3-26-1979

The Johnsonian March 26, 1979

Winthrop University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/thejohnsonian1970s

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/thejohnsonian1970s/209
Cassens announces housing plans at Forum

BY DENNIS MEYERS

The SGA sponsored Public Forum was held in Thomas Cafeteria on March 20. A panel of administrators discussed changes concerning housing, security, the food service, and the increases in fees and tuition.

Administration serving on the panel were President Charles Vail, Mr. Jud Drennan, Mr. Presio, assistants to the President; Dr. Mary Littlejohn, Vice-President for Student Affairs; Dr. Cynthia Cassens, Director of Student Services; Mr. Fred Angerman, manager of Epicure Food Service; Chief Robert Williams; and Dr. Brownell. Professor Ralph Johnson officiated the forum.

The first topic of discussion was housing. Dean Cassens announced the changes in housing arrangements for next year. According to Cassens, the school has expanded the coed program. Thomson Hall will be coed. Men will be housed on the first and second floors, while the third and fourth floors will house women.

Priorities for rooms in the coed dorms go to males presently residing on the first and third floors, graduate students, and seniors. Cassens said that he hopes to absorb as many of the many requests for rooms in Thomson as possible.

Students raised questions as to why the decision was made. Cassens acknowledged that there were too many men for one hall and not enough men for two. "There is no other alternative," he said.

Cassens assured some of the upset audience that the coed hall would be for upperclassmen only and also that residents would not be subject to escort regulations (excluding guests) but regular registration hours would be observed.

Cassens pointed out that Bancroft Proper will house male upperclassmen only. Women will be housed on the second, third, and fourth floors. Cassens said that the hall would be for upperclassmen only and that there would be no escort regulations for guests.

Cassens was asked if there would be any changes in the security of the hall. Cassens said that there would be an increase in security personnel and that there would be a duty security patrolman on the last topic concerning the parking area around Dinkins.

Dean Cassens also noted that the food service must be changed. Cassens said that he was concerned about the quality of the food, such as crackers. Cassens also noted that the food service would be improved if day students were to use parking spaces in the immediate area around academic buildings, that dorm students use spaces around the residence halls, and that faculty use the parking lot behind Dinkins.

The suggestion was met with applause from the audience.

Williams also said that the students with parking stickers signed a contract stating they would obey the laws. He said that to use the parking lot behind Dinkins, students must be enrolled in the immediate area around Dinkins.

Williams concluded the discussion on Security by urging students to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.

In response to the question concerning the discussion on Security, Cassens said that he was "considering putting a basket out for choose food, such as crackers. We have also posted signs reminding students that costs, can be kept lower if they take only what they will eat." Cassens also noted that food prices would go up next year. He was uncertain as to how much. Later in the program President Vail said he believed that the food costs may rise 25%.

President Vail was questioned on the last topic concerning the increase of tuition and fees. Williams said that he recommended no change in the cost of tuition for next year. He stated that there would be a one dollar increase in medical costs, and a $35.00 increase in residence hall fees. At this meeting, Cassens announced that students that were to use parking spaces in the parking lot behind Dinkins.

He said that Lee Wicker Hall will be completely repainted this summer. Vail reminded students that the state does not budget a "single penny" for residence halls. Costs of operations is a main reason for resident fee increase.

Williams also questioned the possibility of having laundry service added to the campus. Cassens is negotiating with the vendor to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.

Cassens also noted that the students with parking stickers signed a contract stating they would obey the laws. He said that to use the parking lot behind Dinkins, students must be enrolled in the immediate area around Dinkins.

Williams concluded the discussion on Security by urging students to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.

In response to the question concerning the discussion on Security, Cassens said that he was "considering putting a basket out for choose food, such as crackers. We have also posted signs reminding students that costs, can be kept lower if they take only what they will eat." Cassens also noted that food prices would go up next year. He was uncertain as to how much. Later in the program President Vail said he believed that the food costs may rise 25%.

President Vail was questioned on the last topic concerning the increase of tuition and fees. Williams said that he recommended no change in the cost of tuition for next year. He stated that there would be a one dollar increase in medical costs, and a $35.00 increase in residence hall fees. At this meeting, Cassens announced that students that were to use parking spaces in the parking lot behind Dinkins.

He said that Lee Wicker Hall will be completely repainted this summer. Vail reminded students that the state does not budget a "single penny" for residence halls. Costs of operations is a main reason for resident fee increase.

Williams also questioned the possibility of having laundry service added to the campus. Cassens is negotiating with the vendor to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.

Cassens also noted that the students with parking stickers signed a contract stating they would obey the laws. He said that to use the parking lot behind Dinkins, students must be enrolled in the immediate area around Dinkins.

Williams concluded the discussion on Security by urging students to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.

In response to the question concerning the discussion on Security, Cassens said that he was "considering putting a basket out for choose food, such as crackers. We have also posted signs reminding students that costs, can be kept lower if they take only what they will eat." Cassens also noted that food prices would go up next year. He was uncertain as to how much. Later in the program President Vail said he believed that the food costs may rise 25%.

President Vail was questioned on the last topic concerning the increase of tuition and fees. Williams said that he recommended no change in the cost of tuition for next year. He stated that there would be a one dollar increase in medical costs, and a $35.00 increase in residence hall fees. At this meeting, Cassens announced that students that were to use parking spaces in the parking lot behind Dinkins.

He said that Lee Wicker Hall will be completely repainted this summer. Vail reminded students that the state does not budget a "single penny" for residence halls. Costs of operations is a main reason for resident fee increase.

Williams also questioned the possibility of having laundry service added to the campus. Cassens is negotiating with the vendor to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.

Cassens also noted that the students with parking stickers signed a contract stating they would obey the laws. He said that to use the parking lot behind Dinkins, students must be enrolled in the immediate area around Dinkins.

Williams concluded the discussion on Security by urging students to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.

In response to the question concerning the discussion on Security, Cassens said that he was "considering putting a basket out for choose food, such as crackers. We have also posted signs reminding students that costs, can be kept lower if they take only what they will eat." Cassens also noted that food prices would go up next year. He was uncertain as to how much. Later in the program President Vail said he believed that the food costs may rise 25%.

