NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY INSTALLED

Twenty-Five Members Inducted Into Delta Delta Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi

Winthrop College is the host of the first South Carolina Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education. The Delta Delta Chapter was installed by Mr. R. F. Williams, Recorder-Treasurer of Kappa Delta Pi national organization, Saturday afternoon, May 25. Officers for 1935-36 are: Virginia Scott, of Cowpens, president; Carolina Norris, of Calhoun Falls, vice-president; Elizabeth McDonald, of Chester, secretary; Mary Elizabeth Berry, of Sellers, treasurer; Frances Manning, of North Augusta, historian; Claire Oramling, of Orangeburg, reporter; and Professor W. D. Maggins, Miss Sadie Oggans, and Miss Dema Lochhead, counselors.

Mr. Williams was honor guest and speaker for the evening at a banquet given for the chapter at the Andrew Jackson Hotel, Saturday evening. Dr. Shelton Phelps, president of Winthrop, brought greetings from Phi Delta Kappa; and Dean G. F. Groom, greetings from the University of South Carolina. Mr. W. D. Maggins spoke for the counselors; Virginia Scott, on "Answering the Challenge"; and also Sally, on "A Dream Realized," Martha Eshely, accompanied by Professor W. R. Roberts, sang "The Song of the Robin," and "Birthday."

Kappa Delta Pi at present includes ninety-six chapter members in colleges all over the United States, of which the Winthrop is one of a limited number in the Southeast. The fraternity's aims are to foster high standards of preparation for teaching and to invite into its ranks of fellowship those who have attained excellence of scholarship and distinction of achievement in the field of education.

The twenty-five charter members of the Delta Delta Chapter are: Elizabeth Cain, Pinopolis, S. C.; Dorothy Chambers, Clemson College, S. C.; Helen Crostland, Bennettsville, S. C.; Harriet Pinley, Pelzer, S. C.; Alma Hopkins, Howesville, S. C.; Catherine McFarley, Union, S. C.; Miss Margaret Rock, S. C.; Anne Moss, York, S. C.; Naomi Peggy Cheraw, S. FINAL CHAPEL PROGRAM CONDUCTED BY SENIORS

Gifts Presented to College, Class Will Read, Senior Order Announced, Etc.

Senior Chapel was held in Main Auditorium Monday, May 27, at noon. In the presence of the assembled classes and faculty, the Seniors slowly marched in to the accompaniment of an organ processionals played by Ethelyn Mitchell. Dr. Phelps led the devotional.
Catherine Waggon, Senior Class president, presented as the Senior Class Gift a providing chair for the President of the college, six income plates at markers of portraits in parlors of Main Building, and a loan fund for a rising Senior. On behalf of the college, Dr. Phelps accepted the Senior Gift. At his request, Catherine Waggon was the first to sit in the presiding chair.
Nine members of the Senior Order for next year were announced by Edith Gorman.
After the reading of the class will by Frances Wylie and the singing of the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior class and farewell songs, the Seniors sang their class song, farewell song, Senior song, and two special songs. At the conclusion of the playing of Taps, the entire student body sang the college song.
The Seniors marched out to the recessional, played by Ethelyn Mitchell.

President Gives Reception in Honor of Graduating Class Wednesday Night
Dr. and Mrs. Shelton Phelps entertained the Senior Class at a reception Wednesday evening, May 29, in Johnson Hall.
Receiving with Dr. and Mrs. Phelps were Dr. and Mrs. James P. Kinard, Mrs. Kate Glenn Hardin, and members of the Winthrop faculty.
Mr. Walter E. Roberts of the Music Department, accompanied by Miss Ruth Stephenson, sang two selections after which ice cream and cake were served by the college marshals.

