Third Lecturer On The Series Is Edward Weeks

Editor Will Speak On Literary Trends

Presenting the third lecture of the 1949-50 series, Edward Weeks, editor of The Atlantic Monthly, will speak Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Winthrop college auditorium.

This year marks Mr. Weeks' eleventh year as editor and also the anniversary of The Atlantic Monthly. He succeeds such editors as James Russell Lowell, William Dean Howells, Thomas Bailey Aldrich, Horace E. Scudder, Walter Hines Pater, Eliza Follen, and Henry Sedgwick.

The Atlantic handles over 40,000 manuscripts a year and even with three assistant editors, the staff is rushed to get the magazine out on time. Since Mr. Weeks became editor, the circulation of the magazine has climbed to over 100,000.

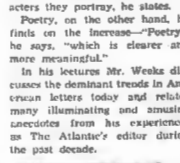

At present Mr. Weeks is interested in discovering a new American humorist.

"Humor used to be an American characteristic," he says, "but something has happened to us these past 10 years for today there certainly is not enough of it to go around. I have been on the search for a new American humorist, someone who by making us laugh at ourselves will give us a refreshment we can't otherwise possess, someone who will do for our generation what Artemus Ward, Mark Twain, Mr. Dooley, and Will Rogers did for theirs."

Mr. Weeks also reports a shortage of good short story writers and urges that young writers try to get a little more "sweetness and light" into what they write. Not that he objects to stories about the outcast and the down-trodden when they are handled skillfully and realistically, but so many of the stories of horror and violence are not realistic at all and show that the authors do not know or care very deeply about the characters they portray, he states.

Poetry, on the other hand, he finds on the increase. "Poetry," he says, "which is clearer and more meaningful."

In his lecture Mr. Weeks discusses the dominant trends in American letters today and relates many illuminating and amusing anecdotes from his experiences as The Atlantic's editor during the past decade.

EDWARD WEEKS

International Affairs Editor Of Newsweek Gives Views On Russia, England, America

By NANCY CHAPMAN

The fact that Russia has perfected the atom bomb might make war less probable," said Joseph B. Phillips at an interview Wednesday. In speaking of this, Mr. Phillips commented that he was in London on the night that Russia's possession was announced, and that the revelation caused little excitement among the British who knew that it was to happen sooner or later.

On Russia and England

Mr. Phillips, who has spent some time in Russia, was very informative as to the conditions in Russia and the personalities of the Russian people. They know only what they are supposed to know and have access to very little outside information. In speaking of a typical street in Moscow's shopping district, he said it was very crowded and the shops were quite dark and void of decorations.

The Russians are very poorly dressed, but they dress more elaborately in winter than in summer. According to Mr. Phillips, Moscow is most beautiful in winter when every inch is covered with snow.

"The country to watch in the immediate future is England," according to Mr. Phillips. He was in England at the time that the devaluation of the pound was announced, and says that the English people were really interested at this and are beginning to doubt the integrity of Sir Stafford Cripps. The vicious attacks on him since the devaluation appeared to be because the people thought that they had been deceived.

The Royal family is very highly respected by all Englishmen, and this attitude has not been affected by British policy. It seems that Princess Margaret Rose and her

Classes Elect Attendants

May Court attendants for the junior and sophomore classes were elected last Monday night at class meetings, as announced by Nancy Chapman and Barbara Lowe, junior and sophomore class presidents.

Edna Grainger of Laurens, Margaret Ann Moore of Summerville, Rose Pearl Platt of Ocean Drive, and Barrie Jean Wingard of Clinton were elected from the junior class.

Lettie Harper of York, Barbara Joyce of High Point, N. C., Carolyn Black of Eatawville, and Marion Wolf of Greenville were selected as the sophomore attendants.

Officers of the junior class are: Anne Bell, vice-president; Ann Nunn, secretary; Virginia Dantler, treasurer, and John Bryant and Margie Smith, cheerleaders.

The sophomore officers are: Lucile Nelson, vice-president; Lettie Harper, secretary; Della Jennene Hubert, treasurer; Jo Jones and Jo Douglas, cheerleaders; and Henrietta Johnson, pianist.

AKD Group Selects Two

Margaret McBryer, junior of Greenville, and Miss Lella Calhoun, new sociology staff member, were admitted into Alpha Kappa Delta, national honorary society of the year in the conference room of Thurmond hall last Thursday.

In connection with a sociological survey being conducted at various universities on religious beliefs and prejudices among college students, the club decided to conduct a similar one on the campus as a part of the year's program.

Alpha Kappa Delta, national, and certificates of membership were presented to the group.

Alpha, the Winthrop chapter, is South Carolina's only chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta. Membership is open to sociology majors having a B average on all subjects.

Baker Will Direct College Orchestra

Mr. John William Baker of the music department is the new director of The Swanks, the Winthrop college dance orchestra.

Members of The Swanks are Evelyn Scott, Mary Ruth Dedmon, Betty Lou Ward, Angeline Plantin, and Joyce Jackson.

