MAY QUEEN AND COURT

Editorial Asides

Warning There is undoubtedly method in the madness of the installers of the sprinkler system who are doing a swell job of making it dangerous to be out on the campus after dark. The elaborate system of trenches interlocking back camp will be the path of pipes of water at future Winthrop fires.

Lauding Mr. R. A. James of the commerce department tells of a department of loafing at a New York University. Courses offered are the philosophy of loafing, comparative loafing, theories of loafing, and a loafing seminar. After observing some of the activities of our own students, it strikes me that such a course at Winthrop would not be a crime.

Sign We think some sort of campaigning paign should be launched against those students who so thoughtlessly remove posters and signs from the halls. If these people ever tried making a poster and saw how much work was involved, they might think twice before either defacing it or taking it away entirely.

TRAINING SCHOOL WINS FIRST PLACE IN MUSIC CONTEST

Rock Hill School Scores Second in State-Wide Competition

Winthrop Training School won first place in the eleventh annual contest in music for high school students of South Carolina held here last weekend with 95 points to their credit.

Rock Hill High School tied second place with 90 points and Greer High School placed third with 86 points.

Professor Peter Dykeman of Teachers College at Columbia University served as judge of the competition among approximately 1,500 students in groups, solo, instrumental, and ensemble work.

Winthrop Training School rated two "excellent" positions and eleven "very good" positions in the final decision; Rock Hill was fourteen "very good" ratings.

FRIDAY, APRIL 29, 1937
FRESHMAN DORMITORIES

When freshmen first come in the fall, they are a week ahead of the other classes. But, thrilled and enthusiastic, they enter the lonesome, almost deserted, dormitories. Some are homesick; some without roommates. They are all mixed up about the physical examinations and intelligence tests. In spite of these things, they manage to struggle through that week.

Then the upper classmen return, hailing old acquaintances and making happy reunions. The freshmen do feel left out. When they get to know the upper classmen, their attitude somehow changes. Things don't thrill them anymore. They start finding fault unnecessarily. They try to see if they can get by, but they decide that Dr. So and So "doesn't like me anyhow, so what's the use of studying?" Many attribute this change to the influence of the other classes.

Freshman dormitories, it is hoped, will do away with many of these hardships and prejudices of the freshmen. We hope the new dormitory plan will make Freshman Week easier for the new students. We hope that it will make them feel more important—that they are an integral part of the student body. We want them to learn how to study. And we don't want them to be laughed at because they are not so enthusiastic.

However, we do desire that our freshmen form a good opinion of Winthrop and do aid in spreading that opinion throughout the state. We think freshman dormitories will do a lot toward helping accomplish these aims.

CONGRATULATIONS, TRAINING SCHOOL!

Congratulations, Winthrop Training School! Your recent victory in winning Sweepstakes in the State Music Contest is merely the latest proof of your standards and position as one of the outstanding high schools of South Carolina. Winthrop is proud to claim you as her own and you, in turn should be proud to be Winthrop, Junior.

Training School is not merely a vestigial appendage of Winthrop; it is a vital part of the college itself. By offering an experimental laboratory for would-be teachers its value is immeasurable. It is an apprenticeship shop where embryonic teachers may go to learn the trade. As the achievements in the state contests have shown, it is also a broadcasting station telling the audience interested in education of the practical value of the school.

For very different reasons Winthrop is an asset to the community. Now a child can enter the Winthrop nursery school at the age of two and emerge twenty years later with a college degree tucked under her arm. During all that time she has received only the most thorough and most approved educational methods. In fact her entire school life has been planned by experts who have tried to provide the richest, best rounded program possible.

Thus Winthrop College and Winthrop Training School are not two separate institutions. They are cooperative units working together for the welfare and improvement of the whole.

WANTED: A LARGE SUPPLY OF DEPARTMENTAL COOPERATION

Much has been said and more has been implied recently about lack of cooperation among departments of Winthrop College. Why does such a situation exist on our campus?

The trouble lies in the fact that each of us considers his or her department and its activities the most important on the campus. We are not willing to recognize the work of other departments as having the same value to its field and to the college as our own. We are not willing to make even a small sacrifice to aid the activities of others. If our help is needed.

Even in this supposedly civilized and cultured corner of the world, we find handed down from department head to department head feuds—the not shot-gun type, but feuds just as detrimental to the well-being of the college.

In participating in these petty feuds and jealousies, we not only show narrow-mindedness, but we really exhibit lack of intelligence. Modifying an old axiom, we might say no school is better than its weakest department; and an individual department will have difficulty in building its reputation above that of the school.

Extra! Extra! All about the big flood! Four inches of rain water submerged Johnson Hall cafeteria Saturday, as hundreds of hungry music constants begged for food.

Dear Editor...

What's wrong with this college is that we don't have chapel—or is it assembly—often enough. I think we, as freshmen college students who work all the time, should have more than thirty minutes a week devoted to sleeping and resting.

After all, anyone will agree with me when I say that chapel is the only place one can sleep. If you try to sleep in your room, nobody bothers to observe the "Do Not Disturb—No exceptions—Absolutely" signs, after you have come to the reality to put them up.

One Minute Interview

Question for the week: What do you think of the new plan of having freshmen dormitories?

