Counseling Center: Here To Help

By Ron Layne

There are many new faces on campus this fall, instructors and freshmen, and a new counseling center. The counselor is Dr. Gary Kanneberg, a Wisconsin native who comes to Winthrop from the political science department at U.S.C. Kanneberg joins the staff of the Counseling Center as a staff counselor and assistant professor of psychology. He and his wife Susan are now living in Rock Hill.

"Wait a minute! Why should you come? What has this got to do with us?" PLENTY.

The Counseling Center is a service for students who need help in their interactions with other people, their goals, or their general enjoyment of life.

"Individualized counseling is available for a wide range of personal concerns," Kanneberg added. "You can be looking for help with those 'everyday' problems—things that have been bothering you for a long time . . .

The confidential nature of the individual counseling allows a student to air his problems and frustrations without the fear of embarrassment that might come from a peer's knowledge of those problems.

"We are looking for help in the individual growth," Kanneberg said.

What about a student's need to know that he is not alone with such problems? The Counseling Center can help. They are already scheduling three, ongoing workshops designed for students who are concerned with 'Breaking Habits,' 'Building Social Skills' or, "Any student who is not happy with including smoking, drinking or overeating," Kanneberg suggested. "This workshop will focus on these things, working towards strengthening the individual's positive habits."

"Building Social Skills will deal with the very basic things, such as 'making friends' and 'social interaction'—as well as the more complex human relationships. Children are offered in his explanation for the second workshop.

"Like asserting your rights," Kanneberg added. "And a student can't say 'no.' It carries into the individual's ability to attain his or her wants and needs."

"In our Anxiety Management workshop," Children are able to help patients learn to deal with such common things as 'test anxiety' or 'public speaking and performing anxiety'. But, it's important to remember that we don't limit ourselves to a group workshop. Individual counseling is available, just by making an appointment. And, if your problems concern your more personal, intimate relationships, we offer 'relationship counseling'—say for 'roommates' of 'girlfriend/boyfriend' where help is available to both parties, even if only one of them is a Winthrop student."

"Are you faced with a problem that seems to be getting the better of you?"

Drop by, or call the Counseling Center. It's located at 214 Bancroft telephone extension 2333. They can set up an individual counseling session or help you sign up for one of the group workshops. And, if you have a suggestion for a different kind of workshop, they're always open to new ideas.

Financial Aid: For The Students

By Becky Ferguson

The Financial Aid Office is offered as a service to the Winthrop College Students. The office covers many aspects of financial aid, such as scholarships. Over 600 students are aided by this BEOP each year, here at WC.

"For the Students" is written on the basis of need, only. Students are required to have their parents fill out a Parent Confidential Statement, which is kept absolutely confidential and is used to determine the student's eligibility for the loan. The loan accumulates no interest while the student is in school, and nine months after graduation, a 3% interest rate is charged. The student then has to pay off the loan by 10 years.

"Working students who are paying for their own school, may receive loans. The Financial Aid Office has the necessary forms that they must fill out.

Winthrop College scholarships are collected through the Alumni, the Winthrop Foundation, and individuals who set up scholarships in their own name or another, are awarded to students usually on the basis for academic merit, with need sometimes considered.

The Scholarship Committee, which is composed of students and faculty and administrative people, decide which students are in need of scholarships and loans. Then the students are then awarded these at the end of the semester or year.

The Financial Aid office also handles work-study programs, and Veterans Affairs. To apply for the work-study program, students must complete a work card. Veteran's scholarships are not only awarded to veterans, but also to the children of veterans who are currently over 200 students who are on veteran's assistance here at WC.

New Course Offered

A new course will be offered beginning in the fall semester, 1977. It is a course in beginning French. It concerns the reading and translating of French. This course will be offered for 88, including the price of the text, and no prerequisites are necessary. The course will run a total of 20 hours, and 0.5 credits will be given.

