Elections! Elections!

Application deadline for S.C. student elections is February 6. Officers for President, Vice-President and Attorney General will be elected by the students February 14. President and Vice-President for Dinkins Student Union will also be elected. Applications can be picked up at the Dinkins Information Desk or in the S.C. office. They must be returned no later than February 9, to Deborah Tolar, Box 60049 or by mail to the Dinkins Student Union. Candidates must report to THE JOHNSONIAN office immediately in order to submit campaign information for a special elections page to be released February 12.

MacFest deadline set

A report was made by Board of Trustees Chairman Harold Burns concerning the committee to investigate MacFest at the February 1 meeting.

Burns said that the delay in investigation was due to the fact that committee chairman Cory R. Burns decided not to undertake the assignment. "I particularly wanted Burns because of his education experience," Burns said. "I asked him to consider, which he did. But, he decided he could not do it."

Mrs. Darrell Jersey, Ill of Greenville, S.C. will replace Burns on the committee. Mrs. Legion Hampton of Georgetown, S.C., and Mrs. Jim McEween, Lake City, S.C., will also work on the committee.

Burns also said there was a place arranged on campus where the speakers for any group will be heard. Where and when will be released to the press. "By the end of February the matter should be decided," he said. "End."

Hey, troopa! Or rather, troopa-to-be. Now I don't want to upset you—there isn't a war going on, but the idea of being a soldier could soon be a reality (or unwilling) participants in the new conscription. This is a decision which is best left to the students, for the decision is sure to be made very soon. However, you may feel that the prospects of a draft is a bit important that you may want to hear. Write somebody, whether it be to the editor or a letter to your Congressman, and let your opinion be heard.

Seeing as how I find it impossible to write an entire column on one subject, it's time to change the topic. Have you filed your taxes yet? The odds are that you haven't. But don't worry. The new, simplified form 1040A is geared toward the educational level of the average college student. No sweat, huh? Hardly. An entertaining report from THE CHARLESTON OBSERVER decided to test the validity of the IRS's claim. Form 1040A was given to a group of individuals to fill out. These individuals were exposed to taxes for the first time. The second objection is really easy to understand. You see, the Army is having an eighth grade education. The second objection is really easy to understand. The Army is having an eighth grade education.

This is not another boring performance
By PENNY THERRELL on February 6. Maybe you're wondering what is so interesting about some men in black suits playing classical music.

Musica Camerata is coming to Winthrop February 6 at 8:00 p.m. in the recital hall at the school of music. The group will also hold a lecture demonstration at 3:00 p.m. on the day of the performance. If you're looking for an evening that will bore you to death, you'll have to look somewhere else.

The murical group Musica Camerata is about some men to play music, dress in black, and second, they don't play boring music. The group consists of five musicians who perform lively secular and instrumental hits from the Middle Ages and the Renaissance.

The music of the Renaissance and the Middle Ages may seem boring to some people. This makes sense because the Middle Ages and the Renaissance probably had boring performers just as we have today. Society was having a difficult time in this period of history. People weren't happy with the old way of life. They wanted change in everything and this included music. As a result, the Renaissance and the Middle Ages produced an entirely different form of music that keeps you awake instead of putting you to sleep.

Musica Camerata will appear at Winthrop February 6 at 8:00 p.m. in the recital hall at the school of music. The group will also hold a lecture demonstration at 3:00 p.m. on the day of the performance. If you're looking for an evening that will bore you to death, you'll have to look somewhere else.

By MARGARET CARROLL

The Student Government Association is earnestly working toward achieving a better relationship between the students, faculty, and administration. By trying to improve communications among these groups, the population of Winthrop will be better informed.

The SGA is steadfastly trying to begin new programs that involve and benefit the students. The newest of these such programs is called "Action Line." Action Line will be a way for the students to voice their opinions, complaints, or suggestions. There will be boxes set up at each of the newly organized information centers. These centers are located in Dinkles, Thomas, Cafeteria, and will soon be in each of the dormitories.

The SGA will also provide cards that may be found by the boxes to put the questions on. Students may ask questions concerning campus events, sports activities, organizations, etc. They will be picked up and answered as quickly as possible. A column will also be printed in THE JOHNSONIAN especially for the purpose of answering the questions. The most general questions and the ones that affect the most students will be printed, and the members of SGA said that they will try to get an answer back to every student for every question. Printed questions will bear no names, only initials.

