VOL. 12, NO. 3

SUBSCRIPTION, $1.00 A YEAR

Editorial Asides

And again comes up the question of whether social clubs are "to be or not to be." It seems rather useless social to get excited and upset over these things every year. Social clubs might be abolished now, but we would be willing to bet the nickel left from our September allowance that before the year is over there would be groups of girls organizing for social purposes.

Perhaps instead of abolishing clubs they could be reformed to bring about desired results. Less formality and more sociability would come near accomplishing the original purpose than the present set-up does.

Only one line out of two paragraphs was allotted to Rector: D. E. Veale of Clemson, S. C., in the story Review of his visit last year for visitors at Winthrop. Another member of the faculty captured the attention of the student body. Last Sunday night he impressed his audience to the extent that his now six-year-old son faded from the spotlight. Rector Veale discussed the constitutional sesquicentennial.

STAFF TRYOUTS

Johnsonian tryouts for the editorial staff will begin Thursday night at 6:30 when all would-be members of the Fourth Estate meet in the publication room. Details of the tryouts will be given at this meeting.

Marian Sims, Charlotte Author, Refuses to Take Herself Seriously

Noted Novelist Likes Padded Cells, Millay, The South

BY ELIZABETH BYRD
"Heaven no, English wasn't my favorite subject! Why I actually flunked my sophomore English exam," laughed Marian Sims, author of "Morning Star," "World With a Fence," and "Ollie Freedom," as she seated herself on a campus bench and reflected her days at Agnes Scott, which she said was so very much smaller than Winthrop.

most of her early life there with nothing spectacular happening to her. "Can't you just look at me and see I'm not spectacular?" she asked, pulling her hat and stretching her legs out comfortably before her. "I've no special queer quirk or flare of genius—don't even take myself seriously," she finished, peering over her shoulder and smiling if it were permissible to smoke a cigarette, but directly deciding against it. She was wearing navy blue and white. And it was probably well she didn't, for in only a few minutes she was mistaken for a Winthrop daughter.

Mrs. Sims had no children yet for writing.

Three New Instructors Added to Winthrop Faculty This Week

Commerce, Music, And Social Science Staffs Enlarged

Three new faculty members have been added to the Winthrop college staff during the past week. Lloyd Bender, with bachelor of music and master of music degrees from Middle Wesleyan university, comes as instructor in the music department. Mr. Bender, formerly instructor in voice and theory of music at the College of Emporia, Emporia, Kansas, will teach voice and directed singing, and direct the boys' glee club and mixed chorus at Winthrop Training School.

Charles Houston of New York city arrived Monday to take up his duties in the commerce department. Mr. Houston received his bachelor's degree from Drew in Springfield, Mass., and his master's degree from Clark in Worcester, Mass. He has completed two years of graduate work at New York university. Prior to coming to Winthrop Mr. Houston was connected with Cranberry and Company of New York. Accounting, Statistics, and Introduction to Business are the courses he will teach.

Miss Ruth L. Roettinger comes as instructor in social science. Miss Roettinger, formerly tutor and instructor at Mills college, received the A. B. degree from Ashbury college, M. A. degree from Radcliffe and Ph.D. degree from Columbia university. She has completed most of the requirements for a Ph.D. Miss Mills was a member of Winthrop faculty during 1937-28, and again in 1930-1931.

Unusual Advertisement Received by Freshmen

The Homestead Gymnasium for Missing the Boy Back Home! A photograph dropped to the floor and was more eagerly grabbed up. A startled "Om!" came from the incredulous staff, followed by a long laugh stuffed with good humor. The picture was of The Boy Back Home, a freshman like herself, but not as she had known him. It was his grin, his eyes, but— heaven help me— not his thick, curly hair. There was no hair— just stubble. Underneath the picture in black printing ran the advertisement: "Did your house of mine do the job way. White rats will do the job. So as soon."

JUNIORS ELECT REMAINDER OF CLASS OFFICERS

Ida West Chosen Board Member; Other Positions Filled

A board member, a vice president, a cheerleader and three senators were elected by members of the junior class at a meeting Friday night in main auditorium. Marie Power and Mamie Kendrick were elected vice president and cheerleader respectively. Marie is from Abbeville. She is vice president of the Anzac club and a member of Kappa Sigma Gamma social club. Mamie, who is from Laurens, is a two-year commerce major and is a member of Pi Sigma Phi social club. Ida West of Rowman was elected board member. She is a member of Delta Sigma Chi, the Wade Hampton Literary society and Alpha Zeta. Two permanent senators, Jess Dargan of Darlington, and Dolly Sledge of Charlotte, N. C., and one temporary senator, Hettie Smith of Abbeville, were elected.

