STUDENTS CHOOSE LEADERS IN ANNUAL ELECTION

Betty Carrison, Evelyn Hannah Johnsonian Editor and Manager

Rising Senior of Camden Succeeds Hallie Mae McKelthen as Editor-in-Chief

ASSOCIATES NAMED LATER
Manager of Ridgeford Replaces Juliette Hollis on Business Staff

Betty Carrison and Evelyn Hannah will assume the respective duties of Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager with the next issue, April 12. Associate Editors and Business Managers will be announced later.

Betty Carrison is a rising Senior of Camden. She is a college marshal from Winthrop Literary Society. She has been associated with many phases of campus activity as secretary of the Maquers and the Social Service Club, as corresponding secretary of Winthrop Literary Society, as a member of the class swimming team, 1929-30, and as a member of the Student Body Committee of the Y. W. C. A. She is now a member of the Poetry Society, the Writers' Club, the Psychology Club, the Journal Staff, the Maquers, Winthrop Literary Society, the Social Service Club, and Sigma Omega Delta Social Club. She is sub-director of Alpha Psi Omega, National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity. Betty has served on both the reportorial and business staffs of The Johnsonian. She will appear in the next issue of the Junior Folio. She is a Sociology major. Evelyn Hannah, rising Senior of Ridgeford, has been Assistant Business Manager of The Johnsonian for the past year. She is a member of the Young Democrats, Curry Literary Society, the Debaters' League, and Kappa Upsilon Kappa Social Club. She was a member of the Junior basketball team. She served on the Freshman Cabinet, Sophomore and Junior Forums of the Y. W. C. A. She will be a May Attendant at the May Festival this year, and she will have a part in the Junior Folio tonight. She is a commercial science major.

REPRESENT WINTHROP AT GREENSBORO PARLEY

Polly McNeill and Dot Manning Official Delegates to Athletic Federation Conference

Polly McNeill and Dot Manning represented Winthrop College at the Athletic Federation of College Women in Greensboro, N. C., at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, March 24-26.

Miss Julia H. Post and Miss Lillian Walker, accompanied by Eleanor King, "Sunshine" Pierce, "Cal" Nelson, "Diddy" Burnett, "Lib" Smoak, "Daisy" Sweeney, Chloris Calhoun, Rosanne Howard, and Leola Wilburn, went to Greensboro Friday, March 23, to attend the conference.

Discussion of problems which are facing athletic associations were the main topics dealt with by the representatives of the various colleges. Miss Mary Channing Coleman, Miss Margaret Schwartz, and Miss Agnes Wray were speakers of the convention. Delegates were entertained at a tea in the Student Building at a camp supper at the Y. W. C. A. hut, at a banquet at the O. Henry hotel and at a "Dance Drama," presented by the Orchestra Club.

Winthrop College students presented a demonstration on "Some Lesser Known Sports" Saturday afternoon in the Physical Education Building.

TO JUDGE CONTEST
Mr. Walter S. Roberts has been selected as a judge for the Olee Club contest to be held at the Presbyterian Junior College in Maxton, N. C., Friday, April 5.

MR. MAGGINIS ELECTED ASSOCIATION LEADER

Dr. P. M. Wheeler, Miss Julia Post, Miss Wilma Hill Chosen Department Heads

Mr. W. D. Magginis was unanimously elected president of the South Carolina Education Association, at its annual convention in Greenville, March 14-16. Mr. Magginis was vice-president of the association for 1931-1932. The remainder of elected officers for the year, beginning July 1, 1933 and ending June 30, are as follows:

Vice-president, Mr. J. C. Hollis, superintendent of the Anderson County schools; two honorary vice-presidents, Miss Lila Connor, of Chester, and Mrs. Ruth Thomas, of Walterboro, both of whom are Winthrop graduates.

Dr. P. M. Wheeler is elected president of the English Department; and Miss Wilma Hill, president of the Art Department.

Miss Julia H. Post was elected president of the South Carolina Physical Education Association. The officers who will serve under Miss Post during the next year are as follows: first vice-president, Caroline Easley, Greenville, S. C.; second vice-president, Margaret Hoffman, Columbia, S. C.; secretary-treasurer, Fred Kirkham, Clemson College. Nancy Pope of the University of South Carolina and "Speedy" Speer, Greenville will head the executive committees.