Also, Mildred Jackson, Barbara Lowe, Lella Mae Brentley, Mary Mouser and Betty Corbett.

The first practice of The Swanks was last Friday night.

Thurmond To Address The Student Body

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond will visit the Campus Monday and Tuesday, presiding as chairman of the Winthrop college board of trustees at the regular fall meeting, Monday at 11 a.m. in the office of Pres. Henry H. Sims.

Governor Thurmond is also scheduled to speak in assembly on Tuesday.

Members of the board of trustees include, besides the governor: Members ex officio: James T. Anderson of Columbia, State superintendent of education; Sam James B. Pruitt of Anderson, chairman of the State committee on education; and Rep. Robert C. Waldson of Laurens, chairman of the House committee on education.

Members elected: Mrs. Louise Y. G. of Greenville, Mrs. N. Glen G. of Greenwood, Mrs. P. R. Hendrix of Lexington, Thomas A. Wolf of Greenville, John G. Dinkins of Manning, J. A. Spruill of Cherokee, C. L. Cobb and John T. Hedley of Rock Hill, and Mrs. Hester Tighman of Marion.

Jordan Selected For Secretary

Almi Wannamaker of Orangeburg and Ann Bedell of Ridgeland were elected president and vice-president of the Freshman class at a meeting Tuesday night in the Main building auditorium, according to Louise Grace, senior class president, who conducted the meeting.

Doris Jordan of Conway was elected secretary.

The nominees for president were Betty Lou Tolbert and Barbara Sewell.

Those nominated for vice-president were Lucie Agnew, Anne Bower, "Dookie" Davis, Katharine Greig, and Pat Horton.

Also, Joyce Jackson, Doris Jordan, Patty O'Call, delay Ross, Jo Ann Simpson, and Carolyn Way.

Nominations for secretary were Mary Britton, Pat Cobb, Betty Cox, "Dookie" Davis, Vera Gettys, Shirley Green, and Betty Hor.

Others were Doris Jordan, Betty Killenworth, Bertha Morris, Mary McCulloch, and June Murray.

Also, Betty Norwood, Lucy Ann Peacher, Tommy Roome, Delroyall, Susan Summox, Mary Whitaker, and Betty Jessa Yancey.

Pfohl Directs Choir Service In Dedication

A choir dedication service will be presented at Wednesday night fellowship in the College auditorium at 8:40 by the choir under the direction of Miss Katherine Pfohl.

The program will begin with the singing of an early church procession in the vestibule of the auditorium. This will be followed by the "Hosannah" by Gregor.

The choir will then sing "Willie, Bring Your Little Drum," "Burdick's Carol," arr. by Strickland; "Listen To The Lamb," Helt; and "Coventry Choir," Munc Branscum.

"Vane Dornitts" will conclude the dedication.

The College choir is composed of two sections, with an enrollment of 75 students.

Seniors Join Honor Club

Six seniors have recently been tapped for Book and Key, honorary scholastic fraternity, according to Dr. Dennis Martin, adviser of the organization.

The girls are Dorothy Geraskos, Leeburg, Fla.; Betty Carolyn Howell, Florence; Alta Randall Kingman, Rock Hill; Betty Romanstine, Columbia; Jill Shuler, Aiken; and Jane Young, Fort Mill.

Besides being a member of this group, Dorothy, a mathematics major, is president of the Spanish club and of the National Teachers of Mathematics. Betty Carolyn, an English major, is business manager of The Journal and president of the Writers' Club.

Majoring in French, Alta is a member of the French Foundation, president of the Sewick, Betty Howell, is a member of the Student Union committee and of the Red Cross unit.

The aim of Book and Key is to encourage scholarship by giving recognition to students who have attained a high scholastic rating. "To become a member, a student must maintain an average of 2.0 quality points for six semesters."

Doris Crand, chairman, and Margaret Susan McCulloch are also the other members, having joined last spring.

Business Staff Elects Managers

Grace Fow of Georgetown and Francis "Dookie" Davis of Paveley's Island were elected editor and managing editor, respectively, of the all-Freshman edition of The Johnsonian at a meeting Tuesday evening in The Johnsonian office, according to Betty Harrell, editor.

Dorothy Royal of John's Island and Daisy O'Gain of Orangeburg were elected business manager and advertising manager at a meeting of the Business staff Wednesday afternoon, according to Ann Hay, business manager.

Other major staff positions will be announced later.

Grace, a journalism major, was editor of her high school annual and editor of the Student Extra, school newspaper, "Dookie," a bi-monthly, attended high school in Georgetown and was a member of the French Foundation and editor of the Sewick. Betty Howell was also a member of the Student Extra, school newspaper staff; she is an English major; Betty is a journalism major.

The editorial staff of The Johnsonian will consist of Carolyn Lewis, editor; Ann Joyce Allen, Betty Corbett, and Shirley Green, editors; Nancy Ledbetter, Mary Louise Dornitt, Doris Dornitt, Inez Park, and Mary Payne, editors.