Seniors Leave Possessions In Last Will And Testament

Frances Wylie, Senior Class lawyer, in the presence of the legatees at Senior Chapel Monday, May 27, read aloud in solemn, dignified, and mournful strain the last will and testament of the Class of 1935, State of South Carolina, County of York.
We, the class of 1935, of Winthrop College, Rock Hill, South Carolina, realizing the infinitesimality of this transitory existence, and having no further use for the bequests hereinafter mentioned and being anxious to pass the same on to our legatees, do hereby ordain and publish this as our last Will and Testament.
ITEM 1.
We do hereby give, devise and bequeath to the class of 1936 our famous 25¢ cigar case, the immortal Ormet & Gray Monkey Brothers in the hope that it will be of valuable assistance to them in their endeavor to win the Pop Meeting, an honor for which they have struggled vainly these three years.
1. We do hereby give, devise and bequeath to our Grand High Potentate Dr. Shelton Phelps and may he continue in his 97 weekly speeches to awe everybody his way, even to having the nations wearing socks.
2. We do hereby give, devise, and bequeath His Lieutenant Extraordinary, Dr. James P. Kinard and may he continue in his blushing enjoyment of a rolling back trip to Washington and to stand ready always to lend an encouraging clasp to any performance whether it lasts one minute or 48 hours.
3. We do hereby give, devise and bequeath our Honorary Keeper of the Handbooks, the sacred Winthrop Bible, Kate Glenn Hardin and may she continue to be on time to all her meals and never go out lest she is invited.
4. We do hereby give, devise, and bequeath our Top Man of our parade,

STUNT NIGHT REVIEWS SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Program Revives Freshman Get-Together, Sophomore-Faculty Wedding, Follies

Seniors reviewed the four years of their Winthrop life at Stunt Night, Monday, May 27, in Johnson Hall auditorium. The scene opened September, 1931, "Cats' Coo" (Ethel Parke) led the Freshmen in the class song pitched, as was then customary, several octaves above human reach. Sally Hope (Margaret Byans) bubbled over with suggestions and Geraldine Wilkins (Charlotte Walsh) enthusiastically proposed twenty-one rules for "Administration": "Song of the Lost Sheep" Pruitt, "Lone Spot in the Desert" Maggins, "Tukle" Mary Jacob, the "We'll Play a Duet Together" Lawhon, and "Weedie Sprawl" was from Chera's first "Duval brought down the house with their talented performances.
At the faculty wedding, immortalized the sophomore year, the marriage of Sadie Oggans (Sara Touchberry) and Thomas Noel (Helen Clark) by Preacher (Halle Mae McKelthen) was newly called off because of the delayed appearance of the groom. Mrs. Gibson (Helen Oll) protested loudly that their permissions hadn't come, but Dean Hardin ("Blair" Wylie) reassured her that although not in the handbook, the ceremony could proceed. Miss Dacus ("Cats") Waggon and Mrs. Sims (Margaret Jones) convinced the audience with their hilariously realistic performances. Also present at the wedding were Mr. Mitchell (Rebecca Turner), Dr. Kinard (Nancy Bigger), Miss Matheus (Keith Shirley), Mrs. James (Alma Hopkins), Mr. Maggins (Fran Wylie), Dr. Frank ("Cats") McCall, Mrs. Jennings (Chloea Calhoun), Miss Shaver (Leah Alley), Dr. Keith (Alice Saly), Dr. Macdonald (Jo Ayer), Miss Craigwall (Caroline Shaw), Miss Acomb (Louise Bennett), Mr. McCain (Harry Wells), Dr. Wheeler (Mary Louise Boylston), Miss George Whitegroom (Mary Louise White), Miss Wardlaw ("Lib" Avant), Miss Sims (Evelyn Schreier), and Dr. Smarzo (Martha Ward).
Representing the Junior year, the well-known cocoonist Irene first appeared, and then "Tat" Babo, "Miss Peggy, Gene Arank, Mary Duvall, Irene LaGrone, and "Becky" Roberts danced the well-remembered Boverly Choporus from the Junior Follies of 1934. A group of "Seniors" attired in white dresses and Senior caps marched gallantly across the stage proclaiming jubilantly, "We are the Seniors."
"Elsie" Brunson and "Cats" Nelson led the class in singing the old pep songs, stunts, and college songs.
Fran Wylie directed the stunts with the assistance of Billie Pruitt, Margaret Keethulas, and "Tat" Babo.

Nine Juniors Help College Marshals

Nine special marshals have been appointed from the three literary societies to assist the regular marshals at commencement. They are as follows:
Wade Hampton Literary Society: Elizabeth Elyars, Anne Bundy, and Ruth Sanders.
Winthrop Literary Society: Mary Elizabeth Berry, Virginia Dravidy, and Frances Lynch.
Cory Literary Society: Margaret Blair, Frances Burnette, and Emily Mendenhall.

