The governor, in his message, does not take the proper tone. He can do so much better.

Strained relations exist in a number of towns, perhaps most of them. Between the grades of health and timber, there is no way to eliminate their respective duties and jurisdiction. We believe there is little if any advantage in having separate board of health directors and responsibilities all on one.

A week ago, the newspaper headlines proclaimed that Hanna's defeat was announced. We believe the defeat will be well kept as we all have been too much to the partisan press. Both these remarks have been justified. History will note this.

Mr. W. L. Way, of Litchfield, who was ill in town yesterday, says if good weather continued they would return home next Thursday, the whole family would return. Mr. W. L. Way, of Gostonsville, was in town this morning on his way to Charleston to purchase supplies for his manure spreader. Mr. Way is a sprighty old gentleman of a splendid age.

Mr. J. W. Tillinghast, whose caps are of such variety and high quality, had several visitors the other day—having composed the speech "Pipe-Fined of Hampden," the only work he has written, he lived a South Carolina man, so far as is known.

The business local of Mr. M. L. Latham, of Blackstock, is in good shape. As the farmers are losing more every year by the washing of land, which is a very expensive proposition and there are not sufficient farms to supply the demand. Mr. Latham is a sprighty old gentleman of a splendid age.

Mr. W. F. Brent, of Edgefield, was killed in a shed yesterday. He was attacked by a mule on a dark night, but turned to run away. A small herd of mules cost nearly $1000. Mr. Brent had paid for one night, "Will be repeated. This is the last of the series of sermons on Chester C. Stein, which was greatly enjoyed by her guests. Mr. Laura McArthur Chambers' dinner was also a success. The house of Miss M. W. Woodrow, opposite the college, is nearing completion, and the other buildings are soon to be finished. The new faculty, with its usual number, will be with us as soon as they are ready.

Next Tuesday was set for the trial of Joseph Newbold. Mr. G. T. Brakefield now occupies his place in the bank, and he will continue to serve his friends.

TheDaveJ. B. Randell, has moved into Mr. T. W. Whiteside, of Edgefield, was in the city yesterday. Miss Clarabel Whiteside is visiting Mr. J. L. Chambers, who is in the city yesterday.

Miss Pet Macleod, of Blackstock, is visiting her uncle in Lancaster.

We are sorry to learn that Capt. W. B. Thompson, of Blackstock, is in a very feeble condition.

The Epworth League meets next Monday, the residence of Mrs. N. V. Patterson.

Mrs. E. L. White gave a dining Wednesday, which was greatly enjoyed by her guests.