President Vail was questioned on the last topic concerning the increase of tuition and fees. Williams said that he recommended no change in the cost of tuition for next year. He stated that there would be a one dollar increase in medical costs, and a $35.00 increase in residence hall fees. At this meeting, Cassens announced that students that were to use parking spaces in the parking lot behind Dinkins.

He said that Lee Wicker Hall will be completely repainted this summer. Vail reminded students that the state does not budget a "single penny" for residence halls. Costs of operations is a main reason for resident fee increase.

Williams also questioned the possibility of having laundry service added to the campus. Cassens is negotiating with the vendor to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.

Cassens also noted that the students with parking stickers signed a contract stating they would obey the laws. He said that to use the parking lot behind Dinkins, students must be enrolled in the immediate area around Dinkins.

Williams concluded the discussion on Security by urging students to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.

In response to the question concerning the discussion on Security, Cassens said that he was "considering putting a basket out for choose food, such as crackers. We have also posted signs reminding students that costs, can be kept lower if they take only what they will eat." Cassens also noted that food prices would go up next year. He was uncertain as to how much. Later in the program President Vail said he believed that the food costs may rise 25%.

President Vail was questioned on the last topic concerning the increase of tuition and fees. Williams said that he recommended no change in the cost of tuition for next year. He stated that there would be a one dollar increase in medical costs, and a $35.00 increase in residence hall fees. At this meeting, Cassens announced that students that were to use parking spaces in the parking lot behind Dinkins.

He said that Lee Wicker Hall will be completely repainted this summer. Vail reminded students that the state does not budget a "single penny" for residence halls. Costs of operations is a main reason for resident fee increase.

Williams also questioned the possibility of having laundry service added to the campus. Cassens is negotiating with the vendor to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.

Cassens also noted that the students with parking stickers signed a contract stating they would obey the laws. He said that to use the parking lot behind Dinkins, students must be enrolled in the immediate area around Dinkins.

Williams concluded the discussion on Security by urging students to form escort services to end the problem of the lack of problems dealing with the cafeteria.
Lie detectors—
are they telling the truth?

Graduation day is fast approaching and an estimated four hundred and sixty-five are expected to graduate this year from Winthrop. Thousands across the U.S. will join the Winthrop grad in the pursuit for a career. Many will find that the job search is a series of interviews and tests. Lie detector machines have become the latest device in employee testing. These tests, though, have become very controversial, causing many to say their use is of a questionable nature and that they are a serious intrusion of personal privacy.

The polygraph machine works on the principle of an eight-finger cycle modulation in the human voice. When this inflection disappears, the speaker is under stress. According to Rick Bennett, developer of the voice stress analyzer, stress does not necessarily indicate lying. Because of this weakness he also said that there is no such thing as a true lie detector. The polygraph requires a very well-trained operator and the knowledge and consent of the individual being tested,” Bennett said.

The validity of these tests is questionable. On a "McNeil/Lehrer News Report" televised February 16, 1978 Jim Lehrer, Associate Editor, took a lie detector test. Questions asked concerned his family and himself. Lehrer was able to lie about several facts which he answered truthfully regarding stress on the machine. Lehrer said of the tests "My conclusion would be that it was very inconclusive."

Edward Gelb, Vice-president of the American Polygraph Association, stated his organization to polygraph operators, "The validity of that instrument is highly suspect. I don't know any authoritative research that has shown the validity of polygraph competency."

In spite of the doubts in validity, the machine continues to be considered important for employee scanning. Investigation has revealed that often some employers misuse the polygraph results by using discriminating, yet truthful statements against a would-be employee.

Consider this example of a recent grad applying for a job with several companies. One company requires a polygraph test to be taken by every prospective employee.

In a pre-test pamphlet, the company stated that they were interested in high standards of honor and loyalty. According to the pamphlet, the test is "to verify that you are the person you claim to be."

Several questions asked concerned stolen property and theft of equipment and drug use. The graduate answered all questions truthfully.

When she returned to learn of the test results, she found that the only use in her past had been in her deciding factor in her not getting the job. Her integrity in answering the questions honestly had totally been disregarded. Her excellent job record and employer recommendations had also been ignored.

According to Ty Kelly, Vice-president in charge of Government Affairs for the National Association of Chain Drug Stores, polygraphs serve as effective a right to privacy. The defend property as much as employees a right to privacy. "There must be some sort of balance maintained between the individual's rights and the employer's rights."

Intimidated is exactly how an interviewee may feel after taking a polygraph test. We agree with Barbara Shack, Associate Director of the New York Civil Liberties Union, when she said it (polygraph testing) represents an extraordinary intrusion into personal privacy and represents a serious assault on human dignity."

To the graduate looking for a job I say, GOOD LUCK! I'm beginning to get the idea that there are many things out in the "real world" that are unfair and unjustified. Some of us just learn it a little earlier than others.

Sula Smith

Peace on earth

The ultimate goal of the American strategists is a strong Egypt at peace with a strong Israel, both of them in miliitary-economic co-operation with the U.S. acting as a supporting buoy for Saudi Arabia and the other sheikdoms which will supply most of the future oil. We can expect that the fields dry up and our mechanized world grinds to a halt. It's a world order and Saudi Arabia has not yet expressed any support for the treaty which Carter labored so long to achieve. Can we expect any desire for long term U.S. guarantees, the Saudis have got out of the way dry up and our mechanized shell hit the waves adjoin to Marxist South Yemen. The awesome of the American military potential having thus been properly re-established. Jimmy Carter arrives in the Middle East for his culminating attempt at shifting U.S. influence, and his own presidential prestige, toward the maintenance of peace treaty between: Egypt and Israel. The success of his mission does not depend simply on the affirmation of American diplomacy, it provides the first real basis of hope for stability in this war wracked and when we could be hurt most by such a potential boycott. Super taxpayers big bucks (initial estimates go from $5-$10 billion).
Peace on earth continued

Continued from page 2

MARCH 26, 1979

Continued from page 2

Plain consideration

To The Johnsonian:

This is in reference to your article, "It's Just Plain Consideration," in the February 26, 1979 issue of THE JOHNSONIAN. I agree 100 percent with the author of that article. It is "just plain consideration" to set the handicapped have the elevator if there are handicapped people waiting for it. This was not the case when that snapshot for your article was taken. I personally always take the stairs if I see a handicapped person waiting for the elevator. Therefore, whether your article was an appeal to the students who are able to take the stairs to do so, or whether your article was a plea to conserve energy by walking instead of riding the elevator, I don't appreciate being a part of that snapshot for your article. Yes, the article brought out a very important and good point; however, I feel you could have gotten the point across without involving innocent people. I feel that I should have been told what the picture was for so that I could have made up my own mind to be a part of it, and that, THE JOHNSONIAN, is "just plain consideration" also.