Upon finishing school she taught in Georgia. From her experience in that field came "World With a Fence," which she confided, is really autobiographical. After teaching history and French for two years and smatterings of arithmetic and English and various other subjects for one year, she worked six months as society editor on the Dalton paper. "However," she said, "I found that I also wrote some editorials." She married after working for a time on the business of advertising, and since has lived for three years in Greenville and seven in Charlotte. Marian Sims began writing only five or six years ago. "It was in the midst of the depression; I was married, and there was nothing to do, so I wrote. She completed and had published three novels and 30 or 35 short stories, having written for nearly all current magazines.

"I suppose it takes about one year to write each novel, except my first, which took much longer—I wrote it over four times over. "Give me a padded cell," she exclaims, straightening from the nonchalant position to tell of the quiet she must have when writing. "It's too easily distracted. But if I could have been as a child I could get my lessons in half an hour in a room where a dozen people were talking at me. But not now."

When asked about her favorite author, Mrs. Sims said she had no favorites. "I like some for one thing, and some for another—but I can't think when I want to, anymore."

"But I do read a lot," she continued. "And as for poetry, I'm not so well acquainted with it, but I like some of it. She is "simply wild" about Edna St. Vincent Millay's latest volume, "Conversations at Midnight." "My copy of it is simply ragged. I've read it so much."

Angeline Towell Judged Queen in Freshman Beauty Contest

Angeline Towell, Batesburg, was judged queen of the freshman class in a freshman beauty contest sponsored by Zeta Alpha in Johnson hall auditorium Thursday night. Second place went to Anne Willimon, Greenville, and honorable mention to Betty Taylor, Lexington. Zeta Alpha is the campus chemistry club. Judges for the contest were: Miss Elizabeth Wardlaw, dean of freshmen; Dr. Glenn Neudlin, head of the chemistry department, and Thomas W. Noel, head of the department of commerce. Music for the occasion was furnished by Margaret McMillan as the piano.

PRESS CLUB TO SPONSOR STATE CONTEST

The Winthrop college Press club and The State, Columbia newspaper, will sponsor a story-of-the-month competition for high school newspapers in South Carolina during the coming year, according to Virginia Davis, president of the Press club. Five trophies will be awarded at the end of the contest in April. The school is having the largest number of points in all classifications combined will receive The Columbia State award, a silver loving cup which becomes the permanent property of the winner. Trophies will also be given to the paper having the largest number of points in each of the four classifications: editorial, interview, news story, and feature.

This contest is open to high school printed and mimeographed papers, and school sections in local newspapers. Each month the school registered may enter two articles in each of the four classes, the best of which will be printed in The State during the month. The winning school will be credited with points for first, second, and third places. Competitions begin with September entries and will end in April.

Mary Barnes Wins Extempore Contest

Collegiate Parliament Extension "Japan in China" Mary Barnes, junior of Manning, won the extempore contest. "Japan in China," held at the Collegiate Parliament meeting in Clio hall Wednesday afternoon. Parliamentary law and procedure was announced as the plan for the first semester meetings of the Parliament. All interested freshmen were invited to attend the meeting.

Fifty-two Plan to Attend Performance in Charlotte

Groups To Hear Artists

McLaurin Dormitory Boasts Escapeless Fire Escape

BY SARAH ROSENBLUM
"What is that big, green, funnel-like thing for?" asked the inquisitive freshman that we were scurrying around the campus. "It's our usual sophomore indifference we mumbled, "Fire escape," and continued our contemplation of more serious matters. Our freshman remarked: "But how do they escape?" "Oh they don't escape. Those were used for what was once known as 'freshman ratings,' but now they are still there to make topics of conversation and feature articles for The Johnsonian," we proudly replied.

On a night of the fire escape back of South with what was meant to be a look of sorrowful remembrance of that which has gone forever (meaning, of course, ratings), we were suddenly thrust back into the realm of reality. How did they escape? There stood the "big green funnel," but if there was to be any escape down it, it would have

Artists of World Fame To Appear Here in Entertainment Series

To Assign Chapel Seats

Chapel seats will be assigned at chapel hour on Wednesday, September 29, announces John O. Kelly, registrar. All students are required to attend so that they may be assigned their regular seats for the season 1937-1938. Seats are requested to occupy the right or south section, juniors the center section, sophomores the left or north section, and the freshmen the balcony and seats to the rear of the auditorium.

