ON THE CASUAL

Elizabeth Rogers SIDE

Before you go shopping for your spring chapeau we advise you to take a deep breath, count ten, and toss your inhibitions to the breeze.

Covered with flowers, feathers, birds, tied under the chin, perched over one eyebrow, or cranked in villainous, they look like the

Hats, Or Are They? pictures of Aunt Lizzie in her roussau, the ones which could give us so many laughs.

But all sighing remarks aside, we suggest—for those who really want to be in style—one of mother's potted plants perched lightly (pot and all) over the right eye

If you lean, however, toward the economical side, take last year's hat and before wearing, simply run the grades—a fresh decoration for every occasion. Anything will do—from five dabbles to a tangle of butterflies.

Try 'em anyway. You may feel like the ghost of all dead gardeners first, but at least you won't look like everybody else.

Nearest thing in Winthrop journalism, literary event of the year, and predicted best-seller on the campus—this is The Winthrop Gemral which came off the typewriter last Tuesday.

The Gemral, a critic's edition, put out by the staff of The Winthrop Journalist, was a bold written for the advertisement announcement of Mr. Furr, who has "been sick"

The cover decoration is an impressionistic portrait of a guru in pea green by Charlotte Wheeler. Cloten selections—our personal choice—were "The State of Affairs" and a sketch on "The Micon Conference" with the big four germs, written and illustrated with a feeling for reality.

We recommend this publication to everyone. It's guaranteed to kill any self-respecting germ.

The Easter parade—let us won't be in it. Our new and very wacky spring outfit—but we won't be wearing it.

Charivari, burlesque, and fusilli will make Easter morning look like a color riot.

Worry. We'll be wearing navy blue.

Guests we should be satisfied with for spring holidays, but wouldn't it be lovely if the week were in just a little different position.

Probably we should let "well contented alone," but wouldn't it be nice if he were better.

We decided today that the life of a college student is a process—made so largely by the new-made, overlapping, and all-important meetings that clutter up her time.

Triple Trouble this outbreak was our hurried attempt to go to three meetings all scheduled for four thirty on the same afternoon.

We're not the only ones bothered by the problem. Recently, at a meeting we noticed a fidgety freshman. She explained that at this very minute she had to be at two other meetings. Don't see how she managed.

We haven't any constructive criticism to offer. This is just a gripe.

Newly Organized Folk Dance Club Meets

Twenty people attended the first meeting of the Folk Dance club, recently organized by the Athletic association, last Thursday night in the gymnasium, according to Miss Julia Post, head of the physical education department and sponsor for the club.

The club will meet in the gymnasium every Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Anyone who has had folk dancing is eligible to become a member.

Harvard and Columbia universities' men's dramatic organizations have both "The House of the Seven Gables" as the titles of their 1939 productions.

Bermuda Bound? Date Set for 29th

Triangle, Music, and Choruses To Be Features

"Bermuda Bound", Junior Folioes play, will be presented March 29, the night before spring holidays, according to Harriet Culler, author and director.

The play, a musical comedy, is the story of Tommy Grayson (Edith Gentry), an unsophisticated young college boy taking a trip to Bermuda with Barbara Horner (Harriet Lawton), the girl with whom he is in love, and her family.

Grace Norton (Mildred McKethen), and Bill Taylor (Peggy Sprunt), college friends of Barbara and Tommy, lend their wit to the situation.

rene Henderson (Mega Smith), the typical hen-pecking wife, manages to bring herself and husband, William, who gave a name to the situation, into other people's affairs frequently enough to annoy everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Horner (Kate Wheeler and Ruth Peagle, respectively), seem oblivious to Tommy's predicament, but he has a friend in Captain Graywick (Elizabeth Brunson).

It all ends happily when the villain gets her due and the hero and heroine make up under a tropical moon.

Three Mid-Term Grads Placed in Jobs

Mary Br. neon, Mary Dayle Robinson, and Jean McEae, who received diplomas in February, have already been placed, according to John Kelly, registrar.

Mary is now working in Miami, Fla., Mary Dayle is teaching English and French in Baconton, Ga., and Jean is working in the registrar's office here.

Dr. Eloise Greene-A Tribute to Her Life, Her Accomplishments, Her Talent and Personality

Five years the head of the biology department at Winthrop... Only thirty-six years old... At the very peak of her success...

Surrounded and loved by innumerable friends... Dr. Greene received her master's degree from Peabody college.

Not content, she acquired a degree of doctor of philosophy from John Hopkins.

Dr. Greene, a native of Bainbridge, Ga., had recently purchased the oldest house in Elenor, S. C. She had remodelled the bones after old houses of Williamsburg. Va.

Left an orphan on her graduation from college, Dr. Greene became both mother and father to eight younger brothers and sisters.

Then, while completing her own education, Dr. Greene provided for the education of the children.

Taking her bachelor of science degree from the Georgia State College for Women, Dr. Greene received her master's degree from Peabody college.

Not content, she acquired a degree of doctor of philosophy from John Hopkins.

Gentry Voted Rising Senior Class Head

Edith Gentry, rising senior from Greenville, was elected president of the senior class of 1940 at a class meeting yesterday.

Edith is a marshall, vice-president of "Le Cercle Francais", a member of Beta Pi Theta, Secondary Education club, Ring committee, chairman of the uniform committee, a Johnsonian reporter, and a senator.

