be made up in greater speed and quickness. A large number of the members of the Rock Hill Hill will go down with the team to cheer them and it is expected that the team has an excellent chance for victory."

SPECIAL NOTICE. All the members of Harmony Baptist Church are urgently requested to attend the services of the Church, Nov. 22nd.

Time, tide and bad debt collectors wait for no man.

Hard work is almost a specific cure for hard luck.

He who goes back on his friends never has any when he needs them.

Lives of great men often remind us that one is not born every day.

Queer, but true that pin-headed people are ever able to see the point.

The man who worries over little things never has any time for big ones.

There are just three kinds of people—somebodies, anybodies and nobodies.

Co-operation works better when it is than when it is just talked about.

The people who deliver the goods are likewise the ones who do the collecting.

If you want to keep a good opinion of a man, don't examine him too closely.

Listening to your friends may be good advice, but first be sure they are your friends.

We always enjoy an interview with some man because we never have to say a word.

All the money that is good for anyone is just enough to get a long without spending.

Don't worry about the scandals you have missed because you will not have to repeat them.

People who don't die any of their intelligence as waste are good examples to follow.

Success is measured largely by the amount of trouble it costs to be very often questioned.

Virtue is something that can't be sent to the shop for repairs and come back as good as new.

It's human nature for folks born with silver spoons in their mouths to wish they were gold.

Placing first things first is a good policy to follow, but all don't agree on what comes first in life.

Working for a fixed salary may be a deal if you get to do the fixing.

OLD-FASHIONED PARENTS

President Coolidge took the international convention of the M. C. A. at Washington.

He said that a return to the old-fashioned method of rearing children would bring improvement.

Any fair observer will admit the truth of this statement as the great majority of us are all completely lacking something new and we often accept it just because of its novelty.

It is not strange that for something new is in part responsible for the development of the modern part time parents—the parent who is so busy with outside interests that there is little time left for the family circle and the rearing of children.

The complexity of life has brought about a great change in home life. The old companionship of parents and children is not possible in the measure that it once was, particularly for those who try to keep up the demands of a social life.

No father can attend to his business, his civic clubs, his lodges and his social engagements and be a real pal of his son. No mother can be the chum of her daughter and meet all of her obligations to society.

It is not strange that the chief executive of the leading nation of the world should give preference to the childlike, youthful criminals are growing in number and great concern is felt for the moral well-being of young people in all walks of life.

The president's indictment of parenthood may seem blunt, but it is not just. An obligation of parenthood is not too important to receive first consideration. Whenever other things are placed first, the result will be a child who is unsatisfactory.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

The Armed-Officer Menace.

The fate of Jesse Wyatt appears to hinge on the question whether or not he directed the shooting of a first struck the pavement and was deflected through the rear of the racing car. As to this the testimony is conflicting. Wyatt had his chief, who was with him, declare he did not shoot at the car at all, but into the ground, for the purpose of attracting the attention of another officer. An armed expert from Fort Bragg declared positively that a deflected bullet would have made a ragged and not a round hole. The bullet that struck Holt made a clean round hole according to the evidence.

Eye-witnesses in the car behind struck Holt as the weapon in the hands of Wyatt was held on a level and was pointed directly at the car in which Holt was riding. Another qualified expert comes along with the assertion that at the distance specified the human eye is unable to detect whether the weapon was pointed upward down or in any other direction.

Some of the witnesses who were sent out on the road to fire some guns as a test, but the only thing brought out was the fact that the bullet struck Holt with the impact with the pavement leaving the question of whether the witness saw what they said they saw. The testimony of the leveled arm of Officer Wyatt to be decided by the jury.

The testimony of Stephen Holt is agreed on. That and that the tragedy grew out of the failure of the car in which he was riding to stop at the command of two perfect strangers, dressed in citizen's clothes who hailed from the public highway. In this case the two perfect strangers, dressed in citizen's clothes who hailed from the public highway, in this case the two perfect strangers, dressed in citizen's clothes who hailed from the public highway.

It is contended that those officers are not to be suspected that they are carrying liquor in violation of the law to pass that neighborhood. They proposed to search the car in the event of a stoppage while they were riding. But everybody rides in automobiles—innocent people as well as bootleggers are on the public highways. These days the men are assassinated for the price of a two-cent stamp; when men are killed that the highwayman take a card to which to subscribe his journey is the instance of honest men to step on the gas when a stranger stops and inquire whether the man confronting him is an officer.

There is the tragedy of the day—a distribution of the difficult conditions of officers of law in running down bootleggers is well known. But the ordinary way of life is to pass a road without danger of molesting. An honest citizen always stops when a constable or a uniformed officer. But when the officer is in citizen's clothes he can no more distinguish the policeman from the bootlegger. The officer can distinguish him from the bootlegger.—Charlotte Observer.

THE EIGHT-YEAR PLAN

An intelligent discussion of public business is always helpful and wholesome—especially so when it is by the people who are to go forward. Down in Colleton county, Judge Gruber and Representative Smook are discussing the proposed "Eight-Year-Plan" of the State Highway commission under which there is a distribution of the funds according to counties. There has been no decision in that matter, the whole subject going over to a special meeting of the commission to be held next month, when the public will be invited to present views and criticisms of the idea. Judge Gruber, a friend of the highways, takes the position that there should be no distribution of the funds to the counties. While he will find, we believe, that he is taking his point of view, his disadvantage as presented, his discussion will lead to the development of two interesting points.