Also, Carolyn Carson, Ellie Mable Pugh, Betty Ross, LaRose Smith, and Betty Wright.

The business staff will consist of Betty Brown, Grace Fow, Betty Corbett, Eleanor Huston, and Nancy Ledbetter.

Also, Mrs. Carolyn Pearson, Jean Rivers, Carolyn Wilcher, and Willette Westwood.

Human photographers will be Ann Joyce Allen, Betty Wright, and Betty Mable Pugh.

Try it! A copy of a new magazine and other a column of articles will be accepted for all students interested until Tuesday, October 23.

The staff will be typed and placed in The Johnsonian office.

Wheeler Speaks At Association

Dr. Paul M. Wheeler, head of the English department, was guest speaker at the Chester county education association in Great Falls, October 13.

The subject of his speech was "The Next Thing Called Education."

Paul Beam Will Lecture

Mr. J. Paul Beam, president of the South Carolina Educational Association, will be the speaker at an assembly Tuesday, November 8, at Great Falls, Pa., in observance of National Education Week, which is November 1-11 in the Johnsonian office.

Watch These Averages

Kappa Delta Phi is the national honorary society for education students maintaining a high scholastic average in the field.

Officers are Susan Brogdon, president; Ruby Kay, vice-president; Margaret Lybrand, secretary; Rachel Powell, treasurer; and Virginia Fouché, historian-reporter.

Dr. Willis D. Higgins, head of the education department is faculty adviser.

Consideration Is The Plea

There has been some comment made on the subject of interest and concern by them. A further discussion of the matter ought not to be too much.

It frequently happens that a student put on years to be more comfortable when she has a long night of studying and when the canteen opens, she usually likes to take a little time out for refreshment. It's an awful lot of trouble to have to change to a skirt. Just as it may do outsiders come at that time and even so, slacks or jeans don't do in bad taste.

Louder, Please

Winthrop college offers very outstanding speakers during the school term on the subject of science. Some interesting speakers are featured during the assembly programs. However, at times it is difficult for these people to be heard.

During the assembly programs, important announcements are sometimes made, and students sitting in the back are at a disadvantage when they can not hear them.

Better Circulation

Getting around is the most important of all times the hardest task of any organization. The Johnsonian is no exception. We on our staff are well aware of this and we have made every effort to avoid future areas.

The Johnsonian is circulated to the staff and to the dormitories. Since only a certain number are printed, it is also a matter of how they are taken care of. If you do not receive a copy, please report this to the circulation manager. The price of a single copy is 10 cents.

Chapters From Chapman's Diary - - By Nancy Chapman

I find it almost impossible to write a good opening sentence today as we skip fl. Three Monday mornings after dance week ends just kill me. Wasn't that some movie that dance last night? I can't figure out where I picked up an extra change. If there's anything that's fun it's staying in bed and doing the "Chapman" all day while the orchestra is playing a waltz. (Wouldn't you?) Today I found myself dancing with two boys at once.

Each week ending write the book you're going to get the date to pay the L.O.U. But it's worth it.

SPARKING OF DANCING

Mr. Adams has in Hawaii who asked a question about "how to dance?" Claimed he'd never danced before, but the answer was preparing to leave the house the next day. He arranged to take a correspondence course.

What We Live By

The Johnsonian wants to deserve a reputation for accuracy, thoroughness, and fairness in covering the Winthrop college campus. You will do us a favor if you call our attention to any failure in measuring up to any of these fundamentals of good newspapering.

Casualty

From the Ekezer wing of Senior hall to the fast-falling wing of Breazlee, the Campus has been in mourning since yesterday. Falls, football games, and family fun are all responsible. Even the leaves are beginning to fade, so that maybe, at last, fall is approaching.

Beauty and Stage Personality... were certainly well exhibited in the freshman beauty contest Friday night. To Patricia Varner, queen, and Pat White, runner-up, go the heartiest of congratulations. It is from the ranks of Winthrop queens.

Winthrop Will Welcome... Governor J. Strom Thurmond to its Campus Monday and Tuesday. We are always glad and honored to have the "first man of the South," especially since "the first lady" is a Winthrop graduate, the former Jean Crouch, class of '47.

Scholarship Topps... are the six new members of Book and Key. Maintaining a quality point ratio of 2.5 for six semesters. Dorothy Gerakis, Betty Carolyn Howell, Alva Kingman, Betty Romanstine, Jill Shuler, and Jane Young are to be commended for their part in helping raise Winthrop's academic standing.

This Week From the President of the Student Government Association

We have been asked not to walk on the grass between Ma gavel Nance and Bancroft halls. A good path has been made and if we do not stay on the grass we will never have a chance to grow.

The walls of the Dining hall look so clean and fresh and we are responsible for keeping them that way. The Dining staff has a great deal to say and time on the project to please let us show our cooperation by keeping the walls clean.