Linda Garvin
Winthrop College Student

Grateful for help

Dear Miss Smith,

It was a pleasure to work with you when we were on campus for the MacFar-Watson hearings. We were grateful for the opportunity to carry out President Yall's desire to fully research these situations.

The committee was aware that this was an emotional as well as a practical issue, yet our contacts were all pleasant. The proceedings were further facilitated by the assistance of the Joynes Center staff and those who had to be heard.

We were most impressed with the high level of the presentations and the cooperation from all sides. We appreciate your accurate reporting and feel it helped our hearings to accomplish their purpose.

Our recommendations will be reached after careful and prayerful consideration of all information presented.

Sincerely,
Mary Sue McElveen
Mabel Hamilton
Patty Jervey
Committee of Board of Trustees

Praising Frazier

Dear Editor:

I attended the excellent production of Under Milk Wood and accordingly wish to compliment the fine director and the talented participants.

In my initial review of the play I noticed the mention of Lamar Frazier, one of the actors who particularly struck me as most talented. Patsy tell, he is on the faculty of Winthrop! In the program given out at the play, Mr. Frazier was listed as teacher of drama and English, but there was no mention of where he taught.

Similarly, the aforementioned review made no mention of Mr. Frazier's background.

Will you make mention of this for your readers? With best regards.

Sincerely yours,
L. Vanessa Colton

According to Blair Beasley, Professor of Drama, Lamar Frazier is a teacher at Friendship College here in Rock Hill. He is also a resident of Rock Hill. Editor.
Students discuss fees with Vail

BY SULA SMITH

Fifteen students met with President Vail in his home on Thursday, March 8, to discuss proposed increases in food and resident hall fees for the 1979-80 and 1980-81 school years.

According to Debbie Grimes, Vice-president of SGA, there will be an increase in tuition or general education fees at this time.

Grimes said that Vail gave students an option concerning the increase in rooming fees. Students could choose to pay a $20.00 increase for the 1979-80 school year, which would call for an additional increase the following year, or they could choose to pay $35.00 in 1979, which would mean there would be no additional increase in 1980-81.

Grimes said that this raise in residence fees should be enough to compensate for the following school year. Vail plans to put that money into a reserved fund and let it earn interest. "That's not money we'd have to give back to the state at the end of the fiscal year," Grimes said.

Every year, Winthrop is expected to pay $320,000 back to the state for a building loan. The increase in rooming fees will increase $20.00; the fifteen-meal plan will increase $25.00; the twenty-one-meal plan will increase $35.00 in the 1979-80 year.

Grimes said that students should be prepared to experience another food service increase in the 1980-81 year.

"All I can say is, if this is the way it is to be," Grimes said, "I don't know how we would've made it with raised tuition."

Work at Camp ARC

ROCK HILL — Camp Arc, a summer camp for the mentally and physically handicapped, is accepting applications for paid and volunteer staff positions for camp sessions beginning in June.

Salaried positions are available to persons who have experience with camps for the mentally handicapped, or special training, abilities or talents in arts and crafts, swimming, drama, music or recreation. Volunteers will supplement the professional staff.

An orientation session for professional and volunteer staff will be June 6-8. Residential camp sessions will be June 10-15 and August 5-10. Day camp sessions will be June 18-29, July 9-20 and July 20-29.

The day camps will be at Boyd Hill Neighborhood Center in Rock Hill. Residential sessions will be at Bethelwoods, between Rock Hill and York on Hwy. 5. Both camps are sponsored by the Camp Arc Council, with grant assistance from the S.C. Department of Mental Retardation.

For more information, call or write Tom Duncan, director of Camp Arc, c/o the Human Development Center, Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S.C. 29733; phone (803) 323-2244.

Thank you Winthrop

Everything you always wanted in a beer

And less.

© 1977 Brewed by Miller Brewing Co., Milwaukee, Wl. U.S.A.

For your patronage

Piedmont Distributing Co., Inc.

Rock Hill 327-2756

Students discuss fees with Vail

BY SULA SMITH

Fifteen students met with President Vail in his home on Thursday, March 8, to discuss proposed increases in food and resident hall fees for the 1979-80 and 1980-81 school years.

According to Debbie Grimes, Vice-president of SGA, there will be no increase in tuition or general education fees at this time.

Grimes said that Vail gave students an option concerning the increase in rooming fees. Students could choose to pay a $20.00 increase for the 1979-80 school year, which would call for an additional increase the following year, or they could choose to pay $35.00 in 1979, which would mean there would be no additional increase in 1980-81.

Grimes said that this raise in residence fees should be enough to compensate for the following school year. Vail plans to put that money into a reserved fund and let it earn interest. "That's not money we'd have to give back to the state at the end of the fiscal year," Grimes said.

Every year, Winthrop is expected to pay $320,000 back to the state for a building loan. The increase in rooming fees will increase $20.00; the fifteen-meal plan will increase $25.00; the twenty-one-meal plan will increase $35.00 in the 1979-80 year.

Grimes said that students should be prepared to experience another food service increase in the 1980-81 year.

"All I can say is, if this is the way it is to be," Grimes said, "I don't know how we would've made it with raised tuition."

Work at Camp ARC

ROCK HILL — Camp Arc, a summer camp for the mentally and physically handicapped, is accepting applications for paid and volunteer staff positions for camp sessions beginning in June.

