GOOD ROADS MEETING.

Meeting in Chester Last Friday To Advocate Road Between Charlotte and Columbia via Chester-Fairfield Joins In.

Good roads enthusiasts from all along the route from Charlotte to Columbia, including Fort Mill, Rock Hill, Chester, Woodward, White Oak and Winaboro, assembled here Friday and formed a permanent organization to improve and boost what will be known in the future as the Carolina Short Line Highway from Charlotte to Columbia for tourist travel.

The meeting was called by the good roads bureau of the Chester Chamber of Commerce and definite action at this time resulted from the recently authorized $500,000 bond issue in Fairfield county, which will make funds available to complete this through highway.

Officers elected are: Col. A. L. Gaston, president, Chester; Three vice presidents from Rock Hill, York, John T. Roddey and Dr. W. W. Pennell, Rock Hill; Col. J. Lee Spratt, Fort Mill; Robert C. E. R. Lutz, Chester; Fairfield, B. H. Hayward, Rion; W. A. Patrick, Woodward; and A. Gordon Johnstone, Winaboro; S. Adam Chester, is secretary.

With the completion of the road in the vicinity of Fort Mill, now under construction, and the Fairfield county line from Blackstock to Winaboro, this through route for a distance of 112 miles connecting Charlotte and Columbia, will be finished.

The officers will compose a board of directors, which will hold monthly meetings, and the association will meet semi-annually, with five delegates from each of the larger towns along the route and one delegate from the smaller towns to be named by the county vice president.

Col. A. L. Gaston of Chester, served as chairman of the meeting and H. B. Branch, secretary of the Chester Chamber of Commerce, presided. Secretary B. H. Hayward of Fair, Fairfield county, told of the recent success in his county of the $400,000 bond issue after a protracted fight. He also emphasized the value of the towns along this line cooperating in the interest of this project. Col. J. Lee Spratt of Fort Mill presided at the association that the people of Fort Mill township would see that "the highway is improved through the section to the Mecklenburg line, under the present bond issue of $100,000 and other plans that they have under way."

John T. Roddey of Rock Hill spoke enthusiastically in favor of the project as a whole and the great benefit to be derived from this highway. He pledged the support of the people of Rock Hill.

W. M. Frazier of White Oak, Fairfield county, said he voiced the sentiments of the people of his section in favor of this proposed through route and assured the meeting that the first work in Fairfield county under the new bond issue would be to improve the road from Blackstock to Winaboro.

SOUTH CAROLINA SCHOOL REVENUE AND POLL TAX RECEIPTS FALLING OFF

Otherwise Public School System Makes Good Showing in Annual Report of Superintendent

Columbia.—A splendid health record for the public school system of South Carolina is shown in the annual report of State Superintendent of Education J. M. Swearingen, which is now in the hands of the state printers, for presentation to the general assembly in January. This is Mr. Swearingen's last annual report as head of the public school system of the state.

The report shows that there are today 2,286 white schools, with 7,239 teachers, and with an average attendance of 17,742 pupils, for 149 school days. There are also 2,403 negro schools, with 3,755 teachers, with an average attendance of 17,415, for 77 school days.

The income for the school system for the report shows, was $10,562,700, and the cost of maintenance was $9,347,000. The net cost of education of the state's children is: white schools, $36,100, colored $4,177. A decrease in school revenues is prominent for the report. These totaled $57,532 from the high water mark of last year. The report also shows that though the state's population has increased, there was a fall of $11,001. The revenue from local school levies, however, increased $7,890, due to higher property values.

Regarding the seven-months' term of the legislature, Mr. Swearingen says, in answer to a criticism, "I do not think that an average salary of $100 a month is too high and that country children will not attend school seven months. The income for the school system is better things for our own children. Five-fifths of our population is rural. Public school staffs pay teachers a premium for their services. Lack of money to run eight months is the only excuse for a term of seven months. This equalizing law costs money and its retention will cost more money. Is this standard too high and are these advantages too good for the children of our farmers, our villages and our towns?"

The report shows that there is a splendid school building boom on in the state. The report shows that the plan for classroom space is not entirely taking care of the demand made great by the compulsory attendance law.

A Rainless Region Is Flooded. News of a cloudburst in the Sahara, with railway trains out of service, remains through the night and ten inches deep and passengers in their rescue from drowning, or at least from the fear of it, so violent a storm and a complete deluge, which the great African desert that it is almost unbelievable. That is because the familiar and accepted notions of that region are true of other parts of it, and of parts, too, that are not typical of the desert as a whole.