One is that the State Highway department continue to scatter its funds over there in the counties may desire a policy that is now followed—too much perhaps for the great progress on the road front.

In conflict with that is the view entertained by many that the State Highway department should concentrate its funds for a period of years on four or five main highways until they are picked up by the smaller utilities. The roads from these roads to pay up roads of secondary importance the county may be interested in.

There is ample room for debate.—Spartanburg Herald.

CLERK'S SALE

By virtue of a decretal order to me directed, I will sell in the Court House in Chester, S. C. December 7th, 1925, at 11 A. M. the following described real estate to-wit:

All that certain tract or plantation of land situated in Chester County, S. C. containing 278 3/4 acres, more or less, lying on both sides of the road leading from Chester to Columbia, and on the east of the right of way of the Southern Railway, Co., about 1/2 mile from the town of New River, and being bounded now or formerly on the North by Est. of Thomas Shannon, deceased, on the East by lands of A. E. McKeown on the South by lands owned jointly by C. M. Shannon and H. M. Shannon, on the west by lands of H. W. Hatner and J. Cecil Shannon, and being the identical tract of land conveyed to said Thomas Shannon, by Thos. Shannon, by deed dated March 1st, 1880, as said deed is recorded in the Office of Clerk of Court for Chester County, S. C. in Vol. 55, page 785. Also an undivided one half interest in and to all that tract of land situated in Chester County, S. C. containing six acres, more or less, adjoining the lot of land just described herein above, bounded on the North by the 278 acre tract of Estate of Hiram M. Shannon, on the East by lands now or formerly of H. S. McKeown, on the South by lands now or formerly of H. S. McKeown or C. M. Shannon, and on the west by the right of way of Southern Railway Company, and being the identical land conveyed to C. M. Shannon and Hiram M. Shannon by O. F. Clinton by deed dated February 5th 1891, recorded in Volume 71 page 385, of the Clerk's Office Chester County, S. C.

All of that tract or parcel of land situated, lying and being in Chester County, S. C. about six and 1/2 acres of the City of Chester, S. BREAKS NECK IN FALL

WILMINGTON, Nov. 18.—News is received here that William McKinley Reid, aged 29, was fatally injured a few nights ago while out possum hunting with some friends near his home at Germantown, Stokes county. It appears that he had climbed a tree to secure one of the sullen little animals perched thereon, and had started to descend when the limb broke, throwing Reid to the ground. His neck was broken and death followed an hour later.

CARTER OF WINSTON SALEM, PRAISES KARNAK

"It's Fine—It Beats Any Man I Ever Saw—And Man Don't Have To Be Sick To Be Benefited By It," Says Prominent Man.

"I feel that one cannot invest a few dollars to better advantage than in taking a few bottles of Karnak," declares Cart. John J. Biggs, Superintendent of the Southern Bell Utilities Co., and prominent citizen of Winston-Salem, N. C., residing at 205 N. Main St.

"I have found that when a man takes a few days of rest, he is generally able to get the best of something to keep up his vim, vigor and vitality, and to ward off a general run-down condition into which he is liable to fall."

"It has been my custom for several years to take a bottle or two of some good tonic for this purpose, and I do not hesitate to say that I have never found it so good as Karnak from various other tonics I have ever taken."

"In a very short time it just seemed to give me a new appearance. I made my food taste good to me and built me up in strength and energy all over. It's fine—nothing I ever saw—and I don't hesitate to recommend it to my body."

"Karnak is sold in Chester exclusively by the Standard Pharmacy and by the leading drug stores in every town."

CLERK'S SALE

By virtue of a decretal order to me directed, I will sell in the Court House in Chester, S. C. Dec. 7th, 1925, at 11 A. M. the following described real estate to-wit:

All that tract or plantation of land, lying, being and situate in Bates House Township, County of Chester, State of South Carolina, containing one hundred and forty nine (149) acres, more or less, and known as the old John Smith home place, being bounded now or formerly by lands of William Sisk, J. D. Darby, John Wilkins and others.

Terms of Sale.

One-third of the purchase price to be paid in cash and the remaining two thirds to be paid in two equal annual installments, due one and two years respectively from date of sale, and that the deferred payments be evidenced by notes of the purchaser or purchasers secured by the mortgage of the premises sold. Purchaser to pay for all necessary papers, recording and stamps. Deferred payments shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum payable annually at the same rate until paid in full.

Purchaser must comply with his bid within one week upon failure to do so, the land shall be sold at the risk of the former purchaser, and should there be a default, the plaintiff shall have the right to recover from such defaulting purchaser or purchasers.

Sold in the suit of Mrs. Nannie M. Simpson, Mary Ester Simpson, Nella Simpson Shirley, and Louise O'Neal Simpson, vs. Paul Hardin, et al. For Foreclosure. J. E. CORNWELL, Clerk of Court, Chester, S. C. Nov. 20th, 1925.

Eat Prunes If You Wish To Grow Fat and Plump

This Man and Woman Do You Want To Get Fat And Plump? Strong?

The trouble with most thin folks, who wish to gain weight, is that they insist on "drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless 'flesh creams'; or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract properly assimilates the food you eat. Drink a glass of cold water four or five times a day and take the following preparation, known as Prunilone, and much remarkable testimony is given as to its successful use in flesh building. Prunilone takes meals to prepare fat, flesh and muscle building elements so that the blood can readily by accept and carry them to the starved portions of the body. You can readily picture the transformation that additional and previously lacking flesh-making material should bring to your cheeks.