Salaried positions are available to persons who have experience with camps for the mentally handicapped, or special training, abilities or talents in arts and crafts, swimming, drama, music or recreation. Volunteers will supplement the professional staff.

An orientation session for professional and volunteer staff will be June 6-8. Residential camp sessions will be June 10-15 and August 5-10. Day camp sessions will be June 18-29, July 9-20 and July 20-29.

The day camps will be at Boyd Hill Neighborhood Center in Rock Hill. Residential sessions will be at Bethelwoods, between Rock Hill and York on Hwy. 5. Both camps are sponsored by the Camp Arc Council, with grant assistance from the S.C. Department of Mental Retardation.

For more information, call or write Tom Duncan, director of Camp Arc, c/o the Human Development Center, Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S.C. 29733; phone (803) 323-2244.
The movement of revolts in Iran, led by Ayatollah Khomeini, is only one example of the tremendous resurgence of Islam as a religious, social, and political force. This resurgence is evident throughout the Islamic world, from the northern rim of Africa across the southern rim of Asia and encompassing even large sections of the Soviet Union.

The Soviet case is particularly fascinating, for today a Moslem tide bomb appears to be quietly ticking away in Soviet Central Asia.

The Soviet leaders in Moscow have spent more than half a century trying to subdue the Uzbeks into the melting pot of the "new Soviet man." Lenin himself began the effort, knowing all too well the challenge that this rich Moslem civilization presented to the Communist order.

In 1924, the Soviet Socialist Republic of Uzbekistan was proclaimed. In Samarkand, 15,000 Moslem women welcomed the new era by burning their veils in the city square. Lenin himself began the effort, knowing all too well the challenge that this rich Moslem civilization presented to the Communist order.

The Soviet leaders in Moscow have spent more than half a century trying to subdue the Uzbeks into the melting pot of the "new Soviet man." Lenin himself began the effort, knowing all too well the challenge that this rich Moslem civilization presented to the Communist order.

The Soviet leaders in Moscow have spent more than half a century trying to subdue the Uzbeks into the melting pot of the "new Soviet man." Lenin himself began the effort, knowing all too well the challenge that this rich Moslem civilization presented to the Communist order.

The Soviet leaders in Moscow have spent more than half a century trying to subdue the Uzbeks into the melting pot of the "new Soviet man." Lenin himself began the effort, knowing all too well the challenge that this rich Moslem civilization presented to the Communist order.

In 1924, the Soviet Socialist Republic of Uzbekistan was proclaimed. In Samarkand, 15,000 Moslem women welcomed the new era by burning their veils in the city square. Lenin himself began the effort, knowing all too well the challenge that this rich Moslem civilization presented to the Communist order.

The people of Uzbekistan are trying to mix their own traditions with the Russian, European, and Islamic traditions that have been imposed upon them. They have spent more than half a century trying to subdue the Uzbeks into the melting pot of the "new Soviet man." Lenin himself began the effort, knowing all too well the challenge that this rich Moslem civilization presented to the Communist order.

Lenin himself began the effort, knowing all too well the challenge that this rich Moslem civilization presented to the Communist order.

In Uzbekistan, the other Moslem areas, the population is growing four times as fast as in European Russia. Soviet Moslems already number 50 million, close to 20 percent of the country's population.

Every passing day changes the power balance in their favor and increases their political leverage. A people whose culture the Soviet leaders had once believed to be all but extinct is thus on the rise. The Soviet Moslems are renewing contact with their heritage, throwing themselves into the modern industrial world and posing a threat to the Soviet Union's future.

The Soviet leaders never expected this survival of Islam. Nor could they have anticipated the demographic upheaval that is shaking the Soviet Union's population balance.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.

The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs. The great majority of males are still circumcised at birth, and many avoid public displays of religion, but they remain deeply attached to their ancient faith and its customs.
"Battle of the Bands"

A "Battle of the Bands" will be the main attraction at Winthrop's Spring Dance, Thursday, March 29, at 8:30-12:30 in McBryde Cafeteria, according to Katy Kral, concerts and dances committee chairperson.

"Two bands, one black and one white, one funk and one top 40, will provide continuous music from opposite ends of the dance floor," Kral said.

"Songbird," a Charlotte-based group that got its start at Carowinds, is the top-40 band; and "Human Blood," also from Charlotte, will furnish the funk.

Another feature of the dance will be door prizes, Kral said. "Gift certificates of $50, $25, and $10 to the place of your choice, excluding alcoholic beverage distribution, will be awarded," she said.

No admission fee will be charged to WC students, but guests will be charged $2.

DSU looking for sec.-treas.

The position of secretary-treasurer of Dinkins Student Union is open, according to Ronnie Laffitte, president-elect of DSU.

"The job pays $30 a month and requires working with the budgets of the policy board and program board," Laffitte said. "We would prefer someone with business experience and typing skills."

DSU secretary-treasurer is appointed by the president and vice-president of Dinkins Student Union.

Applicants may apply for the position by going by the program board office upstairs in Dinkins or by calling the program board office, ext. 2248, and making an appointment with either Ronnie Laffitte or Sally Grice, DSU vice-president-elect.

PO-GENE'S
SEAFOOD RESTAURANT
Calabash Style Seafood
Woolco Shopping Center on Cherry Road

We appreciate the fact that Winthrop College is here in Rock Hill, and we realize that high food prices put a dent in student ability to eat out.

PO-GENE'S Seafood Restaurant has the answer. 10% discount on all menu items, Mon., Tues., & Wed. 11:00 A.M. until 10:00 P.M. With W.C. I.D.

PHONE AHEAD FOR TAKEOUT ORDERS
PHONES
366-2159

Example of Menu
11:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M.
Seafood Luncheon Special $2.29
T.K. Steak Sandwich $1.99
Chick-fil-A Steak Platter includes French fries and cold slaw
ANYTIME

OPEN: Mon.-Thurs. 11-10
Fri., Sat. 11-11
Closed Sundays

Run with "L'eggs"

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. — Entries are coming in for the first 10,000-meter (6.2 miles) road race in North Carolina for women only, according to organizers of the L'eggs-YWCA 10,000. The April 7 event, slated for 10 a.m. in Winston-Salem's Hanes Park, is expected to draw some 600 runners from throughout the Carolinas and other parts of the country.