The Sahara is not, and is far from being, a vast stretch of sand, level except for dunes drifting about the winds. Only a little of it is like that, and the stories of caravans overwhelmed by sandstorms have next to no foundation in fact. The Sahara, in reality, is not any one thing, but almost everything that land can be except well watered and fertile. It is of elevations varying from 100 feet below sea level to 8,000 feet above it, and while no minor portion of it retains traces of the Sahara, it is not any one thing, but almost everything that land can be except well watered and fertile.

The exact center of the desert is rain entirely unknown, but often none falls for years, the cause being that the prevailing winds come from the center of the region to reach its edges, and so carry little moisture. The Sahara is steadily eroding, its boundaries receding, and its history, in some respects, is very considerable.

GEORGIA URGED TO MAKE ARSENATE FOR FARMERS

Bankers Association For State Owned Plant To Make Arsenate Prices Now Double That of Last Year.

A state-owned thalium arsenate plant was urged Thursday by group eight of the Georgia Bankers Association in resolutions adopted after perhaps the most enthusiastic session it ever held. Prominent bankers from Macon, Atlanta, Augusta, Athens and other cities were at the meeting, which was held at Hartwell.

Action on this question follows that taken by the State Board of Entomology, which a few days ago, after a long session, decided to build a manufacturing arsenate and that it be sold to the farmers cheap. If this is not done, it is claimed, Georgia farmers may expect a "hold-up" by a combination of interests now controlling the manufacture of arsenate.

While Georgia was able last year to make a contract for a supply of arsenate at a price of 10 cents per pound, the price that so far can be made is 14 cents for a small quantity, not nearly enough to meet the demands of next year, since arsenate has proved so effective in controlling the weevil.

Speakers declared that it appears the fixed price will be around 18 cents per pound, or just double what it cost the cotton farmers last year. It was pointed out that there is no justification in the claim that the increased price is due to inability to obtain the arsenic acid with which to make the goods, since that ingredient is obtainable from Sweden, Germany, or even right on the border of this state from Ducktown in sufficient quantity to take care of the needs of the state.

GENERAL KLAN SESSION OPENS IN ATLANTA

Hylan's Dramatic Order Causes Concern 1,000 Chapters Said to Be Represented.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 27.—Facing what is probably the greatest crisis in the history of the organization, the Imperial Klonoqon of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was called to order today. The meeting will last three days.

Secretary of the proceedings and only the most meagre reports are being given out as to the business transacted. It was announced, however, that nearly 1,000 chapters of the order were represented and that every section has its delegates. It is understood that important developments in New York, Louisiana and Kansas will be considered and that steps to combat Klan opposition will be discussed.

Coming on the heels of Mayor Hylan's order to clear the organization out of New York, The Klan order to proceed in Washington to see the President on the situation in Louisiana, the suggestion of Senator Walsh that the President issue an order for the Klan to disband, has caused great perturbation here. In addition, the fact that the Klan is almost locally involved, it would appear, in the courts, where a large number of litigations remain to be settled.

It is certain that the order will fight to the end any effort to disband it or drive it out of any State, holding that it is legally chartered and has the right to operate in every State in the Union.

An address delivered this afternoon by Imperial Wizard W. F. Simmons of the order was the chief feature of the first day's program. This is the first regular meeting of the Imperial Klonoqon, or supreme governing body of the organization, although a provisional meeting of that body was held last Spring in Atlanta. Sessions are being held in a pavilion on the grounds recently acquired by the order for the establishment of an American university on Howard's Mill Road.

STONEVILLE MAN ADMITS WRITING KU KLUX NOTES

Fagg Makes Full Apology in Affidavit in an Effort to Avoid Certain Prosecution.

Winston-Salem, Nov. 27.—Daniel W. Fagg, aged 23, son of the postmaster at Stoneville, Rockingham county, has made affidavit that he is the author of two threatening letters, one being sent to Principal Robert M. Scott, of the Stoneville high school, and the second to Professor Scott and Chairman Robert Grian, of the school board. One was signed "Ku Klux Klan" and the other, "Royal Brothers of the Ku Klux Klan."

The revelations which revealed the author were made by J. C. Gold, one of the state officers of the klau who stated this afternoon that Fagg might be indicted.