The Campus Town Hall

By MARTHA P. BARRATT

From The Outside Races For The Dance Committee

From Louisville, there comes a letter filled with wise words from one of the outstanding students of last year. Thoughts worth a penur.

I have just finished reading the first two issues of The Johnsonian which were sent to me. I know "Town Hall" is for Campus problems, and I doubt if a letter from an old forgotten alumna is of much interest; but I did want to express my sentiments in some way, and this was the best way I could think of.

"The TJ" is a fine paper—the staff is doing an excellent job! Winthrop is a wonderful school, and has a great deal to offer each student. Way out here in the world (which isn't so cold and cruel after all, I'll talk back on my days) Blue days with many happy memories and a little nostalgia. The times and the faculty and administration deserve much more credit and support than unthinking students sometimes give them. Here's a wish: that the Winthrop Work hard, play hard, don't get your fingers in too many pies, but no something! Be proud of your Alma Mater—the best!

College days are fun, but so are working days! Teaching 20 second graders who vary unpredictably from angelic to devilish, keeps me busy. Louisville is a beautiful city, and I enjoy my work very much. My only regret is that there's no "Winthrop Daughters" organization. Hang on to that wonderful Winthrop spirit.

Outside These Gates

By FRANCES EAKIN

Do you have any broken jewelry lying around? If so, you will be interested to learn that a new solder ribbon has just been invented. It requires no tools or skill, a piece of ribbon is torn off, placed on the article, and heat is applied with a match. If you have any broken coffee pots or picture frames, you will be glad to know that a plastic cement has just been placed on the market which is nonstaining, remains permanently flexible, and doesn't crystallize or become brittle. It is useful for surfaces such as glass, rubber, and metal. This cement holds tightly even when drying, so that the parts don't have to be clamped together. A lens that readily clips onto the incandescent bulb in any lamp and produces a large, bright area with double the light intensity has just come out. This will be a big help to those students who like to study in various corners of their rooms and never have enough light. The lens can be swung to any angle to direct the light where it is needed.

NOSTALGIC NOVEL

"The Last Encantment" by Robert Liddell is his fifth book. This is only, however, his second novel. It is published in the United States. The story is a "Kindergarten" published in 1939. His new novel tells the story of two brothers who return to an English university town. Andrew the narrator is pursuing some rather desultory research in the "library" and Stephen is studying music. The two brothers come to know the people of the town and especially with their next door neighbor, Mrs. Foye. She is a strange woman who evas on her frivolation for the "last" woman. Mrs. Foye, though delicate and unassuming makes the reader's heart ache because of that compassion with which the author writes about her. Even the minor characters in the book have depth and personality. The book is full of nostalgia, as it takes place on the eve of World War II.

Patty Jo Varner Reigns As Freshman Beauty Queen

By CONNIE BIGOOD

As I wandered Turk stage during the Freshman Beauty contest, there was a great deal of excitement as the contestants were all anxious to learn who the queen was. When it was announced that Patty Jo Varner of Holly Hill won first place, while Wilma of Florence won second place, there was a great deal of cheers and applause.

Feldest Of The Freshmen

The audience all agreed that the freshman class has many lovely "loveliest flowers" as the 35 contestants paraded across the stage in front of the three judges in the College auditorium.

Beautiful Blonde From Holly Hill

"I just didn't know what to say or do," was Patty Jo Varner's comment when asked how she felt when she won the honorific title. The blonde haired beauty is a two year commerce major. She wore a gown of yellow printed tulle. She had been May Queen at her high school, but had never felt more afraid in her life as she did Friday night.

When asked what she intended to do when she finished school, she looked down at her engagement ring and said, "I think that I will get married and take up the role of a housewife."

The Brunettes Represented

Patricia White, the runner-up, is brunette.

A home economics major, Pat is obviously very handy with a sewing needle as she makes a lot of her own clothes. When I remarked on the lovely green sateen gown she wore in the contest, she just smiled and said that she and her roommate had made it a few days before the contest.

Entertainment Too

The entertainment for the beauty contest which was sponsored by Zeta Alpha, honorary chemistry fraternity, consisted of a great deal of various talents. A comical dance routine was composed of Betty Baker, Margaret Brockman, Estelle Honackel, Lou Lewis, and Roe Marie Neal. Estelle Honackel, freshman, also did a ballet dance. Mary Frances Patton and Rose Marie Neal entertained with a few songs.

Town Girls Form Club

The Town girls of Winthrop college recently organized the York County Winthrop club for the purpose of offering bi-annual two year commerce scholarship to a girl from the county.

The club will raise money for the scholarship through a series of events. The first is to be a square dance at the Confederation Park October 22 at 8:30 p.m. The music will be furnished by Roy Simpson and his band. The admission is to be 50 cents.

Any day student is eligible for membership in the Town girls organization. The officers are Doris Gault, vice-president; Betty Campbell, secretary; Eugenia Horton, treasurer; and Regis Greene, social chairman.

