The Association of Ebonites is one of those organizations that people hear of but know little about. This organization was started in 1969 and has played a role in Winthrop Campus life ever since.

In an interview with members of the Executive Board of the Ebonites last week, the purpose of the organization and the direc tion they are seeking to go was discussed.

First of all, the president of the Ebonites, Dwayne Banks, explained that the purpose of the Association is to promote Black Culture. The Association is seeking to do this through sponsoring educational and cultural events designed to acquaint the public with the culture of Blacks. They are also attempting to get White students involved in the Organization. Contrary to popular belief, the club is not for Blacks only. Though, currently the club is all Black, Dwayne Banks stated that this is due to no fault of the Association.

When asked about the negative attitude that many students have about the organization, Dwayne Banks said that this probably came about because of poor leadership in the past. The Association has its own methods of electing their officers and this has sometimes not provided for the best leadership.

When asked whether they think there is any overt discrimination against Blacks on this campus, one member, Dwayne Banks, stated that he has not experienced any himself, but has heard stories of discrimination against students because they were Black. The Organization itself felt that it has been discriminated against. They offered the example of when they went before the Senate last year to get their budget confirmed. The money was to be used for Black Week which was intended to benefit the whole campus. One senator kept referring to the event as "their Black Week" and suggested that the association raise their own funds for the event. They also said they have a problem of getting use of buildings during this time also. There were minor complaints about the entertainment that performs at Winthrop College. The Ebonite feel there should be more Black entertainers invited to the Campus.

When asked what the average Black Student can do to benefit himself and the Association stated that Black students on this campus must get involved and be less apathetic about the school. This whole "sang and dance" or apathy and indifference that Winthrop students seem to play at this school sometimes borders on the ridiculous. Participation by both Whites and Blacks will add to greater involvement by the student body as a whole. The Association of Ebonites also issued a challenge to the White students of Winthrop College to come and attend one of their meetings and see what they are about. Are you willing to accept the challenge?

Do you want to be popular on campus and have people know you as you walk by? Are you tired of the same old routine day in and day out? If you answered yes to one or more of the above "Get Involved In Winthrop" program is for you.

This program, sponsored by SOA and Dinkins Program Board, is designed to give students the opportunity to find out about all the clubs and organizations at Winthrop College. Each Club or organization will be represented on Thursday, September 15 at 3:00 P.M. Bancroft - Room 147.

There will be a period of information by each club leader and then there will be a question and answer session. The group will then break up and move to their separate areas to give students a chance to talk to the club leaders about the club, its purpose and requirements for joining.

Possibly the greatest thing you can do for yourself and your school is to get involved. Don't be apathetic, get your hands dirty. It all goes into making you a well rounded person. Remember there are three kinds of people: people who make things happen, people who make things happen and people who ask what happened. Which are you?

Get Involved In Winthrop

Ebonites: Changing Their Colors?

by C.L. Hayter

The Office of Placement and Career Planning offers a Placement file. This file will help students organize essential information before beginning any job hunt. This information can be updated and used throughout job changes and career changes. This service continues after graduation and is available to faculty and alumni.

The Office of Placement and Career Planning also offers a Placement file. This file is designed to assist students in career exploration, opportunities available in specific job market, participation in internships, and graduate school information.

Placement meetings for all interested students to register with the Placement Office will begin in September.

Graduating Seniors

Not Guaranteed Jobs!

by Becky Ferguson

Seniors need to take heed of the fact that the Office of Placement and Career Planning DOES NOT graduating students a job. It does, however, play an important role in helping students find a job after graduation from Winthrop.

The Office of Placement and Career Planning, located in 142 Bancroft, offers many services to all students, seniors and others alike. An addition of two members to the Placement Office staff, Frank Joseph and Jerry Smith, will help find the career best suited for your personal interests. The Office will also help schedule interviews with employers, begin a Placement file for individuals, and offer workshops in such topics as Resume Writing, Interviewing, Job Search, and Graduate Study. All of these services and more are provided through the Placement Office.