The affidavit, as signed by the young Stoneville man before a notary public, and addressed to the Stoneville man before a notary public, and addressed to the Stoneville school board reads:

"On November 1 and 10 certain threatening letters were written by me to Prof. Rob. M. Scott and Robert Grian, stating that certain conditions concerning the school at Stoneville must be changed or the life of both will be in danger. I hereby make a public apology to both of them if they will give me a chance. I will try to use my influence to right all wrong committed by me, and should I ever try again to interfere with the working of a state school I will be willing to stand prosecution. To the foregoing I set my hand and seal without fear this 21st day of November, 1922."

LIQUOR IN NEW YORK

Liquor continues to flow into New York City in great streams, despite the prohibition enforcement officials' smugglers which have been put into effect by different branches of the Federal Government and the police. Prohibition enforcement officials admit that liquors from other countries are coming into New York and vicinity in large quantities, and while aware of the difficulties that confront them, have not given up hope of ultimately winning the contest with the bootleggers.

Just at this time the bulk of the running-operations is said to be on Long Island, and Federal agents who have traversed every foot of the coast frankly admit that the contraband goods are being landed, transferred to waiting motor trucks to be brought into New York City. The force of agents is inadequate to patrol the coast, as would be required if the smugglers are to be immediately routed. "We can only do the best we can," one official put it, and he added, "but we are gradually clearing it up in the lawbreakers, and in the end we will come out victorious."

Montreal's bachelor tax, yielding $100,000 a year, was voted down. The vote stood 28 to 8 in support of an appeal to the provincial legislature to repeal the law.

"CYCLONE MACK" BESTS PROFESSIONAL WRESTLER

Kinston, Nov. 27.—"Cyclone" McLendon's latest feat, a public wrestling match with a professional from a carnival midway reported to have been staged at Clinton, has aroused much amusement here and elsewhere in the section. McLendon, a baby-faced, black-mantled South Carolina evangelist, wrestled with Saxon at the Sampson county town for some time; and then "took out" the mat artist for a diversion. It cost wrestling fans a dollar apiece to witness the bout, and they got their money's worth. There was no standing room left.

The wrestler was understood to have offered $1 a minute to the man who would "stay with him" 15 minutes. A quarter of an hour after the bout had started, McLendon was going strong, the sweating professional was satisfied and the crowd list was $18 richer.

DEFENDS SOUTH CAROLINA

The question of divorce which causes trouble in all States, except South Carolina is being discussed in the press, following an interview in the last issue of Pictorial Review with Martin W. Littleton, noted New York lawyer, in which he defends the practice. South Carolina is always cited as an example, usually unfavorably, and what Judge W. C. Bennett refers to as an old slander against the State is repeated again. Judge Bennett defends the State against and at the same time pays a tribute to the purity of her homes in the following communication to the New York Times:

To the Editor of the New York Times:

On the editorial page of last Sunday's Times, in the column entitled "Why Producers," there is a paragraph referring to divorce legislation in which you say therein in my State of South Carolina "concerning is recognized by law and directed by the State. You give us your authority The Pictorial Review. This is an old slander upon South Carolina which I had hoped was buried nearly twenty years ago, but it seems that the said Review has exhorted it. As I know something about its history, I trust you will allow me to give a brief sketch of its history.

Joel Prentiss Bishop, in his "New Commentaries on Marriage, Divorce and Separation," quotes part of an order dictum of a South Carolina judge who attempts to palliate the offense of adulterous living. But he does not quote what the Judge said in rendering the decision of the court, namely this: "It is an effect of the law to encourage vice and immorality or to legalize cohabitation."

When was the case he cites tried in 1818. What was the statute the court was passing upon? It was one entitled "An Act Against Bastardy," enacted in 1703, by "His Excellency John Granville, Esquire, Palatine, and the rest of the true and absolute lords and proprietors." The act was amended to include the mother of the bastard in 1756. But if a man with living wife or lawful children was not allowed to live a paramour or bastard more than one ## fourth of his property.