According to Mr. Magginis, of the eight thousand four hundred white teachers in South Carolina, seven thousand and five hundred belong to the South Carolina Education Association. Out of that number six thousand were in attendance at the convention in Greenville. Winthrop teachers and officers who attended the meeting were Dr. Shelia Phelps, Dr. James P. Kinard, Mr. W. D. Magginis, Dr. W. W. Rogers, Dr. O. O. Naudain, Mr. G. M. Hitchell, Miss Julia Post, Miss Frances Hoffmann, Miss Jane Couch, Miss Sadie Rogers, Miss Mary G. Juniors Present Gay Follies "All For Love" Tonight at 8

"All for Love," the Junior Follies of '33, will be alive with lifting tunes, snappy with quick, fast-moving dances, gay with lewdness and just full to the brim of all kinds of entertainment.

The scene is laid in a mountain summer school where a group of care-free boys and girls have come to study zoology by getting next to nature.

The show is the play-in-the-ways-of-men, girls, when by Mary Haysworth; Nigel, who has been captured by Carmen's many charms, is played by Dot Manning; the gay and "happy" by Betty Carrison; and the Professor Scott by Evelyn Hannah; Carol, the sophisticated lady, by

SUMMER SCHOOL PLANS NEARING COMPLETION

Professor W. D. Magginis, Director, Announces Distribution of Bulletin

Plans for the Summer School Session of Winthrop College are fast being completed, according to Professor W. D. Magginis, director of Summer School.

An important feature of the session will be the Assembly Program which will bring together the entire school, students and faculty, once each week. These periods will be a full hour each week, and will be distributed as follows: June 12 at 8:10 A. M.; June 19 at 9:10 A. M.; June 26 at 10:10 A. M.; July 3 at 11 A. M.; July 10 at 12:10 P. M.; July 17 at 2:10 A. M.

The assembly periods, games and sports, conference lectures, church attendance, hikes, and entertainments, will be used along with classroom work to build an all-round program for the entire school. It is the most pleasant and educative in very particular is the guiding aim of the Summer School, and faculty of the Summer School.

Summer School Bulletins are now being distributed.

DR. POTRAT TO DELIVER GRADUATION SERMON

Former Professor of Philosophy at Shanghai University to Speak Before Graduates

Dr. Edwin McNeill Potrat, Jr., pastor of the Pullen Memorial Baptist Church of Raleigh, North Carolina, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class Sunday night, June 2. Dr. Potrat was educated at Purman University and Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky. He spent twelve years in China as a missionary and was Associate Professor of Philosophy and Ethics in Shanghai University during the years 1927 to 1929. He is now president of the International Commission of the South.

Some years ago, Dr. Potrat delivered the sermon before the Winthrop Young Women's Christian Association. He has delivered many lectures in collegiate centers and has recently published a book of sermons which is receiving favorable comment throughout the country.

DR. PHELPS SPEAKS AT ALUMNAE DINNER

Greenville Chapter Winthrop Graduates Entertain During State Teachers' Meeting

Members of the Greenville Chapter of Winthrop Alumnae entertained the Winthrop teachers and officers and visiting alumnae, at a luncheon in the ball-room of the Polzner Hotel, Friday, March 15, during the annual state teachers' meeting.

Mrs. C. Fred Laurence, president of the Alumnae Association, acted as toast-mistress for the luncheon. She introduced Dr. James P. Kinard, who in turn, introduced Dr. Shelton Phelps to the audience. Dr. Phelps addressed the audience briefly, and then introduced to the hearers the past alumnae presidents and the presidents of the local and county chapters, and the faculty members and officers who had accompanied him to the meeting.

At the conclusion of the program, each of the guests was presented with a picture of Dr. D. B. Johnson, founder, and first president of Winthrop College.

Legislature To Hear Winthrop Sextette

Members of the Winthrop College Sextette will sing before the General Assembly of South Carolina in Columbia, Tuesday, March 28, Dr. Sietou Phelps, Dr. James P. Kinard, and Mr. Walter B. Roberts will accompany the singers. The members are Martha Slocum, Ethel Parry, Mary Davis, Anne Martin Busbee, Margaret Denny, Jean Arant, Mary Frances Ossell, Aegan Gibson, and Mary Peck, accompanist.