As to when and why these boxes were being installed, Dan Urscheler, President of SGA, said, "We want to generate feedback from students and to find out what's bothering them."
Many controversial topics were discussed at the Senate meeting held on January 24, 1979. One of these topics became an issue when a bill was brought to the floor by Senator Sunset’s motion to table the bill until March 27. This motion was made to table the bill until March 27. The bill, which was H.B. 7682, concerns the salaries of the chairpersons of the Student Allocation Committee (SAC) and the Student Government Association (SGA).

Senator Brinkley began the questioning. "These salaries should be raised.

Debbie Goldstein, a member of the Senate, turned the floor over to Senator Heye who answered, "Yes, they were.

Brinkley then asked, "Who informed to these people that they should get a salary when it has always been in the past that they received no pay?"

Goldstein then called on Dan Unreicher, president of Student Government (SGA) to answer this question. Unreicher explained that just recently the duties had increased. He said, "We felt that perhaps we should receive some compensation for their time. It was not promised that they would receive any money."

Senator Williamson then interrupted and said, "We are not about the elections bulletin, let's keep matters at hand.

Brinkley then said, "I feel this is relevant as to whether I can vote for or against this bill, and I would like the information.

Parliamentarian Ralph Johnson then spoke. "Explain how that is germane to the question."

Brinkley said, "Because if the person who is supposed to have gotten $135.00 is not the person who actually did the revisions or worked very closely, then I cannot vote to give this money to the person whom at least I was not aware.

The senators applauded Brinkley’s statement and were in agreement.

Brinkley then once again to clarify the bill. He said that during Christmas, the elections bulletin was tabled and then re-done. Also, when this was re-done, Unreicher did most of the work.

Brinkley then asked, "Why did Dan do it when it was the responsibility of the elections board chairman?"

Unreicher was interrupted. "I was involved with first reading and discussion only!"

Brinkley then made a motion for a ten-minute recess. The motion was seconded.

Following the recess there was no further discussion, so Grimes directed the senators to move into second reading.

Now moving into second reading of the bill, Grimes asked if there was any debate.

Senator Washington asked, "Do we consider that Student Government is a privilege and an honor, and that anyone who is sincere about wanting to be in SGA should not look for or expect a salary?"

Senator Washington said, "How can you place a price on education?"

Without any further comment, the bill was placed on the calendar.

Grimes then read an amendment to this bill that would delete the salary for the elections board chairman.

This amendment was voted on and it failed to pass. The bill was then reconsidered and passed, with Senator Heye casting the deciding vote.

About three or four years ago, overdue fines were raised from $50 to $100 per day. Since that time, the library has not raised any fines for overdue books.

There is a grace period of three days for overdue books. This means that the borrower has three extra days, free of charge, to get the book back to the library. However, if a borrower doesn’t get the book returned until the fourth day, then he will be charged the full amount of overdue time, including the three-day grace period.

The Student Body Associations (SGA) and the Student Allocation Committee (SAC) bring to the Student Senate meeting at the University of Georgia, student issues and proposals. The Senate, in turn, takes these issues to the student body for a vote.

The Senate has the power to pass laws and make rules for the good of the student body. Any issues that come before the Senate must be debated and voted on by the students. The Senate also has the power to override the President’s veto of a bill.

The Senate meets every Tuesday at 12:30 PM in the Student Union.
Take your pick of short courses

By BONNIE JERMAN

Three new short courses will be introduced this week, according to Lorraine Campbell, chairman of Dinkins Short Course Committee.

"Short courses are basically like taking a class," Campbell said, "except they are non-credit and are designed for the student's enjoyment."

Liquid embroidery, a short course beginning Tuesday, February 6th, 7-8 p.m., will meet one day a week for three weeks in Dinkins Room 221. The instructor, Mary Kirk of Tri-Com, will show students how to make designs on fabric using tubes of paint.

The cost of the short course will be $1.50 which covers the price of the paint. The main activity of the first class will be making samplers, and at the second class, students will apply iron-on transfers to T-shirts. No admission fee will be charged besides a WCID.

The second course, Planning Your Wedding, will begin Tuesday, February 7th, 7-8 p.m. in Dinkins 221 and will last four weeks. Clarice Pole of the Bridal House of Rock Hill will instruct the course which will inform potential brides and grooms of all that they will need to go through, Campbell said.

