THE OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF THE STUDENT BODY OF WINTHROP COLLEGE

ROCK HILL, SOUTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1939

No. 17

• Wer'n't we "party"? One of our professors even said we looked more like Wellesley girls than Winthropites.

Almost the only navy blues on the campus was on Mrs. Gibson, who remained loyal.

Red 'n' white. Now some of us were a little extreme in shirred rilk, French heels, frills and lace. We'll admit it. And a color combination composed of a blue shirt, pink sweater, mustard green skirt, and bright orange socks, is definitely—well, is definitely.

But that was the few. Most of us were neither extremely nor inappropriately dressed. We think we looked good. In fact, if we weren't afraid we'd be called eccentric, we'd say that we looked "party".

• But all was not gay on Dean's Day. Tragedy stalked the campus. Fate cast a cloud over all that color.

You knew that Saranna Watson had the bright idea for an off-color uniform day. When Watson's her suggestion was woes carried on and brought such wonderful results, she felt like a heroine.

She was ready to celebrate. She might even get a chance to wear her new brown hat with the winnie. At least genius would be rewarded.

It wasn't. Fate intervened, and she spent Dean's Day in bed. Call it anything you want—Destiny, Kismet, or just plain mumps.

• Lots of us have been worrying about that scholarship clause in our radio contract. We're worried lots of reasons why.

A Hint This scholarship To The Wise thing won't work.

The biggest, at least I found objection is that something else might cause the downward trend—three in a room, the second semester stamp, or spring fever.

Some statistics from the registrar's office astounded us, and we'll pass 'em on for your amusement.

The percentages of the grades this semester were almost the same as those last semester—difference of .04% more A's and .08% more F's.

The registrar smiled and casually remarked that there has been no great change in grade percentages in the last five years. So you see—well, let 'em drop.

• Hear that we missed something good last week. The man was talking about a recent lecture and trying to describe the way that Miss Fink made the origins of words very interesting.

Colored Slides and Words —to quote my enthusiastic, but well leg-always friend—“you crack me up through the speech”.

There seem to be things we never hear about words, which lurk behind the words we use every day, and romance in things we accept as realities and forget. Wish we could have heard Miss Fink's account.

Eta Sigma Phi To Give Comedy

“The Twins from Syracuse,” a comedy by Plautus, will be presented by Eta Sigma Phi, national honorary drama fraternity, Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Johnson hall auditorium.

Great costumes and comic masks will be used, and song hits from the play, “The Boys from Syracuse,” now running in New York, will be sung.

Taking part in the play will be George Terry, Judith Rogers, Taffy Taylor, Cornelia Castlemore, Alice Blaik, Ned Eckler, Amelia Veronee, Patricia Walker, and Helen Dickson.

Admission will be five cents.

Fullerton at Vespers

Rev. Claude Fullerton, student worker and pastor at the University of Georgia, will speak at a vespers service Sunday at 6:30 o'clock in Johnson hall auditorium. Rev. Fullerton is a recent graduate of Emory University.

Sixteen campus beauties were chosen to grace the May court as attendants to Queen Margaret Pallard at th annual May Day celebration.

Each class elected four representatives from its ranks at class meetings Monday and Tuesday nights. Those chosen are as follows: Grace Stewart, Greenville; Virginia Martin, Rock Hill; Eliza Ross, Society Hill, and Marguerite Barnes, Greenville.

Juniors: Harriet Culler, Wolfson; Margaret Walker, Johnston; Corinne Floyd, Galvani's Ferry, and Elizabeth Talbert, Columbia.

Sophomores: June Toy, Delancey, N. J.; Anne Williamson, Greenville; Harriett Law DeChamp, Bishopville, and Doris McFadden, Great Falls.

Freshmen: Margaret Amanda Morgan, Hyattsville, Maryland; Grace Nestor, N. Y.; Jeanne Garrett, Greenville; and Nancy Coggeshall, Darlington.

39 Receive Bids To Secondary Education Club

Thirty-nine new members were inducted into the Secondary Education Club, departmental organization, at a call meeting Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock in Kland Hall.

Admission to the club is based on scholastic rating in secondary education classes, and congeniality. New members are as follows:

Harriet Culler, Virginia Herring, Mildred Havid, Juddie Parker, Elizabeth Culp, Marjorie Denny, Peggy Sprout, Helen Dickson, Lois McConnell, Elizabeth Brownson, Alice Pettingill, Maryann Clegg, Christine Crawford, Alice Hollis, Frances Adams, Helen Burge, Mary Darby, Ruth Feagle, Edith Gentry.