WINTHROP OF THE UNIVERSE

When I first visited Winthrop College, I came on behalf of the Association of American Universities. What I reported to that Association led to its approval of Winthrop as an institution competent to prepare students for the graduate schools of our country. Today Winthrop is beyond the need of examination by an accrediting agency according to the old standards. Inevitably, however, at the beginning of a new administration there is serious self-examination. Winthrop will be wise, if I may say so, if it uses standards unbound by space or time. Winthrop is strong enough to compare herself not only with other Southern colleges for women or with New England colleges for women, but with all colleges for women in England as well as in America; not only with colleges for women, but with colleges for men and with co-educational institutions, not only in the South, not only in the United States, but in Canada, Scotland, England, France, Germany, Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Switzerland, Italy, New Zealand, Australia, and Japan. Winthrop is strong enough to learn from comparison of the education of Winthrop women of today with that of Margaret More in England of the sixteenth century, Heloise in France in the twelfth century, or Fan Choa's daughters in China in the first century of the Christian era—Winthrop is not the Vassar or Wellesley or Smith of the South; it is Winthrop of the United States or, if you please, the universe. With its half century of honorable history Winthrop is free to pursue the truth which its motto exalts—Veritas cum Libertate, Truth with Freedom: freedom from regimentation by church or state or accrediting agencies, freedom from undue control of economic and social teaching because of the wisdom of the citizens of South Carolina, freedom to seek and know truth. It may be well for all of us, citizens of the state and especially alumnae of the college, to remember a saying of Abelard: "God has said, 'I am the truth.' He has never said, 'I am what you have been accustomed to believe.'" There is no disloyalty to the distinguished history of South Carolina or of Winthrop College in the search for new truth. There is no disloyalty to your beloved "Debs." Alert in mind and always growing, President Johnson, if he were alive today, would continue to grow and to change with new conditions. A discouraged old man beneath a juniper tree cried, "O Lord, take away my life, for I am not better than my fathers." Elijah had yet to discover that no man could be as good as his father unless with his added advantages he was better than his father. Winthrop is going to be at least as good as it has been, because with the advantages of this generation, it is going to be better than it has ever been. True to its motto, may it go on to an even more abundant life, an even more responsible liberty and an even more successful pursuit of happiness.

—Excerpt from the address of Dr. David Allan Robertson, President of Goucher, on the occasion of the inauguration of Dr. Shelton Phelps as President of Winthrop.

HOLD HIGH THE TORCH

We, the Seniors, are on the eve of our departure from the College which for the past four years has been training us in the high qualities of scholarship, leadership, and character. We feel that we owe to Winthrop years of appreciation and loyalty for the training which we have received and to the State an inestimable debt of gratitude for providing a means of education for the women of South Carolina. We think that we should express our appreciation of Dr. David Bancroft Johnson who founded and firmly established the college, to Dr. James P. Kinard, who successfully carried on the tremendous task of the Winthrop executive, and to Dr. Shelton Phelps, who is holding high the torch of service for which Winthrop stands.

And now that we are about to leave Winthrop, we like to think of our graduation as "commencement"—the act of beginning. We do not wish to consider our education finished, but rather that it has just begun, that we have been prepared—and prepared well—to begin our education. As we go out into the State to whatever post we assume, we shall bear in mind that South Carolina and Winthrop have provided the beginning of our education and that it is now up to us to reflect credit on our State and on our College. We feel sure that we shall not fail!

"GIVE AND TAKE"

Seniors, the well known phrase "give and take" is appropriate now as we take an inventory of our activities during our four years at Winthrop. By "taking," each of us is the recipient of an abundance of ideas (contributing to the formation of ideals) not only through our class work, but also through participation in the wide scope of our campus activities. By "giving," we are being. To Winthrop we have given ourselves—our personalities, each of which has contributed to raising the heights at which our Alma Mater stands.

And so we have an interchanging of "giving and taking," benefiting both the college and the individual. Then let us not forget that even though we are leaving, we continue giving what we will to Winthrop College.

EDITH GORMAN,

President of the Student Government Association.

SENIOR ORDER NAMES NINE NEW MEMBERS

Names of Rising Seniors Chosen to Membership Announced By Edith Gorman

Edith Gorman, President of Senior Order, announced at Senior Chapel Monday, May 27, that the 1935 Senior Order had elected nine prominent rising Seniors to the 1935 Senior Order. The new members include Louise Howe, Anna Marian Busbee, Mabel Brown, Betty C. A., Eleanor Johnson, Dot Manning, Anna Louise Reneker, Evelyn Rhodes, and Miriam Speight. The 1935 Senior Order is made up of Edith Gorman, Lillian Hogarth, Hallie Mae McKeithen, Annette McCollum, Alice Saff, Catherine Wagner, "Tootsie" Woods, Louise Bennett, Anne Moss, Caroline Shaw, and Frances Wylie. Dr. Shelton Phelps, Dr. James P. Kinard, and Dean Kate Glenn Hardin are honorary members. Each member must be chosen unanimously with the following points considered: (1) She must be an outstanding student; (2) she must be interested in all college activities; (3) she must have the interest of her fellow students at heart; (4) she must desire to influence others to lead a more nearly ideal campus life.

