10-22-1965

The Johnsonian October 22, 1966

Winthrop University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/thejohnsonian1960s

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/thejohnsonian1960s/104

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the The Johnsonian at Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Johnsonian 1960-1969 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. For more information, please contact bramed@winthrop.edu.
Guest Instructors To Hold Golf Clinic

A Golf Clinic sponsored by the physical education department will be held on Thursday and Friday, Ruth Burgio, associate professor of physical and golf classes, announced.

Two guest instructors, Miss Ellen Griffin and Miss Darlene Anderson, will conduct the clinic at the Audubon Club at the two-day program. Both are nationally recognized in the game of golfing field.

The clinic will begin at 7 p.m. on Thursday with a program for visitors and end at 9 p.m. with a tournament. Both sessions will be held in the gym in the Audubon Club.

The Clinic will be open to all men and women golfers from 18 to 80 years old. All entries must be made in writing to the Admission Office by Thursday, Oct. 16. Entries will be numbered and winners announced at the end of the clinic.

The tournament will consist of 36 holes, with all prizes given for the best score. There will be a separate tournament for women and men. The entry fee is $5 for each participant.

The clinic will be limited to 20 participants, and a waiting list will be kept for those who do not qualify. Entries are due by the end of the month.

The Johnsonian will announce the names of winners at the end of the clinic.

Local Business

"Don Giovanni" To Be Presented

The Goldovsky Grand Opera Company, conducted by Benno Conato, will present Mozart's "Don Giovanni" Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Little Theatre. Miss Conato and his company will be in residence for two weeks.

The Goldovsky Grand Opera Company, which has been touring the world, will present Mozart's "Don Giovanni" Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Little Theatre. Miss Conato and his company will be in residence for two weeks.

The program will consist of four acts, with the opera concluding at 11:30 p.m.

"Don Giovanni" is one of the masterpieces of opera, with music that is both dramatic and lyrical. The opera is based on the scandalous life of a Don Giovanni, a character who is both fascinating and tragic. The opera is set in Italy and Spain and features a large cast of characters, including a young man named Don Juan, a young woman named Donna Elvira, and a number of other characters who are all affected by the Don's seductive ways.

The Don Giovanni company will be in residence for two weeks, with performances each night at 8 o'clock.

The Johnsonian will present the opera in a series of articles, which will appear each week, beginning with this issue.

On the Against and For Side

"Who's Whom" Nominations Announced By Dean's Office

Thirty-four seniors were recently recommended as nominees of the Scholar's Society to be elected to the 1957 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities." The list includes four students in the School of Home Economics, Economics, Finance, and Business Administration.

They also extended the building of the annual "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities." The list includes four students in the School of Home Economics, Economics, Finance, and Business Administration.

Andersen, Ridings To Present Exhibit

The Andersen-Ridings exhibit, which will be open during the month of December, will feature the works of two local artists. The exhibit will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and will close on December 31st.

The Johnsonian has been circulating throughout the year and will continue to do so until the end of the year. The Johnsonian will also publish a special edition in honor of the 50th anniversary of the school.

The "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities" is the first of its kind in the country. The list includes 25,000 students from 200 colleges and universities across the United States.

The Johnsonian will continue to circulate throughout the year and will publish a special edition in honor of the 50th anniversary of the school.

A student may be nominated for inclusion in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities" by writing a recommendation letter to the college's dean or director. The letter must be dated and signed by the student's dean or director.

The Johnsonian is distributed free of charge to all students and alumni of the school. The Johnsonian is also available for purchase at the school's bookstore.
Useless Kitchens

Once again we feel compelled to speak on a subject that is of concern to almost all students on this campus. The matter of stealing has once again been brought to our attention. Our continued fight to save the kitchen privileges of this campus has once again been emphasized by the theft of several cooking utensils, such as pots and pans.

Now, approximately one year later, a student who wishes to use these kitchen facilities must supply the proper list of the equipment he is taking from the college. This has been done in an effort to prevent further instances of theft. The college officials have not been able to control this problem by simply returning the equipment. It has been decided that the students who wish to use the facilities must supply the equipment they wish to take. The equipment will be checked out to the student in exchange for a receipt. The student will be responsible for the equipment until it is returned.

If future thefts are caused by the misuse of the facilities, we will have to include additional equipment that will be checked out to the student. The equipment will be checked out to the student in exchange for a receipt. The student will be responsible for the equipment until it is returned.

Bicycle Theft

A growing concern for some students on campus is the disappearance of their bicycles for periods of an hour or two. At times the bicycles are never returned at all.