Picture—two rocks, not small, yet not large either, bak ing in the sun, enjoying the heat of the summer day. It's revealing in the view from the hillside house.

Their names (roughly translated from Metamorphose to English) are Vleazek and Zleep.

"It's getting a little warm up here," Vleazek grumbled.

"Yeah, what'd the others do to deserve the shade from the Miller sisters?"

Vleazek shrugged (to the human, there was no movement) at the Miller sisters.

"Hey, Vleazek... look!" Zleep was so agitated that chips flew.

"Same same. Oh, no!" They're coming this way right on us... Hey, get over here!"

Horrified, Vleazek exclaimed, "Oh, those animals!"

Through the pain Zleep cursed, "May your body crack and chip! May your pebbles be deformed and covered with lichen!"

Vleazek affirmed his sentiments, "And you, Zleep! What more can they do?"

In his outrage, he began to crack.

"Lee Zleep! Now they're breaking parts off of Son of Birch! What CRIMINALS!"

Zleep thought, "Oh, no! Now they're burning them!"

He glanced towards the top of Zleep's pebbles.

"Poor, evil. Never had a chance."

"The climbing in Mileyo Azmoke!

"The scour!" He almost rolled off his perch as he shouted, "They're throwing... whatevers on the water!"

Zleep moaned as prey, as they watched the outrage continue, defenseless and powerlessly to intervene. Suddenly, they heard a great roar from somewhere.

"What's that?"

"Probably one of their infernal orgies."

"Nooooo... Look! It's Xeb and his tramps."

"Huh? It's them. They're going to save the pebbles, Go, Xeb!"

He shook and creaked in his exultation.

The avalanche of angry rocks always fell in a great roar and a cloud of dust, miraculously leaving Son of Birch and Mileyo Azmoke unharmed.

As Vleazek and Zleep sat in the settling cloud of dust, Zleep spoke up, "That was terrifying. But do you think it was the right thing to do?"

Vleazek shrugged and said, "Well, Xeb was planning on moving anyway."

TO RUN. OR NOT TO RUN.

Is That The Question?

Kathy Kirkpatrick.

TO RUN. Just about half of my readers, NOT TO RUN. I just lost the other half. Now, I'm trying to talk to myself or someone just like me. I probably have no way to understand or even remember the events of the last minute. I'm trying to analyze what the choices were. I think it is true this is my middle of the sidewalk which is an almost nonexistent space. That is the reason this is no middle of the sidewalk issue. One either runs, jogs, walks, or does someone or something. The trouble is you and I haven't been trained to do any of the three. You and I are essentially the one with the dead branch. We lumber it first, thinking we're going to get somewhere. Suddenly, the universe is on fire. We're the ones with the faded Keds and the tie-dye boxers.

Winthrop College it seems, is still in the process of Transition. Many freshmen on this campus still seem to have their own cliques and groups and rarely have any type of social interaction outside of the classroom. This was explained to be because... of different interests. This I think is utter bullshit! Black students hang out with Black students and White students hang out with White students for the same reason. This whole process and idea of unspoken separateness between Whites and Blacks sickens me to this day. This is not being prejudice on this campus. The campus is prejudice.

One of the things that most impressed me was the faith of the Blacks and the Whites. Those of us who attempt to be free of this terrible plague are often isolated and belittled by our actions. I know of many White students who have been, called "Nigger Lovers" because they accept people for what they are. Blacks who do the same are labeled "Gangster" and "Uncle Tomons'. Friends, the arch and obsolete concept of race that many of us were reared to believe in, is simply nothing but this same prejudice in a slightly different imaginations. I mean, my God, if blacks and whites could get along in this country, why can't we as human beings?"