The dates for the course are as follows: Sept. 29-Oct. 17, and from then on, Monday nights only beginning Oct. 24. It is important to note that this course is only ONE course, NOT two. The dates vary due to mid-semester break. The course will be held in Withers 228, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Exhibit On Display

Two important, recent additions to the Archives includes the papers of Sam Mendenhall, former South Carolina State Auditor for York, Lancaster, and Kershaw. The papers, except from 1868 to 1977, include correspondence, memoranda, minutes, resolutions, manuals, and other papers and help to document the political life of the area for the period. Mendenhall has been appointed to a judicial appointment by a family court system in South Carolina.

The Archives has also acquired the records of the South Carolina Council for Higher Education, established by the state in 1938 to its dissolution this year. The Council was an important women's political organization and was responsible for coordinating plans and policies of various state-wide organizations for building Social Skills with students to loans to work-study programs.

Many students of the WC community have the mistaken idea that ANY help received from the Financial Aid Office must be repaid. This is not true. Only the National Direct Student Loan Program must be repaid, and the flexibility of this loan is tremendous.

The NDLS program is awarded on the basis of need, only. Students are required to have their parents fill out a Parent Confidential Statement, which is kept absolutely confidential and is used to determine the student's eligibility for the loan. The loan accumulates no interest while the student is in school, and nine months after graduation, a 3% interest rate is charged. The student then has to pay off the loan by 10 years.

If you are interested, go by Bancroft, room 112. It can't hurt to apply for a loan or scholarship— who knows, maybe you';; get it?"
Sports Complex: Not So Complicated

Very few Winthrop students, faculty, and staff are aware of the intricacies involved with the erection and use of the new Winthrop Sports Complex. This lack of comprehension is due not only to any administrative matter involving the proverbial six. Third, some of us live in a world where “ignorance is bliss” and therefore prefer other people to make decisions for them. The last of reasons for our lack of interest is standing clearest steps from other factors as well. Nevertheless, our concepts concerning the Sports Complex becomes distorted and confused when the correct information is not directly at hand.

The data to be presented is tentative in nature and alterations and additions can be made to some figures. In any case, within the next year or so, heavy architectural work on the Sports Complex will begin. This delay stems from recent claims of the Catawba Indians that the site (located on Cherry Road) Winthrop plans to sell in order to raise most of the revenue for the erection of the new Sports Center. Nevertheless, the state legislature has already given the college permission to sell and market the land.

The site of this land should supplement about half the cost of the Sports Complex. The total cost for the stadium will fall in the neighborhood of 5 million dollars. General Assembly, in turn, is expected to authorize a state institutional bond to cover the difference. Money, in this form, has gotten into the act in recent years. While it is true that the land (located on Cherry Road) Winthrop plans to sell in order to raise most of the revenue for the erection of the new Sports Center, the fact remains that it is a substantial sum. Nevertheless, the state legislature has already given the college permission to sell and market the land.

Relevance—def. bearing upon or relating to the matter in question. At the beginning of the year, we at the Johnstonian, led by our dauntless editor, P.Z., decided that this year’s paper would be relevant and inclusive. With the fires of revolutionary (unify us, Karl) fervor burning in our souls, we decreed that nothing was sacred and that all was equally liable in the eyes of the press. Well, so far this year, we have done little more than serve as a community bulletin board, with occasional humorous sidelights thrown in.

Our ostentatious purpose is to inform you the reader of all pertinent, news. Hopefully, we are here to enlighten you as to the shape of the world in which you exist, rather than to exercise our desire to use sick auto lines on the tube. The press is supposed to be free, yet we cover in our little building, afraid of censorship and reprisals from the admin.

The Stumbling Gourmet: What Is That Stuff In The Vending Machines?

Julie Spahn

Have you ever found yourself awake in the middle of the night, hungry but without enough cash to go to one of Rock Hill’s numerous restaurants? Or by yourself, and didn’t want to go out alone? For whatever reason, most of us have been in this situation at one time or another, stood in front of a campus vending machine, surveying the offerings. There are tickets with such provocative names as Fiddle Faddle and Screaming Yellow Zonkers. And the old standby: potato chips, Cracker Jacks, cheese puffs, and marshmallow pies. Even that mundane classic comic strip character, Andy Capp, has gotten into the act by producing Pub Frites, Hot Frites, and various other crunchies. To wash those down, there is another machine containing soft drinks, all carbonated and most containing caffeine. There is also another machine dispensing milk, chocolate milk, and a couple of heavily sweetened fruit drinks.