Nash Has Tea With The Journal

Alpha Psi Zeta Adds Four New Members

Alpha Psi Zeta, honorary psychology fraternity, added four new members at a special meeting Monday, according to Betty Lou McGee, president.

They are Jewel Godfrey, Marilyn Huggins, Nancy Hutson, and Margaret Melroyer.

The requirement for membership into this organization is a B average in 12 hours of study in this field.

Carolyn Cannon is secretary-treasurer of the club; Dr. W. W. Rogers, head of the psychology department, is adviser.

Club Accepts Ten Members

Members, the College dramatic club, accepted ten new members last Friday, according to Marilyn Huggins, president.

These are Kate Bennett, Josephine Haddad, Dorothy Hayes, Doris Jordan, and Grace Bow.

Also, Sidney Robinson, Elizabeth Ruppe, Perry Seale, and Fidelity Templeton.

Membership into the club is gained by students which are based on the student's dramatic ability. Miss Florence Mims of the English department is faculty adviser of the group.

Officers Named For Local AAUW

In order to elect officers for the year, the Campus organization of the Association of University Women met last Tuesday, in the Johnson hall auditorium, according to Mr. Herman J. Bryson, guest president.

Miss Lois G. Black, assistant professor of modern languages, was named president; Miss Helen Potter, assistant professor of biology, vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Cornwell, assistant professor of commerce, secretary; and Mr. Lloyd Bender, associate professor of music, treasurer.

Teachers Will Attend Clinic At Winthrop

Business teachers from South Carolina, North Carolina, and Georgia will attend a "new short-term clinic" on the Campus tomorrow.

Louis A. Leslie, co-author of "Facing Shortness, Simplified," will conduct a class of Winthrop students in a shorthand demonstration at the morning session.

Executive secretary to the late Judge Robert Gray and amateur shorthand champion "short-hand" writer in 1922, Leslie has written a number of books on dictation, shorthand, and words. He was co-author with Zuleck of the new shorthand methods now used in business schools.

An afternoon roundtable discussion, and a tea given by Beta Alpha, Winthrop commerce club, will conclude the program.

Baptist Go To Meeting In Columbia

Forty-five Winthrop girls will leave the Baptist student center by special bus today at 4 o'clock for the State Baptist Student union convention to be held in Columbia. These girls will stay in homes in Columbia and will return by special bus Sunday night.

Among the speakers for this convention are Dr. Everett Gill, head of the Late American Mission of the Southern Baptist Fourth Mission board of Richmond, Va.; Dr. Dale Moody, professor of theology, Southern Baptist seminary, Louisville, Ky.; and Dr. Wallace Rogers, pastor of Citadel Square Baptist church in Charleston.

Miss Anne Queen, assistant chaplain and teacher at the University of Georgia will speak on "Grounds for Christian Social Action," and the Rev. Mr. Harold Cole, pastor of the Clarkson Baptist church, will lead a seminar on "Christian Marriage."

The Winthrop BSC quartet composed of Peggy Johnson, Levey Jo Moore, Frances Ann Smith, and Betty Bullock will be featured in the program. The quartet is directed by Mary Ann McCall.

Miss Dorothy Sears, Winthrop BSC secretary, has a part in the Sunday school program, and Caroline Fair will tell of her trip to Europe; this summer emphasizing the world news for Christ.

Each State officer to bring an exhibit to be displayed in the lobby of the First Baptist church in Columbia. Marvin Adams, State secretary, will have an exhibit on "The Duties of a Secretary." Includes in this exhibit will be the Winthrop BSC scrapbook which was made by Frances Gundy.

Beth Carver, a junior from Winthrop, is on the planning committee for this convention. This committee is composed of three students from the South Carolina college.

Wolfe Writes On His State

Dr. Harold Wolfe of the history department has contributed to a recently published volume, "Essays in Southern History." The title of his essay is "The Roots of Democracy; With Special Emphasis on South Carolina."

This volume is dedicated to Joseph Gregor de Roubauc, upon his retirement from his professorship of history and directorship of the Southern Historical Collection, by a number of his former students of the University of North Carolina. Doctor Wolfe's contribution is one of eight essays that were published in honor of his former teacher.

Girls Form Athletic Club

The girls' athletic association of W.T.S. was recently organized by the high school girls.

Each class selected a class manager for the after-school activities. For each season there will be a different sport. Field ball will be played in the fall, basketball in the winter and softball and volleyball in the spring. There will be 4 teams and for each sport there will be an intramural tournament. The four teams will be comprised of a combination of the seniors and juniors, the sophomores, the freshmen and the eighth graders.

Officers for the G.A.A. are Ann Smith, senior, president; Martha Ann Stewart, junior, vice-president; Sara Jo Wolfe, sophomore, secretary; and Martha Dunlap, freshman, treasurer. Velma Hearn, Cynthia Cuthen, Graeie Mielke, Colleen Thomas, and Jane Hollis are the class managers.