The time has come for us to throw off the shackles of misrepresented and misguided beliefs about people because of their color. It is about time that we as students for what they and bear under the veil of superition and destroy the walls of bigotry and prejudices that threaten to destroy a society so full of promise. Mankind, my friends, IS ONE. THERE IS NO DIFFERENCE BETWEEN RACES. Is this really so hard to believe?

Winthrop College is cut and dried.

The Creature From The Black Lagoon: A Psychological Profile

By Julie Spahn

They called him a monster. He came helpless women from the murky depths! He himself murdered scientists who were only trying to do their jobs! What kind of Creature was this? Well, to begin with, legend had it that he had lived in a remote portion of the Amazon jungle for centuries. An area only the bravest men dared to explore! He was ugly, horribly ugly. His body was covered with scales and slime from the Black Lagoon. His eyes were too close together. He had no nose, no hair, and no teeth. The only woman who had ever seen him screamed in terror when he approached.

Let's look at this from another angle. This poor fellow has been isolated for a long time and had no chance to develop the social skills necessary for successful interaction with others. Furthermore, looking like he does, he must be extremely sensitive about his appearance. Who wouldn't be, with people yelling and running every time he came into view? Which brings us to the issue of public opinion. Anyone, confronted with such negative sentiment and given no chance to defend himself could very possibly turn antisocial. And we all know the severe deprivation that human males claim to feel when they haven't seen a woman for any length of time. So imagine the uncontrollable urge The Creature must have felt when a woman appeared on the scene. You've never heard of a lady Creature, have you? He must have been pretty lonesome. Perhaps, instead of killing him, the scientists should have given him lots of Tender Loving Care and taught him Transcendental Meditation. What better way to reduce aggressiveness?

Archives Increase Collection

By Su Taylor

During the past summer the Archives collected a number of manuscript collections relating to women's history in South Carolina. This included diaries, letters, tapes, club and organizational records.

Among recent acquisitions were records of the South Carolina International Women's Year Conference, including sixteen tapes of the conference; records of the Honeys' Nest Girl Scout Council (1919-1974); Lucy Hardie Olsen diary (1941-1945), describing her internment in the Philippines by the Japanese; the South Carolina Federal Feminist Credit Union describing the organization of the first credit union of its kind in the Southeast; Mary Johnson Gates papers (1914-1971), relating to the history of home demonstration and economics in South Carolina; records of the Amelia Pride Book Club of Rock Hill (1906-1975), the city's oldest book club; Mary Louisa Holler papers (1888-1965), describing the life of a Chester, Virginia, female academy student; and records of Mr. U.S.A. Pageant, the first alternative feminist pageant to the Miss U.S.A. Pageant, held in Charleston, S.C.

The Archives is open for research by students 8:30 to 5:00 Monday through Friday.

"This will be one of the finest years, not only for Winthrop itself, but for its clubs and organizations. A great deal of activities are planned, especially engaging to the students. Everyone wants a good year."

"The fraternity is new and young. We are trying to build our image. We want everyone to know that the fraternity and the sororities are here not only for partying and social life, but as service organizations too. We want to be helpful to Winthrop."

"There will be a lot of change this year, especially with traditions and the new athletic director. Some traditions, like Clause Night, will be less and less important. Several traditions it will be hard to see go."

"This year will bring in new blood and new ideas. A strong freshmen class of 1200 is bound to bring in excellence."

"The S.O.A.'s major task will be putting together our new constitution. We spent all summer trying to make it solid. Our past one had too many leaks and clauses. This year we want to get it together."

"If people get off the stick, we can see change this year. I want this campus to break away from learned apathy. The freshmen haven't fallen into the "don't give a damn" attitude that the upperclassmen seem to have. They are the ones that need to change things. It's not enough for students to bitch about things. They need to do something about them."

"The U.N. is a good place for students to change their passive role. The U.N. is more than a social activity, it's a political and academic event. I'd like to see Winthrop support new traditions like the U.N. and let other traditions, which meet the needs of only a small minority, die a slow death."

Volleyball, Anyone?