Louise Howe, of Hendersonville, North Carolina, is the President of the Student Government Association for 1934-35, chairman of the Council on Student Activities, and a member ex-officio of the Senate. She has been a college marshal from Winthrop Literary Society and also treasurer of the society. She has been secretary of the Y. W. C. A. and Secretary-treasurer of the Forensic and Debate Club. She is also a member of The Johnsonian staff; Beta, Beta, Beta—Biology Fraternity; Poetry Society; and Sigma Omega Delta social club.

Anna Marian Busbee, of Springfield, has been elected president of the Young Women's Christian Association for next year. She will also be a member of the Senate, and President of the State Student Christian Council of South Carolina. She is a member of the orchestra, the glee club, the chapel choir, the Music Club, the sextet, and Curry Literary Society, and Beta Epsilon Chi social club.

Mabel Brown, of Anderson, will serve as vice-president of the Student Government Association next year. She has been treasurer this year, a member of Eta Sigma Phi, Winthrop Theta, the class hockey team, and Lambda Phi Alpha social club. She was vice-president of the class during her Sophomore year.

Betty Carrison, of Camden, will edit The Johnsonian for 1935-36. She is a college marshal from Winthrop Literary Society. She has been associated with many phases of campus activity as corresponding secretary of Winthrop society, as a member of the 1933 swimming team, the Poetry Society, the Writers' Club, the Psychology Club, The Journal staff, the Mount Winthrop Literary Society, the Social Service Club, and Sigma Omega Delta social club. She is sub-director of Alpha Psi Omega Dramatic Fraternity.

Eleanor Johnson, of Belton, has been elected Business Manager of the 1935 Teller, Treasurer of Beta Alpha, and a member of the Campus Committee. During her Junior year, she was a Freshman Counselor, Assistant Business Manager of The Teller, and recording secretary of Curry Literary Society. She was a representative to the Student Government Board during her Freshman and Sophomore years, and a member of Freshman Cabinet and Sophomore Forum. She is a member also of the Maquers and Phi Kappa Tau social clubs.

Dot Manning, of Salisbury, N. C., is the President-elect of the Athletic Association for 1934-35. She has served as secretary and as treasurer of the association. She has played on the class hockey, basketball, baseball, swimming, track and tennis teams. She is a member of The Johnsonian staff, the Council on Student Activities, the Physical Education Club, the Young Democrats, Wade Hampton Literary Society, and Sigma Delta Phi social club.

Anna Louise Reneker, of Orangeburg, is president-elect of the rising Senior Class, a member of the Senate, and vice-chairman of the Council on Student Activities. She is a college marshal from Wade Hampton Society; she was a member of the Sophomore Council and treasurer of the Sophomore Class; and Junior Class pianist. She is a member of Terepichorean German Club, the Music Club, the Chapel Choir, and Kappa Upsilon social club. Evelyn Rhodes, of Ettil, is secretary-elect of the rising Senior Class. She is a member of the Senate, Delta Sigma Chi, Wade Hampton Literary Society, Phi Upsilon Omicron, the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and Kappa Upsilon Kappa social club.

Miriam Speights, of Walterboro, has been Junior Class President during the 1934-35 session. She has been elected Senior Class pianist and associate editor of The Winthrop Journal. She is a member of the swimming team, the Music Club, the Chapel Choir, the Orchestra, the Maquers, the Writers' Club, and Curry Literary Society. According to the Senior Order Constitution, the 1935 Senior Order will elect three additional members to complete the membership.