Rising Senior of Hendersonville, N. C., Elected President Student Government

OTHER ELECTIONS LATER
Springfield Junior Selected to Head Young Women's Christian Association

Louise Howe was elected President of the Student Government Association for the 1933-36 season in the general student election, Wednesday, March 20; and Anna Marian Busbee was chosen President of the Young Women's Christian Association Friday, March 22. Louise, a rising Senior from Hendersonville, North Carolina, is a college marshal. She has been secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, treasurer of the Winthrop Literary Society, and Secretary and Treasurer of the Foreign and Seaside Club. She is a member of the Student Body Committee of the Johnsonian staff, and of the Sigma Omega Delta Social Club. She has recently pledged Beta Beta Beta, National Honorary Biology Fraternity. She is a major in Biology.

Louise succeeds Edith Gorman as President of the Student Government Association.

Anna Marian Busbee, rising Senior of Springfield, was elected President of the Winthrop Young Women's Christian Association for the session 1933-34, by general vote of the association, March 22.

Anna Marion has served on the "Y" Cabinet for the past year as chairman of the Music Committee. She represented the Y. W. C. A. at the Ridge Y. M.-Y. W. Conference last summer, and at the Camp Adger Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. Retreat in the fall.

As a music major, Anna Marion is a member of the Winthrop College Sextette, the Glee Club, the Chapel Choir, the Music Club, and the Orchestra. Last year she was treasurer of the Glee Club, and this year she is librarian of the Glee Club, vice-president of the Orchestra, and treasurer of the Music Club.

She is a member of Curry Literary Society; and was appointed a marshal from Curry but resigned because of too many honor points. She is a distinguished student, a member of the Methodist Student Council of the Wesley Foundation, and of Beta Epistola Chapter, Gamma Chapter.

WINTHROP AND ERSKINE STAGE FOUR DEBATES

College Exchange Teams to Argue Shipment of Arms and Munitions

Winthrop debated Erskine College in a group of four debates, Friday, March 15, on the query, Resolved: "That the nations of the world should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions."

The teams which debated at Winthrop were composed of Annie Rosenbaum and Addie Stokes, upholding the negative; Marguerite Ziegler and Virginia Walker, supporting the affirmative. These debates were non-decision.

THE KING IS DEAD—LONG LIVE THE KING!

The time has come, as the Walrus might well have said, when all student organizations must change leaders. The Senior Class has for the most part, contributed its share to student activity at Winthrop; and now the Juniors must take our place. We see no reason to grow sentimental over the fact that we are giving up duties to which we, in all probability, have become devoted. We have known all along that just as we succeeded last year we must inevitably be succeeded this year.

We, as the retiring staff of The Johnsonian, therefore, wish to express our thanks to those on the campus who have helped us to publish a college paper. We first give our thanks to our faculty editor, Dr. Helen G. Macdonald, who has borne the brunt of our mistakes. We thank Dr. Phelps for the news material which his administration has provided and for his ever kindly, helpful attitude and criticism. We express our gratitude to Miss Iva Bishop for helping us to keep up with the news, and to the reporters for faithful service. To the business staff and to the merchants of Rock Hill we give a vote of thanks for the financial backing of the paper. Finally, to all those who have in any way contributed to making The Johnsonian a true representation of Winthrop life, we say, "Thank you."

We wish for the new staff a prosperous year. We hope that the new editor and her associates will find the same cooperation on the part of students and faculty as we have. We are confident that The Johnsonian will not suffer by its change of officers. Bon voyage!

MEPHISTOPHELES LAUGHS

Herr Adolph Hitler is probably chucking to himself with Satanic delight as he watches the world's "wily" diplomats rushing around in circles and tearing their hair despairingly. And well he might; for he started this tempest in a boiler vat all by himself when he preemptorily denounced, in behalf of the German nation, the military clauses of the Versailles Treaty and proclaimed immediate general military conscription. Then, no doubt, he sat back leisurely and enjoyed the carnival of fireworks which ensued. John Bull and his French and Italian pals went up into smoke. The German army as large as France's? A German navy one-third the size of Great Britain's, and equal in strength to that of Italy? Give back some of Germany's colonies and grant economic concessions? Poof! It was unthinkable. Something must be done; so forthwith they scuttled off to hold a conference while a benign United States protested knowingly that treaties "should not" be broken.

"Shall we stand by and let Germany rearm?" is the slogan of the moment. The superficiality of that question, however, is glaringly apparent. It is not a question of shall we or shall we not; for will-we or nil-we Germany "is" rearming and, according to authoritative reports, has been for some time. What can we do about it? Great Britain, France and Italy sit in august conclave at a tripartite conference. They send Sir John Simon trudging off to Berlin to tell Hitler what they think and to "ask him what he proposes to do next." The United States cables over nicely-worded messages of gently rebuking strain. The League calls a meeting. —And Mephistopheles laughs!