By Dave Burrage

Remember the 'good ole days' in high school when your P.E. teacher would say, "O.K. gang--today we'll learn the fundamentals of volleyball"? Your first thoughts probably were, "Oh boy, something simple for a change." (as you thought about the wind spirits or muletrain you ran the day before). "No sweat!" you kept thinking.

But that was high school, and now you're in college, and although you may not still be playing volleyball, it is still around. However, at WC, playing on the college level separates the men from the boys -- or should I say, the women from the girls.

According to Miss Linda Warren, women's volleyball and basketball coach at WC, the main difference between high school league volleyball and college level volleyball is the intensity. "College volleyball is much more intense than that played in high school," Coach Warren said.

Warren, a graduate of UNC-G (with graduate work done at Florida State University), is in her third year of coaching at WC. She has also coached in Jacksonville, Florida, coached volleyball, basketball, and softball at Florida State and Gadsden Junior High in Adel, Georgia. As an athlete, she played basketball and tennis in high school.

When asked about this year's team, Warren said, "We have never had an overabundance of height, but we are in pretty good shape this year. We have a girl at six feet, she's a junior (from Jackson State) and was 'All State' last year." Other front line players include 5 ft. 10 in. JoBy Williams, a junior in her second year of volleyball, and 5 ft. 11 in. freshman from Hatteras. Warren continued, "We have seven players returning from last year. I lost three people out of my starting line-up from last year. (pause) "We're in pretty good shape."

WC's season starts on the 24th of October. On that date several South Carolina schools will participate in the Third Annual South Carolina Collegiate Scrimmage Day. This is the first year for the WC's Field Hockey Team.

By Dave Burrage

As a sportswriter/reporter, some people assume that I know something about all sports. Like most beginners to the sport, I know enough about football, baseball, basketball, and golf to enable me to follow those sports rather closely.

Recently, I spoke with Dr. Bert Bobb, women's field hockey coach, about a sport I know very little about--field hockey!

Regarding this sport, which I assumed was much like ice hockey (hockey is hockey isn't it?), Dr. Bobb explained, "It is similar to soccer. The field positions are the same, basically. The strategy is the same, the skills of course differ because you have the stick in there with a different type ball, but a lot of the positions are very similar in soccer. I think it's much more related to soccer than to ice hockey."

Since very few of the high schools in this part of the country have field hockey teams, most incoming female athletes have never played the sport. Therefore, Dr. Bobb looks for good athletes who learn fast. "I have thirteen girls back from last year and only two of those had any playing experience before they played at Winthrop." Bobb said. "This year's team should be fairly strong. Gone are three starters from last year's team that wore eleven, lost three, and tied four. Senior Jenny Norris, Pat Bailey, Penny Bostian, Judy Jennings, and Susan McAlison lead this year's team."

Field hockey as a game is made up of two, thirty-five minute halves. There are no timeouts, except for injuries. Further explaining the rules, Bobb said, "There are also very strict substitution rules. You are allowed two substitutions only, and that's including any injuries. You may make those substitutions at any time during the game." She added, "It's a very strenuous game because it's literally seventy minutes of running."

"The Indigestion Suggestion"

By Ron Leyne

Picture this. You’re sitting in your room, hovering somewhere above the surface of your chair after having eaten dinner. You could have been in five bowl-rooms of Columbus, the size of New York plastered with the frescos of your friends. You are looking at the atmosphere, leading you to noddle your affirmative to something you are not really asking, but you open your mouth, because you hold your breath and come out aside from a few stolen moments.

You can sit and listen to R&B, or maybe crack sand on your mattress, never to be seen or heard from again, but before you are able to entertain either of the aforementioned ideas, you are suddenly faced with the most fiendish and arch enemy known to man.

The Munchies.

You SAUCE cabaret closed (thank God), and even your pillow is beginning to phonetically talk:

What’s a mother to do?