This is ancient history: An act passed in 1703, amended in 1795; discussed by the court in 1818; a statute so old that when I referred to it on a former occasion hardly a member of our bar or of our bench years of experience as lawyer and had heard of it. During my forty-odd Judge I have known of only one case of a conveyance made under that statute. It had become a dead letter, and yet Mr. Bishop revives it, with his verbs all in the present tense. He, Joel Prentiss Bishop, is the head and front of this offending President Woolsey, in his work on "Divorce and Divorce Legislation," quotes Bishop as his authority and merely echoes what Bishop says. He states that South Carolina has "winked at concubinage," and he gives it as his opinion that "the attitude taken by South Carolina in regard to divorce is due, not to any attachment to supposed commands of Christ in the New Testament, but to its State pride and the old patriarchal feeling of the original colony. This strange opinion is his own. I am not a South Carolina. I am a Scot by birth. I am influenced by no bias of blood or birth when I say in all sincerity and truth that in no country or Commonwealth with which I am acquainted is the atmosphere of family-life purer or cleaner than that which is breathed in the home of South Carolina. If the people of any other State "breathe the spirit of a purer air," happy is that state and blessed are the home and firesides therein. No need has that "State for a divorce court. Having for years held court in all the counties of South Carolina, I am familiarly acquainted with all sorts of conditions of the people. As it is my well-grounded belief that the moral atmosphere of South Carolina has preserved its remarkable cleanliness and purity not in spite of but because of her divorce law.

W. C. Bennett.

ELECTROCUTE JEFFORDS AT COLUMBIA DEC. 22

His Second Sentence; May Appeal to U. S. Supreme Court.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 27.—F. M. Jeffords, one of the trio convicted of the murder last May of C. C. Axtell, filling station proprietor, of this city, was today sentenced for the second time to the electric chair. Judge J. T. Manning in circuit finding the execution date as December 22. Jeffords' counsel, Mr. Southard, of Spartanburg, moved for a stay of the execution, but this was overruled. It is probable an appeal to the United States supreme court will be taken.

IRA Harrison, another of the trio, also sentenced to the chair, has appealed to the United States supreme court, and his appeal is pending. Glenn Tresselt, the third was sentenced to the penitentiary for life, and he is serving his sentence.

A WISE JUDGE.

It is not a new idea that there may exist an irreconcilable difference between the administration of law and the administration of justice. The law ought to be the broadest expression of the profoundest sentiments of justice which inspire our best minds. Of course, the majority of our laws are made without the most distant reference either to our sentiments of justice or our best minds. Anyone with common sense may witness a city government make laws; anyone with still more common sense may see the national government make laws; and after doing so, anyone may say whether the statement is true or false.

With admiration, therefore, do we record the appearance of a just judge in California, one who in justice tries to repair a wrong done without doubling the wrong. A man killed another through careless automobile driving. The man was fined and the man who was guilty of the killing had a job. No earthly use could possibly be served by committing the man to jail, to do no work but to remove one more man from the ranks of the useful producers of the world.

Besides, there was the problem of the family robbed of its breadwinner, which problem remained as stark and cruel as ever, not altered in the least by the written law being obeyed as to the imprisonment of the offender.

So the judge, in whom there is a profound sense of justice, as well as a very good mind, set the law to heel as much as possible the rent made in society, instead of tearing a wider rent by wrenching the man from his job and making him a convict. He said, "You are sentenced to remain on your job and pay this widow and her fatherless children one-half of your wages. Of every dollar you earn for five years, 50 cents of it shall go to help perform the responsibilities of the man of whose death you were the careless cause." The man only earns $5.00 a day, but he agreed. If he is a right-minded man, he doubtless is truly satisfied that he can expend in a more helpful way than by mere stupid prison life.

There is something about justice which we haven't yet grasped. Justice does not merely penalize. Justice also sets right, it repairs, restores. It is justice that the damage should be restored. How much justice is there in our common codes?—Dearborn Independent.

BOARD MAKES REPORT

Board of Public Welfare Finds Instances of Unmerciful Whipping and Harsh Treatment in Penitentiary Severely Disciplined, they say—Conditions Not Satisfactory.

Instances of unmerciful whipping and harsh treatment in the penitentiary, a seemingly fixed idea that harsh treatment is the only way to get results, and a general unsatisfactory condition were found by a committee of the state board of public welfare in its recent investigation of the state prison, according to the report made public by Governor Harrey.

This report was adopted by the full board at its meeting here this week after a long discussion on the merits of the statements made, some of which were stricken out after careful consideration.

The quarters for women are not only poor, but disgraceful, the report declared. "Here the white and colored women are confined, when not working, in an upper story that has two flights of wooden stairs to be climbed. It should fire break out in the building there would be a holocaust that would horrify the state."