Music Majors Give Graduating Recital

Emmae Lee Hair and Gwendolyn Usher gave their graduating recital Tuesday night, March 19, in Music Hall. Emmae Lee Hair was accompanied at the piano by Little Royal. The following program was presented: Concerto in D Minor, Wieniawski; Allegro Moderato—Miss Hair. Organ Prelude and Fugue A Minor, Bach—Lizet Usher. Malaguena, Sarasate; Pourquoi, Casarony; Lieberfrued, Kreisler—Miss Hair. Concert Etude in F Minor, Liszt; Forest Murmur, Liszt; Staccato Liszt; Rubinstein—Miss Usher. Larghetto, Weber-Kreisler; Serenade, Grieg; Oberlaus Murzik, Wieniawski—Miss Hair. Sonata Opus 51, MacDowell; Allegro con Fuoco; Rhapsody Opus 110 No. 4, Brahms—Miss Usher.

Dr. Langdon Speaks On Nursery Schools

Doctor Grace Langdon, specialist at the national headquarters for Emergency Nursery Schools, spoke in chapel Tuesday, March 19. Doctor Langdon was the principal speaker at the meeting of Emergency Nursery School teachers on the campus last week. "The Nursery School," she said, "is distinctly a part of the educational program." The emergency nursery schools, organized in 1923 as a part of the Emergency Relief Program, have as their purpose the care and service of children two and three years of age whose needy and unemployed parents cannot care for them adequately. "For many children," Dr. Langdon stated, "the hours spent at the nursery school are the only times in which they have a chance to play with toys, look at picture books, and behave like normal children.

WINTHROP WEEK BY WEEK

(With Apologies to McIntyre) So they say: Miss Cogswas: "Miss Lochinherd and I like 'em dumb."

Louise Howe: "I don't have to think till May 1."

Dr. Wheeler: "I want to go to Germany so I can shoot Hitler."

Mr. Graham: "The way to live long and be happy is to wear shoes that fit."

Miss Bishop: "I wish I were 35 'cause then I'm going to retire."

Diddle Burnett: "I wanna be fire chief."

Miss Ketchin: "Your students always know you better than anyone else does."

Punch remarks: "British pigs, declare an expert, are entitled for bacon. The animal themselves are said to be warmly supporting the idea. We wish a few American animals would be un-entitled to making meat bills. We'd support the idea."

Wifery! Wifery! Scoop of the week: Last week we quoted Edith Corman: "Well, Lucy knows it; and what Lucy knows, the whole world knows."

This week, from Lucy: "Lucy knows; the world knows; and so here goes: Plans complete for trip Stop Arrive Rock Hill Wednesday noon Stop Regret I cannot be with you Monday night Stop My very best wishes for all the success in the world with your recital Stop Remember me to your folks Stop Seventy Three George." And Lucy adds: P. S.—Brevets in and out!

The "seventy-three" according to Miss Corman is an aviation term. Still our minds are not quite at peace. And the telegram came all the way from New York University, wherever that may be.

Junior Police is getting into the "Green Pastures" class what with the prices of tickets. We've glad we can't qualify as an "adult." . . . All the Seniors are feeling like last year's just now that the Juniors are the "rising Seniors" who rate so much attention. We'll soon be "out in the wide wide world!"

Purely Personal Piffle: Dr. Martin has our personal nomination for the week's absent-minded professor. She forgot to assign her methods class a lesson—but sent each an individual assignment anyway. . . . We read in the "Paris Voz" that Guy Lombardo recently played and dedicated "Sophisticated Lady" to Converse girls. Rumor has it that the great Guy will shortly be asked to play for Winthrop and dedicate accordingly. "Bellinda." . . . Things we can do without: People who fill in all the puzzles and questionnaires in the library magazines so that no one else can enjoy them. . . . We were quite overwhelmed to discover a box full of mail the other day only to find when we had squinted to the front that we had the wrong number. The telephone companies don't have a monopoly on that situation after all, it would seem. . . . We hear from Clemson that Dena Newman's big heart flutter almost went off the deep end when our annual child didn't go up to the last dance. . . . And Lydia Boyd, as honorary cadet colonel will review the Clemson corps at a moonlight parade. . . . Incidentally, the "Talk of the Town" had recently a column called "Magazines" in which it stopped breaking up the back for petty larceny. Now we wonder whether the gentleman didn't know how to spell the word or whether he actually thinks the "Town Talk" really speaks the plague.