All of this is fine and dandy, for those of us who occasionally like a little something to go with our greens. As well as for the incurable junk food addicts among us, of course, there are some people who are very health-and-skin conscious and simply don’t like all that sugar, salt, and grease. And some people are allergic to milk, or else just don’t drink it. So, how about adding a few things to the already enormous assortment: Canned fruit or vegetable juices, unsweetened; iced tea, sunflower seeds; beef jerky; and other nutritious snacks. And maybe it’s possible to put yogurt in the milk machine. This is not a suggestion to totally eliminate junk foods from vending machines. Obviously, they are there for a purpose: people like them. But for those who do not, or merely want a choice, well, we would appreciate the additions.

And finally, a word of caution to all you consummo-vending machines, all of them, eat change like some of us eat junk food: steadiness and sporadically, when the craving becomes too great. And due, perhaps, to our constant brutality towards them, sometimes kick back if you kick them. They have a full range of emotional disturbances, but that’s a whole nother story.
For Some Folks Life is a Gamble, But for Me It's a Dead Loss

Jim Good

At one time or another, I guess all of you have had some recourse to indulge in some form or other of gambling. Whether it be penny poker, bingo night, the numbers sheets, or the Super Bowl, the last 55 mile an hour speed limit drive to the track, even the staunchest blue nose will succumb to. For myself, I've been known to loosen up (too far away) it's football pools. You know, they've got 'em, they've got 'em. You_Pro_down on a little slip of paper, who you think's who. The point spread in which the team considered better has to succumb to the weaker opponent a certain number of points. For instance, if I pick Foduck U. (ra, rah P.U.) for six that means the poor old Fighting Foothead's can still lose by live and I win.

For practical purposes this weird outwork as well, the numbers sheets, regardless of how many teams you choose (you must pick at least two, and you must pro down on a little slip of paper, who you think's who. Six points remaining and a third point spread in which the team considered better has to succumb to the weaker opponent a certain number of points. For instance, if I pick Foduck U. (ra, rah P.U.) for six that means the poor old Fighting Foothead's can still lose by live and I win.

“Abortion: For The Rich Only?”

By Becky Ferguson

The subject of abortion has always been a controversial one and perhaps will always be such. The fervor created by the legislation of the Lottion January, 1973 has died and another law opposing this controversy has arisen in its place. This controversy is known as the living technique. It is attached to the Labor-Hip-Purpe Appropriation Act for 1978, and stands.

None of the funds appropriated under the Act may be used in pay for abortions or to promote or encourage abortions.

Anne Bellow, spokesperson for the Abortion Interest Movement of South Carolina said, “We are particularly concerned about the new amendment to the bill. The Hyde amendment is an extremely controversial addition to the bill which would prohibit the use of any government funds, through Medicaid, to pay for abortions or to promote or encourage abortions.

The Hyde amendment would deprive poor and medically unsafe abortions, while those who can afford them may still retain the option. The Hyde amendment states: “We are particularly concerned about the new amendment to the bill. The Hyde amendment is an extremely controversial addition to the bill which would prohibit the use of any government funds, through Medicaid, to pay for abortions or to promote or encourage abortions.

The Hyde amendment states: “We are particularly concerned about the new amendment to the bill. The Hyde amendment is an extremely controversial addition to the bill which would prohibit the use of any government funds, through Medicaid, to pay for abortions or to promote or encourage abortions.

The implications of the Hyde amendment are clear. Women who cannot afford an abortion, can't afford proper pre-natal care, doctors, or hospital fees. Therefore, the percentage of deformed or retarded children, mental retardation, and children who die in the birth process would rise. Population figures, which have been accented by this amendment, would skyrocket. And of course, the number of deaths among women would not be over at any option aborting themselves, of having an unwanted child.