Discipline at the penitentiary is based largely upon the personal likes and dislikes of the captain of the guard, is extremely severe and tends to no reforming of the prisoners, the report says. The report deals with the recent riot at the prison, when one prisoner was killed and several injured, and declares that "a cool, intelligent handling of the matter would have easily prevented this deplorable incident." Incidents of where men are whipped unmercifully and put in solitary confinement in filthy cells on bread and water for periods of up to 15 days were found by the committee, the report says. "An incident of recent occurrence was that of a man named [redacted] who was arrested and made to sleep with handcuffs on."

No proper records are kept and the business management of the prison, including the two farms, is such that it does not seem to add to the efficiency of the fiscal plant, but decreases the efficiency, the report declares.

Divided authority between the board of directors and the superintendent, both responsible to the legislature, and neither having power over the other, is assigned as one reason for the apparent lack of successful operation. Living and sanitary conditions are not as they should be, the board finds.

The board makes a number of recommendations to relieve the present condition. A reasonable system of discipline with printed rules to follow should be set up, a varied and sufficient ration should be furnished, provision for personal hygiene should be made, individual records should be kept of each prisoner, better industries for recreation should be made, proper provision should be made for the women prisoners and "the introduction of a more cheerful disposition in the staff and a more humane attitude toward the prisoners" are among the recommendations made.

The report was the second to be made following the recent riot, the first not being acceptable to the full board and not dealing with specific facts sufficient to warrant its adoption. It was said yesterday, Dr. C. C. Geer of Greenville and C. W. Coker of Hartsville were the members of the sub-committee making the investigation and report.

WILLIAM ROCKEFELLER DIES OF PNEUMONIA

New York, Nov. 30.—William Goodell Rockefeller, son of the late William Rockefeller, died of pneumonia at his New York home today. He was a former treasurer of the Standard Oil Company of New York.

That Mr. Rockefeller had been seriously ill was not generally known. He was stricken last Monday afternoon after he had gone from his offices, complaining that he felt slightly ill.

He was born in New York in 1870 and was graduated from Yale and in 1892 was married to Ellsie Stillman, daughter of the late capitalist.

In 1916 Mr. Rockefeller became treasurer of the Standard Oil Company of New York, which office he resigned in 1911 to engage in banking and other financial enterprises.

SEEKS TO ENFORCE HOTEL PAYMENTS

Subscribers to Capital Stock Fall to Meet Alleged Obligations.

Charleston, Nov. 29.—The Francis Marion Hotel corporation has placed into the hands of Sheriff Poinot summons and complaints in 54 cases where subscribers to the capital stock of the hotel have failed, it is alleged, to make payments as agreed in their subscriptions. The sum of $80,000 is understood to be involved in these proceedings, and the corporation plans to press legal steps in justice to enforce payment.

This procedure was taken, it is stated, in efforts to the many subscribers who have kept up with their payments as agreed, and also to facilitate the original plan of financing the project.

So far, four payments of 20 percent each have been called for, and in a big majority of cases the subscribers have paid in accordance with the terms under which they subscribed to the stock. Where all other efforts have failed, the corporation plans to take whatever legal steps are necessary.

The fifth and last payment will be due on December 1, amounting to approximately $100,000. The last several payments have been called for at intervals of 60 days. In the meantime, construction is being made in the building and the hotel building is assuming impressive proportions.

MARION DEVELOPS FIGHTING SPIRIT

Meeting Held to Generate Pep for Clash With Batesburg-Levellille Today.

Marion, Nov. 30.—In anticipation of the game with Batesburg-Levellille high school, which is to be played in Florence Friday afternoon and will decide which of the two contending teams is to play Charleston in the lower South Carolina championship, a pep meeting was held in the school auditorium yesterday afternoon and by means of cheering, yells and speech making the enthusiasm for the team, the school and the town was raised to a high pitch.

Business men were in attendance and exhibited by their presence an interest in school athletics. President H. S. McCandlish of the chamber of commerce made a stirring talk. He directed his words both to those who would fight Marion to battle on the sidelines and to those who would fight it on the gridiron. He admonished the undefeated Foxes above all not to be overconfident. F. W. Johnson, editor of the Marion Star, with characteristic ability, made all present glow with pride at the achievements of the team and filled them with a bubbling, blisterous enthusiasm.

D. A. Layton, who has interested himself in securing a special train to run from Mullins to Florence for the game, announced that the special would leave Marion around 1:30 o'clock and that round trip tickets for adults would probably be $1.15. The train will depart immediately after the game.