Students have been using bicycles for a considerable period of time and the problem of "borrowing" has gotten worse. It has been a common thing to leave a bike parked outside a classroom and come out after a class only to find that someone else had ridden it off. A considerable amount of time must then be spent trying to locate it, often finding it at distant parts of the campus.

It is entirely possible that the students who take the bicycles do so under the mistaken impression that they belong to the Winthrop Recreation Association. But WRA members are clearly marked and are kept in certain stations. It would only take a minute or two to ascertain if the bike was a private one.

Special area to park bicycles, perhaps a central area, is now considered for this year. Perhaps this would tend to solve the problem; certainly it would be better than leaving the bicycles unattended in the halls for even a short period of time.

—P.E.W.

In an address entitled "Should There Be a Coeducation Program for Winthrop Students," director of the Winthrop College women's dormitory, Mr. Douglas Johnson, said that "the treatment of students is not lessening from campus to campus." He also said that the women are being educated to a greater extent and are becoming more active in the education of the men. He also stated that the students have a greater amount of freedom to live in a coeducational setting.

The statement was made that there is a greater amount of freedom to live in a coeducational setting. The statement was made that there is a greater amount of freedom to live in a coeducational setting. The statement was made that there is a greater amount of freedom to live in a coeducational setting.

In a recent survey conducted by the Educational Research Bureau, it was found that the percentage of students who are coeducational was greater than that of the percentage of students who are single-sex. The survey also found that the percentage of students who are coeducational was greater than that of the percentage of students who are single-sex.

The survey was conducted by the Educational Research Bureau, which is a research organization that conducts surveys on educational issues. The survey was conducted by the Educational Research Bureau, which is a research organization that conducts surveys on educational issues. The survey was conducted by the Educational Research Bureau, which is a research organization that conducts surveys on educational issues.
Family Of Felines

Observe Campus Life

Western isn’t all books and classes as you will soon tire of the long hours spent in the library. Here are four pleasant students who enjoy the delights and employment nearby.

Angela Long, Mrs. Caroline Breware, employee of the library, and black kittens are about three months old. But this fall’s first time the mother has chosen them.

Letters To The Editor

Glasses, glasses, glasses on the nose A line of friends in campustalk

Elinor’s

Access from W. F. S.

JUMPERS ARE JUMPING

The thrice-weekly column on campus happiness—quite a change from the usual readings. The thrice-weekly students were the last to be asked before the column began.

UCHILL-CROSBY — A litter of campus rats are evolving proper breast forms that those who keep them on the way in class, Miss Eileen and Claire Coy are shown leading them down the hall.

KING’S AND QUEENS — A litter of campus rats are evolving proper breast forms that those who keep them on the way in class, Miss Eileen and Claire Coy are shown leading them down the hall.

News Shorts

Dr. Edwards Attends State Meeting To Discuss Mental Health Problems

By Pat Williams

John Spence, in charge of the Dr. Brooks Jewelers

and Gift Shop

NEW SHIPMENT

Pierced Earrings—Come on, Jade, moss Onyx and Hundreds of others

KING’S AND QUEENS — A litter of campus rats are evolving proper breast forms that those who keep them on the way in class, Miss Eileen and Claire Coy are shown leading them down the hall.

KING’S AND QUEENS — A litter of campus rats are evolving proper breast forms that those who keep them on the way in class, Miss Eileen and Claire Coy are shown leading them down the hall.

KING’S AND QUEENS — A litter of campus rats are evolving proper breast forms that those who keep them on the way in class, Miss Eileen and Claire Coy are shown leading them down the hall.

KING’S AND QUEENS — A litter of campus rats are evolving proper breast forms that those who keep them on the way in class, Miss Eileen and Claire Coy are shown leading them down the hall.
Carnegie Library Has Original Copy Of 'Dixie'

by JERSEY REICHOLT

The tune of the familiar song "Dixie" was written by the hand of Professor Herman E. Dudley in 1862, while he was a student at Stetson University at DeLand, Florida. The original manuscript, written in his own hand, was found among the papers of his grandson, Edward Dudley, at the Stetson University Library.

The song was written as a patriotic song for the Union Army during the Civil War, and it quickly became popular throughout the United States. It was later adopted as the state song of Tennessee and is still sung at many events today.

For more information on the history of "Dixie," visit the Stetson University Library's website or contact them directly.

---

BSU To Attend State Meeting

Several Workshop students will be among those attending the BSU Workshop at South Carolina colleges and universities on the 4th of July. BSU Workshop will be held at the Fairfax County Agricultural and Extension Service in Virginia.

The BSU Workshop is held annually and is a unique opportunity for students to network and learn about the latest developments in their field. It is a great opportunity for students to gain valuable experience and make connections with other professionals.

For more information on the BSU Workshop, visit the BSU website or contact them directly.