Death of

After The Herald had been in press last Friday, Miss Isabelle Templeton Black, who had been ill with typhoid fever for three weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Miller, in Ebenezer, closed her eyes in death. So young, so pure, so beautiful, her death was a personal bereavement in this community, where she had been known and loved since her childhood. She was the youngest child of Mr. A. M. Black, of Newport. She was just sixteen years of age, a student of Winthrop College and a favorite in that institution.

Saturday her remains were interred in the cemetery at Ebenezer, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. A. S. Rogers, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. H. Thornwell.

A number of the college companions of the deceased were present at the interment.
