Winthrop students – Ambassadors, the Serving Others And Reflecting (SOAR) group, Orientation leaders, peer mentors and spirit squad members - and Big Stuff will serve as advisors, tour guides and cheerleaders.

“The walk is about getting youth excited about staying in school and the possibilities that exist if they go to college,” said Laura Foster, organizer and program director for volunteer and community service with Winthrop’s Center for Career and Civic Engagement.

Those attending will visit eight sites around Winthrop. They will view a residence hall, the campus center, wellness center, the cafeteria and a greenhouse, and watch a one-act play, science experiments and see the stock exchange ticker.

The Mentor Walk will end with participants signing a pledge to stay in school. They will take home a glow-in-the-dark bracelet as a keepsake.

The Mentor Walk is sponsored by Winthrop in partnership with the Campus Community Partnership Foundation, which promotes a student centered approach to education and social responsibility. It recognizes the innovative ideas that college students have to solve community problems. It celebrates the best practices of campus community partnerships and organizes the Mentor Walk to motivate students to stay in school and other strategies that positively influence social needs through education and impact the lives of others.