A few months ago, a cardinal from Communist-led Poland won election to the papacy. Thirty years ago, a Communist court in Hungary sentenced another cardinal to life imprisonment.

"The trial of the primate of Hungary, Cardinal Joseph Mindszenty, was a worldwide sensation. In the West, Mindszenty became a symbol of resistance to Communism."

Born in 1892, the son of a peasant, Mindszenty was ordained at the age of 23. During World War II, he became a bishop and quickly emerged as an outspoken critic of Hungary's pro-Nazi regime.

Condemning the persecution of Jews recalls the early days of the communists and the Nazis. Mindszenty was a part of the resistance against the Nazi regime. He was imprisoned in 1944 and freed in April 1945 by the advancing Russians.

"Mindszenty refused even to confess to any crimes, that confession would be false. He died in Vienna in May 1975.

U.S. moves to deport Iranian student

SAN ANTONIO, TX (CP) - Though the Carter administration began its program to deport Iranian citizens studying in the U.S. in anger over the Jan. 2 violent demonstration at Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi's Beverly Hills home, the only subsequent deportation action to date has been against a student at San Antonio College.

Hossein Jahanfar, 29, is suspected of participating in the Beverly Hills riot, in which 85 were hurt and eight were arrested. Jahanfar was arrested on $40,000 bond after heading a peaceful protest march on Jan. 17 to the Alamo, in San Antonio. The marchers were yelled at along the way by students and local residents, to whom Jahanfar retorted through a bullhorn, "Help us stop the Shah from coming to the United States." Immediately afterward, the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) arrested him, saying his visa expired Dec. 31, and that he had not reenrolled for this semester at San Antonio College.

While Jahanfar is the first arrested for deportation since the California disturbance, the Carter administration has tried to deport Iranians especially those studying in Texas before.

Last year, for example, the INS had the Houston police arrest one Mafi Mashi, a student at Galveston College, for demonstrating without a permit. Mashi's jail stay forced his absence from class, and he eventually had to drop a four-credit physics course. But as a result, Mashi passed fewer than 12 credits that semester, and thus was subject to deportation.

On Dec. 11, though, the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the deportation order against Mashi, saying Mashi had been forced to drop the course only because the INS kept him in jail 12 days without a hearing. Immigration laws, the court said, were not designed to deport foreign students "in the middle of a diligent and successful college career because they are forced to drop one course in the final weeks of one semester."

Some of the Iranians, moreover, leave the U.S. to go on to bigger things. Ibrahim Yartfi, a former professor at Baylor University at Waco, is reported to be in line for a high-level position in the provisional government Ayatollah Khomeini is expected to establish this week.

Journey into the inner depths of the world of Psi and enter the reality of James Mapes. It's a trip that skyrockets you to a desert dry Venus and an icy cold Mars. It's an adventure that benevolently supplies your taste buds with a scoop of your favorite ice cream, and your olfactory glands with the smell of your favorite flower. It's an entertainment extravaganza that shows you a wide array of flicks and a potpourri of talent, ranging from the kick of the kung-fu artist to the clik of the tap dancer. Imagine that you are entering the World of Psi and enter the reality of James Mapes. James Mapes gave Winthrop a preview of his hypnotic art and forewarned the audience that he was going to take some of them on "a journey through outer space, inner space." After the show even the most adamant, non-believer of hypnosis would be convinced that "there was some truth to that hogwash." "I'm not a psychic. I don't claim to have supernatural powers. It is a self-induced state. I am not the hypnotist, you are," says Mapes. When asked to describe the feeling of being hypnotized, Mapes replied, "You do not lose control. There is no such FEELING as being hypnotized." Mapes insists that people who do not want to be hypnotized will not be, although "people can be trained to be hypnotized in time." He points out that getting people to trust him is the main factor (but many have seen that with his Communications major voice and psychology major mind he does not have much difficulty in getting people to trust him). "Twenty percent of the population can be hypnotized in 60 seconds—with other people it may take four sessions," says Mapes. "People are basically followers, not leaders and people in larger groups are easy to manipulate. We're all manipulated through guilt," adds Mapes. When Mapes is not touring the college circuit, he is running a business in New York which specializes in treating people and their problems through hypnosis. He explains his screening procedure, "When people come to my office, I'll give them a couple of orders. If they obey a suggestion instantly then I know they're very good subjects.