Anne Weaver, race director for the YWCA of Winston-Salem, said entries have come in from as far as Florida, New York and California.

All finishers will receive commemorative T-shirts, L'eggs hos-tery and other gifts. Special prizes will be awarded to top finishers in five age divisions.

Attention night owls

BY BONNIE JERDAN

Has studying for tests or preparing papers at the last minute converted you into a night person whether you liked it or not?

Do you find yourself wide awake in the wee hours, cramming some element to dispel boredom?

Has "The Money" lost its charm for you, or have you ever wished ATS stayed open later to prolong your partying?

Dinkins has something in store for Winthrop that will satisfy all the needs of latenighters.

On Friday, March 30, beginning at midnight and lasting till 3 a.m. Saturday morning, Dinkins Student Center will be humming with activity.

Downstairs, ATS will continue serving beer and wine way past its usual deadline of 12:30 and will stage a disco with Cool Ray, besides. Upstairs, the college movie shocker of all time, "The Hare Experiment," will be shown at 12:30 in Dinkins auditorium. Pool and ping-pong mini-tournaments, blackjack and bingo games, and an assortment of booths will keep Dinkins' main floor hopping.

An admission fee of 50 cents for students and 75 cents for guests will be charged to the door to Dinkins and will cover admission to the movie and disco.
This column contains a different type of news than you will find in the rest of THE JOHNSONIAN. "Penny's Two Cents Worth" will explore everything from where to go to have fun to the latest new writers in America today. Each week Penny will inform and amuse you. Perhaps she will even tell you something you didn't know.

Penny's two cents worth

BY PENNY THERRELL

Charlotte discos

CINCLAIRS: Ramada Inn South, Clanton Road exit off I-77. Open 5 p.m. till 1 a.m. every day. Cover charge of $1 Wed., Fri. and Sat. Beer, Wine, and Mixed Drinks.

20TH CENTURY: 1004 S. Kings Dr. Open daily 9 p.m. till 2 a.m. Cover charge $3 Fri. and Sat., $2 Sun. Dance lessons given. For more information call 376-8481. Beer, Wine, and Mixed Drinks.

THE ROXY: 5320 E. Indep. Blvd. Open daily 8 p.m. till 1 a.m. Membership $1. No cover charge Mon., Tues., and Thurs. Wed. and Sun. Mon.-Sat., men $1, women free. Fri. and Sat., $1 for everyone. Beer and Wine served.

THE MONEY: Cherry Road; Open Mon. thru Fri. from 5 p.m. till 2 a.m. Open Sat. and Sun. from 5 p.m. till 12 p.m. No cover charge Mon. thru Fri.; Cover on Fri. $1. On Sat. Winthrop gets in free with an ID and a buying power card.

Rock Hill discos

A&C STATION: Behind MacDonald's. Open Mon.-Fri. 5 p.m. till 2 a.m. Open Sat. 6 p.m. till 2 a.m. No cover charge Mon. thru Wed.; Thurs. women-free and men-$1 Fri. and Sat. women-$1 and men-$2. Beer, Wine, and Mixed Drinks served.

THE MONEY: Cherry Road; Open Mon. thru Fri. from 5 p.m. till 2 a.m. Open Sat. and Sun. from 5 p.m. till 12 p.m. No cover charge Mon. thru Fri.; Cover on Fri. $1. On Sat. Winthrop gets in free with an ID and a buying power card.

NEWS BRIEFS

BY CYNTHIA J. WILSON

Beware of spring fever

Are you a victim of spring fever? Are you one of the many people who has been afflicted with this sickness in the past few years? What are the symptoms of spring fever? More importantly, can it be cured? Although little is known about spring fever, three discoveries have been made. (1) An individual afflicted with this disease finds it difficult to perform mental activities such as studying. (2) An individual is more susceptible to this illness in college. (3) Spring fever victims have a strong desire to relax during the warm spring weather.

It is believed that this sickness is caused by the shock of the mild sunny breezy days between winter and summer. Unfortunately, it is not known what effects these days have on the body. The latest victim of spring fever is a student at Winthrop. Our sources have revealed that the student contacted spring fever on the evening of March 21. Before contacting this illness, she was Bottle Necked. She then decided to seek help. Presently, there is no cure for spring fever. However, one can protect himself from this illness. Remember to avoid associating with anyone you suspect of having this disease.

If you feel that you have contracted spring fever, notify your professors immediately. Explain your condition and warn them that you are helpless because of your wild and crazy sickness that prevents you from studying or turning in your assignments. Beware! Spring fever is in the air.
Grier to receive honorary degree

ROCK HILL — William H. Grier Sr. says he never dreamed up in Fort Mill.

Now he's 77, retired, active, alert and full of memories. For more than a quarter of his life he was a Winthrop trustee, guiding the college from an era of a teacher's college for women in regimental blue serge skirts and white blouses into co-education and a curriculum which includes business administration and liberal arts.

At Winthrop's spring commencement May 5, Grier will become the seventh person — the first man — in the 93-year history of the college to receive an honorary degree, doctor of law.

With the same fortitude that contributed to his popularity — even as the boss — at the Rock Hill Printing and Finishing Company for 39 years Grier tells the story of Winthrop President Charles Vail and Trustee Mary Sue McEwen calling him for an appointment a few weeks ago.

Not knowing he was to be invited to the commencement to receive the honorary degree, Grier was curious.

"I could visualize they were in a bathtub at trouble if they were coming to ask me for help," he says with a chuckle, relighting his silver filigreed pipe for the umpteenth time.

"I told them when they came that they didn't have to ask me to accept, that I was delighted.

The Winthrop sheepskin will be Grier's second honorary doctorate in law. His alma mater, Clemson, gave him one in 1963.

"I have a son who's a lawyer — J. Buford Grier. That maybe I can help him out a bit."

The lawyer son is J. Buford Grier, Jr., now runs Rock Hill Printing and Finishing, a law firm. Grier's other son, William H. Grier, Jr., now runs Rock Hill Printing and Finishing.