SENIORS SEARCH LONG FOR HIDDEN TREASURE

Small Diplomas Tied With Class Colors of '34 Are Formed in Rose Garden

Seniors searched the campus Tuesday night for the treasure buried by the class of '34. The Seniors met in front of Main Building at 10 o'clock, where "Cat" Wagner, president, read the directions left to her by Clemiege Truog, president of class of '34. The seniors, in single file, led by "Cat" Wagner, marched over the campus, according to the directions. The treasure was located at the base of the fountain in the rose garden in front of Khard Hall. After much digging with pick and shovel, a large tin box was brought to the surface. In the box there were 284 small diplomas tied with class colors of the class of '34 with the following message written on it:

"There's many a slip 'Twixt the cup and the lip, So take our tip: Right now, get your dip!"

And we who have passed this way before, The blue-and-gold class of '34, Wish luck to you; may you always thrive And forget us not, O class of '34."

BILLIE PRUITT WINS HONOR IN DEBATING

Debaters League President For 1934-35 Made Member at Large Delta Sigma Rho

Billie Pruitt, president of the Debaters League for 1934-35, has been selected as member at large of Delta Sigma Rho, national debating fraternity. Billie receives this honor, according to Dr. Warren O. Keith, Winthrop debater coach, because of her work as president of the Debaters League and as chairman of the Freshman Debate last year, and because of her record in intercollegiate debating, including participation in the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament and in regular debates with Bates College, Bucknell University, University of Richmond, and others. She was this year winner of the contest for the best Winthrop debater. Delta Sigma Rho is the oldest forensic fraternity in the United States. It includes in its roster of over 60 active chapters, such institutions as Harvard, Yale, Columbia University, Dartmouth, Cornell, Princeton, Bates, Vassar, and Mount Holyoke College.

Choral Society Heard In Its Annual Concert

Winthrop Choral Society will present a concert Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Main Auditorium. Walter Buchanan Roberts, director, will be assisted by Miss Jeanette Roth, organist, and Mrs. C. K. Christensen, pianist. Gloria from the "Twelfth Mass," Inflammatus from "Stabat Mater"; Rossini—Soprano soloist Miss Constance Wardle.

Be Not Atride "The Elijah"; Mendelssohn—Watching Over Israel "The Elijah"; Mendelssohn.

The "Magna Ara Telling 'The Creation'"; Haydn—Solo Trio, Miss Wardle, soprano; Mr. Will Proctor, tenor; Mr. Harry Parkin, baritone. Lift Thy Voice, "The Messiah"; Handel; Hallelujah Chorus, "The Messiah"; Handel. He: "I'm an English major." She: "Oh, I just adore military men." —Chapparel.

School Teachers--

Hundreds of South Carolina School Teachers, women and men, are expected to attend the Winthrop Summer School which will open June 10 and continue through July 19th. To those teachers who have not applied for admission, we respectfully suggest that they do so at once. The 1935 Summer School is going to be outstanding in many respects, as you doubtless know if you have been possessed with a copy of the Bulletin conveying general information and courses of study.

The program of entertainment this year is most inviting, especially the features to be sponsored by the Music Department.

The stockholders, directors, officers and employees of the Peoples National Bank, one of South Carolina's largest financial institutions, join the citizens of Rock Hill in extending a hearty welcome to the school teachers of South Carolina and other States who will be in our midst during the Winthrop Summer School.

This bank is under Federal supervision, a member of the Federal Reserve System, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (which insures 100% up to $5,000), a member of the American Bankers Association, South Carolina Bankers Association, and the Rock Hill Chamber of Commerce. We enjoy the patronage of hundreds of school teachers in our Commercial or Checking Department and also our Savings Department, which pays 2 1/2% interest, computed semi-annually. Many patrons of this institution bank with us by mail.