Thus, where this column comes before you. We see Rock Hill has its own version of the atmosphere, but you get the same good food and fair prices. If you are looking to go on a ‘burger binge’, Rock Hill is the place to be. MacDonald’s, WENDY’S, HARDER’S and BURGER KING are located on Cherry Road. Most of you are familiar with the various derivations of atmosphere, but Rock Hill offers a different one. We’d rate them (due to their quick fix of a burger just the way you want it) MacDonald’s, BURGER KING and WENDY’S.

According to various reports and critics, the atmosphere is very pleasant. The place is clean and the food is delicious.

THURSDAY’S LTD. Likewise, with WOODY’S BEEF ROOM.

Now go to the fish houses. There are a lot of fish houses in Rock Hill. Some of the fish houses are a little hard to judge. However, the PILOT WHEEL and THE FISH HOOK are off all Mt. Gallant Rd. and all offer similar menus and prices. The all-you-can-eat specials at Mt. Gallant Inn rate number one in town, with similar offerings on the Pilot Wheel.

The only fish house that rates number one in town, with similar offerings on the Pilot Wheel and THE FISH HOOK is THE WHITE PALACE (formerly the Dragon Inn) right across the way from Kit Chen’s and offers the most atmosphere.

It’s a toss up between these two. Wise Owls will like the idea of The White Palace’s late night hours (Monday through Friday nights). It is a toss up on these Cherry Rd. Chinese names, take your pick, and if you want some fun, ask for some chop sticks.

If steak is your weakness, Rock Hill may not be your best bet. On the other hand, THE HUNGRY BULL. Salt Lake City hasn’t made the steak counts make their steak pretty attractive. Big spender may want to waste a few extra dollars on THE BRANDING IRON. You can’t beat the quality of the cut of meat doesn’t seem to be worth the extra cash outlay.

Wendy’s unGodly SHRIMP BOAT, the dish... last.

For a taste of the Orient, check out the two Chinese restaurants in Rock Hill. KIT CHEN’S has been serving up the sauce for a few years now and they aim to please. The menu is chock full of Chinese goodies and they offer a quick carry out for the deli sitting bodies. THE GOLDEN FEATHER has a new menu and Chinese desserts. It is right across the way from Kit Chen’s and offers the most atmosphere.

The GOLDEN FEATHER has never been able to please all, but in Rock Hill, FAMOUS 10’s, SHIP HALL FARM’S and KENTUCKY FRIED, probably in that order, all offer all other about the same. THE SHIP HALL has some atmosphere, but you probably your best bet.

There are no less than six fish houses in Rock Hill. The next week, perhaps, go with the WHITE HORSE for pizza. The crust is thick, the price is moderate, and they practically guaranteed.

Now comes the fun part. Several eateries in Rock Hill are worth going for strictly for their atmosphere. SAMBO’S at four in the morning is a real trip not to be missed if you’re ever up at that hour. The stupid people who grace the place are priceless. How about THE SHRIMP PALACE has a similar atmosphere at that goody hour, but not nearly so many laughs. For some reason, Sambo’s gets the bonus and who knows (and that this goody hour you’ll fit right in.

Then, there are the ‘working man’s digs’.

The VARNISH GRILL, THE COLONY, AL’S SANDWICH HUT (a real treasure hunt involved in Indian place), PORTER’S (a Winthrop favorite) and the 21 TRUCK STOP will all make for an unusual dining experience.

That’s about it. Miles and mounds of munchies, all for you. Who could ask for anything more. Oh, yes. If you’re really doing you could try the DININGS SNACKBAR. It knows. You may even recreate the LAST SUPPER...

Deadlines Near
For Scholarships

By Kathy Kirkpatrick

The deadline for applications for the Fulbright, Marshall and Danforth scholarships is October 1. Nominations by William Daniel, Chairman of the Honors Council in 203 Tillman. These scholarships provide opportunities for graduate study and research in the United States and abroad. The Fulbright Scholarships are grants for graduate study abroad in academic fields and for professional training in the creative and performing arts. Applicants for the Fulbright are judged on a research project they must design themselves. Applicants must be United States citizens at the time of application and be proficient in the language of the host country.