But sons, wife and secretary for the past 38 years Jewel Lumpkin ("my wife says she's the best member of the family") get far less attention than the seven Grier grandchildren.

When there were but four Grier grandchildren, doting Grandpa sported their pictures on tie tacks — all four tie tacks every day. Seven, he admits, made me stoop shouldered."

Grier's memories of Winthrop date back to his high school days in Fort Mill. "I thought I was a pretty good tennis player in those days," he admits, explaining that he used tennis and the Winthrop courts to meet the college girls.

A few words across the tennis net were about the extent of his romancing at Winthrop though, because of strict rules protecting the young Winthrop flowers.

After earning his degree from Clemson in 1925, Grier spent a decade working for miles in Massachusetts, Ohio, and Georgia before joining Rock Hill Printing and Finishing as a divisional superintendent. When he retired in 1972, he was president of the finishing division of M. Lowenstein and Sons, Inc., the parent company of Rock Hill Printing and Finishing.

He was also executive vice president of Lowenstein. He still sits on the board. He was a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond from 1954-1959 (Charlotte branch) and 1960-69 (Richmond).

In 1952, Winthrop's board of trustees had a vacancy.

At the urging of a number of friends, Grier went after the position. Others did too, but Grier won the appointment from the General Assembly, which fills the trusteeships at state colleges and universities just like state commission seats.

Grier served as vice chairman of the Winthrop board of trustees. The chairman was the governor, who traditionally functioned in a ceremonial capacity, seldom attending more than one trustee meeting a year.

The most arduous battle Grier faced as a Winthrop trustee was over coeducation, the most miniscule change in direction for the college since its founding in 1886.

The campaign started just a year after Grier became a trustee. The board approved co-education, then turned to the General Assembly for enabling legislation. The bill was apparently lost in the shuffle of work laid on the House Education Committee after the U.S. Supreme Court decision on racial integration of schools.

With strong opposition, mainly from alumnae factions, the co-education fight rocked on for almost 15 years. Men were permitted to take courses (provided they live off-campus) but not receive degrees. A man who had taken enough credits for a master's degree applied for a diploma.

The threat of a class action suit prompted the General Assembly in 1963 to approve a one-year coeducation experiment, but no more. The issue was once again lost in legislative limbo.

In 1973, Charles Vail, the current president, entered the fight.

"Vail did a terrific job," Grier says. "He went to each legislator personally and kept knocking on doors. I give Dr. Vail the credit for the success." The legislature approved co-education in 1974.

Now, almost a third of Winthrop's 4,847 students are men.

Grier's praise of Vail is returned.

"That man was just a tower of strength to me in my early years. He did not only reley on him, but to have the deepest affection for him. This honorary degree is really a true honor to the college, even as it is a tribute to him. I'm pleased that the first man to receive an honorary degree will be the man who was so instrumental in opening our institution to coeducation."

Grier still occupies an office in Rock Hill Printing and Finishing's executive building, but he hasn't stepped foot in the plant since his retirement. He didn't, however, sever ties to Winthrop when he left the board in 1972. Despite his illness, he keeps well abreast of campus activities and problems.

"We have a terrific need for more work on the legislature to get our fair share of the state's educational money," Grier says. "Clemson and USC have so much more legislative pull. They'll get an awakening sometime soon."

Grier foresees growth in the college, but he hopes that expansion will be checked to maintain the personal attention Winthrop students enjoy.

Winthrop's curriculum, which has blossomed from the rigid confines of teacher education, should continue to develop its business administration and computer sciences, Grier says.

The appearance of the campus will face some changes too, Grier predicts.

"Some of the older buildings will have to be torn down to make way for new, more practical edifices," he says. "That's the only way as I see it."

Grier is already looking forward to a close inspection of the campus in April, when his wife becomes a "Golden Girl," celebrating the 50th anniversary of her graduation.

"I'll be there," he says with a grin, and his lighter's flamelicks his pipe tobacco once more.

William H. Grier, Sr., is the recipient of the seventh honorary degree conferred in Winthrops' history.

"We have a terrific need for more work on the legislature to get our fair share of the state's educational money," Grier says. "Clemson and USC have so much more legislative pull. They'll get an awakening sometime soon."

Grier foresees growth in the college, but he hopes that expansion will be checked to maintain the personal attention Winthrop students enjoy.

Winthrop's curriculum, which has blossomed from the rigid confines of teacher education, should continue to develop its business administration and computer sciences, Grier says.

The appearance of the campus will face some changes too, Grier predicts.

"Some of the older buildings will have to be torn down to make way for new, more practical edifices," he says. "That's the only way as I see it."

Grier is already looking forward to a close inspection of the campus in April, when his wife becomes a "Golden Girl," celebrating the 50th anniversary of her graduation.

"I'll be there," he says with a grin, and his lighter's flame licks his pipe tobacco once more.
The little house on the corner

BY MARIE GOODSON

The function of Canterbury House is not to push religion but to provide one-to-one counseling, social activities, and a chance to worship in the evening.

Canterbury House has been a part of Winthrop for quite some time. When Winthrop was an all-girl school, many of the students were part of the main centers for social gatherings.

Today the fight for social life at Canterbury is "an uphill battle," said Jeff Batkin, Chaplain, and Amy Privette, house president.

There's so much more competition with Dinkins, boys on campus, the availability of cars, fraternities, and the large number of commuters.

Although Canterbury House is open to everyone, many students do not take advantage of its services. It is not always easy to gather enough students for those who want to do their own cooking, and has a comfortable den complete with television for those who just want to relax for awhile.

Canterbury sponsors many activities, the last of which was a Pancake Supper. There was a large turnout of people who showed down on some fine estin' and in general, just had a good time. The Canterbury House also serves a hunchen each Monday afternoon at 12:30 and a Snack Bar Service on Tuesday evenings at 5:30.

Texas first woman president

BY ANITA BREWER

AUSTIN, TX (CPS) - Nobody wants to buck Rogers now.