LUCKIES PAY MORE to give you a finer cigarette!

Yes, at tobacco auctions Lucky Strike pays millions of dollars more than official parity prices for fine tobacco!

There's no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike! To bring you this finer cigarette, the makers of Lucky Strike go after fine, light, naturally mild tobacco —and pay millions of dollars more than official parity prices to get it! So buy a carton of Luckies today. See for yourself how much finer and smoother Luckies really are—how much more real deep-down smoking enjoyment they give you. Yes, smoke a Lucky! It's a finer, milder, more enjoyable cigarette!

L. MURRAY MANGUM, independent tobacco buyer of Oxford, N. C., says: "Year after year, I've seen the makers of Luckies buy the kind of tobacco that tastes good and smokes good!" Mr. Mangum has smoked Luckies for 20 years. Here's more evidence that Luckies are a finer cigarette!

Now that the big game between Carolina and Clemson is over again until next year, I hope you won't find it too hard to explain the ripped condition of the pillow you clawed to bits during the exciting moment.

DON'T LET IT WORRY YOU

In case you've overheard Miss Post talking and sounding worried about her "shingles." Please don't get the mistaken idea that she has got some sort of disease—nope, far from it. It is just that she has been worrying about shingles to go on a roof. However, she is quite happy in worrying about these partcular shingles due to the fact that she is building a new house to go under them. Work was started a little over a month ago, and she is supposed to move in by Christmas. That's pretty quick work. Mummum. I wonder if we all will get invited to the house warming?

IF YOU'VE BEEN MISSING

Go to swimming hole during these autumn days, you won't have to wait until next summer. Every Saturday night after the movie say group of girls who want to go swimming in the College pool—provided, of course, it is they have gotten permission from someone in the physical education office.—You also must have two senior life savers with you, lose you're all set. Have a nice swim!

THIS WEEK

During one of her classes, Miss Irene Kent was presented with a beautifully tissue wrapped package which she very hesitatingly opened at 4:30 p.m. Inside was a little glass vase, and the bearer of the gift explained that this was to replace the one she blew out in the class last Friday when she got more than peeved with them. That's O.K., girls. Just ask her about her new gray car, and she'll be all smiles again.

IN CASE YOU'RE INTERESTED

Word has been going around that Jose Lehman, a former pupil of Charles Weidman and Doris Humphrey, will present a program of modern dance in Greenboro, November 1. Anyone who might like to see this program should contact Mrs. Alice Salo to find out about cost and transportation.

Sixteen Join Dance Group

The sixteen students who have been included in the apprentice group of the Modern Dance club as a result of fall tryouts were announced this week by Mrs. Alice Salo, faculty adviser for this club. The girls who have been selected are Johnny Boggs, Lots Hill, Betty Bell, Betty Blanchard, Dorothy Newman, Estelle Hanchel, Helen Willis, and Jo Ann Simpson.

Others are Anita Dingle, Margie Smith, Anne Sloan, Sidney Robinson, Lucile Nelson, Robbie Mayfield, Mary McLane, and Beverly Gordon. The qualifications to enter the apprentice group are that the fundamental movements such as jumps, leaps, limb-ness, co-ordination, and rhythms must be done with technique. The girls are judged by the members of the modern dance club.

Students stay in the apprentice group getting dance theory, fundamental techniques, and some composition before the annual spring concert. This production brings them into contact with the modern dance group, and they work together. If a girl is in the concert then she is automatically a member of the modern dance club.

Mrs. Salo also stated that this is the largest number to try out several years.

Life Guard Corp Is Open To Eligible Students

At a meeting of the life guard corp Tuesday afternoon in the gymnasium, it was discussed that this group needs additional guards for the recreational swim periods. Any girl who holds a Red Cross certificate for senior life saving or is a water safety instructor is invited to come and join this corp. The duty of the members is to provide adequate supervision during the recreational swim periods. They are to serve an hour during one day a week, or members may sign up for more hours if they wish to do so. Twenty-five points toward an Athletic association award will be credited to any girl who is a member of this group and serves as a guard once a week. Girls who are already members of the life guard corp are Pat Shealy, chairman, Emily Brannon, Nina McMillan, Doris Drumford, Laura Sams, Betty Wilborn, Helen Conrad, "Red" Griffin, Keeter Pearce, and Betty Shearn.

Dancing, According To Moderns, Is Based On Free Body Movement

By HELEN HENDERSON

When upon your entrance into "boddy gymna. um you are confronted by the sight of girls leaping, spinning, and extending their legs and arms into the air, do not think your eyes are playing tricks on you or that you are going "betty" for you are seeing correctly. The scene that you are witnessing is a modern dance class at dancing exercises and practicing recital routines.