She is taking the leading role in the Y cabinet last year and a member of the athletic board her freshman and sophomore years. She has been on the class basketball and hockey teams for three years. She has recently been awarded her athletic pin for the required number of sport seasons and first teams.

Edith is a distinguished student. She was also one of the candidates in the recent Student Government election.

Freshman English To Be Offered at Coincident Hours

Dr. Paul M. Wheeler, head of English department, has announced that next year all freshman English classes will meet at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The new plan is advantageous in that all sections will be the same size; students can change sections with little trouble in case of conflicts; and if desirable, a group examination can be given.

W. T. S. Gives Amateur Program

The Forensic Activity league of Winthrop Training School sponsored an amateur program last Friday night in the auditorium of Training School.

Prizes were awarded to John Sanders, who gave a novel rendition of "Sugar Blues" on the trumpet, and both Fales and Jeff Eite, who impersonated Edgar Bergen and Charles McCarthy. Marvin Paris acted as Major Bovee for the program.

Proceeds from the program will be used to pay the expenses of the debating teams while in Columbia for High School Week.

Debaters Take Top Places at Wingate Tourney

Six Winthrop debaters took first, second, and third places in the practice tourney at Wingate college, Wingate, N. C., last weekend.

First place winners were Helen Dickson, who was first in two rounds of extempore speaking, and Eleanor Foxworth, who came first in one round of extempore. Eleanor also took third place in extempore.

Lucille Gregory won second place in two rounds of after dinner speaking, and Nell Ecker won second place in extempore. Ruby Blackie came third in extempore and Anne Brown placed third in debating.

Evelyn Wood and Dr. Warren G. Edith, head of the history department, accompanied the debaters.

They Are Still Friends, These Candidates And Winners In the 1939-'40 Election

"It was a pleasant race, and we're still friends," say these girls who ran against each other for president of the Student Government and Y. Reading left to right they are Harriet Culler, winner in the Student Government race, Lucille Heustes, Sally Lathrop, and Edith Gentry, all up for the Student Government post; Mable McAlley, new Y president, Christine Riley, and "Tootale" McKathen, Y candidates. Edith Gentry was elected president of the rising senior class yesterday.

No News—But Pugh Leads Charitable Aid

A Johnsonian reporter in search for cheer tidbits of news, hopefully approached Griffith Pugh with "Do you have anything for The Johnsonian?"

Flushing and grinning he sheepishly reached in his pockets and asked, "How much?"

McCain Speaks at Meeting of Pierians

Dr. J. W. McCain Jr., spoke on "A Poetic Venture of Virginia Ham" at a meeting of Pierians, poetry society, last Thursday in Johnson hall.

Dr. McCain also recited a poem, "Charleston", an original composition.

Caroline Staley, who presided in the absence of the president of the club, read a paper on William Butler Yeats, an Irish poet. New members of the club read the poems which they submitted for try-out.

After the program, Margaret Blanton and Ruby Lathan were hostesses at a social hour.

'Net Game' Exhibit Given

Exhibition matches in badminton and table tennis will be given by four amateur players from Charlotte Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock in the gymnasium, according to Miss Julia Post, head of the physical education department.

Students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Town Girls Use "The Joint" To Sing, Eat, Primp and Study

The town girls have a name for it! Sitting nonchalantly around the cozily furnished room, draped on the arms of chairs, sprawled on a day-bed, perched on a table edge, they agreed unanimously that the Town Girls Room was the grandest place on the campus.

"Oh, the Joint! It's over-raced!" Singing is their favorite pastime. Ardent listeners of the Briarhoppers, they specialize in mountain music and even had "Carolee Love" dedicated to the town girls of Winthrop college a few weeks ago.

"Brown Eyes" tops the list with "On Top Old Smoky", "Make No Difference Now" and "Carolee Love" as next favorites. Sometimes they do sing "God Bless America", though.

The girls don't limit their hobbies to singing, however, for they specialize in telling pointed jokes. On dark rainy days they pull the shades down, cut off the lights, cuddle up together, and tell ghost stories.

This room is often converted into the last word in beauty parlors, with even hair washing and manicuring. Some of the chic coiffures that the town girls wear so nonchalantly at the center of these beauty parlor entertainments.

And so where the town girls hang out to be the daily scene of group singing, job and story telling, eating, gossiping, hair washing and, oh yes, studying.

Kelly to Lead Guidance Program At Teachers' Meet

Registrar John G. Kelly will conduct a "Vocational Guidance" program at the annual convention of the State Teachers' association in Columbia Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

In charge of the Winthrop booth will be Miss Julia Long, stenographer in the registrar's office. Copies of the summer school bulletin will be distributed.

A Winthrop Alumnus reunion banquet will be held in the Jefferson hotel at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Dean Mowat Fraser, President Shelton Phelps, and Dr. James T. Kinard, president-elect, will address the group.

Mr. Kelly will speak at the Wofford Alumni reunion.

Champion Typist Speaks To Commerce Students

George L. Housfield, world champion typist for ten times, spoke to commerce students in Main auditorium at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Housfield gave demonstrations of typing at different speeds, and showed correct and incorrect typing methods. In his discussion he pointed out some of the imperative needs of a good typist.

Outier at Vespers

Dr. Albert Outier, member of the faculty at Duke university, will speak at vespers Sunday at 6:30 o'clock in Johnson hall auditorium.