Judge says: "A fellow we know thinks the crime wave is what the beauty parlor gives his wife for 25." And we suppose he thinks also that the Yellow Peril is a bananas peeling on the sidewalk.

We quote this remark from Life purely because the attention it deserves to us: "The ping pong players of America are purchasing twenty million ping pong paddles per annum."

We found a poem in Life this week by one of our favorites, Ogden Nord: "It's rather long, but we think it's well worth the time it takes to read it. It's called: Oh! Please Don't Get Up There is one form of life to which I unconditionally surrender, which is the feminine gender. Like lightning and thunder, women are awe-inspiring phenomena. And they have a custom which many men might well adopt, which is to give themselves in devices that reduce, or at least reduce, their abdomen."

And they have a traditional rite which is handed down from mother to daughter. Which is that they always have to wash their face with cold cream instead of water.

Also I think that there must be some great difference in the way men and women are built; Because women walk around all day wearing shoes that a lean would break his neck the first day he took in them because when a man's shoe

WOMAN

She's an angel in truth, a demon in fiction, A woman's the greatest of all contradictions,

She's afraid of a cockroach; she'll scream at a mouse. But she'll tackle a husband as big as a house;

She'll take him for better, she'll take him for worse, She'll split his head open and then be his nurse;

And when he is well and can get out of bed, She'll pick up a tampon to throw at his head.

She's faithful, deceitful, keen-sighted and blind, She's crafty, she's simple, she's cruel but kind;

She'll lift a man up, she'll cast a man down, She'll call him her king, she'll make him her clown.

You fancy she's tall, but you find that she's short, For she'll play like a kitten and bite like a cat;

In the morning she will, in the evening she won't, And you're always expecting she does, but she don't.

—The Gullfodian.

She was a phenologist, young and pretty; he read minds, too. They were introduced; an date looked at him for a moment and slapped his face. "Madame," he said earnestly, "I assure you such a thought was farthest from my mind."—The Old Gold and Black.

has a heel, a woman's shoe has a still. So I often wonder who started this rumor about women being the sting-ling vice and man, the mighty oak or elm. And I have an idea that the phrase "weaker sex" was coined by some woman to disarm some man she was about to overwhelm.

As everyone knows who has ever watched a woman pay a call or a visit, Because at first they will sit in a chair, And their heart may be in the highlands, but it certainly isn't there; And their conversation is unimportant.

And their topics are trifling and miscellaneous; And they finally after an uncomfortable while, Their faces brighten with the well-known-be-running-along-now smile; And they get to their feet and to the front door, And the Mississippi surges over the levee with a roar.

Because the proportions of feminine social children are social always: One part of sitting down in the sitting room to four parts of saying goodbye in gowns and hall ways; Which is why I think that when it comes to physical prowess, Why woman is a woe, or should I say a woe?

BLUE SPECTATOR

Well, aren't elections, Junior Politics, and Spring Holidays right together just too exciting? The Blue Spectator has scarcely been able to eat or sleep much less study—for over a week. These stump-speaking politicians are certainly interesting. . . . How does it feel to have a Gully Conscience? And what does it lead you to? One of our cute little things, Nell Hicks by name, had a very gully conscience; and so when she saw some people starting at her she went and apologized to them for The Secret. Imagine her embarrassment on finding that they hadn't even known about The Secret before! . . . Extra, extra Dr. Wheeler receives two pressed dandelions from unknown admirer! . . . What would a certain student say if she knew that her very devoted (?) Pi Kappa Phi at Furman carried a certain B. L. K. from G. W. C. to all the Germans? . . . The Poetics Class wrote some very brilliant poetry while Dr. Wheeler was in Greenville attending the Teachers' conference. . . . Some they used brilliant chalk. The most brilliant was written in red chalk and goes like this: "My heart leaps up when I behold No teacher in the room. So was it when the class began. So is it now that I have ran, So is it when I shall grow old. Or let me die."