Elizabeth Hooper, Torrence James, Sallie Lathrop, Lotte McKay, Margaret Niles, Sarah Rosenblum, Marjorie Rose, Jane Small, and Margaret Wiggin.

New Scouts Installed

Seven students who have recently joined the Girl Scout tenderfoot troupe were formally installed as members of the Girl Scout organization at a meeting at 5 o'clock last Friday in Johnson hall.

Those taking the Scout oath were Jamie Margaret, Smith, Kathleen Cranford, Anne Smith, Nancy Hill, Leslie Armstrong, Anzley Appleby, and Ruth Hinson.

Ten Out-of-State Girls Broadcast

Ten of Winthrop's out-of-state girls were interviewed by Alice Bailey Wednesday on the weekly radio broadcast in Johnson hall auditorium. The girls gave their impressions of South Carolina and Winthrop.

Those taking part in the program were: Ella Jeffords, Hawaii; Margaret Byrd, Wisconsin; Margaret Lathan, Texas; Lavilla Britz, New Jersey; Estelle Howe, Florida; Sammie Seagrove, Tennessee; and Mary Kat Howard, Maryland.

The third in a series of broadcasts on dancing was also presented. Tap and clog dancers were: Eugenia Cary, Kinsey Evans, Dolley Sludge, Catherine Anne, Jacqueline Haigler, Catherine Easterlin, Mary Sanders, Betty Richardson, Frances Whitesides, Margaret Putman, Klyne Moore, Elizabeth Holland, and Erma D. Mitchell. Mary Edna Kneese served as announcer.

Broadcasts will be given soon on African, Negro, and European dancing.

Winthrop Petitions For 'Emergency' Appropriations In Regular College Budget

Transcending all ordinary needs of Winthrop college for the coming year, important enough to be listed under “imperative” and “emergency,” three campus developments within the past year head the list of “musts” in Winthrop's petition for appropriations made above the regular college budget.

Added to the list is the Winthrop plant will be the new auditorium and music conservatory, the home economics building and the nursery school—three additional units that must be heated.

“We've got through this winter by the skin of our teeth, with our present heating equipment,” said A. M. Graham, business manager. He pointed out the impossibility of heating the additional units without the present equipment without impairing the heating of Winthrop girls. President Phelps has asked for money to convert the present music headquarters into dormitory rooms. This additional space would prevent any drastic enrollment restrictions for the next school term, at least.

ber of rooms, Winthrop is able to take care of her enrollment only by crowding three girls in each room, admittedly an undesirable situation. Under no circumstances will either be forced to room out in town or will be refused admission because of crowded conditions.

President Phelps has asked for money to convert the present music headquarters into dormitory rooms. This additional space would prevent any drastic enrollment restrictions for the next school term, at least.

“We've got through this winter by the skin of our teeth, with our present heating equipment,” said A. M. Graham, business manager.

Helen Howe to Give Monologues

Helen Howe, who looks like Katharine Hepburn, acts like Cornelia Otis Skinner, and has the subtle humor of Beatrice Lillie, will be presented here Monday as the next-to-the-last Arts Course number.

Mrs. Howe will present a series of sketches of her own devising, interpreting such characters as a housekeeper taking lessons in a New York drama school, a ham-fisted Shakespearean actress on a hair-tonic radio program, a frustrated woman's interest in psychiatry, a domesticated class honor student trilling yoo-hoo's at her college reunion.

The floor will be open for student comment. Announcements of interest to the entire student body will be made.

Ruth Benson, Anne Tilghman, and Grace Fundarusk, present heads of the three organizations, will be in charge of the meeting.

44 Delegates Here For Y Religious Conference

Sixty-four delegates from 12 South Carolina colleges and Grace Chilcoats, Charlotte, N. C., attended the Student Religious conference sponsored by the Y last weekend, according to Miss Elizabeth Stinson, Y director.

Principal speaker at the conference was Dr. Kirk Page, noted lecturer and author. Other outstanding members of the program were Dr. Sylvester Green, president of Coker college; Rev. W. O. Wilson, Methodist pastor of China Grove, N. C., and Rev. John L. Jackson, Episcopal pastor from Charlotte.

