WEDDING BELLS AGAIN.

TRADITIONS ARE NOT SOON TO BE BROKEN.

Our newspapers are already loaded with stories and pictures of people being married, and we know of at least two or three who will be married in the next few days. But we would not be surprised if we heard of a number of other weddings, as the season is one in which such events are frequently reported.

The Spanish War.

Chronicloss Summary of Events at the Signing of the Peace Treaty.

By January 23, 1900, U. S. battleships were at anchor in Havana, Cuba, and one of them had already received a signal from the Spanish admiral in the harbor. The news was received in this city with great joy, as it marked the beginning of peace after years of war.

Secretary of State's statement on the withdrawal of the troops.

Mr. Hay, the Secretary of State, made a statement on the withdrawal of the troops. He said that the troops would be withdrawn from Cuba as soon as the terms of the peace treaty were agreed upon.

The effect of the war on the economy of the country.

The war with Spain had a great effect on the economy of the country. The cost of the war was estimated to be over $600,000,000.

The effect of the war on the people.

The war had a great effect on the people. The United States had become a world power, and the people were proud of their country.

The effect of the war on the army.

The war had a great effect on the army. The army was expanded and new officers were appointed.

The end of the war.

The war ended on December 8, 1901, when the last American troops left Cuba.

The Spanish War had been a great event in the history of the United States, and it marked the beginning of the country's expansion into the world.