Seven Attend Alumnae Meeting in Sumter

Dean Mowat G. Fraser, Miss Julia Post, alumnae secretary, and five senators from Sumter, Maule Minter Turner, Florence Williams, Ann Fraser, Margaret Lenoir, and Nettie Wells, attended a business meeting in Sumter last Thursday.

Archibald Rutledge, poet-laureate of South Carolina, and guest speaker at the meeting, spoke on "Sources of Inspiration".

Brush and Palette to Admit No New Members

No more new members will be taken into Brush and Palette, campus art club this year, according to an announcement made at a club meeting Monday afternoon.

Members who attended the meeting were divided into mural, soap-carving, spongete, and water color groups.

The mural group, under the supervision of Helen Bryant, is making a wall painting to be put in the club room on fourth floor, Main building.

Nevada and Wyoming have only one institution of higher learning each.

Culler And McAiley Win Posts

Athletic Head, Minor Officers to Be Chosen Soon

Harriet Culler, rising senior from Wofford, and Mabel McAlley, rising senior from Chester, were elected heads of the Student Government association and the Young Women's Christian association, respectively, at the student polls Tuesday.

With heads of these two major organizations determined, elections of other leaders for 1939-40 are well under way. Nominations of candidates for presidency of the Athletic association will be made next week, and election of minor officers of the Y and the Student Government association will take place soon. Leaders for 1939-40 will be installed May 1.

Harriet is now president of the junior class. She was also class president her sophomore year. She is president of the Methodist student movement of the Methodist-Episcopal church in the South, and is author and director of "Bermuda Bound", the Junior Folioes play for this year. She is a member of the Maqueurs and the Secondary Education club, and has been a May Court attendant for three years. She is chairman of the Handbook committee. Y publication.

Mabel is a marshall, chapel proctor, member of the Y cabinet, secretary of Archimedeans, a member of Le Cercle Francais, and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. She is buyer for the canteen this year.

Balcony Seats Selected for New Auditorium

Seats for the balconies of the new auditorium were chosen by the Building committee of the Board of Trustees Wednesday, according to A. M. Graham, business manager.

Coral plush seats, similar to those in Radio City Music hall, have been ordered already for the ground floor.

Bills for stage equipment will be made Tuesday.

Members of the Building committee include President Shelton Phelps, chairman ex-officio; Trustees C. L. Cobb of Rock Hill; J. A. Surratt of Chesterfield; W. B. Davis, Pickens; and A. M. Graham. W. J. Rodkey was absent from the meeting.

Winthrop Finds Radios Useful In Case Of Blues, Assignments, or Entertainment

A short playlet in three acts entitled, "Now It Can Happen Here", with due apologies to Sinclair Lewis.

ACT I
Scene: Interior of practically any room to say Winthrop dormitory.
Characters: Two typical roommates—one a port, blond with blue eyes, pert nose, and a habit of incessantly talking; the other, tall, blond with blue eyes, pert nose, and a habit of talking incessantly.
One: Oh, darn, Mickey, I'm so sick of this hole I could scream!
The Other: Now, Peabody, don't tell me that you are getting another one of those homelick heebie-jeebie cases.
One: But I'm no tired—nothing ever happens—nothing ever changes—I could kick the whole college over.
The Other (sauntering over to a beautiful brown jewel of a radio and turning it on): Say, listen to this, Peabody, and you'll forget you've got a home. It's Guy Lombardo and His Royal Canadians.
One (sinking down onto the bed, and sighing): Oh—I could listen to that forever.
Moral to Act One: Radios avert

Hill To Speak At Assembly Wednesday

Dr. John L. Hill, lecturer and writer, who is on the campus for the Annual Student Evangelistic Week, Tuesday through Saturday, will be guest speaker in assembly Wednesday.

Dr. Hill, from Nashville, Tenn., is Book Editor for the Baptist Sunday school Board. He taught with President Shelton Phelps at Peabody college, Nashville.

Dr. Hill will also conduct vespers Wednesday night and will hold meetings in the Baptist Student Union room Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Committees to Report in Senate

A report on ways to improve campus life will be made by Mary Barnes, Marie Eshvirine Hinkle, and Ann Tighman at a meeting of the Senate next Friday at 4 o'clock in Johnson hall auditorium. Ways in which campus life can be made more pleasant, and new rules and regulations to improve prevailing conditions were studied through a survey made in each dormitory recently.

A report on the revision of the handbook will be made by Harriet Collier, Ruth Benson will report on the most frequently broken rules.

Students are invited to sit in the gallery.

Music Conservatory To Open Tomorrow

Dr. Walter B. Roberts, head of the music department, has announced that the new conservatory of music will be ready for use tomorrow.

The department hopes to move within a week.

By PHYLLIS HARRIS
extreme homelick jitter, and, therefore, lessen the hardships of enduring roommates.
ACT II
Scene: Same scene.
Almost the same characters (some difference in color of hair).
Girl: Well, this is pleasant, but I've got to go to the library and read up some reports on current events.
Boy: Just a minute, the news broadcast comes on in ten minutes. You can stay and listen to that.
Girl (relaxing in a heap on the bed, as she had been wishing she could): Well, this is life. Now, I don't mind studying like this, then me that can't study.
Moral to Act II: Radios increase the amount of studying, increase the enjoyment of the person who does the studying, and keep roommates from gaining by providing occasions to have their candy eaten.
ACT III
Scene: Same scene.
Added characters in the form of various and sundry girls of various and sundry descriptions.
Owner of Room to Other: Owner of Room: Oh, I have thought and thought—and thought. But I don't know how

Copy, Tiny Newshound, Takes Over The Johnsonian Office

To The Journal staff has been added a new member; to The Johnsonian office, a tiny newshound. Copy is her name and she is a white fox terrier, pocket-size edition, and complete with three black spots, which suggest printer's ink.