22 FRESHMEN EXCEL IN ONE OR MORE TESTS

High Scores in Orientation Tests Announced

Twenty-two of the five hundred and forty-two freshmen who were tested during freshman week have been high by the Registrar's office for their high scores. There are a few who arrived late and others who were excused because of illness still to take the tests, according to J. O. Kelly, registrar. From the scores which have been compiled, the following list of those excelling in one or more tests has been taken: Milton Ann Blair, Columbia; Alice Elizabeth Blake, Darlington; Mary Elizabeth Bullard, Greenville; Hattie Chasler, Sumter; Mary Louise Cole, Washington, D. C.; Catherine Louise Davis, Columbia; Neil Carter, Coker, Columbia; Olympe Hope Parley, Orangeburg; Mary Elvyn Gormer, Union; Henry Cobb Garrett, Belton; Norrell Kester Chipson, Waltersburg; Virginia B. Gourdin, Kingstree; Annie Sarah Higgins, Donalds; Johnny Knight, Pageland; Mildred Evelyn Lettney, Newberry; Helen Louise McNeil, Allendale; Gladys Julia Ray Nettles, Lee; Mary Margaret Phillips, Belton; Elaine Alice Schwinge, Darlington; Elizabeth Wood Shuler, Holy Hill; Catherine Gibbs Taylor, Aiken, N. C.; Marion Elizabeth Taylor, Columbia.

Numbers of others had high scores, but these listed are the highest.

Tribble To Head Town Girls' Group

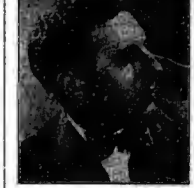

Committee members were discussed at a meeting of the Y cabinet in Johnson hall Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Sara Tribble, who has recently moved from Union to Rock Hill, was elected to fill Edna Green's position as chairman of the town girls' committee. Miss Forsyth presented a pattern for Y stationery. The cabinet decided to buy individual orders.

to be done by a Naljaney in a fly-cup-like attitude, for there was no approach to the escape from his dormitory. Our detective instincts were aroused and we went on the trail of the why-of-all our investigations came to what we had surmised at first glance—that residents of South had better take a course in pole-vaulting. Finally, in desperation, we approached the higher authority, who indignantly replied, "Why, we'll just build some of those approaches and there you are."

Metropolitan Basso, First On Course, To Sing October 6

Celebrated artist of world acclaim will appear on the Artists' Course numbers throughout the 1937-38 season of Winthrop college, beginning next month. On October 6, Edo Pizsa, basso of the Metropolitan opera will be featured. Mr. Pizsa is a native of Italy and joined the Metropolitan Opera group in 1918. In regard to his performance The San Francisco Chronicle's verdict was that Mr. Pizsa is "unquestionably the greatest staging basso of the day." Cornelia Otis Skinner will appear in a solo drama of her original sketches on November 4. Miss Skinner is said to be within herself a complete theater, comic and tragic. November 20, the Salisbury Opera Guild, directed by G. Burck, will represent the combination of acting talent and music. The cast is made up of seventy-five members, including the orchestra, and will interpret operatic works, both old and modern. Errem Zimbalist, celebrated Russian violinist, will give a concert on January 10. Mr. Zimbalist made his American debut twenty-five years ago in the Boston Symphony orchestra.

On January 29, 1938, Engel Lund brought to the stage a type of recital that is refreshing in its novelty. Miss Lund dramatizes the folk of many nations through song. By means of a few preliminary words of explanation, she sketches the content of each song which she then brings to life through (Continued on Page Four)

Closed Study Period Begins For Freshmen

Faculty Committee Approves Recommendation of Senate

Closed study period in the freshman dormitories for the first semester was recommended by the Senate at its first meeting for the fall session Tuesday at 8 o'clock in Johnson hall. The faculty committee on student affairs has approved the recommendation. The main discussion was led by Nora Morgan, president, Ruth Benson, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting.

SOCIETY

Formal Reception Tonight in McLaughlin

McLaughlin hall will entertain the Winthrop college faculty at a formal reception tonight in the McLaughlin parlors from 7 to 8 o'clock.

Carolyn Ribby, social chairman, Miss Esther Brewster and Mrs. Lucie Belden, dormitory hostesses, will act as hostesses.

The following committees have been appointed to plan the affair: Reception, Jo Fleming; refreshments, Mrs. Lillian Adams; decorations, Lib Blake; entertainment, Marguerite Sanders.

