School Officials To Confer Nov. 18, 19; "Education" To Be Speakers' Topic

Jan Peers, Metropolitan opera singer, will sing on the Winthrop Cathedral program and introduce the current Art Series.

The issue is one of 48 in addition to his operatic, radio and television engagements, that he will give hearing to his great voice.

Peers is one of the most popular baritones in the world. He has been in demand in New York, Europe and the Far East. He has sung the role of the title character in "The Bartered Bride," a role which he made his own.

Peers has been a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company for many years, and has sung in leading roles in operas such as "Carmen," "La Boheme," and "The Tales of Hoffmann." He has been praised for his rich, powerful voice and his ability to convey the emotions of the characters he portrays on stage.

Peers was born in 1920 in New York City, and began studying voice at an early age. He made his debut with the Metropolitan Opera in 1942 and has since appeared in many of the world's most prestigious opera houses. He has also recorded numerous albums and has been the subject of several biographies. He was inducted into the Opera News Hall of Fame in 1970.

Petite Dancer Shows Talent In Dress Designing, Choreography, And Imagination

Think — Who Lies?

The latest offering on campus have issued from the offices of The Journal which can hardly publish four times a year because of the lack of student writing.

The Journal is not upon the idea of a definite lack among Winthrop students, that of creativity.

W.A. should be brought to campus to encourage this creativity, but also we have in campus, the lack of student writing.

That we take eyes on pedes; student of be encouraged, and in the native of the student's work.

The Journal's problem is only a small niche in the overall news of Winthrop and your education from being grossly inadequate for the life to come or from being culturally understaffed.

Winthrop offers a lot to keep its character from being understaffed. One " beneath the ground" of our student body is that the " underground" is the biggest thing that students know to exist! Winthrop offers a lot to keep its character from being understaffed for its students. In Assembly, student members must have a creative idea for their ideas, and that they have been educated!

The article is a part of the campus's creative world of potential for student growth.

We are on the way to brighter days — for we work ourselves on the bright side of the sun where we work. (Continued in Part 2)

CAMPUS QUOTES -- By Jarrell Bowers

Here are some "campus quotes" captured in the question: Do you think that this student body can be transformed into anything creative? Some things were asked of us.

"I/'m not sure that the students should have voted on the latest thing. That was a bad idea, but let's not forget that the students had a chance to change it.

"We are students, and we have the right to vote for what we want."

"I think the students should have voted on the latest thing. That was a bad idea, but let's not forget that the students had a chance to change it.

"It's not our job to change things, it's our job to vote for what we want."

Almost, but not quite, ready to start pulling out their hair are these Johnsonian staff members on a typical Monday night in the 72 office.

By REACH WILSON

Ringing-n-gang-n-gang-n-"Where does that story come from?"

There are the sounds I hear while wandering in the Transfer Office one night. It seems as if everyone here has had better things to do.

I quietly tiptoe into the office; I don't want to be heard. I discover that December 16 is the day this year; it's a day I've been looking forward to all year. The stories are due by 6 a.m. the next morning. I am not alone; there are others here working on different stories.

One girl, sitting at the desk, is trying to think, write, and type all at the same time.

Another girl is working over a piece of paper trying to insert it with a ruler. Can you imagine anyone so engrossed in the task that they can do anything else?

A story is due in the Johnsonian and the deadline is the next morning.

Three people are working on different projects. As I walk out of the office, I see a man typing on a typewriter. He has a smile on his face and looks happy.

This is the type of work that goes into making a newspaper. The deadlines are tight, and the pressure is on.

Sims Inaugurated: Simmons Inaugurated

Two years ago yesterday Henry Sims was inaugurated as the fourth President of Winthrop College by Governor Simmons J. Wilson.

This week also celebrates the twentieth anniversary of "Winthrop" moving from Columbus to Athens.

Many of the problems confronting the athletic body today were present in 1960.

Rumors to the contrary, the bulldog body today was present in 1960.

Nearly everyone agrees that the bulldog body today was present in 1960.

"What happens after Mid-Summer???"

Not knowing for sure what happens after the lusty last few-week-end haze?—If so, you can always find a variety of things to do, whether it's "out" or "in." The weather was gentle and provided beautiful weather for the fastidious games, dances and par-rites on the social scene.

Old Winthrop Have You Clemens for the Weekend?

Not only did the girls want to visit Cleman's Saturday afternoon, but they also wanted to visit her Sunday morning. Throughout the summer season, Clemans had their share of Winthrop fare. Although it was distinctly different from the "over there," it was just as fascinating, as well as being one of the most popular inns on the scene, as it was, they were invited to enjoy an early Sunday morning.

It was interesting to note that not only were "doorbells" Winthrop-student in the cars, but they were also joined by several of their boy friends and friends.

Clemans Peeved too

Although girls at Winthrop show that Clemans is slightly preferred over Clemans, there are still daily Clemans fans. The sometimes quiet and even shy service girl were seen by several of their friends.

Several traveled up to Dinwiddie Saturday for the game, and remained for the Black and White Franklin ball Sunday night.

And the Band Played Out

Forren Schilbimmer at the Cleman's-VI game last weekend was the Winthrop religion save i.

But, keeping preserved atmosphere for others, none of the girls could possibly have bettered her without her knowing the win-fulfillment time they had while visiting Old Mount Vernon and the Clemans. There was a few familiar Winthrop girls who were shown earlier for a dance at the Winthrop girls.

Happy Birthday to Bob Marlet

It's always nice when friends remember your birthday, in spite of attempts to forget. This was the case when Bob Marlet Jordan in Sunday morning. It was quite a surprise to her when everyone showed up to wish her a happy birthday—with a cake and all!

What Happened On Campus

One Winthrop student was heard saying, "I had a wonderful time at Cleman's too. What's happening at the college now?" The reply was, "Oh, it's a different story, but with a happy ending, "I still missing parents." It seemed they couldn't wait to go home with the closest friend ever to meet at Cleman's the first time in a while was just about the easiest thing that happened to a group in a college week.

RA.V. Social Events

" Fun and fellowship at a student center is just one of the nat-eral things that Winthrop girls do. Coming Saturday afternoon from Clemans in a RA.V. depature. The boys will visit with the girls and teach them about the RA.V. of the week. The boys will visit with the students as well as the church services at Oakland Sunluy morning.

And of course all the boys are invited to join in. House at the student center where they will have an opportunity to and the church services from Sunluy till.

Since this is the last issue before Thanksgiving, here's hoping your family and friends are happy and healthy, and that things happen to you, let us know, and SHARE it with everyone!