The question of abortion being immoral or moral is not considered here. But the immoral issues is that the federal government should take action to try to make these options available. It is particularly when there is a moral factor involved.

wants to know...

Does racial discrimination exist at Winthrop?

"It exists to a certain extent. Blacks associate with blacks, and whites with whites. Personally, I see no difference between the races. If you cut their skin it bleeds red, just the same as mine."
-Alan Boz, Sophomore

"No, I don't really see it. Everyone seems so friendly, everyone seems to smile."
-Tess Thomas, Freshman

"I haven't noticed any at all nor had any problems. You know, we all have our own type of personal discrimination."
-George Garcia, Sophomore

"I don't think it exists. People today are more open and accepting of each other. I find it that way at Winthrop."
-Sherry Young, Sophomore

"I see it to some degree, but I wouldn't call it discrimination. I'd call it overlooking. For example, the meaning of the Ebonites has been distorted. Its constitution intended it to be an organization for all races. Instead it's become all black. The same is true for attendance at black functions, such as "Black Week." We had no attendance by whites or any other race."
-Joyce Mickens, Junior

In Search Of Palate Pleasing Pizza...

By Ron Layne

"It's like the old joke--Waitress speaking--"Sir, would you like that cut into six pieces, or eight?"
Customer--"You'd better make it six, I don't think I can eat eight."

Pizza, while definitely an existing commodity in the Rock Hill area, is an item that must be searched for if a true connoisseur of the 'pasta' pastry' is to be thoroughly satisfied.

White pizza pickers are slim, there is some decent pizza to be had.

THE WHITE HORSE LTD. Already mentioned as one of the top 'mood food' establishments in Rock Hill, this easily accessible (within walking distance) restaurant offers, what is probably the most highly praised pizza in town. Vegetarians will appreciate the "White Horse Express" - a vegetable (as opposed to a veritable) gold mine, with no less than six garden goodies, including onions (for the unloved), green peppers (for the social outcasts), mushrooms (for the hell of it) and much, much more. They have a Big Spender's Special with "everything laid on heavy". The crust on these pizzas is Sicilian thick--and so are the ingredients. Provolone cheese laid edge-to-edge--and the prices--moderate. For the light eater a sixty watt bulb-on, an old joke--a small round pizza that both fills and satisfies.

Recommendation? The 'Peter Piper's Pickle Patch Pizza' a bizarre concoction, known as the pizza "... nightmares are made of..." is definitely the one for the hearty eater. Service is quick, even darting, a nuance--and your food will hit the table piping hot.

PIZZA INN, located about eight minutes up Cherry Rd., runs a not-too-close second in the race for your pizza dollars. This franchise outfit has a menu that is chock full of ingredients, but the cooks are seldom generous with any of the items. For a chain establishment, it does a pretty fair job on a pizza. Luncheon specials are the big calling card when you can gorge yourself for a couple of bucks. The menu offers a thick or a thin crust and a salad bar that is a real deal on all-you-can-eat. Pizzas are a cut above average, service is usually excellent and the prices are fair.

TIFFANY'S runs a fine third, just your basic pizza, salad or brew. Nothing fancy, soft lighting inside, a rather small dining area and moderate prices. Located across from the Rock Hill Mall--it will do, in a pinch.

PIZZA HUT, lays way back in the running. Located close to campus, that is just about it's single good point. Service is generally slow, the pizzas are only in the "somewhat fair" price range and the food is less than what you expect when you're in the market for a pizza. Located within three minutes of campus. If you are looking for an excursion into the realm of the unknown, get a cabload together and head up to Charlotte, where pizza is in abundance. Most notable is probably THE OPEN KITCHEN on Morehead St., where you get a bit of old Italian atmosphere.

That's it, a pizza roundup for the area. There is pizza to be found--you just have to be careful where you look--some of it is just around the corner....

BY DAVE BURRAGE

The College of Charleston soccer team visited the College Farm in September for practice and handed WC a season-opening loss.

WC played better than the score indicated, according to Dr. Jim Canada, soccer coach. "Although I must say the score was not a surprise, because they clearly had a better team and had us outplayed," he said.