E. S. D. Elects Officers; New Blids Issued

The members of Beta Sigma Delta, town girls' social club, elected officers for the year at a recent meeting.

Those elected were: President, Anna Triby; vice-president, Elizabeth Rambo; secretary, Elizabeth Masch; treasurer, Elizabeth Anderson. The following town girls were given bids for membership: Nancy Powell, Dorothy Willis, Elizabeth Willis, Sara McDowell, Carolyn Anderson, Sadie Flisy, Rosemary Quinn, Virginia Anderson, and Nancy Craig.

Outdoor Pastimes Have Appeal For Students

Mother Nature seems to be holding her own in popularity this fall among the Winthrop students. Riverview, Fowler's Pasture and the college slack all have their individual charms. There is scarcely an afternoon that a group of college girls cannot be seen striking out for the wide open spaces. Water-recess and marshmallow toasts are the order of the day.

Beta Epithon Chi enjoyed an outing at the slack Tuesday afternoon. Tau Omega Kappa went on Wednesday, and Sigma Kappa Sigma had a party there on Thursday.

Freshmen in Roddey Entertained With Tea

Mrs. Bertha Willis, Miss Melvin Ellis, and the upperchambers in Roddey dormitory entertained Roddey freshmen at tea Friday afternoon from 4:30 to 6 o'clock.

Jo Brunson and Margaret Altman pressed the 300 guests at the door and presented them to the assistant hostesses who served tea and cakes.

During the afternoon Christine Riley sang and Louise Cushman played the piano.

The assistant hostesses were Ruth Jones, Margaret Nelson Carr, Miriam Duffett, Ruth Adams, Jane Kennedy, and Harriet Cullen.

Staff To Have Party Tonight

The literary staff of The Johnsonian will have a party tonight in the library of Johnson hall. This is the first of a series of parties that will be held during the year.

Sarah Rosenblum and Virginia Davis are in charge of invitations and entertainment. Margaret Norwood and Elizabeth Rogers are joint chairmen of the refreshments committee.

Perihelion Club Holds September Meeting

The Perihelion club of the A. A. U. W. had its September meeting last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Wiley on College avenue.

Dr. Elizabeth Johnson, president of the organization, welcomed the members and the regular business proceedings were conducted.

After the program, in which several members participated, Mrs. Wiley served a delicious salad course.

In addition to the 18 regular club members there were the following guests: Mrs. H. M. Jarrell, Mrs. J. L. Lander, Miss Jean Miller, Miss Mary Dymond, Miss Lois Landoner and Mrs. J. G. Barron.

Faculty Members Entertain At Bridge

Miss Isabel Potter and Miss Margaret Bell entertained a number of fellow faculty members and friends at bridge in their apartment on College avenue Friday evening.

High scores prize for the ladies was won by Mrs. J. W. McCain and that for gentlemen was awarded to Mr. Bob Stodard. Mrs. R. E. Blakely was first in the consolation prize.

When the games were over the guests enjoyed a delicious salad course.

Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Port, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Core, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Blakely, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCain, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mass, Miss Marysue Osgood, Dr. F. E. Harrison, Mr. Frank M. Greene, and Mr. Bob Stodard.

Chamber of Commerce Shows Freshmen City

Winthrop freshmen and new upperclassmen were complimented Tuesday and Wednesday with a "yet acquainted tour of Rock Hill" sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Business Men's League of Rock Hill.

The girls left the college in two groups. One group went immediately to the country club where refreshments were served; the other group first making the tour of the city and then stopping at the country club to be served.

The object of the tour was to give the girls a bird's eye view of the city in general and included Cherry park, the Confederate park, and all of the principal residential sections of Rock Hill.

Y Gives Big Apple Party

A big apple party Tuesday night at 8:30 in the gym was sponsored by the interest group of the Y.

Many students enjoyed dancing to the music of the radio and piano played by Frances Williams.

Anne Thompson, chairman of the interest group, was in charge of the dance.

Personalia:

Kathryn Foster and Cain Calmes, former Winthrop students who now attend Greenville Women's college, visited friends in the college Friday.

Miss Margaret Douglas, graduate of Winthrop and now missionary to Brazil, was the guest of Miss Lella Russell last Thursday afternoon.

Anne Tighman and Mildred Price attended the Chumoon-P. C. football game at Clemson Saturday. Football seems to be the popular pastime of the day, since Anne Lumiansky went to the Carolina-Emory and Henry game in Columbia Saturday, and Catherine Jones saw the Davidson-N. C. State game in Greensboro at the same time.