The Marshall Scholarships are designed to enable graduates of U.S. colleges to study at a degree at a university in a foreign country for a period of at least two years. Such awards are made each year.

One hundred Danforth Fellowships are awarded each year to persons committed to careers in college and university teaching. These fellowships provide financial assistance for the pursuit of a Ph.D. at an accredited university of the Fellow’s choice in the United States.

“We have more success with the Fulbright than with any of the others,” Dr. Daniel said. “In the past students from Winthrop have gone to England, Sweden and other countries on a Fulbright.”

“If one can win one of these scholarships the likelihood of finding a job after graduate study is much greater.”

Art Exhibition

A student exhibition is on display in the main gallery of the Rutledge building until September 23 and can be seen between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. on weekdays. The exhibition, arranged by Dr. Edmund M. Lawler, Chairperson of the Art Deptartment, offers a view of sample works by last year’s art students.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union, (BSU) will hold auditions for its singing group, Sept. 19, from 4 p.m.-5 p.m., and on Wednesday, Sept. 21, from 7 p.m.-8 p.m.

On Thursday, September 15 at 7 p.m., a local group called Lightshine will present a program of music at the BSU building. Lightshine is a group of high school and college students, so all Winthrop students are encouraged to attend. On Thursday, preceding the Lightshine program, a business meeting will be held at 11:30 a.m., a luncheon will be held for commuting students, faculty, and staff. Good food and fellowship will be guaranteed, according to Mr. Lucie, spokesperson for BSU.

On Saturday, Sept. 17 from 9 a.m.-5 p.m., BSU will sponsor a car wash in the parking lot of First Federal Savings and Loan on Cherry Road. The money raised will go to benefit the summer missions.

A Soup and Sandwich Lunch will be held on Monday, Sept. 19, starting at 11 a.m. The cost will be 50 for all participants.

All Winthrop students are welcome and encouraged to attend. The next meeting will be held at Ridgecrest, N.C., starting Sept. 25. Students until Sept. 25.

School of Music

The School of Music is planning a number of fall events to promote interest in the summer missions.

Religious Currents

Clemson and Spartanburg area colleges will also attend.

LUMBERJACK STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Lumberjack Student Association (LSA), held its first fall meeting at a cookout on Thursday, Sept. 1, at the Grace Lutheran Church located on Oakland Avenue in Rock Hill. Among activities, elections were held for the position of President of the LSA. Thirty such scholarships provide opportunities for graduate study and research in the United States and abroad. The Fulbright Scholarships are grants for graduate study abroad in academic fields and for professional training in the creative and performing arts. Applicants for the Fulbright are judged on a research project they must design themselves. Applicants must be United States citizens at the time of application and be proficient in the language of the host country.

Joynes Offers New Activities

Children’s Music Workshop

A Children’s Music Workshop and piano classes for adults are among September offerings from Joynes Center for Continuing Education at Winthrop College. The workshop for children six to eight begins Wednesday, Sept. 13, at 4:15 p.m. in Room 203, Bynum Auditorium. The 48-minute class will meet weekly through Dec. 19.

Instructor Shirley Harlow will conduct the workshop, based on the musical education ideas of Carl Orff. Children will learn to use rhythm in speech, song and movement, and to play simple musical instruments. The fee is $5. Adults may enroll in weekly beginning or continuing piano classes. The beginning piano class will meet Mondays from Sept. 13 to Dec. 13 in Room 213 of the Music Conservatory from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

The continuing class for pianists with some previous instruction will meet Mondays from Sept. 5 to Dec. 12 in Room 212 of the Music Conservatory from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Instructor for both classes will be Margaret Smith. Fee for each piano class is $35.

Secretarial Skills

Area secretaries will have two opportunities to pick up additional business skills in September. Joynes Center for Continuing Education at Winthrop College is offering two community seminars, a “Message Writing Clinic” and “The Secretary in a Modern Office.”