C. C. Eastling, superintendent of Marion schools, presided at the meeting and spoke in an inspiring vein. C. B. Seaborn, chairman of the Marion Foxes, furnished some intimate lights on the individual members of the team and succeeded in arousing considerable spirit. In the capacity of their leader he elicited from the students ear splitting yells.

Marionites will attend the game in Florence Friday afternoon in numbers. They are not confident of victory but exceedingly hopeful.

THE RIGHT OF SELF PROTECTION

How far may members of a trade or industry band together to protect themselves? This question is asked of the courts in a proceeding instituted on November 8 by the Department of Justice under the Sherman act against the members of an association of fur dressers, and the government's lawyers allow the rule that only cash sales are to be made, and no credit is to be given to persons who have failed to pay their bills arising on earlier transactions. Another feature of the rule, the government says, was a requirement that each member should deposit $500, to be forfeited if he made a sale on credit. The government also says, was a requirement that all sales should be on a cash basis.

This case may raise interesting questions about the extent members of an industry can act jointly for their protection against predatory attacks. Presumably, if they best of a gang of bandits that flourished revolvers and blackjacks they would not be violating the law by restraining trade. People who buy merchandise with no intention to pay for it but to escape through fraudulent bankruptcy and the sort of thing are just as predatory as any other variety of bandit who acts on the theory that the world owes him a living which he is free to collect by force or fraud. Perhaps the decision in the case will disclose something about the extent in which the last-riding may act for their self-protection.—The Nation's Business.

Revival Grows in Interest.

The Big Tent Revival at the Baldwin Mills is growing in interest. A large crowd was present last night and listened attentively to an address by Evangelist C. M. Morris, one of the Unchangeable Christ. Scores of Christians came forward after the service pledging themselves to live a more consecrated life. A very attractive and inspiring feature of this service was the singing of the Evangelist Quartet from Chester. This quartet will sing again on Friday night or as soon as a return is possible.

Today a children's service will be conducted at 3 P. M. by Evangelist Morris. Rev. Crech who is Thanksgiving at his Orphanage in Spartanburg is expected to return today and preach every evening at 7:30 P. M.

A number of Chester people were present last night and others have promised to attend having known of Mr. Crech in his boyhood days and having heard of the splendid meeting in progress.

Every one is invited to attend. The tent is well heated and comfortable and has been pitched next to the Methodist church.

CHESTER LOST TO SHELBY

Chester Team Lost to Shelby Yesterday by a Score of 12 to 6—Boys' High in Praise of Shelby Football.

The Chester High School football team went to Shelby yesterday where they played the Shelby boys' Chester lost to the North Carolinian by a score of 12 to 6, in a well played game, in which good sportsmanship was shown throughout.

The Chester players and a number of fans who accompanied the team to Shelby return home with the high est of praise for the Shelby team and the Shelby people who were exceedingly cordial to the Chester people and showed them a good time while in their city.

Unfortunately for Chester four of its very varsity men were unable to be in the Shelby game. Several of Chester's first string men are suffering with colds and Coach Magill thought it best that they not take any chance by playing in the game yesterday.

A dispatch from Shelby with reference to the game reads as follows: "Shelby high school closed a successful football season here today by winning over Chester high, runner-up in the South Carolina high school championship race, by score 12 to 6. The game was featured by wonderful defensive work of both teams. Shelby got the jump on their South Carolina opponents and scored the touchdown in three minutes of play. From then on the game was evenly matched, both teams making first downs only occasionally. Collins made Chester's only touchdown on a 25-yard run. Over 1,000 people saw the game which was interesting throughout. Citizens of Shelby gave a banquet to the Shelby and Chester teams tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Webb, on Fallston road."

FLAMES DESTROY SCHOOL IN FELZER
Anderlin, Nov. 30.—Fire, originating in the grammar school building at Pelzer this morning around 8 o'clock, completely destroyed the building, slightly damaged another nearby and destroyed a moving picture theater, the latter being owned by the Pelzer company. The damage done by the fire was estimated at $15,000, it was stated early this afternoon. The loss was covered by insurance, according to reports.

West Monroeville, La., August 12, 1922.

THE S. M. JONES CO. Chester, S. C.

GENTLEMEN—I am pleased to advise you that Rochette's Pioneer Feed No. 40994, has just completed a 365 day Register of Merit Test, with the following results:

9193.3 lb. Milk. 624.89 lbs.—85 per ct. Butter

This record makes her the Senior Three-year old Champion for the State of Louisiana.

