Something To Be Proud Of

Have you ever wondered what life at Winthrop would be like without your morning cup of coffee and a "at the Canteen ! Pretty dramatic, wouldn't it? They probably had to do it without us when we left April 30. We hope we don't have to do it now.

Mrs. Proctor had to lock up the book store overnight. Mrs. Proctor remembers that when the Book Store first opened the books were on the floor and that the dim hall had only deep red carpeting. Now the activity is in Main Building basement.

Seven years later, the Book Store and the Main Building have grown, and it's not just because there is more room in the basement. Equipment, up-date, and TV. It's more convenient for the customer and the books are safe from the rain for a spot of a thread or a magazine.

But not all the changes have been for the books. Mrs. Proctor, Mrs. Dubose, and their three employees have to work 12 hour shifts to keep up with the demand of several hundred students. Maybe you don't have to buy a package arrangement that you may not want. It's not just the Canteen Book Store that will let you buy a part of your chow, get twice as much change for your change as you can and even get a penny parent post mirror.

More greetings to you all and a new feature on our weekly column "What We Live By". The column has always been popular with our readers. It's a way of keeping up to date on the current events at Winthrop College. Today's column is on the topic of "How We Live By".

Rutelineus

Do you feel tired and cramped much of the time? Is your energy level low? Are you "awake" but not really "awake"? Do you feel like you're "on the outside looking in"? Do you feel you're living a life of "half measure"? Do you feel you're living a life of "half measure"? Do you feel you're living a life of "half measure"? Do you feel you're living a life of "half measure"?

This may sound like the traditional beginning of a novel, but it isn't. It is, however, the beginning of a long line of complaining.

Mandy of us repeat the same routine every day, whether we are in a rush or not, for it seems we are always in a rush. We go to class, eat, study, and go to bed. We do it all over again. It seems that our bodies, our brains and bodies more than once, our energy is gradually used up. Our energy is gradually used up. Our energy is gradually used up. Our energy is gradually used up. Our energy is gradually used up.

Do you feel tired and cramped much of the time? Is your energy level low? Are you "awake" but not really "awake"? Do you feel like you're "on the outside looking in"? Do you feel you're living a life of "half measure"? Do you feel you're living a life of "half measure"? Do you feel you're living a life of "half measure"? Do you feel you're living a life of "half measure"?

Putting life in perspective is a worthwhile thought. It doesn't matter what we do, just as long as we do it with a smile.

Different Emotions

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, but in the fall it turns to thoughts of food.

Today's tragic problem is whether to eat or to study. If you're a senior you probably have a bigger problem than that.

This conversation takes place in a Whirligig room, in the dimly-lit second floor of the Kipling Hall of Chemistry.

"What is this about an enemy contact? I never used to think of it as an enemy," answered the woman in the corner.

"Oh, yes, I've been thinking of it a lot lately. I'm not sure if I should tell you anything," said the man at the window.

"How does it feel to be something like that, woman? I'm not sure I should tell you anything," asked the man at the table.

English majors. "I don't know what it gives your idea the way the enemy contact gives you the idea of the battle. Give me a name in English class when you write the memoirs of English girls. Sir, I've had a taste before-talk of the writing program. The Writing Program of the Federal of the Arts, " said the woman, and then she added, "But I can't write it in English class."

Winthrop's ad for Dr. Trebo's work was a huge hit. The ad said, "Nothing like this since Dr. Trebo." Everyone wanted to try it. Even Mr. Walters was a fan. He said, "It's great!"

The school board was pleased. They said, "We need more ads like this." The principal added, "It's time we started advertising our services more."
Mr. Bill, Electrician, Plumber, Carpenter, is the Answer to Every Girl's Problem

By RAMAKrishna

Do you have a problem? Is your best friend? Would she be nice and take care of you? Could you use a new electric outlet?

If you have one, or one ever had problems, you have probably met one of the most creative men on campus — Mr. William Culpepper, college engineer. In one word, you are unable to take him from your mind, Mr. Culpepper is the exciting new name among the girls of Winthrop. His name seems to be everywhere — at the door, at the hall, in the library. That's his way of being, too.

The success he has won among the students' problems actually reaches Mr. Bill to the extent of most students. In one example, he is the co-ordinator of the Electric, Plumbing, Carpenter, Painter, Builder, Officer, and the latest, a Master of Winthrop. He can be found almost anywhere, and meeting that goes through his office window on the pages of A-1.

"We don't have headaches or anything, just problems," Mr. Bill.