"Galle Crum is simply dying over her French term paper, although Miss Pink accuses her of having given French in the extreme. . . . Anne Meehan has taken to wearing a wig because she has been so beset the days with book agents, publishing agents, autograph collectors, film producers, etc. ever since her poem appeared in print in our last issue. . . . Ann Knight believes the fact that her many talents have been recognized by the world in general. . . . Margaret McKnight professes a sudden interest in Gertrude Stein, and tears around in the library looking for her poetry. . . . Incidental, some new members of Curry Literary Society inquired very innocently why the program on Gertrude Stein was not concluded with the singing of the "Stein Song." . . . Can you imagine Virginia Parrott and Lizzie Walker Cockfield knitting and crocheting? They are. . . . Betty King Stanton's hard work on her home-chem. . . . Ann War's embroidering, too. . . . We could rave on and on, but since we're Girl Scouts (and there's only one Boy Scout on the campus!) we'll spare you the rest.

Presbyterian Debaters Meet Winthrop Team

Resolved: "That the nations of the world should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions" was the query debated by Presbyterian College and Winthrop College debating teams Monday, March 18, in Clio Hall. The decision was awarded to the affirmative side, upheld by the Presbyterian College team. Billie Cole and Evelyn Rudowitz represented Winthrop; and Edgar Stanton and Hank Wilson, captained the Presbyterian College team.

News—Y's and Other Y's

Cabinet's all a flutter, each member trying to think of someone to suggest as her successor, and trying to recruit herself to giving up her "job." They've all worked hard this year and deserve a lot of credit, but there's always a sort of uneasy feeling that comes about "reaching time"—"Oh, dear, have I done all I've planned?" and "I'm afraid such-and-such hasn't worked out as well as it might"—and so on and so on. And now it's time to make out reports—and then—final!

The Deputation Teams have been remarkably successful—especially since this is the first time in a number of years that we've attempted such a thing. We've already dreaming of improvement for next year—more and better Deputation Teams—that's our motto! The Y. W. fashion show was grand. They had even coats and evening dresses! Can you imagine sitting down and crocheting a whole evening dress? The linen and tweed ones were dazzling in every color and pattern. Have you been voting? We hope you have been interested enough in your school organizations to express your opinion in this way—not only in our Y. W. C. A. elections, but in ALL of them. Here's your chance to do what you want—what will it be?

NURSERY SCHOOL WORK CONFERENCE SUBJECT

Dr. Grace Langdon, National Emergency Nursery School Head is Guest-Speaker

Winthrop College Emergency Nursery School was hostess to a conference for the Emergency Nursery Schools in South Carolina, Monday to Saturday, March 18-23.

Dr. Grace Langdon, nursery school specialist and head of the National Emergency Nursery School in Washington, D. C., attended the conference as lecturer and adviser. Miss Alma Long, director of the nursery school unit at Winthrop was instrumental with problem-solving and suggestions. Miss Virginia Gibson, state supervisor of emergency nursery schools; Miss Lillian Hoffman, head of the state department of home economics; and her assistant, Miss Frances Williams, were among the speakers and guests. Many of the members of the Winthrop faculty are on the program for the conference.

The program of the conference included the following discussions: "Nursery Schools: What They Are and What They Are Doing," by Dr. Grace Langdon; "Round Table Difficulties of Teachers in Nursery School Procedure," led by Dr. Langdon; "Psychology of the Pre-School Child," Miss Stella Bradford; "Practical Benefits of Nursery School Education," Miss Denna Lockhart; "Our Goal for Nursery Schools," Dr. Langdon; "Nutrition of the Pre-School Child," Miss Sara Craig Wall; "The Importance of Toys in the Play Life of Pre-School Child," Miss Corvay; "Special Problems on the Nursery School," Miss Alma Long; "Parent Education Program," Miss Lillian Hoffman; "Nutrition in the Nursery School of Winthrop College."

Both white and negro delegates were invited to the conference. The negro delegates stayed at Clinton College, where a duplicate program was presented. The white delegates stayed in Catawba Hall and had their meals in Joyous Hall.

Eighteen white delegates, including teachers, assistant teachers, and dietitians of emergency nursery schools in South Carolina, and twelve negro delegates attended the conference. Emergency nursery school units represented by the white delegates were Chester, Greenville, Seneca, Spartanburg, Columbia, Sumter, and Camden. Those units represented by the negro delegates were Greenville, Spartanburg, Columbia, and a new school in Orangeburg.

Winthrop was chosen as the place for the conference because it has the only nursery school in South Carolina that is under the direction of trained nursery school directors. Frequent observations of the nursery school in progress were made during the conference.

Winthrop-Citadel In Dual Argument

Winthrop College met The Citadel in a dual debate on the query, resolved: "That the Nations Should Agree to Prevent the International Shipment of Arms and Munitions" in Pilo and Curry Hall, Tuesday afternoon, March 19.