We began using your Purina Cow Chow about October 1st, 1921, having started this cow on a home-mixed ration. We immediately saw better results, and used Cow Chow right along, until we were induced to try "something better, and at a much cheaper price." Her production went down nearly a gallon a day, and we were unable to recover this loss until we got her back on Cow Chow. Since that time, she has been fed Cow Chow exclusively, and given as much as 18 pounds per day. She was never off feed during the entire test.

I do not hesitate to say that Cow Chow is the best dairy ration we have ever used, and we've tried 'em all, and while the price per ton or bag is somewhat higher than most other rations, I can readily see now, that it is well worth a great deal more than the majority of them, and its genuine qualities are long remembered after the price is forgotten.

I take pleasure in recommending Purina Cow Chow to any dairyman or individual, who is looking for real production, better feeding, and good condition of their cows.

Yours very truly,

FRED DE BROCC, Herdsman.

Sales Are New on Sale at the Chester Drug Store, for Coburn's Minaret, which will be seen at the Chester Opera House next Tuesday, December 19th. Get your seats early before they are all gone. Mr. Coburn and company will arrive in Chester over the Rock Hill train on Wednesday at 2:15 o'clock and will immediately stage a parade through the principal streets of the city.

Many Chester people motored to Rock Hill yesterday to witness the game of football between Gaffney and Rock Hill. The game, started promptly at 2:30 o'clock and lasted 1 1/2 hours, the score being 12 to 14 in favor of the Rock Hill team.

There is no question but that Gaffney played the Rock Hill team from start to finish, with a score of 12 to 6 in favor of Gaffney, Stock for Rock Hill, interposed a forward pass and got away for a touchdown pass about 95 yards, which tied the score. This score was made in the last minutes of the game. Gaffney had a special train of five cars, which left Rock Hill. The crowd was a very orderly one, however, one fight was registered on the Gaffney side but amounted to very little, as to what the next game between Rock Hill and Gaffney will be played will probably be settled by the High School committee of the High School League, which meets in Columbia at the Jefferson Hotel tonight.

Great Falls officers had an exciting game after a touring car which contained thirty-six quarts of Scotch whiskey Wednesday. The car broke down between Chester and Great Falls and the officers captured the car, whiskey and two men, Robinson and Ojeger, of Columbia.

The whiskey was carried back to Great Falls and locked up in Magistrate Haynes' office, and the officers with the two men captured came to Chester where bond was arranged. During the absence of the Great Falls officers some one broke into Magistrate Haynes' office and secured the whiskey.

It is authoritatively stated that the men holding responsible positions at Great Falls have been discharged from their positions in connection with the matter.

Horace L. Johnson of York, a state constable, who was recently suspended by Governor Harvey, was Wednesday reinstated and will resume his work with the constabulary, it was announced at the executive office. Mr. Johnson has been a state constable for a number of years. He was suspended following charges that he had been intoxicated while driving a machine in the roads of York county. The governor also made an investigation of other alleged acts of Mr. Johnson. The grand jury of York county and leading members of the York bar, recommended Mr. Johnson's reinstatement, and after a conference with the officer, at which time certain pledges were made by the constable, the governor announced he would remove the suspension. In commenting upon the removal of the suspension, the governor said he did not expect further cause for complaint.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the State High School League will be held at the Jefferson Hotel in Columbia, tonight, at which time the eligibility of certain players in the Catawba Association, which was formed by the football committee recently is well known to our readers. ## One Reason For Mounting Sales

Hupmobile reliability, dashing performance, long life, low costs, these are all important reasons for the unprecedented sales records which the Hupmobile is making.

There is another reason, even more important.

Owners of cars whose first cost is less, are finding that they can obtain much more motor car economy and enjoyment in the Hupmobile for a slightly higher original price.

Owners of higher priced cars are discovering that the Hupmobile gives them all the practical advantages that costlier cars can give.

Hupmobile value makes powerful appeal to both classes of buyers

THE BEST DIVORCE LAW.