Copy is a founding with a romantic story. Toward night-fall on Monday, a frightened whinnying pup was dumped ungraciously on the doorstep of Ray A. Furr's home. Being a hospitable fellow, the Furr's immediately accepted this new member, and even went so far as to feed her chicken liver soup, and hot buttered biscuits. Not for long, however, was Copy to keep her place in the Furr household. On Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Furr unofficially entertained The Journal staff at a garden party. The girls had called to inquire about the health of Mr. Furr,

Former Graduate Speaks in Chapel

Declaring that she felt conspicuous and incorrect in her seat-wearing grey dress, Miss Mary Green, a former student body at chapel Wednesday.

Miss Wilson, of the class of 1921, admitted that she would have felt much more comfortable seated in her series section, seat 13, than she did standing on the stage.

New Dean of Residence at Woman's College of Duke University, Durham, N. C. Miss Wilson visited the campus Wednesday the first time since her graduation. Her studies, she said, were in the campus when she was a student.

During her visit, Miss Wilson had conferences with President Shelton Phelps, Dean Mowat G. Fraser, Dean Kate G. Hardin, the Student Government council, and Senior Order.

Scouts Appoint Business Groups

Signaling was practiced at a meeting of the Girl Scouts in Johnson hall last Friday. Plans for a picnic were also discussed.

The following business committees were appointed at the meeting: Bulletin board, Gene Nimmons; publication, Anny Apply and Leslie Armstrong; refreshments, Beulah Eddy, Myrtle Eaddy, Kate Nimmons, and Frances Jenkins.

Myrtle Eaddy recently passed the Scout tenderfoot test.

Whitaker To Head Rising Junior Class

Mary Riley Whitaker of Williams was elected president of the rising junior class at a class meeting in Johnson hall auditorium last night.

Other class officers for 1939-40 will be elected soon. Mary Riley is a freshman counselor, club chairman on her dormitory corridor, a member of Le Cerele Franciscan, and sophomore chairman of the Methodist students. She is a distinguished student.

Rogers, Morgan Submit Winning May Dress Designs

Patterns for the dresses of May attendants, designed by Elizabeth Rogers and Rebecca Morgan, have been chosen as the best of the twenty submitted, according to Margaret Ballard, May Queen.

In addition to these two designs, one other will be submitted by a New York company through Friedman's in Rock Hill. The New York company will fashion all three dresses.

May attendants will model the dresses and choose the creation they prefer to wear at the crowning of their queen.

Phi U to Stage Beauty Contest

A beauty contest will be staged by Phi Upsilon Omicron, national home economics fraternity, and held at 6:30 o'clock in Johnson hall auditorium.

A beauty will be elected from each dormitory corridor to take part in the contest. Members of the faculty will act as judges.

Two Attend Library Meet

Mrs. Frances Spain, head of the library science department, will lead a round-table discussion on "School Library Problems" at a meeting of the school library association in Columbia high school library next Friday.

Miss Sara Wells, instructor in library science, will accompany Mrs. Spain.

A move has been started in the Iowa legislature to move the state's office of engineering from the University of Iowa to Iowa State College.

Rumor has it that several Rodey freshmen are trying to corner the egg market. Seems that these lads, with a far-sighted eye and a head for business, made a trip down town, and returned minus rings and bracelets. (She's but a good pown shop is the one on Market street).

The extra cash was immediately invested in chickens. These chickens are being reared properly in the rooms of the girls. The reward of all this tender care—the ultimate aim in the enterprise—why, fresh eggs every day, of course.

Town Girls Elect Senate Representatives

Martha Fowell, Martha Patrick, Maddie Ward, and Margaret Ivy were elected town girl representatives to the Senate at a meeting of the town girls in Main auditorium, last Thursday.

Martha Fowell will represent the senior class. She is a commerce major.

Martha Patrick, Clover, is a junior representative. She is a mathematics major, a member of Archimedes, and the band.

Maddie, sophomore representative, is majoring in English. She is a member of Masquers, town girl representative of the B. S. U. council, and a member of the Spanish club. She was a Johnsonian reporter last year.

Margaret, freshman representative, is a music major, and a member of the Dorian Music club.

Each class must be represented in the Senate by a town girl under an amendment made in constitution this year.

Cincinnati Station Salutes Winthrop

Rock Hill and Winthrop will be saluted by radio station WLW in Cincinnati at 11:30 P.M., Wednesday, March 22.

The program is one of a series in which recognition is given to outstanding cities in the United States. One half-hour will be given over to a dramatization of Rock Hill and Winthrop. The College alma mater will be played.

Alpha Psi Zeta's to Choose Club Pins

Club pins will be chosen at the monthly meeting of Alpha Psi Zeta, campus psychology association, Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Johnson hall, according to Sara Garrison, secretary of the organization.

All members are urged to be present.