In The Beginning

Had it not been for Isadora Duncan, no modern dance classes would be offered at Winthrop nor at any other institution; for it was she who gave birth to this low dance field at the beginning of the twentieth century. Tired of artificial forms, she broke away from the ballet and "dare" to dance free movements of Grecian ideals. The universe was started when Miss Duncan appeared on the undecorated stage in a short tunic and performed in an artful. Her influence was felt on the entire western world.

At the time of Isadora Duncan, there was also a new dancer in America. This performer was Ruth

St. Denis. Turning to the Oriental countries for her inspiration, she brought the dance "down to earth" by teaching space relationships, techniques, and by using fundamental movements. During a two-year tour of Germany, she won fame. Afterwards she and her husband, Ted Shawn, opened the Denishawn school of dancing in America.

Introduced Into Colleges

The first college class of modern dance was begun by Margaret N. H'Doubler at the University of Wisconsin, because she thought it was educationally creative. This movement came to other colleges and became firmly rooted in physical education departments.

The first great "modern dancer" was Mary Wigman who established the theory that the dance itself was superior to the costumes, or music. She also introduced the use of percussion instruments. Hanya Holm, a student of Mary Wigman, came to America in 1922 to start a Wigman School of Dance, thus bringing together of American and German dance.

The modern dance reached its peak in America toward the end of the 1930's. Martha Graham, Hanya Holm, Doris Humphrey, and Charles Weidman joined, composed, taught, and traveled; and in a short time they spread the dance across the country.

Spreads To Broadway

Martha Graham is the only dancer to have given Broadway productions. Hanya Holm has done the choreography for the dance in "Kiss Me, Kate." Jose Lemus was the first dancer to start the new trend for some use of the choreography, instead of the dancer himself, as usual.

Field Is Still New

Because the field is still new, books just recently have begun to appear on the techniques of modern dance, and the course is gradually being offered in high school curricula. Winthrop's modern dance club and classes are already working and planning this year's programs with various departments of the College. Now that the origin and development of modern dance has been unveiled, perhaps the future programs will prove to be even more fascinating and appreciated by the Winthrop audience and other spectators.

Colleges Are Invited To Play Day

By Tuesday of this week six colleges had responded to the invitation issued by the Winthrop Athletic association to participate in an inter-collegiate play day planned for November 5. "Red" Griffin, president of this association, has announced.

These schools are Lander, Coker, Limestone, Converse, Anderson, Junior college, and Columbia. This play day will not be on a competitive basis but it is just to be friendly competition. Some of the sports that the girls will participate in during the day are archery, volleyball, badminton, hockey, speedball, tennis, and swimming. A rainy day schedule planned in case of rain will include shuffleboard, table tennis, dancing, swimming, and other indoor sports.

The night preceding play day there will be a meeting of the South Carolina Athletic association in Thurmond hall. The State officers of this association are Eleanor Poland of Lander, president; Inez Bryan of Limestone, vice-president; Hazel Perritt of Lander, corresponding secretary; Beth Long of Converse, secretary; and "Red" Griffin of Winthrop, treasurer.

Open House Staged For Dormitories

Open house for Roddey and Senior halls was staged in the College gymnasium Tuesday night from 8:45 until 9:00 in the form of a play along with indoor games open to all. Rowena Willis was in charge of this event which was sponsored by the Athletic association. A variety of entertainment was offered during the evening including volleyball, badminton, bowling, table tennis, shuffleboard, card games, and swimming. Coker were also sold at this time. This was the first play night of the year, and there are to be at least two more when the other dormitories on Campus will be invited.

"If these open houses are successful and well attended, then there will be several more through out the year," stated "Red" Griffin, Athletic association president.

With the Autumn Ball last week end, the Carolina-Clemson game yesterday, and State fair this week end, Winthrop has really been busy! around. Books have become mere dust collectors with navy blues being ever changed for reds and greens. Judging by the multitudes who will be away, maybe this column should be dedicated to those brave souls who are staying behind. Just a reminder to the "wanderers," tho'—have your fun while you may—mid-terms lurk just two games and one more dance away!

Of Things . . .

Last Saturday's Dance . . .

The first formal dance of the year proved most successful with all the girls looking their best and attracting that "best" to the receiving line. Claiming a few of the many dates at the dance were Mary Conitt, Eleanor Hancick, "Sis" Monroe, Alice Applewhite, Betty Hill Bowers, Molly Ogburn, Betty Godfrey, Barbara Lowe, Ann Halsey, Betty Jean Vance, Jessie and Jean Clark, Amy Sasser, Popilia High, Ann Brodington, Betty Hinson, Mary Frances Harist, Mattie Wallace, Mary McMaster, and Ann Hay.

Big Thursday . . .

Just a few of the many who were in Columbia yesterday for the annual Carolina-Clemson classic were Alberta Lechowitz, Louisa Bennett, Ed Sandifer, Ducky Debone, Margie Smith, Ann Cole, Mary Stanley, Dot Lucas, Patsy Stephens, Ann Sloan, Betty Douglas, Barbara Easterly, and Kitty Bell.

RINGS AND WEDDINGS . . .