Canvassing Campuses

Advertisement for NYU featuring a cartoon character and text: 'HEY GUARD! WHO WROTE "FOUR WALLS TO BUILD A PRISON MAKE?"', 'SEVERAL PRISONERS AT ALBUQUERQUE PRISON WHICH WROTE THE TIGHTEST FEDERAL CRIMINALS ARE TAKING COURSE FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA', 'BUCKSHOT. THESE ARE MORE PART TIME STUDENTS ENROLLED AT NEW YORK UNIVERSITY THAN THESE ARE FULL TIME STUDENTS AT ANY OTHER COLLEGE, EXCEPTING CALIFORNIA', 'OK FOR THE METROSELAH IT WOULD TAKE 5000 YEARS FOR ONE PERSON TO COMPLETE ALL OF THE COURSES NOW BEING OFFERED BY YALE UNIVERSITY'

From our campus come the two epigrams—perhaps a little trite but the Winthrop students can supply this portion of the column:

He loved me through all his peaceful years: Wild rain, a crackling fire, a wind-whipped sky. He feared not love, nor loss, nor play's tears. Content was he to live and glad to die. —Tweedy Brook.

From the Abraham comes these definitions that we find every college girl should know:

A bird in the hand is not a table manner. She knows no sex like a book—she hasn't read. A fool and his money are some party. Freedom in politics means you can vote. A ripe old age is nothing to brag about—remember the tennis. You may not care much for an engagement ring, but it's nice to have on hand. Great bluffs from little study grove. —The Abrahams.

Women "Arrive" In Business World

BY MISS MARIE FEWELL Secretary, Rock Hill Chapter of Consumers Once upon a time, perhaps fifty or sixty years ago, all women, like Elizabeth's wife, had doors which they were forbidden to unlock. Today most of those doors swing open at women's approach.

Women "Arrive" In Business World

With women definitely established in the business world, having learned from the ground up, it is fitting to "take stock" and see what has contributed most towards their success. Personally, alert, efficiency, courtesy, determination and perseverance are all priceless assets. Someone has well said "clothes are an expression of personality, of taste, of mental attitudes, of character. They do not speak individually, they reveal it." Remember in applying for a position, or even a job, one should look and set the part.

MISS WILMA HILL GIVEN CARNEGIE ART SCHOLARSHIP

Is In Group Of Twenty-One Elected From U. S. To Study At Harvard

Miss Wilma Hill, instructor in the fine arts department of Winthrop College, has been awarded a Carnegie Foundation Scholarship to study at Harvard for the summer session of 1937. The group of twenty-one, of which Miss Hill is a member, was selected from the United States at large and includes teachers, designers, painters, and others interested in the advancement of fine arts.

Miss Hill, a native of Emporia, Kansas, received her B. S. degree from Kansas State Teachers College, her M. A. degree from Columbia University, and did additional graduate work at Chicago University. Before coming to Winthrop in 1934, Miss Hill was instructor in fine arts at the University of Arkansas.

"The General Died at Dawn"

Stars Cooper and Carroll "The General Died at Dawn," starring Gary Cooper and Madeline Carroll, will be shown Saturday night at 7:15, in Main Auditorium.

The story centers about the adventures and experiences of O'Hara (Gary Cooper), an American soldier of fortune, in China. O'Hara has trusted agent of loyal patriots who seek to rid their country from the grasp of war-torn, and a commission to buy arms for them.

Entranced by the aloof, stern, lady Freire (Madeline Carroll), an unwilling accomplice of her father (Peter Hall), O'Hara is held prisoner by General Yang (Akim Tamiroff). As Cooper escapes, the two plunges into real suspense-packed melodrama.

Those making the trip are: Eleanor Goughman and Dorothy Virens, soprano; Virginia Campbell, violinist; and Minnie Lynch Walker, pianist.

Exchange Teachers Add Lobbying To Other Duties

"Good your college" is really a slogan for some of the Winthrop seniors. A few not only boast it, but they also lobby for their Alma Mater.

A number of seniors, exchange teachers in Columbia, spent about two hours trying to persuade the members of the House of Representatives that Winthrop really needs two new buildings. And now they proudly exclaim, "Well, you see they did pass the bill!"

MONROE ELECTED PRESIDENT WADE HAMPTON SOCIETY

Literary Group Chooses Rising Senior From Marion At Meeting Monday

Libby Monroe, rising senior from Marion, was elected president of the Wade Hampton Literary Society for the session 1937-'38 at a meeting in the Wade Hampton Literary Society hall Monday evening. She was elected upon the resignation of Dorothy Rogers.

The program consisted of: "The News Reels," a review of one of the 10 best magazine articles of the month, by Beat Matthews; "Zeb Conroy's 'Dinky Flyers,'" a piece solo, by Libby Wilson; "Some Little Bub" by Roy Auld, and "The Usual Way" by Fredrick Westbury, two poems read by Sara Westbrook.

Deafness Is Discussed At Joint Club Meeting

Mrs. G. J. Cullum of Augusta spoke to members of the Psychology Club and the Social Service Club Friday afternoon on "Present Trend in Teaching the Deaf of Hearing."

Mrs. Cullum, herself totally deaf, discussed her school for the deaf which she conducts in Augusta. She described the horror of living in complete silence, the sounds that were once heard which haunt the deaf, and the necessity of readjusting the whole life to a world of soundlessness.

THE FOUR PARAMOUNT VIRTUES
Your investment with us is SAFE. It is protected by the best security - first mortgage on good homes. Our mortgaged home property far outstrips our loans in value and to make safety doubly safe every investor is insured up to $5,000.
Your investment is PROFITABLE. The rate of return is substantially higher than that of other investments of corresponding safety. Compounding of dividends brings also greater profit.
Your Association is CONVENIENT. You have no work, no worry, no red tape. Many investors deal with us entirely by mail. Anyone may invest here - either in substantial lump sums or by small installments of savings.
FREEDOM FROM FLUCTUATION. Your investment with us does not decline in value with passing conditions. It is always worth one hundred cents on the dollar plus accumulated dividends. There can be no manipulation.
