JOSEPH SCHERER TO LECTURE ON JAPAN

"Romantic Cambodia and Angkor Vat" Subject of Second Address

PRESENTS ILLUSTRATIONS

Life of Thirty-Three-Year-Old Journalist Varied and Colorful

Joseph Scherer, journalist, world traveler, author, and lecturer, will present two lectures, "Japan and Its Intimate Home Life," and "Romantic Cambodia and Angkor Vat," in Main Auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings, March 21 and 22, respectively, at 8 o'clock.

Scherer has recently returned from a world tour of eight months, during which he gave lectures in English, German, French, Italian, Esperanto, and Swiss German.

This thirty-three-year-old globe-trotter has spoken before the Arabs in Egyptian oases, and in castles of nobility in Europe. His pictures were admired by the Khmers of Indo-China and by the inhabitants of Arctic Norway. Often in Europe, he appeared three or four times in a single day; in Vienna, Austria, he gave ten lectures in four days. He has a collection of over two thousand excellent press comments in Japanese, Malay, Arabic, Turkish, and twenty-five other languages. One-wheel cars and aeroplanes, donkeys and automobiles, camels and railroads, elephants and sleds, have all been used by Mr. Scherer to reach the next town in time for a lecture.

"Japan and Its Intimate Home Life" will be accompanied by two hundred "Life Pictures" showing the people in their homes, and including rare views of Japan, its industries, temples, and shrines. In his talk, "Romantic Cambodia and Angkor Vat," he will start with Saigon, the Paris of the Far East; then he will discuss jungles, huge tropical rivers, native village life, interiors of royal palaces, temples, and beautiful, and last of all, Angkor Vat, the immense mystery temple.

DR. WALLACE SPEAKS ON CAROLINA HISTORY

Educator Traces Growth of Individualism and State Pride in South Carolina

Dr. D. D. Wallace, of Wofford College, who is writing a history of South Carolina, spoke in chapel Friday, March 8. Dr. Wallace summarized the history of South Carolina as follows: "The strength of a people is composed of its history."

Dr. Wallace stated that history may be studied for intellectual pleasure and for inspiration. He concluded by saying that to teach American history is always difficult without seeming to inculcate in the study hatred against England.

In discussing the development of South Carolina, "the Historic State," Dr. Wallace traced the development of individualism and state pride through the provincial colonial era and the aristocratic republic to the modern democracy.

In conclusion Dr. Wallace stressed the importance of the study of economic history of the state as of especial value to the young student.

JUNIOR POLLES

The Junior Class of Winthrop College presents the Junior Polles, Tuesday evening, March 26. Unusual acting, unusual singing, unusual dancing, unusual costumes—that's why the Polles are usually good this year. You'll laugh, you'll shout, you'll yawn, the ripping, roaring, racing Junior Polles. "All For Love" is sensational; it's what everyone is looking for. It's great! It's swell! Don't miss the Junior Polles!

FURMAN AND WINTHROP MEET; NON-DECISION

First Debate Between the Two Colleges in Several Years Held Wednesday

Winthrop debated Furman University in Clio Hall, Wednesday evening, March 13, at 8:30 o'clock, on the query, Resolved: "That the nations of the world should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions."

The Furman team, upholding the affirmative side was composed of Ellison and McCall. Their contention was that the prevention of international shipment of arms would lessen wars and possibilities of wars, and would be both practical and beneficial under the plan proposed.

The Winthrop team, composed of Billie Cole and Martha Moore, supported the negative side of the query by attacking the affirmative contention and by asserting that greater evils than the present ones would arise under the proposed plan.

The debate was a non-decision one.

News-Y's and Other Y's

Spring is coming—through spasmodically, we admit—and once more it's time to begin thinking seriously about elections. Call in the neighbors before it's too late and get involved in some heated ball sessions—the best man at them was, so pick out the best man now.

Have been hearing rumors about another formal Y. W. C. A. Yea. It is to be in honor of the science department this time, and we hope those who receive invitations will not disregard them, as a great many have done heretofore. We really do want you, and after all, the activities of the Y. W. C. A. are for you. We also hear rumors of something "extra special" in the way of refreshments, so try to come—you can help enjoying it.

The social committee gave a swimming party a couple of days ago—another one of those "come-and-bring-a-trifle" affairs. Refreshments were served in paper bags and a good time was had by all. Then there was the "pop" party which took place in the Freshman Cabinet—and the Y. Cabinet had a steak supper at the shack Tuesday night. (Hope they were good swimmers—or maybe they came back before the rain got too deep for high-water wading).

It sort of sends a thrill down your spine to think that plans for Barstow-Y. M.-Y. W. Retreat—are about to be underway. Those of us who went last year are still talking about it.

We're looking forward to having the Clemson Deputation this coming Sunday night. Clemson always has a worthwhile message to bring us and we enjoy having them here. Our Deputation team has made two trips now—one to Clemson and one to Carolina—and were glad Winthrop is able to participate in these legislative activities. We like to make a name for ourselves, too.

Anybody still wondering if she has given up the right thing for Lent? Why not attend some of the reading groups and good things going up the bi-weekly sandwich.

The second in Mr. Marion's series of lectures on "The Life of Christ" will be held Sunday night in Johnson Hall. And the children is selling "Post Toasties" now—or "cornflakes" if you prefer.