The College Farm team had its main offensive weapon in Doug Puffenberger, a freshman. Puffenberger scored six of their seven goals. This Fez scored WC's lone goal.

WC's first match on the road ended with WC and Baptist College tying at 2-2 in overtime. The match took place Monday, September 12th.

Coach Canada, looking for an improvement over WC's opening-season loss, said, "We played a better soccer and actually dominated the game, although the score does not indicate that. We had thirty-seven shots to nineteen by Baptist College."

WC domination of the match did not insure victory, however. "We simply could not finish with the ball," said Canada. "We lacked finishing touch and finishing techniques. While we had a lot of shots, many of them very good opportunities, we simply weren't able to finish them. In some ways we were fortunate to tie because twice in the match we trailed." Canada further explained, "In spoil of WC's better play, although our experience still

Intramural Football Schedule

On September 13th play began in this year's Intramural Flag Football League for men. Women's league play begins September 20th. There are five men's teams and two women's teams. Phil LeGrande Memorial Fund

BY DEBRA WEEDEN

A memorial fund has been established in recognition of Phillip Lee LeGrande and his involvement with the Special Olympics program here at Winthrop.

LeGrande died May 6, 1977 in a fire that occurred at the beach house where he lived while working as a lifeguard at Myrtle Beach.

The memorial fund, established by the LeGrande family, will be used for the local Special Olympics program to provide needed funds for transportation of children to and from the local, state and national meets, and to buy tennis shoes and other necessary athletic equipment for the participating children.

Individuals or clubs may aid in the continuation of the Phil LeGrande Memorial Fund by sending contributions to the Human Development Center, Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S.C. 29733. The LeGrande family will be provided with receipts of all contributions.

The Special Olympics program is designed to create opportunities for the mentally handicapped persons in our society to experience a variety of recreational and athletic activities. The program is funded at the national level by the Kennedy Foundation.

In the Rock Hill area (York, Chester and Lancaster counties), the program consists of year-round track-and-field events and a seasonal basketball program.

The success of the local Special Olympics is dependent on the efforts of several hundred volunteers and the donations of time and effort of many businesses. The bulk of the work is done by individuals from many civic and fraternal organizations. LeGrande was one of these volunteers.

LeGrande transferred to Winthrop from the Lancaster branch of USC in January, 1977. In addition to his work with the Special Olympics program, his interests included baseball, weight lifting, swimming, tennis and boxing.

He learned of the Special Olympics program through his membership in Alpha Mu Omega. He contacted the Recreation Therapist at the Human Development Center to find out how members of AMU could become involved and help special children.

He utilized his own athletic talents to instruct children at local schools and in such tasks as timing numerous races and measuring countless softball, baseball and football games. He also taught swimming to adult handicapped men.

BSU—A soup and sandwich luncheon will be held every Monday at 12 noon. All interested students are urged to attend.

Rev. Richard Moyer will lead a Bible study every Wed­ day at 6 p.m. for all students. A rewarding program for all students will be presented on Sept. 30 at 6 p.m., according to Ms. Lucie, spokesperson for the

BSU. Rev. Gary Ward, Minister of Youth at First Baptist Church, Spartanburg, will be the guest speaker.

WESLEY, NEWMAN—Westley, Newman, and Newman meeting to be held on Sept. 28, will begin at 6 p.m. with a film entitled "The Question of War," which concerns nuclear war and weapons.

The meeting will be held at the Wesley Foundation and

Phi Alpha

Theta Initiation

Students interested in participating in the fall initiation of Phi Alpha Theta, the honorary history fraternity, should immedi­ately contact

Dr. Arnold Shankman in Kinnard room 221. The 200 to complete the necessary application forms.

In order to be eligible to join the fraternity, the student must (1) have a junior status

(2) have completed at least

12 hours of history courses

(3) have above a 3.0 G.P.R.

in those history courses and

(4) must authorize a check of his Windthrop transcript.