South Carolina enjoys a distinction among all the States of the Nation that is alike unique and honorable. There is no divorce law in that State. Contracting couples in South Carolina make a life bargain. There is no putting aside of a husband by a wife, or of a wife by a husband. Consequently, the records of South Carolina are free from divorces that have become rampant throughout the country. Marriage in South Carolina is regarded as a sacred institution and one for which the State demands respect. Hasty marriages are few in that State and the records are free from divorces. Recently there has been started all agitation for a uniform divorce law, and Congress is to be petitioned. Un- doubtedly, uniformity in divorce laws would be a desirable thing. The trouble to be anticipated is upon the basis of uniformity should be established. There are no very good laws in any State, and the best efforts of collaboration might not produce the kind of law that the country wants. The Tiersman should be sufficient to prove to the people that a crying need of the law is reform in divorce proceedings. The Tiersman affairs constitute a scandal of most repulsive characteristics and bring the sacred rite of matrimony into scorn. The Observer believes it could point out a practical and effective solution of the divorce problem. Let Congress pass a uniform law for the Nation. It need not devise and revise and collaborate, for it has a divorce law ready to hand that would settle the question as it should be settled. That is the South Carolina law. There is only one way in which the "divorce evil" may be wiped out, and that is to prohibit divorces under any circumstances. Let the marriage stand for good or for evil. Application of the South Carolina divorce law to the entire country would wipe out the trouble at one fell swoop and rid the Nation of a cloud of scandal and unhappiness that is growing thicker and more overwhelming as the years pass by. Certainly, if we could not compromise on the South Carolina law, some measure must be enacted which would prevent such exhibitions in wedding and divorce as that recently staged by the Tiersman.

The best divorce law is the law that is wiped on the statute books. —Charlotte Observer.

THE IRREGULAR HEART.

Few physical ills are more alarming at first than an intermittent heart. As a general rule the person whose heart is irregular is "more frightened than hurt." Most people with irregular hearts live to a good old age or at least do not die of heart disease. The irregularity of heartbeat may be irregularly either in the rhythm or in force. The irregularities in force are a many cause and more dangerous. What is called the alternating pulse is of that character, a fairly strong beat alternating with a weak or almost imperceptible beat. The alternating pulse occurs usually only in cases of serious disease and points to a loss of power, or degeneration of the heart muscle. A very rapid pulse caused by anxiety or violent muscular effort is perfectly normal and slows down gradually when the exciting cause has passed. More serious is the rapid pulse that occurs in attacks without any apparent cause and that then subsides spontaneously.

Persons sometimes have a habitually rapid pulse—from ninety to a hundred beats or more a minute—from the middle of the day on to bedtime and after. In many cases too much smoking is the cause. An occasional intermittence in the heart beat occurring at irregular intervals is not uncommon, but although it usually is of no serious import it causes much mental distress. Often it is merely the result of some digestive disturbance and can usually be relieved temporarily by a dose of castor oil. A person whose heart is intermittent should always consult a physician, for there is a form called "heart block" that is significant of real heart trouble.

Artificial fibrillation is an alarming condition in which the smaller chambers of the heart are twitching and jerking without any effectual contractions; the twitchings are irregular and are very rapid, two or three hundred times a minute. Artificial flutter is similar, though the contractions, which are exceedingly rapid, are more regular. In children, and in some adults, the pulses are more rapid during the drawing of the breath and less rapid with expiration. The condition has no dangerous significance.

Creo-pine Shingles Show a Smaller Upkeep Cost than any other form of Roofing. Wooden shingles when properly treated are the ideal roofing material. By the high power hydraulic process of creating Creo-pine shingles the undiluted creosote oil thoroughly penetrates the pores of the wood so that fire, rain, frost, or sun cannot cause decay or rot. Nails driven into untreated shingles rust and wear loose causing leaks in the roof. Nails driven in Creo-pine shingles do not rust and hold firmly for many years. Boofs of Creo-pine shingles have been in service for fifteen years with no upkeep whatever, and at the end of that time were in good condition. Creo-pine shingles are very little, if any, higher than heart pine shingles, cheaper than red cedar shingles and composition roofing and last much longer. They are cleaner to handle than dipped shingles and make a neat, attractive, slate roof appearance. Call on us and let us tell you all about the Creo-Pine Shingles. Chester Machine & Lumber Co.

Create a Demand. If every person in Chester county would confine their expenditures to the absolute necessities of life, many mercantile establishments would have to close their doors. The amount of business done in a community depends upon the demand of the people. Thousands of dollars are being spent throughout the country giving publicity to various articles, with the view of creating a demand. Merchants could advertise their business thereby creating a demand for the various articles they sell. Eskimo pies are a luxury, yet the manufacturers made millions by advertising and creating a demand. The less advertising merchants do the less demand they have for their goods.