C., Carolina.

Amateur Spirit Medium—Now, folks, we will have a little séance. I've been practicing up as a medium.

Company—Oh, that will be saved.

Medium—Now, spirits are so active! I see them here, here, here. If you are not there knock three times.

Gym-Cracks

Those basketball games last week were marvelous. Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen did some grand playing!

Highlights of the games:

Romula Mathis being present with two flying legs instead of the ball... Eleanor King causing "breezers" to blow these Freshies over the boundary line... Marjorie Mitchell and Katie Coker ringering goals from far and near the backboard... Sunshine Pierce trying to look over, around, or through "Freshies" Dautler... Julia Thomas taking great sides on one bounce... "Bo" and "Flo" against "Touchy" and Caroline Shaw... Marjorie McMeekin playing the Freshman games from the sideline... And so on and so on—

Highlights of names for Physical Education:

"Athletic Majors," "Physical Culture Majors," "Phys (fuz) Ed Majors," "Gym Majors." For further information refer to Virginia McKeliken and Annie Rosenblum!

If anyone has heard of "Beechot & Ball Insurance" please send all possible information to the instructor and assistant coaches of the 4th period Tuesday-Thursday tennis class.

Jobs of the week:

Miss Hoffman: "If you're ready to have me as your name?" Miss H: "Ray." (Rachel Ray) Miss H: "Name please?" Miss H: "Oh, pardon me, hey!"

Swimming meet is only two weeks and four days away so all you get in on "swimmed" time!

After swimming, comes Baseball, Tennis, Bowling has already started. Individual sports will get going—now tell me there isn't something for everyone!

Dormitory spirit seems much higher than last class spirit. We think that is grand, but why not a little more enthusiasm in backing one's class team?

North walked away with the dormitory tournament—who wouldn't with Nell, Sil, and Mary forwarding—and guards, good, too.

Marjorie McMeekin and Mary Wright make up a dweil! Dot Harrelson of South isn't such a bad player, either!

Which reminds me: someone was golly rebuffing "Little Nell" about not talking her own while she abd. The reply: "Why make goals, they only stop up the game!"

Greensboro! Greensboro! That's the rage at present—and why? Polly McNeill, Eleanor King, Mary Johnstone, Dot Manning, Sunshine Pierce, Cat Nelson, Sara Touchberry, Chieora Calton, Freda Neal, Caroline Shaw, Lib Smoak, Martha Wardle, "Diddle" Burnett, and Hettie Sweeney are all on the up and ready for a meeting of College Athletic Association at N. C. O. W. the week-end of March 22.

"Mikie" Speights is the champion duckler! When she ducks you in swimming you stay "ducked"!

NORTH BESTS FACULTY IN ANNUAL GAGE GAME

Basketball Teams Intersperse Play With Deadlocks and Fights

Members of the North basketball team defeated the Faculty team by a score of 30-26 in a game Tuesday, March 12, at 4:30 P. M. in the Pre-buddy Gymnasium.

At the first sound of the referee's whistle "Emmy" Gore captured the ball, sprinted the length of the court with it, and, despite the energetic guarding of "Judy" Post (who was hindered by her falling pants leg), passed it to "Hampy" Jarrell who dashed in record-breaking time to the opposite end of the court, lightly tossed a goal, and clapped appreciatively at the cheers of the audience.

The North team, which had been "crushing" unsuccessfully to check the onrush of the Faculty, rallied and made good after goal. "Tommy" Noel saved the day for the Faculty team when he snatched the ball, ran wild with it, and after upsetting two guards, scored a perfect goal from directly beneath the net.

Time was called out for "Hampy" Jarrell who, as a result of over exertion, had to be carried from the field. "Roy" James, garbed in a green gym suit, rushed in as substitute, and "Allie" Tingey was sent in to replace "Tommy" Noel, whose supply of surplus energy was fast falling him. At the end of the first quarter the score was 6-14 in favor of North.

The remainder of the game kept the same high pitch of excitement in the watching crowds. At the climax, a free-for-all scuffle between all the players, a sofa and the three layers of operators who had been standing on it collapsed, and the crowd went wild. "Lester" Wellner caused several interruptions because, unable to contain her enthusiasm, she shouted "whee" as each play, thus distracting other players who frequently mistook her cries for the referee's whistle. The score at the finish was 30-26 in favor of North.

The game was frequently held up by time-outs called for deadlocks or fights over the ball. "Emmy" Gore was particularly assertive in this way. Time after time he tackled "Fanny" Hoffman, pulled the ball from her reluctant fingers, and started on one of his hundred-yard dashes.

Members of the faculty team were as follows: "Janey" Couch, "Tommy" Noel, "Roy" James, "Emmy" Gore, "Hampy" Jarrell, "Ammie" Feider, "Frances" Simpson, "Judy" Post, "Fanny" Hoffman, "Lester" Wellner, and "Allie" Tingey; members of the North dormitory team were as follows: Neil Jackson, Sis West, Mary Ferguson, Regina Lagare, Nancy Ashcroft, Iren Barwell, Nancy Coote, Alma Allen, Betty Sweeney, Emily Harrison, and Helen Slicer. "Eleanor" King and Cat Nelson served as referees, and Polly McNeill and "Sunshine" Pierce were the timekeepers.