Colleges represented were: Clemson, Converse, University of South Carolina, and Grace Chilcoats, Charlotte, N. C., attended the Student Religious conference sponsored by the Y last weekend, according to Miss Elizabeth Stinson, Y director.

Johnson, 4-H Club Agent, Has Article Published

Mrs. Harriet P. Johnson, state girl's 4-H club agent with headquarters in Winthrop, has had an article, “4-H Objectives Help Me Meet My Needs,” published in the first issue of 4-H Horizons, new national 4-H magazine.

Mrs. Johnson is a member of the board of directors of the magazine, a copy of which is posted on the 4-H club bulletin board.

A New England College Rifle League has been formed for sharpshooting competition among institutions in those states.

The condition of the plastering in North dormitory makes living there something of a physical hazard, according to the girls who live there. Patches of plaster fall at any time during the day or night.

“Everytime we slam the door across the floor, a white dust from the loose plaster sprinkles across the room,” says one girl. And another, “We were a little surprised when in the midst of a party, an avalanche of plaster fell about three feet from some of the guests.” A delay in repairing this will make the repair next year only more expensive.

The present condition, Winthrop girls say, is due to the fact that the girls who live there are not fully aware of the emergency needs.

The amount will not be sufficient to take care of the ordinary needs without drastic cuts in college expenses.

“We've got through this winter by the skin of our teeth, with our present heating equipment,” said A. M. Graham, business manager.

'Stumping' Is Innovation Of '39-40 Election

Nominees to be Named for Two Top Posts

Stamp speeches, another innovation toward democracy on the campus, will be held Saturday by the appointed candidates for president of the Student Government association, and president of the Y for 1939-40 at a joint meeting of the Student Government association, the Y, and the Athletic association Monday night at 6:30 o'clock in Main auditorium.

The floor will be open for student comment. Announcements of interest to the entire student body will be made.

Ruth Benson, Anne Tilghman, and Grace Fundarusk, present heads of the three organizations, will be in charge of the meeting.

SOCIAL CAMPUS

And big things happened on this social campus by cause of the Y conference held here last weekend. Friday night—the first night of the meeting—CHRISTINE WYATT led gals and hostesses (Y cabinet members) in singing. MARY CLELAND and her social committee served hot chocolate and cake. Guests from speakers and a pause to refresh the speakers was the coffee hour on Saturday morning. "Fun and Frolic" filled Johnson hall that night—"The Three Little Kittens" in the PUPPETERS' first public performance, "A Thrill for Carolina," Dr. JARRELL's hit of the fall, by Masquerade—were part of the entertainments. Finishing the evening with just the right touch was the refreshments of ice cream and macaroons.

SENIOR OUTING gave seniors an opportunity to meet the conferees over coffee and whipped cream Sunday at the annual Senior Coffee.

THEY LEAVE THE CAMPUS: VIRGINIA HALSTEAD and CAROLYN JEFFRIES spent the weekend in Charleston. BETTY WHITINGES, FRANCES WHITESIDES, and CAROLYN BAILEY attended pledge dances at N. C. STATE, CAROL RICHARDSON, and FLORENCE and SARAH McCRORY spent the weekend in Chapel Hill, N. C., at the track meet. MISS AILEEN TURNER spent last weekend in Charlotte. CAROLYN McELVEEN was the guest of CAROLYN DOUGLAS at her home in Kingstree last weekend.

JEAN SELLERS and CYNTHIA McLAUGHLIN spent last weekend in Florence.

MISS MARINA ABBEY had as her guests Friday night Mr. and Mrs. B. W. CLINE. Miss HENRIETTA MILES, graduate of Winthrop who is now teaching in Hartsville, spent last weekend on the campus. Miss FRANCIS SPAIN, head of the library science department, had all her guests over the weekend, Miss. J. O. WILLIAMS of Anderson, and Miss. E. L. COOPER, Miss CASIE LANIER of Lander college, Greenwood.

The shock, decorated in an Elastex scheme, was the scene of a steak supper for A. CAPPELLA CHOMI and Miss WARDELL Friday afternoon. DELLA JO MARSHALL was in charge of hilarious entertainment. Prizes were captured by SUEZ CLARKY, BETTY WOOD, and FRANCES DAY.

MRS. MARY ONA MATHEWS and Miss RUTH ROLLING entertained their bridge-book club Monday evening at Mrs. MATHEW'S. This club was organized several years ago for faculty members. The club members buy books and circulate them among themselves, and at the end of the year, the highest severer in bridge is given an extra book.