Mapes got some good imaginative subjects when he came to Winthrop. Everyone seemed to have a good time. Everyone enjoyed the evening in the spirit of fun in which it was intended.

However, many did not see the elderly couple who approached Mapes after the show. The man in his sixties, with the help of cane, walked up with his wife and asked Mapes if he could do anything about his failing eyesight. He insisted that he had always been in perfect health until now, when the doctors told him that he had a disease of the retina and that he would eventually become blind. Mapes replied with a doctor's patience and gave him a name and address of an ophthalmologist, "the nearest hypnotist in the area.

What can hypnosis cure and what will it not cure? An underlying belief of Mapes's is, "Hypnosis cures nothing, and it's no miracle." Everything we are able to cure is within ourselves already, and the miracle is not in hypnosis but in ourselves.

You've got me dancing
By LORI RIDGE

Have you ever considered dancing as a fun way to get into shape? Well, modern dance is more than just exercise and training. It is a way to have fun, to meet people, and to get away from the monotony of hitting the books. If this sounds like the kind of thing you'd like to do, even if you are already in good shape, here is your chance to take action.

The P.E. department offers a class in the Winthrop Dance Theater. There are classes for beginners, intermediate, advanced, and advanced levels. There are classes every Monday and Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. The following classes are on the same days at 4:30 p.m. Advanced dance classes are held at 4:30 on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Beginners are given three weeks of free lessons.

A special group known as the Winthrop Dance Theatre holds an annual Spring Concert in March. In order to become a Winthrop Dancer, one should be enrolled in one of the dance classes (or have had previous dance experience) and audition at tryouts held at the beginning of each semester.

Presently there are 25 members of the Winthrop Dancers who practice together a minimum of 15 hours a week under the direction of Dr. John Lunt. In addition to developing technique, the Winthrop Dancers often meet with dance students from other schools to interchange and learn new techniques in order to heighten their capabilities and talents.

Recently six Winthrop students were added to the list of Winthrop Dancers, and six others became apprentices. The latest addition of Winthrop Dancers was Mary Alley, Ann Betchajer, Martha Cooper, Shawn Duboisson, Kelly Eady, and Gary Fucini. Apparent members are: Donald Donaldson, Joel Estes, Lori Grahi, Patty Huff, Carl Sharp, and Christine Staubs.

Dr. Lunt says of the Winthrop Dance Theater, "We have a growing dance group. We welcome anyone who has an interest in the class, and we welcome visitors to watch or to participate.

The students of the Winthrop Dance Theater clearly enjoy their practice. But for those of you who think that modern dance is so easy you don't need lessons, listen to this. Modern dance has often been compared to soccer or football practices. You literally get a "workout." Dancers dedicate many hours of practice to make their moves look effortless. After all, how can you ever hear a dancer say 'that's too easy'? Would you like to take the initiative and get involved?"

Take an adventure with American Youth Hostels

DELAWARE, VIRGINIA, DEC. 14, 1978—Discover a quiet mountain stream, untravelled isles, and the mysterious site of an ancient abbey, become a part of cosmopolitan Paris or London. American Youth Hostels (AYH) specialists in low-cost travel for over 45 years, offer some creative ways to see the world.

Most of the 500 AYH-based organization's 70 trips are designed for those who want to use the world under their own steam—by bicycle, foot or canoe. Varying from 5 to 21 days, from bicycling in Hawaii to backpacking in the Canadian Rockies to sightseeing in Moscow, the trips share one common element: hosteling.

Hosteling is high adventure on a low budget. In it lies the joy of backpackers and hostellers, a low-cost overnight travel accommodation. It is for the young, at heart and mind, as the name implies, for only the young in age. AYH offers 35 trips for adults (21 years and over), both in the United States and abroad.

American Youth Hostels' free "AYH American Ways to Adventure" travel brochure describes each of the trips. In addition to these pre-planned trips, their Travel Department will design and make arrangements for organizing special groups who wish to create their own four part plans. Groups are composed of seven to nine members and a trained AYH leader. AYH groups differ distinctly, yet are free to make group decisions along the way. AYH groups stay primarily in youth hostels. In the United States and Canada, AYH groups stay both in hostels and at campgrounds.

"Saddlesack Special," a four-week cycling trip through England, France, Belgium and the Netherlands, is one of the most popular European trips. Both a youth and an adult "Saddlesack Special" group are planned this summer.