Of much interest on the Campus was the announcement made Sunday of Margaret Ann Lewis' engagement to Samuel L. Turner of Spartanburg. Margaret Ann is a member of the senior class. She and "Buddy" will be married November 23 in Pickens.

Sara Ann Tiller, also a senior, has a new "sparkling at titian" to that left hand.

Weddings called Ann Cole and Eleanor Lechowitz away last week end. Ann was a bridesmaid in a friend's wedding in Abbeville, and Eleanor was in her brother's wedding in Greenville.

. . . . Of People

Guests In Their Old Home . . .

Many former students were on hand for the first big dance of the year. Taking in all the old and new around the College were Kathryn Crosby, Barbara Copeland, Betty Jean Cassey, Kat Cherry, Marjorie Harvell, and Betty Clark.

Dealing that last blow to their dates' financial status for the dance week end, many of Winthrop's sports fans took in the C paper's game in Charlotte Sunday. Edna Teem and Red Randall, Susan Hinman and Joe Chapman, Marny Brockington and Roy Fark, Bobbie Cuthren and Bobby Bell, Doris Dean and Parker Dempsey, and Doris Strouan and Theo Wolfe were among those present.

News And There . . .

Srta. Eleanor spent the week end in Spartanburg with Jean Hyatt.

Myra Aubrey took Lin Finley and Lillina Neal home to Lorman for the week end with her.

Jan LaCote and Rose Marie Copeland of Orangeburg, were here for the dance at the guests of Jean Bryan.

Mrs. A. M. Husky of Sumter was the week end guest of her daughter, Sidney Ann.

Saturday Movie Co-Stars Young And Cummings

"The Accused" will be the movie shown in the College auditorium on Saturday night at 7:30. It co-stars Award winner Loretta Young and Robert Cummings. The cast is headed by Wendell Corey, Sam Jaffe and Douglas Dick.

Miss Young plays a teacher of literature in a western university. In the pretext of seeking advice, one of her students, a good-for-nothing Luthario ("Douglas Dick"), talks her into a date. He drives her to a secluded spot and attempts to attack her. In a panic of fear and fury, she grabs hold of a fishing spear in his car and beats him over the head with it! When she sees she has killed him, she covers up her tracks and makes her way back to town. As the woman-hunt closes in on her, the suspense she is under is shared by the audience. Because her plannings and reserved personality are incriminating evidence against her, Loretta does a complete about-face trading dresses for safety and becoming a very fashionably dressed woman. So Luthario does she become that for two men who have instigated the woman-hunt with all in law with her, which adds to the dramatic complications of the exciting story.

"The Accused" is a Paramount production by Hal D. Wells and directed by William Dieterle.

Barrie Wingard Attends Festival

Barrie Jean Wingard, a member of the junior class, who is "Miss South Carolina," represented this State at the Tobacco Bowl festival in Richmond, Va., last Thursday through Sunday.

Barrie Jean was one of the 20 representatives in the Tobacco Bowl parade, where she rode on a float especially designed for her. As "Miss South Carolina," she was also a model in the fashion show. The highlight of the festival was the ball which she attended.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wingard of Clinton accompanied their daughter to the festival.

TJ Reporter Defines "Autumn" From A Winthrop Girl's Point Of View

By SARAH ELAZER

To the poets, autumn means the end of the year. In some people it means changing in heavier clothes. In others it means going to football games, and yet to others, it means getting anti-freeze in the old' judge and heading Winthrop way in the first big dance.

He — He isn't!

The hum and buzz the week before the big event begins in the beloved "P.O." where the answer "the list" or "the list" is found. From the sad or glad expressions the sign! Usually the dismayed looks change when a friend's friend wants to date a friend, and all is well until time for tickets to be bought. . . . there is then the terrible of the small fee that is not available.

But anywhere there are girls there are clothes. So the despairing "stained wash-women" take over and finally after many hours over the hot iron, the money for the ticket is secured.

Afternoon Activities
The afternoon of the dance is a big one . . . there are female busines everywhere; hanging out on dormitory windows, without hungry bodies draped over chairs.

mean at the clock wondering why he didn't get here in time for lunch, girls getting their afternoon beauty rest, intellectuals and commerce students trying to read parallel and get that 20 pages of shorthand done before the "gray shaves" pulls up in front of Steeple hill; and others just pass the time away with a hand of bridge or casual.

When darkness drops her veil on the Campus, the girls who have saved all day for that "moments to an" are are finally rewarded. The Campus is deserted by the "disinterested" and the popular eating places in town are filled to overflowing.

Then it's the parting of the ways for the girls and their dates until the time for the dance—and the confusion really begins!

The Autumn Ball

There are sounds of tearing, twisting, ripping, unpinning, and borrowing evening dresses. Then the sound of voices screaming because of the arrival of an orchid, or a rose—or no flower at all!

As the 11:00 lower clock stretched its hands to eight o'clock last Saturday night, the Campus was still