Sunday afternoon, the Senior Order will have the sophomore class over for after-dinner coffee in Johnson hall.

Go Quiz-ical Tommye QUIZZERS! STYLED BY Harry Berger

TALK about bedlam in the bedroom! These man-oiled QUIZ PAJAMAS will have you in stitches, seam by seam. Each pair is a college education coated with chuckle-oil!

There's a Swing Quiz, a Movie Quiz, a General Quiz. It's matress culture loaded with laughs! It wakes you up mentally—then puts you to sleep physically—these quizzically quippy "Tommye" the man-oiled pajamas that flavor your slumbering.

It's a Pajam session, sisters, with the key of quiz—to oil up your funny bone, ankle into a Quiz pajama and grab off three pairs of these facinating, fun-creatin' Quizzers—each pair in a different set of questions and answers—each a charming pattern.

Captains of Class Basketball Teams Are Chosen

The struggle of the class basketball teams were elected Tuesday in preparation for the tournament which will begin March 7, according to Miss Maude Causey, instructor in physical education.

Inez Kelly was elected captain of the senior team; Beulah Maude Eddy of the junior team; Helen Shuler of the sophomore; and Elizabeth Mahon of the freshman.

Juniors will meet sophomores in the first game of the tournament at 4 o'clock in the gymnasium.

The clash between freshman and seniors will begin at the half period of this game.

On Tuesday, March 14, freshmen and juniors will play. The seniors will be against the sophomores at the half. The freshman team will combat the sophomore team, and the juniors will play against the seniors Wednesday, March 15.

The team winning the most games in series will be champions. In case of a tie, the play off will take place Thursday, March 16.

Two Names Added To Honor List

Names of two students were omitted from the honor lists for first semester, according to a correction from the registrar's office.

Vivian Pittman, senior from Bishopville, ranks as one of Winthrop's 23 "top highs," with an A record in all academic work, and Dorothy Carnes, freshman from Blairstown, made the distinguished list.

Stokes and Tribble Attend Math Meet

Dr. Ruth Stokes, head of the mathematics and astronomy departments, and Sarah Tribble, senior from Rock Hill, attended the annual meeting of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics in Cleveland, Ohio, last Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Stokes took the place of Miss Hortense Rogers, supervisor at Winthrop Training School, as the delegate from South Carolina. Sarah represented the only undergraduate branch of the council in the United States.

The struggle of the class basketball teams were elected Tuesday in preparation for the tournament which will begin March 7, according to Miss Maude Causey, instructor in physical education.

Inez Kelly was elected captain of the senior team; Beulah Maude Eddy of the junior team; Helen Shuler of the sophomore; and Elizabeth Mahon of the freshman.

Juniors will meet sophomores in the first game of the tournament at 4 o'clock in the gymnasium.

The clash between freshman and seniors will begin at the half period of this game.

On Tuesday, March 14, freshmen and juniors will play. The seniors will be against the sophomores at the half. The freshman team will combat the sophomore team, and the juniors will play against the seniors Wednesday, March 15.

The team winning the most games in series will be champions. In case of a tie, the play off will take place Thursday, March 16.

Conducts in debating, oratory, extempore and after-dinner speaking will be held.

Evelyn Wood, senior from Chester, will attend to help with the contests.

SPORTS

By EDITH GENTZ

Here's something to satisfy you advanced archers' hunger for new thrills—bicycle archery. One rider concentrates on pedaling and the other does the shooting. (So if you're not so "skilled" as a cyclist, it'd be wise to get teamed up with one of the young pedallers in the administrative offices.) On signal the archer rides at top speed down the firing line and releases arrows to be aimed along the way.

It's swimming and basketball these days! What with dormitory swims in tall swing, and two weeks of basketball practice already tucked away, there's no doubt as to what is occupying the Winthrop sports women's afternoons.

It's good to see Catherine Anne and Catherine Easterlin warming up on the old springboard—and so—we noticed Mamie Kendrick doing some mighty keen diving the other day.

And Mary Kneee and Inez Kelley are still tops in caging the old basketball. But the fresh have some interesting material to display. And the juniors and sophos haven't been playing tiddie-di-winks this past week either. Both classes are showing up fine in the work outs. There's no predicting who'll be the basketball king this season.