But five years ago, when Lawrence Rogers of the University of Texas-Austin became the first woman president of a major state university, many students were upset. Back Rogers t-shirts, with a silk-screened likeness of Dr. Rogers wearing a space cap, blossomed on campus. Students, inevitably, gathered to protest or to demonstrate.

Yet when Dr. Rogers stepped down as UT-Austin president in August, most of the scoffers will have long since changed their minds about the chief executive of the 40,000-student university. She thinks it's because of her efforts to improve women's positions at the school, because of the university's more progressive administration, and because of the great public relations strides. But what do the students think of her now?

"Every five or six weeks during these past five years," she recalls, "I have invited 200 students chosen by the deans of students, to come to the president's office for coffee and conversation.

"At the first coffee, the students were frankly hostile. Their questions centered on topics such as, 'Why did you take this job?' I told them what I hoped to accomplish, the strengthening of the academic programs, openness with students and faculty.

"At the end of the time, about 20 students stayed back and said, 'You're not like we thought you were.'"
Beer makes it good

SCHLITZ
makes it great!
The first season is over...

BY ANDY SOLOMON
Winthrop College Public
Affairs Office

ROCK HILL — The Winthrop College Eagles have set a National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics record for the most wins by a first-year team with a record of 25-10.
Winthrop lost in the NAIA district finals, 75-74, to Central Wesleyan College March 7 on a break-away basket with only 3 seconds remaining in the contest. A last-second shot by the Eagles fell short.

"We are disappointed," Winthrop coach Nield Gordon said after the heartbreaking defeat.

"I feel for the players because they gave so much; they wanted to go to Kansas City (Mo., site of the NAIA Tour-ament) so badly. It was such a disappointment to have come this far and not win.

"But we had a great year," he continued. "We were five-and five around Christmas time and played like winners for the remainder of the season. I can’t say one negative thing about this team. They are all class gentlemen and we should be clearly the team to beat next year."

Gordon’s prediction sounds safe. Winthrop will not lose anyone to graduation and all 14 players listed on the roster will return.

Heading that list of returnees is Winthrop’s lone member on the All-District 6 team, 6-9 forward Ronnie Creamer.
Creamer led the Eagles in both scoring and rebounding all season and finished with averages of 17 and 8.8 respectively. On Ronnie’s heels in both categories was his twin brother, 6-10
Donnie. Donnie averaged 13.8 points and 8.3 rebounds during Winthrop’s first season.

Probably the biggest surprise to Winthrop and to all opposing coaches in the district was the play of guards Bennie Bennett and Rick Riese. Both were named to the all-tournament team. Bennett, who kept his scoring average in double figures for most of the season, finished with an average of 12 per contest. Riese, who played in all 35 games and started the last 33, was the Eagles’ catalyst, recording 184 steals and 140
assists for averages of 5.2 and 4 respectively. He averaged 6.8 points a game and finished the season with a 50.2 field goal percentage.

Academic all-district mem-er Doug Schmieding, who missed the last seven games of the season due to a knee injury, finished fourth in team scoring marking 7.3 points per contest.

As sure as the play of Win-throp’s guards was a key to the Eagles’ success, the play of the bench proved to be as valuable and surprising. Senior Dave
Hampton, along with freshmen
6-8 Jim Gibson, 6-0 Gerald Mc-
Afee, 6-11 Allan Oers, 6-5 Britt
Hudson, 6-3 Carl Feemster and
6-6 Tim Raxter, plus sophomore
Robin Ellenburg all contributed.

The Eagle record book has some fine entries. Noteworthy ones include: Donnie Creamer’s
31 points at Erskine; Ronnie Creamer’s 18 rebounds against Allen; Rick Riese’s six blocked shots and 10 steals against Presbyterian and his 14 assists at Limestone; Dave Hampton’s
15 consecutive free throws; 109 points against Catawba; the team’s 37 assists against Newberry; an eight-game winning streak; and Coach Nield Gor-don’s 375th career win—an 82-76
victory over top-ranked Lander
College during the semi-finals of the District 6 playoffs.

It was a great season for
Winthrop; one to remember.
And it may have been the start of many more to come.
And what a year it was!

This was Eagle Basketball 78-79
Women's basketball
(NAIA Tourney)

BY JAN WISE

The Eagles' women's basketball team participated in the SCAA W Small College Qualifying Tournament Feb. 25-27 at Columbus College and Erskine College, Winthrop scoring a victory at Peabody Gym over Columbus and then eliminated in the second game by Erskine.

Against Columbus College Winthrop jumped to an early 10-point lead before the Rositas could manage their first basket. In the second half of the game, the Eagles managed their first basket, setting the score at 28-7.

Eagles lose championship

BY DAVID JACKSON

Only one point and two seconds separated Winthrop College's first men's basketball team from capturing the District Six title. The Eagles fell short in the NAIA National Championship Tournament.

Winthrop defeated the Eagles 75-74 in the championship game.

In the eight-game tournament the first-seeded Eagles defeated the fifth-place Francis Marion Patriots 87-76 in the first game, which was closed to the Eagles, but still managed to win. The Eagles could make a complete comeback in the second game.

BY KELLY GORDON

The Eagles' baseball team faces Columbia College in a key game on April 20-21 at the University of South Carolina in Columbia.

Softball's swinging into season

BY KELLY GORDON

The first men's basketball season is over, and if you didn't come see any of the games, you really missed something. Not only were the Eagles the District 6 Champions, but the team also set a national NAIA record for the most wins in a first-year team with 25-10 record.

Speaking of the men's basketball team, there was cause for worry about student support at the tournament games. The spirit competition was won, and the first round against Francis Marion that was played at Erskine, was won 15-10 record, but the Eagles' students' support was not as strong as expected.

And speaking of student support, baseball coach Jace Turbiel said, "The baseball players sure do appreciate the support they've had at their games. I feel good about the Eagles this year. They've been doing really well, even with the guys more incentive to play harder when the students are behind them."

And the Eagles have won every baseball game so far, including games against UNCG, Columbia, and South Carolina. Turkey Hill says that this year's season will give him an idea of the type of recruiting he needs to do for next year. "We have good players now," he said, "but we need more depth."