Mildred Philip, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sherman Philip, left Saturday for Vanderbilt, where she will attend school this session.

Mrs. Harriet Johnson, state girls club agent, and Mrs. Theodora Plowden, district agent, attended the district convention for training 4-H leaders at Sumter last Saturday. Mrs. Johnson gave part of the instructions and Mrs. Plowden helped in conducting the convention.

Miss Lomay Landrum, state home demonstration agent, Miss Harriette Layton, assistant state home demonstration agent, and Miss Beate Harper, district agent, will attend the central district council of farm women in Aiken Saturday. Mrs. J. A. Riley, district director, will preside at the meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. Hampton Jarrell had as their guest last weekend Miss Hazel Clant of Durham, N. C.

TRAINING SCHOOL

Four Out-of-Town Games Scheduled by W. T. S. Team

Coach R. E. Blahy of Training School has announced the football schedule for district competition, the schedule consisting of four games, three in the district and one, and one other, away from home.

Coaches of districts four (York, Chester, Lancaster, Kershaw, and Fairfield counties) of the state high school league met at Chester, September 18, to map schedules. They divided the district into upper and lower divisions. In the upper half are Lancaster, York Mill, York, and Training School. In the lower are Kershaw, Wintaboro, Great Falls, and Heath Springs.

Teams in each division will play and decide a division champion by October 22. Then on October 29 upper and lower champions play to decide a district winner, this winner to enter further eliminations with other district champions.

The Training School schedule to date is as follows:

October 8, Lancaster, there.
October 15, Fort Mill, there.
October 22, York, there.
October 29, Kershaw at Kershaw.

Coach Blahy hopes to schedule three or four additional games to be played at the home field.

Dr. Wheeler Discusses Plans For Kiwanis Club Hobby Show

A hobby show sponsored by the Kiwanis club will be held October 28, announced Dr. P. M. Wheeler in Training School chapel last Tuesday. It has not been decided just where the exhibit will take place.

The show is divided into four classes—art, nature, science, and miscellaneous. Sixteen prizes are being offered, four in each class. Bob Bryan is offering a trophy for the best exhibit in the entire show and the senior member of Council No. 16 is offering a second prize for the next best exhibit.

Winthrop P. T. A. To Have Reception

Winthrop Training School Parent-Teacher association will entertain at a reception for parents and teachers of the school Friday evening from 8 to 9:30 o'clock at the home of the president, Mrs. J. D. Thornton in Cherry park.

The affair will be directed by the hospitality committee which is composed of Mrs. Erby Cantrell, chairman; Mrs. Paul Jenkins, Mrs. Sidney Dunlap, Mrs. A. W. Huckle, and Mrs. Roderick McDonald.

her mastery powers of interpretation. The Westminster chorus, directed by Dr. John Finley Williams, will be featured on February 15, 1933. The chorus has given 100 concerts in addition to many special engagements and outstanding activity. It has visited 200 cities in the United States and made two European tours. Negotiations for a third tour in the summer of 1933 are being completed.

On February 19, 1933, the Jones Ballet and its all-star cast, directed by P. C. Coppin, will interpret life through the medium of movement and rhythm. Not a word is spoken throughout the entire performance, but a clear message of drama and satire is conveyed.

February 23, 1933, "Lady Precious Stream" will be presented by Morris Cost. Mr. Cost is the first to have the honor of presenting Chinese comedy in English on the American stage.

Wins $650 Scholarship

Lewis McDowell of Rock Hill, son of Mrs. R. T. McDowell, left Sunday for St. Johns college, Annapolis, Maryland, as winner of the Matthew Fontaine Maury scholarship, awarded by the U. S. D. T. on the basis of Confederate ancestry and scholastic record.

The scholarship has a value of $650 per year for four years at any college in the United States. Lewis was graduated from Winthrop Training School in June, and was valedictorian of his class.

Freshman Debaters Hold First Meeting

Keith discussed activities; League Divided Into Groups

The Freshman Debaters league held its first meeting Thursday afternoon in Clio hall.

Dr. Warren Keith explained the purpose and usefulness of the Freshman Debaters' league and discussed the activities planned for the coming year.

Manager Ann Rumphus, assisted by Mary Ellen Adams, secretary, divided the group into the three orders of Cornets, Martlets, and Husars to correspond to those orders in Debaters' league.