The “Message Writing Clinic,” to be held at Joynes Center on Tuesday, Sept. 27, will include instruction in business communication practices will be provided. “The Secretary in a Modern Office,” scheduled at Joynes Center on Tuesday, Sept. 27, will include instruction in secretarial reference materials, writing styles, human relations and telephone techniques.

Dr. Robert Kline, professor in the School of Business at Winthrop College, is coordinating both seminars. Dr. Edna Cole and Barbara Goble will also instruct in “The Secretary in a Modern Office.”

Fee for each seminar is $20 per person, or $15 if two or more enroll from the same business. Fee includes lunch and materials.

Accounting Course

A review course for accountants will be offered on weekends during October at Winthrop College. “CPA Preparation Program,” designed to provide intensive review of CPA materials for those already familiar with basic concepts. Accounting theory and practice will be combined with interrelated aspects of business law and auditing.

Sponsored by Winthrop’s School of Business Administration and Joynes Center for Continuing Education, the course will provide participants for the November CPA exam.

Delta Zeta Looks Ahead

The Delta Zeta members held a meeting Tuesday night, Sept. 6 at 9:30 p.m. in Dinkins to discuss back to school information and to plan for activities to take place during the semester.

In addition to Halloween Happenings, there will be an Open Rush for anyone interested in becoming a Delta Zeta member. There will be parties where one can come and learn about the club in a casual atmosphere. If invited to join one will pay an $80.00 initiation fee, plus monthly dues. There will be a six to eight week pledge period when the new member will receive training for the sorority, its history, and its rules. Once this pledge period is over, a solemn ritual follows as initiation into the sorority.

Already this year Delta Zeta sorority members have managed the SGA book exchange which took place the first week of school. Also, they gave great support to Cathy Hinson, a Delta Zeta Alumna, during her quest for the Miss America title which took place this past Saturday in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

POLI-SCI OFFERS NEW PROGRAMS

The Political Science department has developed two new programs which it is now offering students. The first program is on the undergraduate level, and the second program is a Master's Degree in Public Administration, which includes an internship which allows students experience working in a local government agency.

Faculty Followups

CHEMISTRY

Dr. Frederick Elston has been hired by Winthrop's Chemistry and Physics Department for a part-time teaching position for one year. Dr. Elston recently received his Ph.D. from the University of South Carolina. At Winthrop, Dr. Elston is teaching physical science and physics class and lab.

“One more or less has to work hard to understand anything in science and it is difficult to do if you don’t care. If I expect the students to work hard, I’ll have to make the subject interesting,” said Dr. Elston. From his own undergraduate work at the California Institute of Technology, Dr. Elston said he felt that material was of no use thrown at him and unless there was prior emphasis for the material it was hard to follow.

Dr. Elston has a favorable impression of Winthrop. He said that he liked the location, size, and people of Winthrop. Unlike schools Dr. Elston had found at other universities, Winthrop has a good atmosphere between different departments and that students pay more attention in class. Also, he feels that Winthrop has given him more freedom in his teaching and that he can teach the way he wants to, safely, without the large classes he had taught at before coming to Winthrop this fall.

Dr. Elston has had two papers published. One paper was in the JOURNAL OF MATHEMATICAL PHYSICS (July, 1976), and the other paper was in the PHYSICS LETTERS (January, 1977). Both of these papers deal with Dr. Elston’s specialty—general relativity. General relativity is related to the theory of special relativity developed by Albert Einstein, Dr. Elston said that as a child he enjoyed reading about the great men and women in science. Reading about Einstein led to Dr. Elston’s interest today in Physics.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Three members of the Winthrop Physical Education staff received their Ph.D. degrees during the past summer. Assistant Professor Dr. Mickey Taylor received her degree at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Dr. Malberia Bobb, A.A. Prof. of PE. and Special Education received her degree at the University of Georgia. Dr. Yvonne Bowman, A.A. Prof. of PE. and Health, received her degree at the University of Alabama.