Night Matrons Keep Wakeful Watch Over Sleeping Students

By PHYLLIS HARRIS

Lights are hurriedly turned out, hoot talking and giggling simmer down to a mere titter, all rube-headers hold their breath in suspense, and mischief-makers halt their plans. Down the hall there comes a steady tread—the night matron is making her rounds. . . . But wait, tonight she is accompanied by a Johnsonian reporter, out to find out exactly how and why, and get the lowdown on this and that.

The night matron, Miss Lella Hovis and Miss Violet Anderson, set on the job just at the time Winthrop, supposedly, goes to sleep—10:30.

Miss Hovis—with the reporter falling over herself in her eagerness to see everything—begins her all night journey at the infirmary—through Main building, Soc. B, and then Music hall. Here the real work begins.

All lights off, all outside doors fastened, all windows down—Music hall is put up now for the night.

On to Roddey where the usual 10:30-11:00 minute is being watched by stragglers from the Roddey party. Said stragglers are washing their faces, donning pajamas, and keeping up a gay, incoherent chatter. At the appearance of Miss Hovis, the chatter becomes very hurried, and there is a general scurrying toward doors, Cals, canly, souvenirs—various tokens are offered to Miss Hovis here and there on her way.

These excitement on third floor Roddey. Two haggard-looking board members, carrying a box loaded with clocks, are making a dash to door canvases down the hall.

At 5:00, the matrons punch the last clock and check off for some real rest and sleep.

And, yawning and stumbling about behind the door, the note-taker Johnsonian reporter seeks the haven of a nice, soft bed. She has learned all.

Twenty Receive Swim Club Emblem

Twenty girls earned swimming club emblems this year, according to Miss Margaret Lea, instructor in physical education.

Certificates were given at the final swimming test by Wednesday. Emblem will be awarded later.

Swimmers who earned the emblems are as follows: Mary Douglas, Elinor Dargan, Boes Dargan, Susan Clardy, Connie Smith, Katherine Smith, Mitchell Smith, Martha Flans, Elizabeth Vermeas, Anne Leland, Virginia Simmons.

Catherine Easterlin, Kinsey Evans, Mamie Katherine Ritchie, Marion Andrews, Anne Tighman, Elinor Russell, Sarah Barnwell, Margaret Dempsey, and Alice Blake.

Holland to Head Modern Dance Group

Elizabeth Holland of Edgerly was elected chairman of the Modern Dance club at a meeting Monday in the gymnasium, according to Miss Alice Hayden, instructor in physical education.

Marie Betha of Dillon was elected secretary of the club.

Swim Squad Cops First In Wireless Meet

Winthrop and Georgia Break Relay Record

The Winthrop swimming squad took first honors with 71 points in the telegraphic swimming meet held last week with Duke university and the University of Georgia, according to Miss Margaret Lea, instructor in physical education. The University of Georgia placed second with 13 points.

Winthrop's large lead was not due entirely to the ability of her swimmers, according to Miss Lea. Winthrop set in four winners for each event. Duke and the University of Georgia often went only one or two, therefore the rest of the places went to Winthrop.

The five, three, two, one method of scoring was used in all events except the relay, in which the eight, six, four, two method was used. One of the meet, with winners and times are as follows: 20 yd. free style, time: 10.4 sec.; Winthrop; (Mitchell Smith); 40 yd. free style, time: 23.5 sec.; Georgia (Silverman); 20 yd. back, time: 14.2 sec.; Winthrop (Catherine Easterlin); 20 yd. breast, time: 15 sec.; Winthrop (Easterlin); 40 yd. breast, time: 32.4 sec.; Duke (Caldwell); 100 yd. back, time: 2:05. The record of 53 seconds for this event was broken not only by the team which placed first, but also by the team which placed second.

Drive for Far East Loan Fund Is Initiated

A drive for a Far Eastern Loan fund to send a Japanese or Chinese student to school for at least a year was initiated on the campus by student vote at a joint meeting of the Y and the Student Government association Tuesday night in Main auditorium.

A contest between dormitories to see which can raise the most money for the contribution will be conducted. Boxes will be placed in each dormitory. Each student is urged to give a small sum.

A mailless or deservless dinner will be served in the dining hall one day next week.

The drive is sponsored by the Student Government association and the Y. Elizabeth Cottingham and Lucy McCreary will be in charge of dormitory collections.

Roberts and Mims Give Program on Broadcast

Miss Florence Mims, assistant professor of spoken English and public speaking, read word studies of characters and episodes from Charles Dickens' "Pickwick Papers", and Dr. W. B. Roberts, head of the music department, gave musical interpretations of them on the weekly radio broadcast Wednesday afternoon in Johnson hall auditorium.

Penny Malcolm, sophomore from Sullivan's Island, gave a short talk on the Irish clog and Jir. Betty Wood, sophomore from Chester, did a traditional Irish jig. A modern Irish clog was presented by Irvile Jones, senior from Galvants Ferry, and Eugenia Kendall, senior from Florence.