Dr. Shankman said, "The new Buckley Amendment makes it incumbent on the student to sign a statement to insure his eligibility." Dr. Shankman added that although the semester delays in the beginning, it streamlines the end and in that regard saves time for the fraternity.

Dr. Shankman will allow approximately two weeks for students to return a statement and shortly thereafter will begin sending invitations to qualified students. A meeting will be held in October to elect temporary officers and for the fraternity to begin making decisions for the spring banquet and guest speaker.

CPA Preparation Course

BY RUBY PLAYER

A review course for accountants entitled "CPA Preparation

Program" will be offered on weekends during October at Windthrop, according to Dr.

Joseph Krebs, Professor of Business. It is designed to provide intensive review of account­ing materials for those already familiar with the basic concepts.

Accounting theory and prac­tice will be combined with aspects of business law and auditing.

Supported by the School of Business Administration and

Joyanes Center for Continuing Education, the CPA preparapars participants for the November CPA exam.

It will be taught by Dr. Krebs, a registered CPA in Georgia and Florida, who has conducted similar courses

throughout the Southeast. "Con­sidering the high quality of faculty members in the School of Business Administration, I feel that the business community will be very receptive to this professional effort," Dr. Krebs said.

The CPA examination member participating in the course will be Robert Black­ field, Mark Halland, Daniel

Howell, W.E. Munday.

The class will meet from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays during October at Joyanes Center.

The fee for the course is $225. Participants may enroll for the course at reduced rates. A $50 deposit is required. The balance must be paid at the first session, Oct.

Winthrop Increases Enrollment

Winthrop College officials are calling it the smoothest opening in years, but the record number of freshmen enrolled for classes this fall has caused some problems.

Final fall enrollment is 4,481, shattering the all-time record of 4,500 in 1972 at Winthrop. The fall enrollment is a 12 percent increase from the fall of 1976, 4,010 students registered.

The increased number of students filled all available housing with the exception of one dormitory, which was closing closed from the days of declining enrollment of a few years back.

There are about 300 more students living on campus this year than there were a year ago. The influx of new students forced the reopening of Bennett annex to house the overflow of freshmen women.

The increased enrollment is "creating some very welcomed problems," said Dr. Mary T. Lindberg, vice president for student affairs.

The cafeteria has been the hardest hit by the influx of new students. "Our number one problem is ice," said Fred Angerman, food services director.

"We're serving more than 5,000 meals a day, and our five ice machines cannot produce enough ice," he said. Angerman has posted signs in the cafeteria asking students to limit themselves to one glass of ice. "He's also got three more ice machines on order to meet the demand.

The cafeteria, which has continuous service from 5:30 a.m. to 7 p.m., has added a serving line at each meal. "We've had the usual lines, but things are beginning to smooth out," said Angerman.

He had to hire a few new employees to meet the crunch.

The housing staff also has worked overtime to accommodate the increased number of students living in campus dorms and apartments. "We opened Benefic annex to meet the demand," said Edith Rollin, director of housing. "The building is not air conditioned, but we've worked out a deal to rent air conditioners to the students who want them.

The book store, always a congested area the first few days of school, was fully stocked for the fall. Store manager Bertha Price said there are some out-of-stock textbooks, but orders have been made quickly and the problem will be solved within a few days.

Students are using Dinkins Student Center in such volume that Center director Terry Webb had to make an emergency order of toilet tissue. "We can't keep drinks in the vending machines, and we're making more than $300 worth of change a day," he said. In less than one week, more than 1,300 students have used the pinball and game machines.

Your school has told you that you must comply with yearbook publication rules. However, they can’t dictate where you get the photographs you give your friends and relatives. And you can’t let them decide the quality and variety of YOUR portraits.

At Creative Photography we offer an alternative to the normal yearbook photography. We invite you to have your portraits made in the outdoors where scenery adds DEPTH, COLOR and MOOD. We also encourage you to tell us about your interests and we want you to bring changes of clothing and items that reflect your hobbies and interests such as guitar, sports equipment, favorite book, etc. Then we supply the originality and creativity to make each portrait as unique and individual as you are.

Here is our special offer to you.