JOYNES CENTER

Mary Jeane Byrd, M.A., is in the process of putting together a program on women and politics, which would be sponsored by the Joynes Center for Continuing Education. Her tentative plan would be to bring to Winthrop, women who are active in Carolina politics.

ENGLISH

Dr. G. Nicholas Ross, Asst. Prof. of English, was awarded a $2000 grant this past summer from Indiana University. This grant was awarded after an 8 week seminar on the National Endowment of Humanities.

COMMUNICATIONS

Dr. Louis J. Rosso, Chairman of Education and Program, plans to attend a conference for Outreach Project Directors to be held on September 12, 13, and 14 in Washington D.C.

THE CONFERENCE IS ENTITLED “THE EVALUATION OF THE IMPACT OF OUTREACH ACTIVITIES.”

Dr. Rosso, an Outreach Project Director for 3 years, has received a fifth year of involvement in this program aimed at designing learning experiences for children and the parents and teachers of children between the ages of 3 and 7 with speech and language delays and hearing impairments. Dr. Rosso and his colleagues have developed a curriculum entitled ARTICULATION AND LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT IN THE ALL PROGRAM. The program uses methods the project has developed.

“During 1976 and 1977 we had 30 speech clinicians employed in the programs in schools, speech and hearing clinics and Head-Start centers in North Carolina and Georgia, using the ALL Program and reporting data on clients’ effectiveness,” Dr. Rosso said. “We are planning to develop a program site at a center for the blind in Michigan and another site in a public school in Washington D.C.”

The committee already established have received grants for program revisions for next year.

EDUCATION

Dr. James Colbert, Director of Teacher Education has accepted the invitation to participate on the committee of the State Council of Teacher Education which will be held in Birmingham, Alabama.

On July 15, 1977, Dr. Colbert received a letter from Cyril B. Busbee, the State Superintendent of Education requesting that he join the State Council of Teacher Education. This council is composed of 30 representatives of the total school system who are qualified to make recommendations concerning teacher certification and preparation. The council is representing state institutions, five representative private colleges, ten public universities and ten public school administrations.

The committee will examine how each proposal which may affect one in actual classroom teaching. They will review teaching and training courses and requirements in order to provide a comprehensive program for teacher preparation and to advise the State Board of Education concerning these decisions. “Our committee will be advisory only,” Dr. Colbert said. “We make recommendations to the State Board of Education. They just want to know what the group thinks, and use that information towards their final decision.”

Dr. Colbert is presently serving as the chairman of the Council of Teacher Education. He is responsible for processing applications for teacher certification.

The evening’s activities will include the 3pm DOUBLETALK and discussion of the problems of communication. Refreshments will be provided.

Couples Rap Sessions

The Winthrop Campus Cooperative Ministry (WCCM) is sponsoring a workshop for engaged-married couples who are interested in developing better skills in relating via conversation.

Student couples will be charged $20.00 (half price) plus materials ($12.00) for the workshop. All other non-students will pay $40.00 plus $12.00 for materials.

The group is scheduled to begin September 19 and will meet four Monday nights consecutively from 7:00-9:00 p.m.

Further information may be obtained by calling 237-1149 (ask for Bob Porterfield). Registration cost is $5.00.

Ministries

NEWMAN, WESLEY, & WESTMINSTER

The Newman Community, (Catholic), Wesley Foundation, (Mennonite), and the West­minster Fellowship, (Presbyterian), will have their second meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 13 at 6 p.m. in the Westminster Fellowship.

The evening’s activities will include the 3pm DOUBLETALK and discussion of the problems of communications. Refreshments will be provided.

CANTERBURY HOUSE

Cantebury House will offer Holy Communion every Tuesday, beginning Sept. 13, at 8:45 p.m. A spaghetti supper will be served afterwards.