CAMPUS BRIEFS

Miss Evelyn Tibbets, assistant professor of chemistry, has resumed teaching after an illness of several days. Dean Mowat G. Frazer spoke at a joint meeting of the college and town abatement associations Thursday at 4 o'clock in Johnson hall. Ernest Govt, assistant professor of violin, acted as a judge for the district violin contest given by the Federated Music clubs in Columbus last week. Miss Edna Goggan, professor of education, attended a joint meeting of the State Board of Education, of which she is a member, and the education committee of the state legislature in Columbia on Wednesday. Policies of education in the state were discussed. Members of the Elementary Education club held meetings at the Rock Hill Herald office Monday. Mrs. W. B. Roberts spoke at "The Classical Movement in Painting" at a music appreciation class meeting Friday afternoon. Dr. Roberts, head of the music department, is instructor of the class. Miss Jeanette Aterburn, supervisor at Winthrop Training School, has returned from the Southern Music Education conference at Louisville, Ky. President Shelton Phelps will speak at vespers at Clemson college Sunday afternoon. The Winthrop sextet will sing. Miss Maude Caskey, instructor in physical education, was in Gaffney last weekend to referee the annual old-reef class basketball tournament at Lincolnton college. She also discussed plans for another meeting for rating officials of South Carolina.

Winthrop Warriors Willing To Help Wage World War

Twenty-two years ago a student army in white, shouldered wooden guns and drilled on the Winthrop campus. In the end of the morning, before breakfast, these ardent Winthrop patriots marched, and again in the late afternoon. 125 state teachers showed the sporting public that women can fight the country's wars in case of dire need. Along with the rest of the crazy world in 1917, Winthrop students had gone military-minded. It was during the summer school session of Winthrop college that the thousand or more teachers of the state—most of them women—had to go to court for their patriotic conduct. There it was that the great World War was being waged at home as well as abroad. Colonel Bond, the superintendent of the Citadel has been drafted by Dr. Johnson as an instructor for a course in mathematics at Winthrop. As his position as head of the state military college gave him a wholly undesired prestige as a military instructor, he was properly amazed to find his mathematic

Today's Games Will Decide Cage Champs

The freshman team will clash with the sophomores, and the juniors will pit their strength against the seniors in the final games of the inter-class basketball tourney, sponsored by the Athletic association, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Wednesday's contest defeated the sophomores 39-10, and the freshman downed the juniors with a score of 38-0. In the initial games of the tourney played last Tuesday, the seniors walked over the freshmen, with a score of 42-14. The sophomores took an easy victory of 28-16 from the juniors. The champion team will be selected after the games today.

A steak supper with all the trimmings will be given the members of the WINTHROP BRANCH OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF MATHEMATICS out at the shack this afternoon. MARGAN MATTELL, HANCOY FAIRBANK, and ANGELA ACKERMAN are in charge of entertainment. Miss MARY GRACE WILSON, once a Winthrop girl, now Dean of Residences at Duke was a visitor on the campus this week. Parties and more parties were given for Miss Wilson, first of which was that Tuesday night when DEAN HARRISON and MISS MELVIN ELLIS were joint hostesses at a dinner party in Joyce hall. The guests with PRESIDENT SHELTON PHELPS, DEAN MOWAT G. FRAZER, and MISS IVA BISHOP. All the Duke Alumni and Alumnae on the campus and DEAN HARRISON were the guests of PRESIDENT PHELPS at a luncheon for Miss Wilson in the dining room Wednesday. Miss WILSON was the guest of the members of the student government council at an informal tea Wednesday afternoon in the library of Johnson hall. The council members and Senior Order met with DEAN HARRISON and MISS ELLIS as guests. Wednesday night, FRANK HARRISON topped the week with a dinner party for Miss WILSON. In honor of her approaching marriage, MISS LOUISE CAVIN was given a miscellaneous household shower Saturday night. MISS LONNY LANDRUM and MISS HARRIETTE LAYTON were joint hostesses. Decorations and refreshments were carried out in a color scheme of pink and white. Miniature bridal slippers holding tiny pink candles were favors. MISS ELIZABETH CARSON gave a dinner party one night last week for Miss CAVIN. After a four-course dinner, the guest of honor was given a surprise handkerchief shower. Saturday afternoon, MISS RUTH STEPHENSON invited her FARMINGTON plans major over to Mrs. D. E. JOHNSON'S house for an afternoon of the opera, and tea. KAPPA DELTA Pi dabbled in psychology when all DISTINGUISHED FARMINGTON were invited to the shack yesterday afternoon. Omelets to be an incentive to the week's Kappa Delta Pi members when they are juniors! New members of the SECONDARY EDUCATION CLUB will be entertained at the shack Wednesday afternoon from 8 to 7 o'clock. The American Association of University Women held its annual meeting for the seniors last Thursday afternoon. RABBI GREENBERG spoke on the Jewish situation. Receiving the guests were Dr.