Twenty games, all double-headers, and an appearance in the South Carolina Association of Intercollegiate Athletes for Women (SCAIAW) Tournament highlight the Winthrop College 1979 women's softball schedule. Seven of the ten doubleheaders are at home.

Final cuts were made for the Winthrop softball team this week with 30 players in the initial squad. The team will consist of 22 players, including 16 from the University of South Carolina and 6 from the University of Georgia.

Outfielders are Elizabeth Brown, Shim, Herman; Paula Kirkland, and Skirt McCollum. The pitching staff includes Chris Sherman, Amber Ashley, Deborah Carroll, and Glynda Gregory. At the catcher position are Denise Chatfield and India Brannon.

The Eagles, who compiled a 9-0 record last season and a second-place finish in the SCAIAW Tournament, are coached by Linda Warren.
Sport shorts

Spirit competition results 1979

1st Place Fourth Floor Heads $50.00
2nd Place Delta Zeta $25.00
3rd Place Tri Sigma $15.00
4th Place Omega Phi Phi $10.00
5th Place Sigma Phi Epsilon $10.00

Special thanks go to all the other groups that helped out.

Sports scene

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL
March 29 Voorhees College (2) Home 1 p.m.
March 30 Benedict College (2) Home 1 p.m.
April 2 Francis Marion College (2) Florence 1 p.m.

WOMEN'S TENNIS
March 27 Francis Marion College Home 2 p.m.
March 30 USC-Lancaster Home 1 p.m.

MEN'S TENNIS
March 27 Davidson College (JV) Home 3 p.m.
March 31 Francis Marion College Home 1 p.m.
April 2 Lenoir-Rhyne College Home 4 p.m.
*(denotes District 6 Contest)

Intramural scoreboard

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

1BL
1-0

2. No Names 7-0
3. Hot Shots 5-2
4. Flying Elbows 3-4
5. White Shadows 1-6

1WBL
1-0

2. Brick Neighbors 5-2
3. Pacer 3-4
4. Get Together 2-5
5. Falling Start 2-5

MEN'S LEAGUE

NBA
1-0

1. Dinkins Doughnuts
2. Nutty 9
3. Faculty Fogs 7-3
4. Beagle Boogie 6-4
5. Tigers 6-4
6. Muffalows 5-5
7. Po Dunk All Stars 4-6
8. Bluegrass Bazzard 3-4
9. Mad Dog Bombers 3-7
10. Epicure 1-9

ABA
1-0

1. Token Tragedy III 9-1
2. Eagle Rejects 9-1
3. Running Rebels 7-3
4. Becks 7-3
5. Kace Busters 6-4
6. Dynasty 4-6
7. Sig Ep I 4-6
8. Wizards 3-7
9. Righteous Few 2-8
10. Ides of March 1-9
11. Bad Company 1-0

The Co-Ed League season will be completed after the women's league and men's league tournament and campus championship finals.

ALASKA EARTHQUAKE

A severe earthquake hit Alaska on Mar. 27, 1964, doing extensive damage.

SPANISH SUFFRAGE

Universal suffrage was granted in Spain on Mar. 27, 1880.

Two movies this week

Admission will be 50 cents with WCID and $1.00 for guests.

Chicken about giving blood?

...what happens if you need it?

Eagle Run 1979

BY JAN WISE

Avery Good, a part-time Winthrop graduate student, captured first place in the second annual Eagle Run, Saturday, March 3. The Clover resident finished the race with an elapsed time of 20:01 minutes to break last year's initial record by nearly four minutes. Good had posted recent victories at the Ten Kilometer Race in Gastonia and the Half-Marathon in Greenwood.

Second place honors went to Jamie Gibson, 17, a member of the Northwestern High School Striders. Taking third place was Tommy Armour, also of Rock Hill. Gibson completed the race with a time of 22:52 and Armour followed with 23:38.

Eagle Run 1979

BY JAN WISE

Danne Kasparek won first place in the women's division. Mrs. Kasparek, a Rock Hill mother of three, came in with a time of 32:03 and placed 59th.

The four-mile run sponsored by THE JOHNSONIAN began at 11:30 in front of Bancroft. The runners followed a course which went from front campus, down Sumter Avenue, around the College Lake and back around campus to the finish line in front of Tillman.

One hundred and forty-eight participants from Winthrop and the Rock Hill area entered the contest. The turnout was much larger than had been expected compared with last year's 107 entrants. All of the runners completed the four miles with the last crossing the finish line with a turtle's pace time of 1:23:47.

The field of runners represented a wide margin of personalities. Participants included serious athletes, housewives, professors and quite a few out-of-shape students who, "would do anything for a T-shirt."

Mellis Chorak, 9, was the youngest runner. The Ebinport Elementary student finished in 48:52 minutes. She had run successfully earlier this year in the Charlotte Observer 6-mile Race. Ken Manning, 57, topped off the age group with an impressive time of 37:36.

Trophies and athletic equipment were presented to the overall and division winners. All participants were given Eagle Run T-shirts for taking part in the race.
New mountain on the outside.
New taste on the inside.

Head for the mountains.
THE JOHNSONIAN
INTRODUCES
BIG DADDY'S

SANDWICHES
Bar B Que
Foot Long
Chuck Wagon
Hot Dog
Daddy Burger
Corn Dog
Ham & Cheese
Beef Taco
Onion Rings
French Fries

PLATES*
Bar B Que
Ham & Cheese
Chuck Wagon
Hot Dog
Daddy Burger

*All plates served with cole slaw &
french fries

SOFT ICE CREAM CONES
Vanilla
Chocolate
Mix Twirl

SHAKES*
Cherry
Vanilla
Chocolate
Pineapple
Strawberry

SUNDAES
Pineapple
Strawberry
Chocolate
Peach
Chocolate & Nuts

ARE YOU UP FOR THIS
Mon.  11:00 am -
Tues.  11:00 am -
Wed.  11:00 am -
Thurs.  11:00 am -
Fri.  11:00 am -
Sat.  11:00 am -
Sun.  2:00 pm -

15% DISCOUNT ON ALL PURCHASES
WITH WINTHROP I.D.

1400 CHERRY ROAD   PHONE 366-1040