"Resolved that freshmen should have upperclassman privileges" was announced as the topic for debate at the next meeting.

ANAPOLIS SIMS REFUSES TO TAKE HIMSELF SERIOUSLY

She sighed, then muttered, "Oh, really, it's wonderful!"

"I can't think of anything I don't like," she said. "I like golf, walking, working in the yard, bridge, swimming, and everything."

She has just returned from her vacation, during which time she spent a while at Pawley's Island. "That's the place," she affirmed. "She loves the surf as well as the informality of the island. She didn't have to dress, drink cocktails, and go to teas. "That's what I call living."

As for living, Mrs. Sims thinks there is no other place she could live but the South. "It's just like a family, though. Sometimes it makes me so mad!"

"Now I have to scuddle on back to Charlotte and see what's happening," she concluded. "I just got back in town last night and the maid met me at the door this morning with a list of necessities that long." She measured off at least a foot, then plopped her hat haphazardly on her head.

SENIOR PROCTORS APPOINTED IN FIVE DORMITORIES

Two Assistants Are Appointed For Each Hall

Fifteen senior proctors have been elected to serve on house councils of the five dormitories.

In each residence hall there are three senior proctors who are chosen by a committee composed of the board members in the dormitory, the student government president, and the hostesses of the dormitory. Each senior proctor appoints two or more assistant proctors to work with her in carrying out house rules.

Those serving in the following halls on first, second, and third floors respectively are: Braxton-Henrietta Misses, Enderwies; Helen Craig, Warrenton; and Alys Epler, Westminster;

Roddy—Martha Pitts, Warr Shoals; Ruth Jones, Alico; and Ruth McDowell, Cherryville, N. C.

South—Ebel Sherrard, Iva; Florence McGill, Newberry; and Alice White, Spartanburg;

North—Iris Mae Allen, Conway; Frances Edwards, Darlington; and Nell Lide, Kershaw; Sanctuary—Vera Gruber, Wallerboro; Elizabeth Moss, Waltham; and Lillian Greene, Mounting.

"Seventh Heaven," starring Stinson Simon, James Stewart, and Jean Harlow will be shown in main auditorium Saturday night at 7:30.

It is an idyllic love story with comedy, humor and tartly.

A screw savager denials God and love, yet he is still a "respectable fellow." A girl is tossed out of a brothel after being stripped by her sister. Fate makes them companions. He becomes a street sweeper, "Diana" and "Chico" elope, but she breaks out and Chico must go.

Everyone who sees "Seventh Heaven" will appreciate how a picture can ring with romance.

District Alumnae Conferences Scheduled

Six district alumnae conferences are scheduled to convene in the next few weeks, according to Miss Lelia Russell, alumnae executive secretary. The northern district with Mrs. Burgette Womack as president met on September 11 in Newberry.

The other six districts will hold their conferences as follows: Northern district, Mrs. John O. Taylor, president, September 23 at Anderson; Eastern district, Miss Mildred Huggins, president, October 9, at Lake City; Western district, Mrs. Sule Egarion, president, October 20, at Aiken; Central district, Mrs. A. H. Zeigler, president, November 5, at Orangeburg; Southern district, Mrs. J. J. Glenn, president, November 20, at Summerville; Northcentral district, Mrs. John Hargrave, president, December 8, at Rock Hill.

A delegation from Winthrop college headed by President Shelton Phelps plans to attend all the conferences. With the group attending Northwest conference at Andrews Saturday, will be Mrs. Russell, President Phelps, and Miss Ellen Wardlaw, dean of freshmen.

A Wholly New and Superlative Model of the Revolutionary Sackless Pen
—Parker's Speedline Vacuumatic!

Stop today at any good pen counter and see Parker's latest and greatest achievement—the Parker Speedline Vacuumatic. A princely new model of the Pen that does what no other pen can do.

Here's a one-at-a-time ink ink capacity, yet ink reduced to a slender, useful Speedline.

A Pen that shows the ENTIRE ink supply—shows when to refill—hence one that never runs dry in classes or courts.

The world's smartest style—Parker's exclusive laminated Poinsett and job—wholly original.

And not merely modern in style, but modern also in mechanism. Its revolutionary SACKLESS Diaphragm Filler radically departs from earlier types, whether they have a rubber ink sac or not. A patented invention—GUARANTEED mechanically perfect.

Once you try this peerless Beauty, with its marvelous Scratch-Proof Point, you'll feel sorry for anyone who doesn't have a Parker Pen Co., Jacksonville, Wis.