(beg pardon, you just don't see me, Miss Alda to you and—Gosh, the lady she is ready to meet the terrifying experiences of life we will place her under the motley wing of Evelyn G. Tibbetts who will protect her and help ward off the shower of proposals of matrimony. 32. The swashbuckling, sleek, dashing villain (Mr. Terry to you), who will twirl his moustache and hypnotize the women by the breathtaking ardor of his advances. 33. The heroína, Maude Maxwell Hall; a little too softly sentimental for some perhaps, but suitably satisfying to the heart of her public susceptible to tempting food and able to withstand the onslaughts of the ever actively present Denny. 34. The handsome, dashing (a la Hairbreadth Harry) hero, "To the rescue" Miss W. W. Fair maiden in distress "W. C. Clawson. 35. The other woman, the seductive snaky, luring Frances Asenbame, "Come up for a conference, sometime!" 31. The heavy father role, Dr. Hampton 36. The rah, rah, hot-chick collegiate "Slocum" Thomason and Alleen Turner who demand "Pop, pop, pop!" 33. The mother who has a heart big enough to mother a nation, sit-by-the-fireside Isabel Potter. 34. The slap-stick, pie-linging, comedy team Lockhead, the Dallas booster, and Goggans, driver of the only remaining original Packard in captivity, noted for their wild sprays with their friends, the Jukes, and the Kalkakans. 35. End man of the minstrel, Walter B. Roberts, who must be admonished against cracking jokes with his back to the audience and expecting the minstrel to keep their faces straight. 36. Dat flighty Dorothea Malchese, the fortune teller, working in special conjunction with Cupid by virtue of her possession of the renowned marrying-ast, the said third seat in the fourth row. (A warning to those who wish good fortunes—snatch a few flowers from the campus as you pass and help to shoot the chickens, lool.) 27. J. W. McClean, Jr. is unfortunately unable to play his native Boy Scout juvenile role any longer; but he will be glad to see you if you may pass the awkward in-between stage and be grown up enough to play Romeo with "my wife Lurline". 28. We'd like to list Bend-Becked Florence A. Mims as a valuable addition to this array of dramatic talents; the most versatile ever before assembled under one roof, but we have been notified that she already has a call from the Canadian wilds to train the Dionne quintuplets in chore speaking. 29. In charge of seating arrangements, the most graceful to look—"Snap right into it!" Willie D. Magaglia. "It is of eminent importance that everybody be definitely comfortable." 40. Miss Florence Adams Mims, of the Winthrop Department of English, has been awarded the Drama League Scholarship for full tuition for the entire summer session at the Central School of Speech and Drama, affiliated with the University of London. These scholarships, primarily intended for students interested in literary and dramatic study, are also given for the more important purpose of promoting international understanding. Julia Furman, the well-known lecturer and director, and Dean Pearl Aiken-Smith, professor of speech at the University of South Carolina, will be the leaders of the Drama League group, for whom special entertainments, teas and garden parties, visits backstage, and meetings with various producers and playwrights are being arranged.

Belay Chain Today
Belay Chain, a traditional part of the Winthrop Commencement program, takes place today at 6:30 on the Athletic Field with Senior and Junior classes participating.

Edith Gorman, president of the Student Government Association, will lead the Seniors Sunday afternoon, June 2, at 5:30 o'clock, in the traditional Ivy Procession. As is customary, each Senior will place a leaf of ivy on the grave of Dr. D. B. Johnson, the Founder and first President of Winthrop College.

SENIORS CUT SHACKLES AT BURNING OF BOOKS

"Tat" Suber, Master of Ceremonies; Lillian Hogarth in Charge of Arrangements

Two bonfires were lighted on the Athletic Field promptly at 10 o'clock Monday night as a signal for Seniors to burn all their most hated notebooks.

Before the books were burned, many objects of common hatred were consigned to the flames, under the solemn direction of Master of Ceremonies, "Tat" Suber; a rule book, a blue exam book, some "pursed kitty," Mr. Mitchell's personality notes, some "Jergens" lotion, a fling-out book, permission slips, yards and yards of "red tape," and "Percy" mousetraps. Three samples, representing (1) those teachers who flunk students, (2) any administration which thwarts progress, and (3) the people who "report" students, were sent to their destruction as the class howled with pleasure.

Francis Wylie led a snake dance, during which each Senior cast into the fire the object of her undying hatred: chemistry, history, library methods—almost every kind of notebook.

To celebrate their satisfaction at having thrown aside the annoying shackles, the Seniors then gathered around the fire, toasted marshmallows, and sang familiar old songs and spirituals.

Lillian Hogarth was in charge of the book burning, and the Seniors of '35 are the first class to include the burning of books as a part of Senior week fun.

Lillian Hogarth Wins Hoop-Rolling Contest
An innovation to the entertainments of Senior Week, the hoop-rolling contest, created much excitement on the campus Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Senior Class assembled in front of Administration Building, where each girl was presented with a hoop and a guide stick. The object was to see who could roll a hoop all the way around the campus in the shortest time, thus determining who should be the first to be married.

A signal from Carolyn Shaw, who was in charge of the program, the Seniors were off. Most of them became discouraged and turned back; but in a surprising short time Lillian Hogarth completed the circuit of the campus. She was declared winner and was presented with a bouquet of flowers. On questioning, Lillian declared that in spite of her winning the contest, she still plans to go to Columbia University in the fall.