Tipped? "Big circle left and half way back?" Break and swing your opponents—then your own! These girls will be familiar about the game the rest of the semester, for Miss Fugit's two (near hundred) classes in square-dancing will be whooping it up regular order. There'll be no chance of these lasses being wall-flowers at mountain-resort square dances this summer.

The funniest thing we've seen in a long time was the expression on Louis Eller's face when she realized what she was really saying when Miss Post, in the Recreational leadership class, asked her to sing rapidly "uh we to go siam, oh we to go siam" to the tune of "My Country 'Tis of Thee".

Eleven Presented in Weekly Music Recital

Eleven girls were presented by the music department in the weekly recital at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Music hall auditorium.

Taking part were Ethel Head, Dorothy Sims, Elizabeth Wolfe, June Hartling, Mildred McKeithen, Dimitra Paskros, Helen Hutto, Margaret McClary, Nancy Farrelle, Muriel Parrish, and Lillian Bethke.

GOOD NEWS!

Navy Discarded for Unusual Color Effects on Dean's Day

Conspicuous in navy blue at Winthrop? The idea would have been preposterous, ridiculous, beyond the scope of the imagination a year ago. Yet, Tuesday, navy blue clad girls were the exception, not the rule. For the third time in Winthrop's history, Dean's Day was celebrated—a holiday which promises to rival Washington's birthday and Founder's Day in popularity.

Girls grinned idiotically about nothing. Teachers looked with a new interest at their ugly ducklings coming to life in new featherings. Walking down the hall became an adventure. There was no telling what color combination would make suits the eye.

Winthrop went on a gala pre-drunk on color. Wednesday, however, saw colors avasters placed regally in trunks and sober navy blue donned once more.

One girl changed her costume three times—progressing from extraneous to bizarre, colors.

Dr. Jarrell Speaks to Masquerers on Drama

Dr. Harry M. Jarrell, professor of English, spoke on the relation of poetry to drama at a meeting of Masquerers, campus dramatic organization, yesterday in the Masquerer's room in Johnson hall.

The talk was the last of a series of three addresses made to the club on the relationships of different subjects to drama. The first was given by Miss Jessie Buchanan, assistant professor of piano and his- tory, on the relationship of music to drama; the second by Miss Alice Hayden, instructor in physical education, who talked on the relation of the dance to drama.

Student Returning After 13 Years Notes Drastic Changes

A freshman in 1926, a sophomore in 1928, Everelle Hartog of Denmark, S. C., has returned to the university after a long absence to earn her B. S. degree as a home economics major.

Changes during 13 years? So many changes that the Winthrop of 1939 looks back with astonishment and incredulity to the Winthrop of 1926.

Everelle recalls that back in her freshman days there was neither Freshman nor Kinnard hall; radio rooms and dormitory kitchens were simply pipe dreams of pleasure-journey students.

All of the 1926 town-trimmers who spent their time either on the way to or from Rock Hill would have perished in misery from amputees. Students could go to town only once a week. Some of the joy of the jaunt was spoiled then by each girl's mortifying hat just like her own every few paces on the street. Uniform dresses aren't half as bad as uniform hats.

Imagine standing in line at the dress office to get a permit to have a haircut! And then the ragged-haired girl was accompanied downtown by a chap who went along to see that the hair was really cut off.

As for wearing lace collars and cuffs, it just wasn't done. Everelle remembers one venturesome miss, wearing the forbidden lace collar and cuffs, cut out for spying. The dean in the distance, the face-encumbered maiden retired behind a tree—and continued on her journey to town.

Now, when the Winthrop of now and Everelle Hartog, for her part, take Winthrop with the 1939 trimmings.

way, I think said collar and cuffs. Wo... to the unlucky girl who was late to music, biology or physics. A record set at each table, another at the roll. The board sat in solemn silence one time, because a sleepless head had lumbered through supper.

"A far cry from the Winthrop of then to the Winthrop of now," says Everelle Hartog, for her part, taking Winthrop with the 1939 trimmings.

Application Forms Of Seniors Requested

Seniors are asked to submit their application forms and pictures as soon as possible, according to Registrar John G. Kelly.

Interviews with prospective teachers have already been requested by high school superintendents. The Placement Bureau wants all material as soon as possible.

Alumnae Organize

Winthrop alumnae of Johnson and Faculty plan a meeting March 10 to organize a Winthrop Daughters for that vicinity, according to Miss Lettie Russell, secretary of the Alumnae association.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Littlejohn of Jonesville, a graduate of the class of '06.