"Alpstramper" is an eight-week backpacking trip through some of the most spectacular, unspoiled scenery in Europe, from Chamonix, France, to Innsbruck, Austria. Hiking is interspersed with short hikes by train and bus. Hostelling trips in the United States include "New England," a four-week cycle trip along the Connecticut River from Massachusetts to New Hampshire and along the Cape Cod National Seashore. "Salty Dog" is a two-week cycle trip which begins in New London, Marthas Vineyard and Nantucket for several days of sun and saltwater. Both youth and adult "New England" and "Salty Dog" groups will go out this summer.

Interested in earning three college credits and having fun at the same time? A "Walk of a Trip" is the first of a new kind of study/travel trip AYH is offering. Spend eight days in April aboard a modern diesel-powered ship sailing off the coast of southern California, studying the magnificent Gray Whale.

The American Youth Hostels' "You: the Rightstuff to Adventure" brochure is available free. Call toll free: (800) 348-6010, or write American Youth Hostels Travel Department, Box T, Delaplane, Virginia, 22024.

Men's basketball in a slump

By DAVID JACKSON

After building an eight-game winning streak and rising to second place in the Dunkel Ratings, the Winthrop men's basketball team played their worst week of basketball from January 26-29. The Eagles lost to Presbyterian 68-71 and Voorhees 64-62, and had to stage an amazing last minute rally to defeat Allen University 72-71.

The dismal week dropped the Eagles' rating to fifth in the Dunkel Ratings, the Winthrop men's basketball team reacts to the first performance crisis of its history.

The win at Presbyterian was particularly enjoyable for the Eagles as they got revenge for their loss to the Yellow Jackets two weeks ago.

Winthrop was led by Ronnie Creamer with 13 points, and Rick Jesse with 10. Ronnie Creamer and Tim Raxter were sidelined due to illness.

Winthrop assistant Skip Goley said Gordon. "I was proud of the way our players came back."

Winthrop may have dodged a bullet on Saturday, but the next Monday they were not so lucky. The Eagles suffered their seventh loss of the season to Voorhees 64-62. It was quite possibly their worst performance to date.

The Eagles were handicapped at the start; starters Ronnie Creamer and Tim Raxter were sidelined due to illness. However, both came off the bench to play well, especially Creamer. Unfortunately, it was not enough.

Down by two with 38 seconds left, the Eagles had three chances to tie the game, but failed on all three.

Two weeks before, Voorhees Coach Jerry Hayes had told Winthrop assistant Skip Coley that "we owe you one." Winthrop had defeated Voorhees 76-69 November 30. Hayes and his Voorhees team paid it back last Monday.

Winthrop was again led by junior forward Ronnie Creamer. Playing with a fever, Creamer hit 10 of 17 field goal attempts and all four of his free throws for 24 points. He also had five rebounds. The only other double figure scorer for the Eagles was Bennett, who had 10. Raxter led all rebounders with 6.

Winthrop out shot 38 percent for the game. "We can't beat anybody shooting only 38 percent," Gordon commented.

It's obvious the Eagles are not playing well. They are in the worst slump of the season, especially in their scoring.

Women rally back after loss in OT

By KELLY GORDON

The women's basketball team lost to Mars Hill 94-50 Jan. 24 and defeated UNC-Greensboro 102-58 Jan. 27. The Eagles had a phenomenal offensive night the following Saturday when they played UNC-Greensboro at home. Winthrop shot 59 percent for a 102-58 victory over the Spartans. It was an especially enjoyable victory for Warren as Greensboro is her alma mater.

"Everybody got at least eight minutes of playing time," said Warren. "Our defensive goal was to only allow them 25 points, and we almost held them to it."

Freshman Sara Dukes came off the bench to lead the scoring with 25 points. Dixon and Henson followed with 14 each. Other double-figure scorers were Jan Rampay 13 and Burch 12. Fields led rebounding with 19.

In a doubleheader with the men Monday night Winthrop defeated Benedict 68-50. After a slow first half control of the game, the Eagles made defensive adjustments and controlled the tempo of the game in the second half. Tracy Burch was like a sparkplug out on the floor," Warren said.

"And Sony Williams had her best game since her ankle injury.

Fields led the scoring with 21 followed by Williams with 12, followed by Randle with 11.