RUTH STOKES, MISS MARY CALVERT, KATHRYN McCOLLUM, MISS ISABELLE POTTER, RABBI GREENBERG, MARIE KATYERNE RITCHIE, MARY CARY, DR. HELEN G. BURGESS, and NEEL TOWNSHEND. The meeting is an annual one held to introduce the seniors to the A. A. U. W. THEY LEAVE THE CAMPUS. MARY ELIZABETH KEEL went to the polo game in Camden last week. JOSEPHINE GREEN, NANCY CRAIG, and ROSA GRIS spent last weekend at Conway. MARGARET BRICE went to Clinton last weekend. MARY BROADWATER spent last weekend in Greenville. EUGENIA and MARY CARY attended a set of dances at the College of Charleston last weekend. MARY BURGESS is attending the Citadel dances this weekend. Ms. and Miss T. W. NOEL spent last weekend in Lake City. Miss MARIKA ASBRY and Mrs. VERA BRICE spent last weekend in Waynesboro. G. M. and Mrs. COTTRELL PUGH spent last weekend in Blotspville. M. J. KELLY McNEILAN dined in Winthrops last weekend. Mrs. D. E. JOHNSON, Miss SUIANNE JOHNSON, and MISS CATHERINE TAYLOR will visit the gardens and friends in Charleston this weekend. They will visit Dr. and Mrs. C. ARTHUR RUTLEDGE at Hampton on the return trip. DR. JAMES FRANCIS COOK, editor of Etude, and president of the Theodora Presser Foundation, and MISS GRACE ROBINSON, instructor in voice at Queen-Chloors, and PROFESSOR W. H. WARD of the extension department of the University of South Carolina, were visitors on the campus Sunday. DR. and Mrs. W. B. ROBERTS entertained Mr. and Mrs. LEE LOCKHART at dinner Friday evening. Games in everything was the order of the day when the first real snow to peak party for the dates was held in Johnson hall last Saturday. Miss JULIA POSE and a committee from her "Social Recreation Leadership" class was in charge. DOT HAIR, MARIAN MATTELL, and RUTH WINGARD directed get acquainted games. Home economic majors, directed by LUNA ELLENBERG, helped. Everybody with a birthday who comes between January 20 and March 20 is invited to the Y birthday party in the gym tonight at 8:30 o'clock. Miss JULIA POSE will be in charge of the entertainment which will carry out the St. Patrick theme. And the town girls turned their "joint" into a dining hall Wednesday for a picnic luncheon. Spring flowers and ivy were used as decorations. The juniors of the town students did the honors.

Ballard Is Beauty With Proof of Brains

That person who said that brains never accompanied beauty will now go off and hide his head in shame. Margaret Ballard, soon to be crowned May Queen, was the first girl in the Senior class to receive the offer of a position for next year. Margaret will work with the Liberty Life Insurance company in Greenville, S. C.

They Come, Gaze, Gape And Wonder

Better than the sun for attracting gaping crowds of people, Winthrop's new building that they had interested and awed audience every week. Out of debris and mud, the building rose and towered far above the heads of the interested spectators below. The ones who saw them last Sunday come back for more; the ones who didn't see them come to see them with that they had. High-heeled pumps are aimed on piles of brick, silk dresses and up-to-the-minute suits brush against mortar trays and in-the-way tools. People gingerly touch windows, doors, admire perfect workmanship. They come in groups; they come by twos and threes; they come singly to grasp alone the beauty of the structure. But they come and gaze and gaze and gaze and listen to watch experiments and return to lectures.

"Dope" Machine Gives and Gives

The new coca-cola machine, recently established at the doors of the canteen, has a definite personality. Sometimes it gives up its coca-coles with ease, grace and rapidity. Then, sometimes it has to be coaxed and coaxed—and coaxed. One day this week, however, the machine must have been feeling extremely generous. A thirsty maiden stood in front of it and drooped first a penny into its slot. The machine waited not for the required nickel, but delivered at once a coca-cola. And then another, and another. . . . and another. Thick and fast they came, causing a most unusual crisis. Students working in the canteen rushed out and caught the coca-coles as they tumbled from the machine. Staggering into the canteen, the girls examined with bottles, exclaimed to gaping bystanders, "She just put in a penny and they all came out!" The machine stood unchanged and obedient, not salting perhaps, that it had just made The Johnsonian.

Jefferson Day Dinner Plans Go Forward

Ten members of Strawberry Leaf, campus forensics fraternity, will be present at the Jefferson day banquet to be given by Strawberry Leaf April 11. Plans for the evening are going forward under the direction of Mamie K. Ritchie, social chairman, and Anie Belle Clements, publicity chairman. Governor Burnett R. Maybank will be taken in as an official member of the organization. President Shelton Phelps will be guest speaker. Members of the faculty, students, member of Strawberry Leaf, Pi Kappa Delta, and Debaters League are invited to attend the dinner. Plates will be 75 cents.

Fairest Flowers Bound For Home Are Strange Bouquet

Comes March 20th and the fair flowers of Winthrop will leave the campus to the squirrels and jockeys. Just watch 'em clamor aboard the buses and trains, swarm into cars, and get underway. Look around and choose your personality "cause you can find say type you prefer. The first to clamor aboard will probably be the athletic Winthropians—gaily attired in navy cast-ule, Winthrop-laudered shirt, saddle-bag oxfords, and sporting his new athletic W. Bearing, the climbers aboard, yell joyously to everyone she knows, with the tennis racket clutched under one arm, knooks off the hat the slender lady in the first aisle seat, and gets all the gang in the bus to sing college songs. (A direct result of taking courses in recreational leadership.) The coy little flowers come next—not so numerous, but much more appealing. All of it uniform, probably in pink or baby blue with frills and flowers, she mimics aboard—with assistance from the manly driver, takes the best seat. The "intellectual" stumbles aboard, falls into a seat, adjusts her glasses, and immediately becomes immersed in a Hemingway novel or a modern French play. They come in all sizes, shapes, and assortments, these Winthrop misses. And when they board the bus at Spring Holidays is the time to catalogue them. # SPORTS

By EDITH GENTRY

Congratulations to whoever will be the 1933-39 basketball champion. The tournament has been jam-packed so far. There has been great playing and great sportsmanship displayed.

