ROCK HILL, SOUTH CAROLINA — Deb Leach, associate professor in Winthrop University's Richard W. Riley College of Education, has helped raised more than $35,000 in scholarship money for the university's Think College program students.

In just the last three years, Assistant Professor Seth Jenny has published 11 peer-reviewed journal articles, with several others in review or in progress.

And you can't pass by Instructor Geoff Morrow without receiving a high-five or handshake.

The College of Education recognized these and others faculty and staff members April 26 at a special awards ceremony, highlighting those who have gone "above and beyond" their job duties.

The awards given were:

Stewardship and Service Award: Deb Leach, for her work with the Think College program, grant proposals and bringing the 2nd annual Inclusion Across the Lifespan Conference to Winthrop.

Research and Scholarship Award: Seth Jenny, for his significant contributions to the physical education field.

Spirit and Collaboration Award: Geoff Morrow, for his positive attitude.

Student Engagement and Development Award: Alice McLaine, assistant professor and athletic training program coordinator, for her ways of applying students' classroom work to the real world and connecting students through networking.

Cross Collaboration Award: Linda Pickett, assistant professor, for her work with Hunter Street Elementary School, the Department of Biology and the STEM initiative.

Adjunct Faculty Award: Stacy Ard, for her willingness to take on more classes.

Support Staff Excellence in Service Award: Dia Hablutzel, who is instrumental in arranging students' field placements.