The Wednesday game will be the swan song for the senior cagers. They will have played their last game in a Winthrop tournament. We shall miss the fine playing next year of Mary Edna Knoess, Inez Kelly, Catherine Amme, Grace Funderburk, Frances Legans, Kinsey Evans, and Margaret Ballard.

Those Roddey girls are certainly table tennis enthusiasts. It does not bear good, to hear the old familiar toe! toe! of the ping-pong ball rebounding on their floor Roddey and at the Johnson hall entrance.

Explanation for the occasional hysteria in Miss Lea's life saving class: Those two clerks, Anne Tilghman and Lib Mansfield.

German waltzes were the main feature of the first meeting of the folk dance club. And smooth it was: those gliders, Judy Haidin and Bettie Todd.

Well, Miss Post's Saturday night party for the dates proved to be quite successful. Maybe we've been mistaken after all about those game parties being old-fashioned.

Let it be known that Dr. Buchner wields a wicked table tennis racket. And Mr. Houston is no mean volleyball player either. Those faculty recreational evenings are the neatest.

More power to you people who want off first signs of spring fever by taking brisk afternoon walks. You've got something there!

It was Myrtle Smith and Mary Sanders who encountered a little nicknackery over Joyce hall way.

Says Mary: Hey, Myrtle! Pick: (no reply). Says Myrtle: Hey, Mary! Pick: (Broad grin and mumbled hello). Myrtle: What's your name really? Pick: Mary Sanders—why? And Myrtle vows to Mary that she didn't frame it either.

Miss Lee will soon be sounding the call for baseball practice. Polish up the old sandlot; spirit and pep out to the old diamond and start a home run for dear ole SoSe-Sue!

We've always tried to see spectators for the best.

Essay Contest Is Open to Students

An essay contest, sponsored by the Fraternity Women's committee of the New York World's Fair for college and university students, is open to all Winthrop students, according to Dr. Helen G. Macdonald, head of the sociology department.

The theme of the essay contest is based on the first article of the Bill of Rights, with freedom of worship, speech, the press, and peaceable assembly as basic themes. The list of questions and further details may be obtained from a booklet on the bulletin board in Dr. Macdonald's room, on the first floor of Kinard hall.

New Y Code Voted In By Student Body

The revised constitution of the Y was unanimously adopted as a whole by the student body at a joint meeting of the Y and Student Government association, Tuesday night in Main auditorium. The new constitution was not read at the meeting, but had been posted for student inspection on dormitory bulletin boards and on the Y board during the week. Changes made in the revision include a definite provision concerning elections, and an executive committee composed of officers of the Y and members of the advisory board chosen by the cabinet. Several changes were made to conform with the rules of the National Y association. The revised constitution goes into effect immediately.

Faculty Members Cook, Fish, Collect, Read During Leisure

Most teachers on the Winthrop faculty are hobby enthusiasts. And those teachers who don't have hobbies preach them, or admit that they should have. Winthrop could have a garden club all its own. Dr. Roberts, Miss Crawford, Dr. Rogers, Miss Ducas—all of them love to garden. Miss Turner, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Noel, and Dr. Neudain go in for it in a big way with farms. Mr. Thompson, though, finds that playing bridge is a more profitable hobby.

"Nature, with a capital 'N', has several lovers among our faculty. Mr. Terry does bird study, Miss Turner loves flowers. Miss Hayden spends all the time possible out-of-doors. Sports are a great favorite on the campus. We recommend some tennis matches between Mr. Harrison, Mr. Clappett and Mr. Gore, Miss Lea, Mr. Chappell, Dr. Stokes, and Miss Rostinger play golf, and Mr. Jarrell and Mr. Noel like hunting and fishing.

Miss Garrison is an ardent bicyclist, Miss Andrews a "white" at croquet, and Miss Tingley and Dr. Buchner roller skate after dark.

There are the domestically inclined among the faculty. Miss Post and Miss Tingley make clothes. Miss Garrison dotes on caring for her little nephews.

And, of course, there are the collectors. Miss Post has her famous china rats, amber, and foreign dolls. Miss Mims stopped her collection.

Amazing Futures Disclosed To Students By Palm-Readers

Dark-attired, black-eyed, colorfully-robed gypsies have given way to fair-skinned, bright-eyed, navy blue gowned maidens. No need to search for a "Little Gypsy Tea Room" in order to peer into the future. Walk down any hall in any dormitory and choose from the signs reading "Fortune Telling—5c".

Cleaves visiting one fortune-teller's room and then another's learn a great deal more than they do in any class. In the space of one minute a girl's whole future is laid out; at 9:33, "Your head rules your heart"; and at 9:35, she finds that she has no heart.

When the things one does discover! "You spend money too fast"—when you could've been told that—and, without being bribed, "You have above average intelligence"—when no one has told you that.

These bona fide swillers of the future can find more information in your hand than you usually discover in a well-written biography. "Now, in your childhood etc. etc. etc. ad infinitum." Details fall over details as the eager palm-readers read on.

French majors find that they have science. Commerce majors discover that they'll probably work—not type—the world's greatest novel. Home or majors find that they are the ones destined to live alone and like it.

They do tell the most amazing things. How low No. 1 introduce with fortune teller to lover No. 2 who finds competition in lover No. 1, but who finally marries said woman to live happily ever after!

Yep, absolute rattle in future family closets; secrets are exposed; friends are lost and gained, but fortune tellers go on forever.
